Our Educational Column.

"Tads William," Editor.

Boys and girls, the time of the year has arrived when you will begin to get squirmy and restless, and that dreaded epidemic, "spring fever," will devastate your ranks. It is inevitable, we know, as alarming symptoms have already made their appearance. We have clipped an article entitled "Fidgety People" that we want you to read as it will fit your individual cases to a "T." Read it carefully. Here it is.

FIDGETY PEOPLE.

Of all things, boys and girls, learn to be still; to sit still, to stand still, to appear at ease; to be able to sit with quietly folded hands for an hour, if need be, and not give every person the impression that you are struggling with an attack of St. Vitus' dance. Some people are constantly moving their feet or thumping their fingers on tables, chair arms, etc., to the tune of some tune, that for the time seems to render them oblivious to their surroundings; others whisk their pocket handkerchief, snapping it at an imaginary fly, or perhaps at some unlucky individual who happens to come within range of their long arms. I tremble when such a one turns his attention to my magazines or papers. He seizes the very latest, whisks the leaves over, glances at a picture, then deliberately rolling it up, peeps through it, whistles through it, hits it on his knee, driving it through his fingers; repeating this until the thought occurs to him that he might, if he kept on trying, roll it tighter than before; then he goes through the whole process again, talking and working. Once, to save a dearly beloved magazine, I drew the attention of one of these busy people to a large album that lay near on a table. He took the album, flipped the leaves over hastily, then posing the book on one point, with a hand on each side, began whirling that heavy album over and over, while I watched every motion with dizzy apprehension, like one fascinated. The dread of seeing my cherished album bereft of its cover, a wreck on the floor, finally broke the spell, and in desperation I grabbed a mammoth catalogue from some Chicago house, and managed to get him to exchange playthings, and hastily put everything for which I had any regard out of reach. The catalogue answered every purpose, and as it was stout and used to being handled, I think readily enjoyed it. I did, at any rate. I have noticed others, when talking keep their fingers, busily roving over their chair-arms or around the seats, seemingly in search of a loosened tack or a bit of fringe that had a break in it, then work away as if they had taken a contract to see how soon they could get that piece of furniture fit for the upholsterer—I almost said undertaker (there are times when one could send for the latter with unbecoming cheerfulness).

But to resume: A great many girls are as bad as boys in this respect. A piece of jewelry, a watch-chain, a pencil, anything, no matter what, so it is something to pick at, to flip, to chew, biting their finger nails, if nothing else comes in reach of those restless hands. They constantly remind you of perpetual motion, and it is a wonder that some keen-sighted, inventive genius has not made a fortune taking such a one as a model from which to make a machine that would "keep on" forever. I used to be acquainted with a young lady, who, besides being very beautiful, had the delightful charm of quietness. She often reminded me of a marble statue, as with her white hands folded in her lap, and her heavily lashed eyelids brushing her cheek, she would sit so motionless—it rested one to even look at her. She was as lively as any one when liveliness was desirable, but at other times had the most perfect control of her hands, and, in fact, her whole body, of any one I ever knew. So, my dear girls, take notice of yourselves and your acquaintances. Notice how the fidgety, restless ones compare with those whose case of manner shows a cultivation worthy of imitation. Practice the art of being still for ten minutes at a time, at least once a day, increasing the dose, as the physicians say, as you become accustomed to it, and in time I am quite sure you will feel that you have learned at least one desirable accomplishment—the art of keeping still. A. M. MARSHOTT.

When a person finds a lost article that is of value it is his or her duty to make the fact known so that the owner may recover the property. No man can excuse himself in keeping such property until he has made every effort to discover the owner without avail. To keep it without such effort makes the finder liable to action for larceny.

Paradise.

Owing to the beautiful weather and the rush of work last week the Paradise correspondent did not report.

Several of the township schools closed last week, among them being the McCreight and Phillippi, the former closing on Wednesday and the latter on Thursday.

Miss Mills' Shessey visited Miss Nettie Foltz several days last week.

Harvey Keller has had a severe attack of pneumonia the past week.

The people of the Methodist church expect to have their regular Easter exercise.

There was a spelling held at the Phillippi school last Thursday night.

Miss Mary Muir visited in Paradise over Sunday.

Henry Hollenbaugh, of Porter, visited his cousin, George Hollenbaugh, at this place several days last week.

Milton Lott, of Troutville, is working in Ludwick's saw mill.

The hustling farmers of this community are busy making maple sugar.

Noah Syphrit was in Big Run last Wednesday transacting business.

Mrs. Frank Gallagher, of Reynoldsville, has been visiting her parents the past few weeks.

Henry Roush, of Indiana, came to Paradise last week to remain with his grandfather, Jimmy Wells, this summer.

John H. Lott is in Brookville this week attending Court as a witness.

P. M. Wells has begun the foundation for his house.

In a few weeks more Thomas Syphrit will go to Homestead to work in the iron works.

Scott Syphrit has begun the foundation for his barn.

The water plug at the Ludwick saw mill closed last Monday and caused a great excitement.

Dr. Cyle was in town last Thursday. D. W. Wells made a flying trip to Armstrong county last Monday.

Rathmel.

Miss Lottie Trumbull, of DuBois, is visiting friends in town this week.

C. C. Wyant, teacher of Kilne school, ended his school last Thursday.

Miss Jessie Wolf, of Kittanning, is visiting friends in town this week.

P. M. Schrockmeyer had business in Falls Creek last Monday.

Mr. Williams, of Oliveburg, was in town visiting friends last Wednesday.

Miss Curvay Albright, of Reynoldsville, visited at J. C. Morris' last Monday.

R. C. Smith, of DuBois, Presiding Elder of the M. E. church, will hold quarterly meeting at this place Friday evening and Sunday morning, March 25 and 27.

The dances held in the K. of L. hall last Thursday evening proved a grand success. It was one of the most respectable dances held here for sometime. There wasn't one attended under the influence of liquor. The people who had the dance were Tom O'Hair, Will Connell and Tom Butler. They are making great preparations to have another one about Easter.

H. B. Wyse, of Cronshaw, has opened a first-class shoe and clothing store in the P. O. S. of A. hall at this place.

Davie Hill, who deals in pigeons, hurt his back while trying to catch one of his high priced birds last week.

Davie was trying to catch a pigeon called a "tumbler," which happened to get in a Poland's pigeon pen. He's recovering slowly. He will be able to "make the raffle" next time, we think.

J. C. Morris, principal of the Rathmel schools, will teach summer school. It will start May 2nd and last for ten weeks.

G. B. Bowser has received the appointment of postmaster at this place and will take charge April 1st.

Sam Brison, who got hurt up at the London mines, is slowly recovering.

A Village Improvement Society.

In many of the villages throughout our country a society has been organized, composed largely of public spirited ladies, which has for its aim the general improvement of the premises of the residents of the town, the neatness and order of the streets and parks and the sanitary conditions which do not necessarily come under the charge of the Board of Health. A constitution has been adopted by these which seems to cover the general aim and the object to be carried out. It provides that the society shall be controlled by ladies. The President, Secretary and governing committees are all ladies. Men may become members, but the direction of affairs is not given to them. There is such a society in Clearfield borough and it has done very much towards improving the general appearance and tidiness of the town. Such funds as may be needed are obtained by subscriptions or are raised by such methods as the managers adopt. Not much money is needed. The principal work is in infusing a spirit of neatness and order, not only on the premises of the residents of the town but to secure neatness in the streets in front of such premises. Another line in which they may and do labor, and that is in conjunction with the street committee, seeing that whatever is done towards beautifying the streets shall not be rendered useless by vandalism or neglect.

What is most needed to improve the premises of people both in town and country is an appreciation and regard for neatness and good looks; and this should be general. Sanitary regulations of a board of health cannot cause people to keep sticks, bones, tin cans, hoops, old hats and the like picked up and put out of sight. Nor can such regulations effectively prevent throwing slops and kitchen refuse on the ground next to the kitchen door. Nothing in the line of rigid rules can cure such untidiness; but when the perpetrators of such acts come to understand they are looked upon as careless, heedless and even filthy they are disposed to mend their ways and habits. It is in this line that most good can be and is done by Ladies' Village Improvement Societies. They make it the fashion to keep one's premises in order and in a neat condition.

I shall be pleased to see such an organization formed in our town and will give it, as I think all public spirited men will, a cordial and hearty support.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles.

We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents a bottle at H. A. Stoke's Drug Store.

Examinations for Common School Diplomas.

Pupils who have completed the course of study arranged for the schools of Jefferson county, and who have been recommended by their teachers, are hereby notified that examinations for common school diplomas will be held as follows:

Saturday, March 26th, Brookville.

Saturday, April 2nd, Brookwayville.

Saturday, April 9th, Punxsutawney.

Saturday, April 16th, Reynoldsville.

The examinations will begin at 9 o'clock A. M. Applicants will provide themselves with pen, ink and foolscap paper. The examination will consist of ten practical questions in each branch.

A committee of examiners, composed of disinterested teachers, will be appointed for each class. Since these committees serve without pay, we cannot ask them to bear the expense incurred by procuring conveyances to distant points. Therefore we have set the places for examinations at the place most convenient to them.

All friends of education, especially teachers and directors, are invited to attend these examinations.

R. B. TETRICK, County Superintendent.

Anent the spring time, "Gentle Annie," the Lindsey Press wisely remarks:

"The season of the year is rapidly approaching when it will be necessary to make extra precautions to prevent disease from getting a foothold in our midst. It is the duty of every person to see that all the filthy accumulations of the winter are removed and disposed of in such a manner that no disease can be traced to them. Do not wait until the board of health forces you to clean, but do it as soon as the weather permits."

"The Wrong Mr. Smith" at the opera house Friday evening.
