C. A. STEPHENSON, Editor and Pub. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1897.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county.

A man smiles when you call him level head, but call it flat and he gets mad.

An act of the last Legislature provides a fine of $100 as the penalty for wearing a badge or button of any society to which the wearer does not belong.

It is not the number of flowers you pile on a man's coffin or his grave that proves your humanity toward him; but the number of kind words you speak concerning him, and the number of kind acts you perform for him while he is alive and fighting life's battles, are the things that count.

One of the bills passed by the present Legislature and recently signed by the Governor, requires traveling doctors, or any person assuming to cure disease, either by medicine or by faith, whether he charges for his services or not, to pay a license fee of ten dollars per day for the privilege.

Last week we received the second industrial edition of The News, a sprightly two-year-old of Harrisburg. The special edition was made up of 48 pages of illustrations and very interesting reading matter.

One of the bills passed by the late legislature and approved by the governor effects retail liquor dealers and brewers. The new law imposes an additional license fee on retail liquor dealers in townships of $25 per year, in boroughs $50 a year, in cities other than those of the first and second class $100 a year.

"Yes," said Lum Cogburn emphatically, "I believe in the theory that men are the product of what they eat—that is to say, their physical and mental make-up is the result of eating certain kinds of food. I have been observing that thing for a long time, and I am convinced. I know a man who is hogish in all his propensities. He is greedy and surly, and his physiognomy is piggyish. I have authentic information to the effect that that man eats pork. I have also learned that several sheepish fellows that I know eat mutton, and that certain chicken-hearted people of my acquaintance are very fond of poultry. Pursuing my investigations in this line and making a close study of the subject, as I have done, leads me to agree with other great scientists that man is the product of what he eats."—Punxsutawney Spirit.

A "drummer" refused to pay 25 cents excess on baggage at the A. V. Ry's station one morning last week and then came up town and paid a livery man $2.50 to haul him and his baggage to DuBois. He was so wrathful because he could not beat the railroad company that he thought he would have to do something to get even, and so he paid the liveryman $2.50 rather than pay the railroad 25 cents. That is something like a subscriber getting mad and stopping his paper and then expecting the paper to suspend publication. Had the "drummer" stepped to the bank of the Sandy Lick and stuck his finger into the stream and when he pulled it out looked for the hole, he could have learned just about what a hole he left in the railroad finances by throwing $2.25 and a half day's work away rather than pay the company 25 cents. It is a fact that occasionally traveling men have reason to do a little "kicking," but it is often the case that they "kick" with all their propensities for that art just simply because they cannot beat the railroad company. To hear some of these fellows talk sometimes a person would judge that they were the only persons that patronized railroads. True they spend their employers' money in traveling, but there are other people who travel occasionally. There are a large number of gentlemen traveling for wholesale houses who travel without "kicking," but there are others who would not be happy if they didn't find something to growl about continually.

Yellowstone Park.

The Yellowstone National Park is unquestionably the most interesting region on the globe, for within it is displayed the greatest collection of nature's manifold wonders. Indeed, this mountain-bound plateau, high up on the summit of the everlasting Rockies, is a veritable playground for the world's giant forces. To stand and gaze upon them in all their marvelous manifestations, the great geyser upheavals, the fierce steam blasts, the terrible leap of the river, and the awful canon, is a revelation, an experience to be had at no other point on earth.

The personally-conducted tour of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which leaves New York on September 2, affords the most satisfactory means of visiting this wonderland and viewing its marvelous features. Tourists will travel by special train of Pullman smoking, dining, sleeping, and observation cars in each direction. Eight days will also be spent in the Park. Stops will also be made returning at St Paul and Chicago. The round-trip rate, $235 from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, $230 from Pittsburg covers all necessary expenses.

For detailed itineraries and full information apply to ticket agents, Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or address Geo. W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station Philadelphia.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for constipation and sick headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2925 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat or digest food, had a backache which never left her, and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1.00. Get a bottle at H. Alex. Stoke's drug store.

Do you love a man who always kicks, no matter what you do—who kicks with most prodigious ease the whole year through; who kicks if anything goes wrong and kicks if all goes right; who kicks because he seems to like to kick, and kicks with all his might? We know some awful kickers on this wicked mundane sphere, who came to earth by accident and kick because they're here; they make themselves uncomfortable and other people sick; they drive themselves to suicide and still they always kick. We know a man who kicks and kicks the blessed live long day, and if there's naught to kick about he's kicking anyway. At times when things are going right and other people smile, he kicks on general principles, and kicketh all the while.—Ex.

Reduced Rates to Granger's Picnic.

For the accommodation of persons desiring to attend this interesting picnic and exhibition the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets on August 21, 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27, good to return until August 30, inclusive, at rate of one fare for the round trip, from principal stations between East Liberty and Bryn Mawr, on the Northern Central Railway north of and including Lutherville, and on the Philadelphia and Erie Division.

For information in regard to train services and specific rates application should be made to ticket agents.

Notice.

To Carpenters and General Contractors: Bids will be received at the home of J. C. Froehlich, in Reynoldsville, until Saturday, August 28th, 1897, for furnishing material for and erecting a two-story brick building, for store-rooms, 40 ft. front and 80 ft. deep. Full information can be had at the home of J. C. Froehlich on, or after, Thursday evening, August 19th, 1897.

We reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Date Cancelled.

Owing to the tightness of money the proposed reunion of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, which was to have been held here on the tenth of September, has been cancelled. At least $100 would have been required to make the event a success and the finance committee did not meet with sufficient success to warrant contracting for prizes, halls, bands, etc.—DuBois Express.

J. E. Welsh & Co. keep a fine line of ladies', gentlemen's and children's shoes constantly in stock.

A western paper, with ideas of its own as to the proper method of receiving pay from those it serves, has printed the following: "Persons knowing themselves indebted to this office are requested to call and settle. All those indebted to this office and not knowing it, are requested to call and find out. All those knowing themselves indebted and not wishing to call, are requested to stay in one place long enough for us to catch them. All those who are not indebted are requested to call and get indebted."

The Disease is Not Spreading.

It appears that many of the newspapers in their accounts of the anthrax malady at the tannery find it very hard to keep within the bounds of truthfulness and accuracy. The reports circulated in several papers state that the Falls Creek tannery situated near the town of Clearfield has been shut down and the disease is spreading with great rapidity. This is the veriest bosh. The tannery is now working with a larger force than at any time since the works were started and is turning out a carload of finished leather every day. No new cases of the disease are existing and those who were afflicted are rapidly recovering.—Falls Creek correspondent to DuBois Express.

Luxuriant Growth of Hair.

Wm. Long, of this place, eighty-one years of age, has a luxuriant growth of fine hair, like the hair of a three-year-old child. Two years ago he was as bald as a brass doorknob. He began washing it regularly and rubbing his scalp with a rough towel. A growth of fuzzy hair began to appear. Now it is four or five inches long, and exactly resembles the hair of a child—fine, brown and glossy, with not a suggestion of gray.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

"Don't get big headed, my friends" says an exchange, "this world can get along without you just as well as it gets along with you. If taken suddenly out of it, your relatives and friends may mourn for a time, but the world—bless you, she will never slip a cog, and the sun will rise and set the day after your death. I think it is well for you and me to stop now and then and take into consideration just how little we do amount to and what a tiny little speck we are in the great conglomeration and bustle of the universe."

G. A. R. National Encampment.

For the above encampment, which occurs August 23-28, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railway will sell round trip tickets from all points on its lines at unusually low rates.
