Bigh Latitude Not Beneficial.

More people over 100 years old are found in mild climates than in higher latitudes. According to the last census of the German empire, of a population of 55,000,000, only seventyeight have passed the hundredth year, France, with a population of 40,000,-000, has 213 centenarians. In England there are 146, Ireland 578, and in Scotland 46. Sweden has 10 and Norway 23. Relgium 5. Denmark 2. Switzerland none. Spain, with a population of 18,-000,000, has 401 people over 100 years of age. Of the 2,250,000 inhabitants of Servia 575 people have passed the century mark. It is said that the oldest person living whose age has been proved is Bruno Cotrim, born in Africa, and now living in Rio Janeiro, He is 150 years old. A coachman in Moscow has lived 140 years.

To Ward Off Lions.

In a recent lecture the German traveler Prof. Peehuel-Loeschke declared that the danger from attacks by wild animals in the African deserts and elsewhere was greatly exaggerated, and that the best weapon against attack was an umbrella, which would ward off any lion or tiger.

A Sensation.

That the world is coming to an end suddenly at a given time is not what is here referred to. There are different kinds of sensations. as very many people know who feel sharp as very many people know who feel sharp twinges of painin the big nerve of the thigh. Belatten is a very painful sensation, and the terment of it makes one think something is come to an end. But just at the first sensation or twinge is the best time to use St. Jacobs Oil. The less pain the more easily it is cured, and the Oil prevents its development by sootling the nerve. At any stage it will care

Child Sent by Post.

A novel parcel for delivery by express post was recently handed in at a Birmingham postoffice. A workingman. who had been out of town with his 8-year-old child, arrived at Birmingham in time to reach his place of business but not in sufficient time to take his child home. He therefore walked into the nearest postoffice and tendered the youngster as an express parcel. The authorities, under the rule regulating the delivery of live animals, accepted the child and delivered it at a charge of ninepence.-St. James' Gazette.

Lesson Text: "The Christian Armor." Ephesians vi., 10-20-Golden Text Ephesians vi., 10-Commentary on the Lesson by the Rev. Dr. D. M. Stearns Lesson by the Rev. Dr. D. M. Sterrns.

10. "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might."
The first three chapters set forth our salvation, or rather Hissalvation, in all its fullness. Then we are taught in the following chapters what our walk in the Lord, or our daily life should be, and now in the verses of our lesson we are taught how to do it and adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things (Titus ii., 10). My readers must be very familiar with Eph. Ii., 10, but it only just comes to me now to associate It only just comes to me now to associate with it Titus ii., 10. Thank the Lord for the association. May the words grip us liberately tears up and grinds to pulp one million dollars' worth of paper must be very familiar with Eph. fi., 10, but it only just comes to me now to associate with it Titus ii., 10. Thank the Lord for the association. May the words grip us with power.

11. "Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil." There is a real personal devil, the enemy of God and man, at present the prince of the power of the air, the prince of this world, whose prisone will soon be the bottomiess pit and his final abode the lake of fire and brimstone (John xiv., 30; Eph. ii., 2; Rev. xx., 2, 3, 10).

12. "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood." The demons who do the devil's work are not all visible in the form of men or women. The air is often full of them. They come at us when we are weak and alone and fairly storm us with their evil thoughts and lies. They come at us in the house of God, and when we read His word, and even when on our knees in prayer. How shall we know them? They are the opposite of all that is of God. Righteousness and peace and rest and quietness are all of God and His Spirit through Christ. The opposite must be of the devil.

13. "Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, laving done all, to stand." One of the first and grentest things is to understand that as we are saved freely by His grace (Eph. II., 8; Rom, III., 24), so we stand continually in the same grace (Rom. v., 1, 2) or undeserved favor of God. Unless we see clearity that all our salvation from first to last is wholly undeserved on our part, and is ours only in and through Jesus Christ and His finished work, satan will get many an advantage over us. We are not worthy, but Thou art worthy, O Lord. On that let us stand firmly and continually.

14. "Stand, therefore, having your loins girt about with truth and having on the breastplate of righteousness." Our Lord said, "I am the Truth," and He is also made unto us righteousness (John xiv., 6; I Cor. 1., 30; II Cor. v., 21), so that when we have learned to do nothin xxvi., 3). Then carry the tidings of peace through the blood of His cross (Col. 1., 20) to every creature.

16. "Above all taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the flery darts of the wicked one." Many trials are very flery, but none the less precious as tokens of His approval who gives us fellowship with Himself (I Pet. iv., 12, 13). He has not promised to keep us out of the fire, but to be with us in it, even as with Daniel's friends (Isa. xlili., 2; Dan. iii., 25), and if He can be better seen in the fire with us shall we not praise Him even for that? But as to these flery darts of the devil which he hurls at us, there is not one that need touch us to harm us, for all may be quenched by a quick and firm "I believe God" (Acts xxvii., 25). Confidence in God and reliance upon His word will do it every time."

17. "And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God." In I Thess. v., 8, it is written, "For an helmet, the hope of galvation." This is the completion of our salvation at His coming, which is every day nearer than when we believed (Rom. xiii., 11). The blessed hope that purifies (I John iii., 3), for then we shall be like Him, even as to our bodies, for we shall see Him as He is (Phil. iii., 21; Rom. viii., 23). From first to last all the knowledge and comfort of this come to us through His word, which is forever settled in heaven and true from the beginning (Ps. exix., 89, 160).

18. "Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching come to us through His word, which is forever settied in heaven and true from the beginning (Ps. cxix., 89, 160).

18. "Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints." Our Lord spent whole nights in prayer. David and Daniel prayed many times a day (Ps. lv., 17; Dan. vt., 10). We should pray without ceasing (I Thess. v., 17). It is possible to be ever in an attitude of prayer, constantly communing with Him about everything. He who prays honestly will expect answers and watch for them as truly as the boy who throws his ball into the air watches for it to return to him.

19. "And for me that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel." He said to the Corinthians, "In everything ye are enriched by Him, in all utterance and in all knowledge" (I Cor. L., 5). And yet, recognizing his own weakness and the reality of the wiles of the devil, he asks prayer for himself that he may have utterance and boldness for Christ. Paul was very conscious of his own weakness and often spoke of it.

20. "For which I am an ambassador in bonds; that therein (margin thereof) I may speak boldly as I ought to speak." The Lord's messengers with the Lord's message are supposed to have no fear of man, nor of the face of man, yet many are very weak, and not many seem to declare, without thought of man's frown or favor, the whole council of God. Many ministers seem to know little or nothing of the mystery of which God has just spoken, and more fully in chapter ill., the mystery hid from the beginning of the world and specially revealed to Paul; that during the postponement of the kingdom God is gathering form Jows and gentiles a body for Christ, the church, which shall be one with Him when He shall come in His glory and take unto Him His great power and reign, Many seem to think that instead of gathering out a body for Christ He is seeking the conversion of the world, and are th

Entangling Vines Which Torture Weary Wayfarers. H. Juneau, of Dodge City, Kan., who, with his brother, Joseph Juneau, founded the town of Juneau, Alaska, now counted as the leading citizen of the famous territory, has an interesting story to tell of the dark side of life on the Upper Yukon. Mr. Juneau spent several years in Alaska, and helped lay out the streets of the town which now bears his name.

In speaking of his early experience

A terrible race occurred the other evening near Patton between two sections of a loaded freight train on the Beech Creek extension of the Cambria County railroad. Engineer William Gray stuck to his engine and died beneath it when the crash came. Gray was bringing the train of 35 cars down the heavy grade from Carrolltown, which is one of the crookedest and steepest grades in the State, when his train broke, leaving 10 cars in the rear. Seeing the runaway section of the train gaining on him at a fearful speed he turned on full steam to try to keep out of the way, when he lost control of his own train and came down the hill with frightful velocity. The fireman and brakeman jumped off, but Engineer Gray stuck to his post. When the train went dashing into an open switch at Patton he was buried under the wreck of his engine. Twenty-two cars were in Alaska, Mr. Juneau said: "I helped lay out the town in 1861, and have been there several times since. We first named the place Harrisburg, but the people changed name after a year or two. I have found the country full of disappointments, I don't want to paint the picture too bright. Enough has not been said of the dark side.

tation of the heart. I could not stand but a few moments at a time without having that terrible bearing-down sensation.

"When I commenced taking Lydin E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I may weighed 108 pounds, and could not sit up half a day; before, however, I had used a whole bottle, I was able to be about. I took in all about three bottles of the Compound, and am entirely cured; now I weigh 131 pounds and feel like a new woman, stronger and better than ever in my life."

So it transpires that because of the virtues of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound, even a vary sick woman can be cured and live to a green ald age.

member of his tribe, and probably the oldest person in Monroe County, Wisconsin, is dead. Artichoke was a Winnebago Indian, and he had been a chief or medicine man of the tribe for many years. His age is not positively known, but it is given at from 105 to 125 years. He was a brother of Chief Dandy, who was a powerful ruler over the tribe fifty years ago.

master Loftin, of Hogansville, Ga., was never assaulted and shot, as he claimed, but that he seratched his arm, shot a hole in the wall of his house and then told the wild story of the attempted assassination, to engender sympathy for himself and save his job, which he saw that he would lose. His bond had been found worthless and visions of a lost job flitted constantly before this eyes.

Ah-Oo-Choo-Kah (Artichoke), the oldest member of his tribe, and probably the old-
