The postal money order service now brings to the government a yearly revenue of almost $1,000,000. The policy is to be extended.

There is an old proverb that "molasses catches more flies than vinegar." which would be well to remember. It is just as cheap to make it pleasant for those around you as it is to be sour and John G. Jellison, who claims to be from Binirsville, Pa., was arrested and lodged in jail at Butler one day last week for stealing a horse and buggy near Chicora. John says the girls annoyed him so much that he stole the horse and buggy for the purpose of getting to jail to escape the girls. John must be a "darling boy.'

Have you ever stopped to reflect on what can be accomplished in one minute? It takes no more than a minute to speak a few kind words to somebody who will be made much happier by hearing them. It takes no more than a minute to give a sweet smile to some poor, forlorn child who is carrying a burden too heavy for its tender heart.

If there was as much gold in this world as there is selfishness in humanity, what a wonderfully rich people we would be. But alack, there is not. We are all quick to see the selfishness in others and, oh, what a disagreeable thing it is? We hate selfishness. While condemning the selfishness in other people have you examined your own life to see how prominent selfishness stands out in it? Selfishness is hideous wherever it predominates. We all have a certain amount of selfishness and it grows accordingly as it is cultivated. Where is the man or woman, boy or girl who does not admire unselfishness? The time to pull up the weeds of selfishness is in childhood.

The man who can run a newspaper without being criticised, censured and threatened has never been found, says the Maysville (Ky.) Ledger. He is a barren ideality, beautiful to think about but incapable of taking on mortality, and associating with vulgar humanity. It is as impossible for a newspaperman to please everybody as it is for everybody to please him, and the sooner he makes up his mind to the stubborn fact the better for everybody concerned. If he works hard for the public good, he receives private consure; if he compliments merit, he is censured by jealous demerits; if he approves morality, he blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. y immorality; if he trie be fair, he is condemned by the unfair; if he makes a mistake, few overlook it or apologize for him. No matter how innocent his purpose, how studied his writings, he is picked to pieces, misrepresented, maligned, ridiculed and seldom defended. He works hard for bread and butter while other men wax rich around him. He writes up a yard long marriage notice to the queen's taste for nothing, and is threatened with a libel suit or duel if he records a drunken spree of the bridegroom six months afterward. Yes, it is impossible for a newspaperman to please all. As well attempt to chain a cyclone or lasso the

There are people in this world who would get indignant if you were to call them wicked, yet the Psalmist says, "The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again." There are no communities that have not one or more persons who borrow and "payeth not again." It is strange, nevertheless true, in many cases the man who has accommodated another gets an enemy for the favor bestowed, and frequently that is all he does get. Sometimes a man borrows money, hoping that something will turn up by the time it is to be paid back so that he will be able to keep his word, but that something don't turn up and when the tender wants his money the borrower gets mad and quits speaking to the man who accommodated him when he was in need. Then, again, people are often hard-up and are compelled to ask a business man for trust and after running a bill as large as they can, and still not able to pay, they will then take their cash and buy from the man who would not trust them. These things ought not to be, but they occur just the same. The man who befriends you in your time of need is the man to whom you should stick as long as he will be your friend. Don't try to repay kindness with meanness. King Solomon said, "the borrower is servant to the lender."
That will apply to an honorable man but it don't touch a rogue.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. #### Mine Resumed Operations.

No. 2 mine at Beechtree, which wa shut down and partly dismantled early last spring, resumed operations on Wednesday. When the mine shut down it was announced that the suspension would be indefinite, and the store was discontinued and the most of the force discharged. A few men were retained in No. 3 mine to finish that work up, as it was near completion. Now it is said that about 300 men will be put to work as fast as places are made for them, and the equipment overhauled and got in readiness. Superintendent John Ryan will be in charge again. The store is also to be reopened. -Brockwayville Record.
