John Milliren, aged about twenty-six years, who moved from Rathmel to DuBois about one year ago, died with consumption at DuBois and his remains brought to Rathmel Sunday afternoon for burial. The funeral services were held in the Rathmel M. E. church, oted by Dr. A. R. Rich, pa the DuBois M. E. church. The ral was the largest one seen in much for many a day. Interment place is the Prospect cometery.

Struck Three Foot Vein of Coal.

The drill was started in the gas well near this place last Wednesday. It is now down about 200 feet. At the depth of 90 feet a three foot vein of coal was struck.

Making Store Rooms.

The old barn next to Tapper's livery stable, on Main street, is to be transformed into a store room and meat shop. Carpenters are now at work on the building. The barn belongs to the Belnap property which Deible Bros. bought at sheriff sale a few weeks ago.

Defeated at Punxsy.

The junior foot ball team of this place went to Punxsutawney Saturday to play a return game with the Punxs'y lads whom they defeated at this place a couple of weeks ago. Our boys were budly defeated. The score was 40-0. The Punxsy team put in a few players from the high school team.

Large Funeral.

The mines were idle Thursday on account of Peter Nugent's funeral. The funeral was a very large one. There were about 160 miners and 40 or 45 members of the Ancient Odrer of Hibernians, of which the deceased was a member, walked ahead of the hearse and a long train of vehicles followed after.

Cut His Head With An Ax.

Lewis Horm, of Horm Settlement, cut an ugly gash on the top of his head last Friday with a double bitted ax. He was working on Degnan & McDonald's log job near Falls Creek and while chopping the ax caught on a limb and bounded back, striking him on the head. The cut was three inches long and a couple of inches deep.

Wanted an Ike's Trunk.

Friday two Italians from Eleanors vere in Reynoldsville looking for an ke who had stolen money and a watch from them. Just before the 1.35 P. M. westbound train left here they found the Ike's trunk on a truck at the A. V. station, expressed to Chicago, but the owner of the trunk was not to be found. The Italians wanted the trunk but they were disappointed.

Will Have Sewerage.

A sewer is to be put in from Pitchpine run to Sixth street at the expense of the property owners in that portion of the town. It has not been decided yet whether the sewer will be put down on Main street or on one of the alleys. It is not likely that the sewer will be put down this fall. This is the proper step and we hope the time is not far distant when the entire town will have good sewerage.

Death from Consumption.

Maggie Donahue, aged about twentysix years, died at her home, opposite the A. V. R'y passenger station, Thursday night, after a tussle of one year and two months with consumption. Funeral services were held in Catholic church Sunday afternoon and interment took place in the Catholic cemetery. The deceased and her sister had been living alone several years. One sister, Mary Donahue, and two half brothers, Daniel Daily, of Brockwayville, and Michael Wit and Humor Flowed.

Col. H. W. J. Ham, southern orator and humorist, delivered his lecture, "Old Times in Dixie," before a large audience in Assembly hall last Friday evening. This was his second appearance before a Reynoldsville audience Last year he delivered "The Spollygoster in Politics." It has been truly said of Col. Ham: "He breaks the bread of sparkling wit, rare humor, magnetic eloquence, and sound philosophy, giving to each his portion in due season, and charms alike the young, the old, the grave, the gay." Col. Ham did not captivate his audience as he did on his first visit here. but he was delivering his lecture with a sad heart. On the 8th of October his son was buried and when the Col. was here his wife was lying at home very sick. Col. Ham's son took sick at college, was taken home and before the Col. reached home the boy was dead and buried.

Dog Saved the Horses.

Last Tuesday night the barn of P. Thompson, who lives in Warsaw township, was destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed by some to have been the work of an incendiary. Mr. Thompson and family were awakened by the dog running around the house barking and when they got up to see what was the matter the barn was on fire and the blaze had such a good start that Mr. Thompson was only able to save his horses from being burned. Had it not been for the dog the horses would have been cremated. There was a small insurance on the barn, for which the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association holds the policy. All Mr. Thompson's hay, grain, farm implements, new buggy, &c., were burn A subscription paper was started the next morning and the open handed and large hearted farmers of Beechwoods began to divide a portion of their crops with Mr. Thompson.

Yesterday's Election

There were more stay-at-homes in this section yesterday than there has been for many years. There were 215 less votes polled in the borough than there were Nov. 3rd, 1896. . Last year the vote of the borough was 570, yesterday is was 356. One year ago the vote in first precinct was 296; second precinct 274; yesterday it was, first precinet 168; second precinct 188. West Reynoldsville last year the entire vote was 127, this year it is 91; in West Winslow township last year the entire vote was 233, this year it is 109.

There was little interest manifested in the election yesterday. The latest returns, as we go to press, shows the election of the Republican state ticket. As we go to press the returns show the election of Strong for district attorney. Keep the Check Room Open.

The library room at the public school building was converted into a check com last Friday night, where ladies left their hats and wraps and the gentlemen were relieved of their overcoats. The work in the check room was mostly performed by young ladies. There were over two hundred pieces checked and no mistakes made. The only difficulty was the rush by the audience for their hats and wraps, and of course everybody could not be waited on first. This can easily be avoided by people not getting in too much of a hurry to get out of Assembly hall. If the cloak room is appreciated by the people it will be kept up during the course. We think it is an excellent thing and hope it will be continued. People were not bothered with hats, wraps, &c., after they got into the hall, and then it had the hoped for effect of having all the ladies sit with uncovered heads. It seemed homelike to see the ladies enter the hall as if they were entering a parlor to spend the evening, and a large audience, such as was in Assembly hall Friday evening, looks much better with uncovered heads.

Uncle Sam Will Raise a Fuss.

Uncle Sam will kick up a fuss before many days if the mail between Reynoldsyille, Panic and Eleanora is not handled a little differently than it has been within the past few months. We understand that twice recently parties who had charge of the mail arrived in Eleanora so well "boozed" that they could not tell whether they were carrying potatoes or U. S. mail. One day last meek the man who was carrying the mail broke his buggy a mile or two from town and he gave the mail to another man, who was not sworn in, to carry into town. Last Friday the mail from Panic and Eleanora did not arrive here. The Eleanora postmaster was in town that day and he carried the mail for his office home with him. The man who has the contract for carrying the mail is a cripple, has no use of his legs, and he has to depend on other people for help.

No More Festivals There.

The Grand Army Post has had charge of the hall over W. H. Bell's clothing store for five years, and it is generally known as the G. A. R. hall. This hall has been the most convenient place in town for giving dinners, suppers, or holding socials, but these are things of the past in that hall. The G. A. R. no longer has the control of the hall. Mr. Bell, who bought the building a few months ago, is having the half remodeled and making some decided improvements in it, and he says it will not be rented for festivals or suppers hereafter. The kitchen will be left as it is and there will be a banqueting room so that any of the lodges occupying the rooms can hold banquets or socials there if they want to. Enough lodges have rented the lodge rooms to have them occupied every night in the week, except Sunday night.

The hiring of the Altoons foot ball team and taking them to Bradford to play as a DuBois club is not clean, manly sport, and does not have the approbation of the town's best citizens. few years ago fakirs, ringsters and unknowns were brought here for boxing contests by a gambling fraternity that made considerable money by sell outs and other dirty tricks. If that made considerable money foot ball is going to be run on the same low, disreputable plan it is time for decent people to withdraw their patronage and the Y. M. C. A. to close its grounds against the players. The sports who expected to make money by duping the Bradfordians will probably get left. Bradford knows it is playing Altoona and not DuBois.—DuBois Ex-could be seen. On motion Mr. Henninger was asked to withdraw his resignation, which he refused to do. On motion his resignation was not accepted. On motion the bill of $100.00 of G. M. McDonald for services as attorney in the Cameron and Sanders cases was accepted and ordered paid. Chairman of the street committee reorted that $117.10 had been expended on the streets in September and $102.85 in October, making a total since April of $764.08.

Ordinance committee reported that ordinances were in the hands of the printer.

On motion the high constable was instructed to procure a suitable barn for the keeping of impounded cattle, &c., during the bad weather, and that the compensation be 25 cents per day for each day so in use.

Burgess Stoke called attention to the gas torches at the hose houses and recommended that they be replaced with better ones.
