A Little of Everything.

Our ships have put to sea,
And to windward and to lee
The old flag is flying, flying, flying,
And it ripples its red bars
And the glory of its stars
When the spirits of the stormy deep are crying:

"On to the fight!
Let the stars of Freedom light
The land beneath the tyrant's banner glory;
Till every tyrant flag
Is a torn and trampled rag,
And alone in the sunlight waves "Old Glory!"

Our ships have put to sea,
And the light of Liberty
Dawns o'er a people sad and dying;
The chains of thralldom break,
And the thrones of tyrants shake
Where the spirits of the stormy deep are
crying:

"Fare ye to the fight!
Let the stars of Freedom light
The land beneath the tyrant's banner glory;
Till every tyrant flag
Is a torn and trampled rag,
And alone in the sunlight waves "Old
Glory!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Co. H Passed This Way.

Company H, 16th Regiment, N. G. P., of Ridgway, passed through Reynolds-ville last Wednesday afternoon on a special train running as first section of No. 2, enroute for Mt. Gretna, Pa., where the National Guards mobilized Thursday. Ex-U. S. District Attorney Harry Alvan Hall is captain of this company, and a fine looking captain he is. A large crowd of people had gathered at the A. V. R'y station to see the company, and the shouts and cheers given them would certainly be an encouragement for the soldier boys. Captain Hall shook hands with a number of his old time acquaintances at this place while the train stopped for orders.

Frank's Tavern.

Frank's Tavern, the brick hotel at the corner of Main and Third streets recently purchased by Frank A. McConnell, has been remodeled from cellar to garret and fitted up until it is now almost a new hotel and is very modern and convenient in all its departments. Mr. McConnell expects to enlarge the Tavern before many months and make it second to no other hostelry in this section. Mr. McConnell has had years of experience in the hotel business and understands it thoroughly. A few days ago we dined at Frank's Tavern and we are forced to the conclusion that the culinary department of the Tavern is presided over by an experienced cook. The neatness of the dining room, tables and waiter ladies could not but please the most fastidious.

State Officers Here.

Before the meeting opened the Keystone band, since its re-organization, made its first appearance on Main street, in front of L. O. O. F. hall, and played several very fine selections. After the band played the meeting in the hall was opened. Great Commanders F. H. Lawry and W. E. Blaney were present and delivered addresses. After this meeting closed a secret session of the lodge was held. The two state officers were to be in Falls Creek Friday night and as they had no date for Thursday evening the lodge at this place secured them for that night. The Maccabees, which gives its members the advantage of good insurance cheap, has a membership here of twenty-five.

Humorous and Dramatic Recitals.

A rich treat may be expected in the elocutionary recital to be given in Assembly Hall on Thursday evening, May 5th, by Mr. Alton Lindsey. This recital will be given under the auspices of the public schools. No word is necessary regarding the high quality of Mr. Lindsey's work as an elocutionist and impersonator. He has delighted Reynoldsville audiences in past years and in many respects his program on Thursday night will surpass any of his previous ones. His impersonation of the character of Uriah Heep from Dickens will alone be worth the price of admission. Both tragedy and comedy will be given. He will make you laugh. He will also give you that "creepy" feeling. You cannot afford to miss hearing him. Admission only 15 cents. Reserved seats at Stoke's without extra charge.

Successful Term of School.

The most successful term of school our town has ever had, closed last week. When the schools opened in the new brick building two years ago it was also the beginning of a new epoch in the school's history. The Reynoldsville schools have been raised to a high standard and are second to no other schools in Jefferson county. It means something now to be a graduate of our schools. Diplomas from the Reynoldsville high school will be honored at several leading colleges and universities, so that pupils graduating from this school will be admitted without even a re-examination of the branches taught in the Reynoldsville high school.

Prof. Lenker, our worthy principal, has proven himself to be a competent man for the position he holds. The assistant principal, Prof. Madden, is also an able instructor. All the teachers this year seemed to give good satisfaction in their work. The commencement exercises cannot help but be an incentive to the pupils to prepare themselves for their graduating day. Our citizens have good reason to be proud of the schools of this town.

P. F. FLYNN'S OBITUARY.

The Deceased Lived in this Town Over a Quarter of a Century.

Patrick F. Flynn, who departed this life at 5.15 on the morning of April 27th, had been a citizen of Reynoldsville about twenty-eight years. The deceased was born at Kenmare, County Kerry, Ireland, August 15th, 1849, making him in his forty-ninth year when dissolution took place. When a youth Mr. Flynn learned the carpenter trade in the land of his nativity and then went to Wales and learned ship-building. In 1869 he migrated to America and settled at Ridgway, where he spent his first year on American soil. From Ridgway he came to Reynoldsville and ever after resided here. At that time the A. V. R'y was being constructed and this town was having a big boom. Mr. Flynn built the first Catholic church in town, which was located on Worth street. He also built the Flynn hall, Hotel Belnap and a number of other buildings in town. After following the carpenter business a number of years, Mr. Flynn embarked in the drug business in the building now occupied by Hanau's store. He was in the drug business seven years. After quitting that he accepted a position as boss carpenter at the tannery, which position he held eight years, and was compelled to give it up one year ago on account of failing health, the result of stomach trouble, which finally ended his life. During the past year he was in the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh a few weeks and was in the German Hospital in Philadelphia twice, and everything that medical skill could do to cure the disease that was so surely sapping his life away, was done, but without success.

It was through Mr. Flynn's efforts that the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association was organized in this place in August, 1891.

In May, 1875, Mr. Flynn and Miss Mary Windle went to Brookville and were united in marriage by Father Weinker. Unto them five sons were born, who, with their mother, survive the deceased. The five sons are, Frank M., John E., Clement, Eugene and Charles.

Funeral services were held in the Catholic church at 9.00 A. M., Friday, at which time High Mass was said by Father Lynch, of DuBois. Father Brady's health is in such a condition that he was not able to conduct the services and, hence, Father Lynch was called. A large crowd attended the funeral to pay their last tribute of respect to one who had spent so many years in our midst. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. The following persons were pall bearers: C. F. Hoffman, Martin Phalen, M. Geisler, John Wildauer, Thos. C. McEnteer and Andrew Woyczok.

The floral contribution was beautiful. The cross was from employees of the tannery and the emblem of the C. M. B. A. was from that organization.

Burst of Enthusiasm.

It was reported at this place Sunday forenoon that Commodore Dewey's fleet and a Spanish fleet had a great naval battle Saturday at the Philippines and that Dewey had annihilated the Spanish fleet, but in the afternoon this report was contradicted. On Monday morning the first report of the great naval victory was confirmed and our people rejoiced with exceeding great joy, but when it was bulletined here in the evening that after two hours bombardment the city of Manila had surrendered to Dewey's fleet, then the patriotism and enthusiasm of our people had reached an unrestrained point and they cheered loudly for Dewey and his brave men who fought and gained one of the greatest naval battles ever known. Had the Mayor given his consent all the fireworks to be found in the town would have been used to demonstrate the exultant feeling surging in the breasts of our people. As it was a few red lights were burned and an occasional rocket sent heavenward.

Parade and Red Fire To-night.

Reynoldsville Cavalry Company No. 1 will meet at Centennial hall this evening at 7.30 for the purpose of organizing and drilling. Later in the evening a big parade of citizens, with Keystone and military bands, will take place. Red fire will be burned along the street. It will be a demonstration in honor of Dewey's great victory.

Hung in Effigy.

The figure representing Queen Regent was held up on a pole and Weyler was hanging between two polls with a rope around his neck.

Men's heavy buckles shoes, solid leather, for $1.00 a pair at Robinson's.

AN OLD SOLDIER DEAD.

Samuel Lattimer, Ex-Burgess of this Borough, Expired Saturday Night.

Samuel Lattimer, an old soldier, died at his home on Third street at 10.15 P. M., Saturday, April 30th. During the unpleasantness between the north and south Mr. Lattimer received two wounds that gave him considerable trouble and suffering at times, yet he was not only a brave man during the war, but he bore his suffering afterward with a brave heart. Three years ago this month—Memorial Day—while at Beulah cemetery honoring the memory of the brave soldier boys who sleep beneath the sod of that "silent city," he received a slight sunstroke, which was more than his weakened constitution could stand and he never well after that. The 27th of last July he was taken to the West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh, where he remained one month and received some help. He had not been out of the house since January of this year. Three weeks ago Saturday he had a slight stroke of paralysis on his entire left side, even his tongue was affected. While he was able to talk he told his family that he was ready to die; that he would then be at rest. The promises of the 23rd Psalm were a joy to him. He took delight in repeating that Psalm and that old hymn, "What a Friend we have in Jesus."

A half dozen of our doctors held an autopsy Sunday and discovered that the cause of Mr. Lattimer's death was heart trouble. His heart was double its normal size. When at the West Penn Hospital last year the physicians of the hospital pronounced his trouble heart disease, and that is what his home physician treated him for.

Samuel Lattimer was born in Pine-creek township, this county, April 6th, 1833, making him 65 years and 24 days old when he met the last enemy—death—and was called from earth's battle field to the camping grounds on the Eternal Shores, December 30th, 1896. He was married to Malinda Scott at Iowa Mills, Pa. It was a double wedding. His sister was married to Mr. Scott, brother of Mr. Lattimer's wife. Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Lattimer, one son and five daughters. The son—the first born—died in May, 1860. The five daughters and wife survive the deceased. The daughters are: Mrs. John Peters, of East Brady; Mrs. David Postlewait, Mrs. Allen King, Mrs. Ed. Jennings and Mrs. J. V. Young, of this place.

The deceased joined the M. E. church in Brookville in 1870. He moved from Brookville to this place eleven years ago. He was elected Burgess of this borough in 1894 for a three year term, but resigned a year before his term expired.

Mr. Lattimer enlisted in Company C, Second Burdian United States Sharp Shooters, at Brookville September 21st, 1861, and was honorably discharged February 22, 1865. He was wounded in the right side at Antietam September 17th, 1862, and in the left leg at Petersburg June 21st, 1864. He was in twenty or more fierce battles, including Bull Run, Antietam, Wilderness, Spotsylvania, Gettysburg, Fredricksburg and Petersburg.

Funeral services were held in the M. E. church yesterday afternoon, conducted by Dr. C. C. Rumberger. John C. Conser G. A. P., Phil. Kearney Camp, S. of V. and Woman's Relief Corps attended the funeral. The old soldiers, with the flag, for which the deceased faced shot and shell, headed the funeral procession. The interment was made in Beulah cemetery.

The pall bearers were, Major Levi Epler, Wm. M. Foster, Jacob Henninger, J. D. Woodring, John Davis and Samuel Sutter.
