The Daughters of Rebekah gave a social and entertainment in their hall Saturday evening.

The Martin Bros., who had a grocery store in the room next to Gooder's jewelery store, have quite business.

The Marienville Express was seven years old last week. Considering its environments, the Express is a live local paper.

The Winslow township school directors paid the township teachers Saturday. The next pay the teachers get will be Christmas day.

Steven Scivanah, a Slav, had his right shoulder dislocated, two ribs broken and his head badly cut by a fall of coal in Hamilton mine vesterday afternoon.

Luige Chlarilli and Miss Macrera Aunezzitta were married at the home of Dominic Ginseppe in Prescottville on Saturday by 'Squire E. Neff, of this place

G. W. Bussard, the butcher, has moved into his new shop, near Hotel Belnap, and is ready to supply the people with choice meat of every kind. He solicits your patronage.

The Jefferson & Clearfield Coal & Iron Co. paid their employees at this place last evening. The men usually get their pay on Saturdays, but for some reason they were paid last evening.

Special meetings are now in progress in the Presbyterian church, Rev. C. W. Cherry, of Natrona, who arrived Monday evening to assist Rev. Reber in the meetings this week, is a pleasant and forcible speaker.

The bazaar and supper in the Rebekah hall Thanksgiving afternoon and evening, under the management of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, was fairly well patronized. The bazaar was well stocked with the handlwork of the ladies.

The Reynoldsville Water Co. will extend its line in this borough and West Reynoldsville. In this borough it will be extended from the corner of Main and Third streets down Third to the woolen mill. In West Reynoldsville pipe will be laid on Brown street. The pipe is here, but on account of the absence of Dr. S. Reynolds, one of the committee, the contract for laying the pipe has not been let yet.

Henry Geirheim, of Kittanniug, came to Reynoldsville Thanksgiving to visit Henry Preistor and family, but his visit was cut short by receiving a telegram Friday morning that Kittanning had been visited by a conflagration and the clothing and dry goods store of L. E. Biehl, which Mr. Geirheim was interested in, was burned. The fire began at 1.30 A. M. About $60,000 was licked up by the flames.

The Summerville Telephone Co. line will not be in operation in this place before about the first of 1898. The poles are all up in Reynoldsville, the telephones and wire are here, but the work of stringing the wire will not be commenced for a couple of weeks yet. It has not been positively stated where the exchange will be, but there is no doubt but it will be in Dr. J. H. Murray's office.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 7th, the peerless May Smith Robbins, supported by a superb company of fun-makers, will make her first appearance in the Reynolds opera house, in the laughable operatic and musical comedy success. 'Little Trixie," the romp heiress, under the management of Fred Bobbins. Bright music, preetty girls and graceful dancers. Be sure you see "Little Trixie." Prices 25, 35 and 50c. Tickets on sale at Stoke's. C. E. Andrews, of New Bethlehem, who had a stroke of paralysis on the 20th of November, of which mention was made in THE STAR last week, died last Friday forenoon and was buried Monday afternoon. The deceased was 69 years old. He had lived in New Bethlehem a half century. He had a wide reputation as a business man. In his death New Bethlehem loses one of her best citizens. The deceased was the father of Mrs. M. J. McEnteer. It was stated in THE STAR last week that several persons in the east end of town had been badly frightened by some hideous monster, with eyes like balls of fire. We have since learned what it was. A wag, who was out for fun, got a large piece of heavy paper, cut two holes in it, held a lighted lantern in front of him, under the paper. and walked out on the dark street. Had the frightened persons been courageous enough to club or stone what they supposed was a monster, it would not have been such a huge joke for the fellow who fixed himself up to frighten people. Lawyer George M. McDonald and wife gave a six o'clock dinner last Friday evening to about thirty-five friends. The tables were ladened with good things. The amusement feature of the evening was giving quotations. Little square cards were cut with a letter on each card and the cards were all mixed up. The host picked up the cards one at a time and announced what letter was on it, and the person who could first give a quotation beginning with the letter called out, was given the letter, and the one getting the largest number of letters was given a rize. Mrs. R. E. McKee and Josoph ammond got the prizes.

Took in a Partner

J. H. Hughes, the furniture dealer who has been doing business alone, has taken G. I. Dinger, of Clarion county, in as a partner. The new firm is con templating some changes and attaching an additional branch to their large furniture store.

Hand Lacerated,

Charles Herpel, of Herpel Bros. machinists; had his left hand badly injured Thursday night while at work or an engine at the Reynoldsville & Falls Creek R'y engine house in this place. The jack they were using fell and Mr. Herpel's hand was caught between the equalizer and the frame of the engine.

Good Concert.

The Mozart Symphony Club, of New York, gave a first class entertainment in Assembly hall Saturday ovening, which was highly enjoyed by those who have "ears" for fine music. One young lady in expressing her enjoyment of the entertainment said: "My heart bobbedup serenely and went pitapat." Prof. G. W. Lenkerd deserves credit for the high class entertainments he has been giving the people of Reynoldsville the pleasure of hearing. Overdose of Laudanum.

Miles Tewns, who had been working at Hopkins big mill, near this place, during the summer sawing season for a number of years and spending the winters at his home in Lock Haven, died at his home in Lock Haven last Saturday morning from an overdose of laudanum which he had taken the night before to cure a pain in his head. Mr. Towns was a Christian gentleman, honored and respected by his fellowmen. He was 72 years old.

Fatal Accident.

George Dixon, a sixteen-year-old boy of Prescottville, was so badly injured in the Sprague mine last Wednesday that he died Sunday afternoon. George was employed in the mine as a trapper. He was riding out on the front end of a trip of cars and through the fault of some one an empty car was standing out over a switch far enough for the loaded car the boy was on to crash into it, and he was caught across the stomach between the cars as they collided. The deceased was a son of John Dixon, who was in Colorado, near Denver, when the accident happened to his son. He was telegraphed for and arrived here at noon yesterday. Funeral will be held in the Catholic church at nine o'clock this morning and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

Better Attended than Usual.

A larger crowd attended the union Thanksgiving services held in the M. E. church last Thursday forenoon than has ever before attended such a service in this place. Most all the stores of town closed from 10.00 A. M. to 3.00 P. M. and many of the business men attended the services. Dr. C. C. Rumberger, pastor of the M. E. church, announced the opening bymn, "America," and the congregation joined heartily in singing. Rev. J. M. Dean, pastor of the Baptist Pythian Anniversary.

Nineteen years ago last Wednesday Vallant Lodge No 461, Knights of Pythias, was organized in Reynoldsville with a membership of thirty, and its membership now numbers ninety. Out of the thirty charter members only three are now in this lodge. Supreme Vice Chancellor Thomas G. Sample, of Pittsburg, was present when Vallant Lodge was organized, and he was also present last Wednesday evening. The anniversary exercises were held in Bell's hall. Past Chancellor Philip Kochler presided. Dr. Ernest, of Punxsutawney, made the opening address. The M. E. quartette, Messrs. John Trudgen and John Reddecliff and Misses Lizzie Koehler and Carrie Albright, sang a selection. Rev. Thomas Booth then made a short address. Rev. Booth had the honor of riding the same Pythian "goat" that President McKinley rode, or in other words, was initiated in the same lodge that the President was initiated in. After this address it was announced that the artists of the culinary department had their part of the program ready, and an hour was spent in replenishing the inner man. The quartette then sang another selection and then Supreme Vice Chancellor Sample was introduced and in a forty minute address said many complimentary and praiseworthy things of the Knights of Pythias. He said in 1878 the K. of P. had a membership of 79,000, and now it has 500,000 and that the time will come when its membership will be over 1,000,000. A K. of P. lodge has been organized at Juneau, Alaska. Since the organization of the K. of P. in this country over $6,000,-000 have been paid out for sick benefits and over $2,000,000 to widows and orphans.

Mr. Sample closed his speech at 11.40 and then William Copping announced that there would be a turkey walk. Sheriff Burns and wife were first in line for the turkey but Sam'l Saxton and Mrs. Copping were the winners. The turkey proved to be a small roasted spring chicken that had been rolled up in enough paper to have the appearance of being six times its actual size.

The Schiverea Meetings.

The meetings to be held in Reynoldsville under Mr. Schiverea's direction will not commence until New Year's Day on account of the remarkable success of Mr. Schiverea's meetings now being held in Newburyport, Mass.

Mr. Schiveres writes: "It looks as if God would give us a mighty victory here, and it would be a calamity to leave just now. By preaching in the shops and with the working men, I am reaching many. The blessing is spreading to another city near by and if I can stay here as long as advisable it will mean so much for lost souls. You have my word and I will come the 1st of December, if you insist, but I wish that you might make it Jan. 1st. I will surely come then and will give you the best time in the year." From the Newburyport newspapers it appears that hundreds are utterly unable to get within sound of the evangelist's voice and the churches engaged are having a great blessings. Preparations will be going on all through December for the Schiverea meetings and it is expected that 1898 will open with a great revival of right-J. M. DEAN.

LOCAL INSTITUTE.

A Large Crowd Attended the Institute in West Reynoldsville Saturday.

Saturday forenoon a number of teach-ers assembled in the public school building of West Reynoldsville, where, after devotional exercises, conducted by the principal, they organized them-selves into an Institute, electing A. J. Postlethwalt president, O. H. Johnston vice-president, and Maggie Butler sec-ventary.

In a short, well worded address of welcome, Prof. Postlethwait made all feel at home and comfortable, free to feel at home and conformation, free to speak and ready to enjoy the occasion. This address was responded to in a very fitting manner by Prof. J. H. Wagner. Miss Hannah Stauffer read a very in-teresting paper on the subject of "Priteresting paper on the subject of "Pri-mary Geography." Miss Tacy Dempsey followed with a paper on the subject of "Vertical Writing." She handled the subject in an intelligent way. Others joined in approving the system, but brought out the fact that with some

During his talk he said that no school could be well taught if not managed. He school taught if not managed. He vised the teachers to get order first and then if any time was left, to teach. tion." T. N. Neff gave a very practical talk on "Number Work." This was especi-ally helpful to primary teachers. At 4.00 the flag was presented by Prof. Postlethwait in a short address, which could not help but stir the patriotism of all who heard it. He sald: "The schools must teach patriotism as well scholarship." He urged that every school house, every academy, and every college be made a nursery of patriotism. college be made a nursery of patriotism, where it should be taught that the true American citizen is the highest type of manhood. He further stated that the true glory of our county consists in what education is doing to give a National character to our people, and to inspire in them a love of country and an ambition for the highest form of en-

Put on More Postal Clerks.

The postal clerks on the A. V. Ry want an order issued compelling the citizens of this borough and West Reynoldsville to drop their mail in the postoffice instead of mailing on the trains. On Monday morning the mail carrier at this place handed the postal clerk over one hundred letters, and these would all have to be sorted and stamped before the train arrived at Hopkins, one and a half miles west of here, besides the work of opening the pouch and sorting out what other mail there was for Hopkins. We understand that the work is very heavy on this road for the mail agents, and especially on trains Nos. 1 and 2. It is very convenient for the public to mail letters on the trains and if one mail agent cannot do the work, two can, and we don't be lieve the people should be debarred from mailing letters on the train. This would not only apply to Reynoldsville, but all along the A. V. R'y, for Uncle Sam would not be just to deny our people a privilege that would be granted to others.

Some people think that Postmaster McGew's salary is based on the number of stamps canceled at the Reynoldsville office and that he has something to do with the attempt to put a stop to the mailing of letters on the trains. The postmaster's salary here is based on the amount of stamps sold and other business of the office, and the canceling of stamps has nothing to do with the sal-ary. Fourth class postmasters have their salaries based on the number of stamps canceled, but Reynoldsville is ot in that class.

Can you picture to yourself a rushing, mounting wave? Its crest is white with foam. Every moment it gathers force. Its coloring is more vivid, more strik-ing at each onward leap. At last it rises to the utmost height. There is a wide more a blindly more falling sudden crash, a blinding mass of falling water, a deafening roar. The wave water, a deafening roar. The wave has fallen. The echoes thunder out its requiem. Can you picture this? Yes? Then you have an idea of the force of "The American Girl." It is the "The American Girl." It is the strongest comedy drama that has been seen on the local stage. Strong situations pile up one after the other, gathering strength as the scenes ad-vance. One is prepared by the cres cendo for a climax, but not for such a one as comes, blinding like a flash of lightning by its intensity, answering back with the thunder in the shape of tumultuous applause.—Dallas News. An Opinion About Football.

Football was once a very healthful, harmless and innocent amusement, and just the gymnastic thing for idle bones or a tired brain, but it has become so woefully scientific of late, and so much modeled after a prize fight—the ending often times no less tragic—that as now played, the right of the game to an existence is becoming seriously question-able. Then, too, the game is now handled and rated and advertised, and, practically at least, given the same importance as the useful professions, that one would think it as necessary as farming, and that if it were discontinued thousands of people would lose their work and suffer impoverishment. What's the good, anyhow, of making so much of a mere child's play, I ask, so much of a mere child's play, I ask, and I believe with every show of reason? Is anyone the wiser, or the better, or the richer after the game has come off? In the writer's mind, it is rather the reverse, and he knows of nothing in vogue more calculated to lower the standard of manhood than the present-

May Smith Robbins and her company met with a hearty reception at the High Street theatre yesterday after-noon, a large audience generously ap-plauding the performance of "Little Trixie," The piece is a musical comedy, with only the shadow of a plot, but enough to allow the graceful introduc-tion of a score of pleasing specialties in enough to allow the graceful introduc-tion of a score of pleasing specialties in the way of singing and dancing and some very clever bits of comedy busi-ness.
