Munjak.

'In the island of Barbadoes large quantities of a mineral have been found which the natives call "maniak." It is of a bright black color and occurs at a very slight depth, sometimes on the surface, in beds one to two feet thick. It generally appears under an angle of about 40 degrees, and in the immediate vicinity of rock. It is presumed to be solidified petroleum, which is often seen there exuding from the earth or floating on the water. In its composition this mineral is similar to the pitch of Trinidad, to the Gilsonite of Utah and the Canadian Albertite, but it is of a much better quality. The best varieties of "manjak" contained 2 per cent, of water, 70.85 per cont, of volatile organic substances, 20.97 per cent, of ditto solid ones and .18 per cent, of mineral parts. Trinidad pitch contains from 21 to 30 per cent, of water, and about 38 per cent, of ashes. Hence the manjak mineral is much richer in natural bitumen. It is used, among other purposes, for the insulation of electrical conduits, for varnish bituminous concrete and for fuel, mixed with peat, etc. It may to some extent supplant gutta percha as an iusulating medlum.-Savannah News.

TRADE REVIEW.

Unusual Prosperity in the West-Greatest Output of Iron Ever Known.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade re orts as follows for last week: Growing accustomed to war possibilitles, which are mostly far from probabilities of evil, and finding the nation moving along steadily in its in-dustries, people are grasping the idea that it is throwing away some months of active and profitable life to wait until war clouds have cassed. Western prosperity has so greatly overbalanced timidity of eastern capital that actual business done increases: railroad earnings promise better for May than a month ago for April, and payments through clearing houses for the week in May show a gain of 28 per cent over last year and 7.5 per cent over 1892, while a month ago the increase over hat year was 33.6, and compared with 1892 there was a decrease of 7.2 per cent. Several large contracts. Rept back for some weeks because of hoa-tilities, have now been placed, and in-stead of works closing or reducing force, returns show the starting of some works long idle, and increase of new works occupied many establish-ments, but it counts for little compared with other domands. The key of the situation is the pros-perity of the West, which altogether unprecedented marketing of bread-stuffs has caused, with the prospect of good crops to come. These pros-perity of the Vest, which altogether unprecedented marketing of bread-stuffs has caused, with the prospect of good crops to come. These pros-pects, and actual receipts of wheat amounting to 5,576,716 bushels for the week, against 2,420,69 last year, with advances also in other grain and cat-ile, have produced a demand for ralls, cars, car materials, foreing, agricul-ural implements, boots and shoes, and all textile mode which when a site on the produced a demand for ralls, probabilities of evil, and finding nation moving along steadily in its the

In plates and struc-tural forms all the works are fully em-gloyed, and generally crowded for ployed, and generally crowled for months ahead. One contract for 6,000 tons of armor plate for Great Britain has been taken by works far inland, with another of smaller quantity, showing that the export demand, in spite of higher ocean freights, is not yet arrested. The is sustained at 14.5 cents by large consumption, and lake copper at 12 cents, in spite of American production amounting to 22,909 tons for the month, 10 per cent larger than last year, with a slight decrease in the pro-duction of foreign mines. The textile works are doing rather better, even the cotton mills, in spite of their over-production, for some of large importance have recently started again, and print cloths are a sixteenth higher. Numerous woolen mills have been pushed to new activity by gov-ornment orders and prices for a few grades of goods are better, with a stronger tone in the market generally, although some mills of importance have stopped as their orders for the season have run out. INTER-STATE COMMERCE LAW.

Its Disadvantages Discussed by Preciden Ingalis of the Big Four. The injustice and disadvantages of the present Inter-State commerce laws both to the railroads and to the people were ably set forth in a recent address by Mr. M. E. Ingalis, President of the Big Four and Chesapanke & Ohlo rail-roads. The occasion was the tenth an-nual convention of Railroad Commis-sioners held in Washington, May 10. Mr. Ingalis said that the railroads had reached a crisis, where something must be done to avoid disanter not only to the railroads but also to the material interests of the country.

only to the railroads but also to the material interests of the country. Since the enactment of the inter-state commerce law in 1887, some pro-vision of that law has been constantly under consideration either by congress or the courts. Now it is admitted that state legislatures have control over the railroads with regard to local business and compress have not railroads to be proved as the proved of the state of the and congress has power as regards inter-state business

In reference to the control of States the Supreme court has just decided that state control must be reasonable, and that rates cannot be reduced below a point where railroads can earn their expenses and a fair profit. In 1897 it was decided by the Supreme court that the Sherman anti-trust law

In Iso it was decided by the Supreme court that the Sherman anti-trust law applied to the railroads contrary to the assertions of railroad men. Under the rulings of this law it was practically impossible to make any arrangements for the maintenance of tariffs. The tariffs are now but little respected by the railroads. Private arrangements with large shippers will sconer or later utterly ruln the smaller traders. Many railroad managers are carrying freight far below cost. A way must be found by which rail-road tariffs can be maintained and the practice of secret rates and contracts discontinued. The settlement of this question not only concerns the rail-roads but also one-fifth of the people of the country, who are directly inter-ested in railroads.

ODD DUCKS OF PORT TAMPA

Of the Wild Variety, They Respond Readily to Man's Call.

The most interesting thing at Port Tampa is the duck. Port Tampa is a collection of piers, but there is a hotel built on piles that are dressed in sewerpipe trousers to keep the teredo away. No shooting is allowed around the grounds or the piers, and, of course, not a little stuff is thrown from the hotel that is good food for ducks, pellcans and gulls. Accordingly these birds come about the hotel in flocks, and not only are they without fear of the people there, but they have learned to come for food when any one whistles for them as if for a dog.

"At first it seems as if the birds come as readily to the call of one person as of another, but the fact is that two or three people about the hotel are on speaking terms with them. The birds know their voices, and are plainly very friendly with them. At an old boatlanding stage the pelicans gather a dozen at a time, and, sitting there in the sun, preen their feathers and scratch their ribs with their long, ungainly looking bills. The fact that a lot of people are standing six feet away is in no way disturbing to them unless some unmannerly fellow pokes them with a cane. In that event the bird gives the intruder a white-eyed look of astonishment and utters a protest in a voice that is so gentle and delicate as to make one wonder where in the world such an ungainly bird got it." Then it flops its way to safety beyond the piers If undisturbed the pelicans often pil low their heads on their backs and take a nap, but in that position they are quickly observed by the tourist who thinks it is fun to make trouble for quiet folks, and they are quickly snared by a cane-crook and sent flapping to the water.

"Only the smaller ducks come about the hotel, but they are excedingly beautiful and graceful in their movements. while the gulls in their dancing flight are of endless interest. No one has tried to teach the birds to come to hand for food, it is said, but it is plain that any one with knowledge and tact and love might establish an acquaintance there that would enable him to write a most interesting story about our feathered brothers affoat."

----"A Perfect Type of the Highest Order of Excellence in Manufacture."

The chief difficulty with the inter-state commerce law is that the pun-lements are entirely out of proportion with the offences. The imprisonment clause has not public sentiment in its favor, and it also prevents one railroad from prosecuting another. The public does not believe in the law and what is the result? Honest railroads see their business going to opposing lines; honest merchants are undersult by others who have no scru-
