Every time you lick a revenue stamp, console yourself in the belief that it is so much help in licking Spain.

The B., R. & P. mileage books are not limited now. A book on that road is good until used—be the period one, two or three years.

"Swallow Flyer" is the name of a campaign extra issued at Philadelphia for the purpose of advocating the election of Dr. Silas C. Swallow as governor of Pennsylvania.

The stiletto is a favorite weapon for Italians, and although it is unlawful to carry such death-dealing weapons, yet there are few Italians that do not carry a stiletto. A few days since an Ike lost a stiletto out of his pocket while walking up Main street. The stiletto was over six inches long and was encased in a leather covering.

It is not an uncommon thing for small boys to steal their way into a circus by crawling under the tent, but it is out of the usual order of things for two hundred pound women to gain an entrance into a circus by crawling under the canvas. Two large women of this place attended Sparks' circus and they got in by coming the small boy act of crawling under the canvas.

The Spaniards, not willing to acknowledge the bravery of the American soldiers in the battle at Santiago on July 1st, say: "The pigs charged up the hill like fools. They are madmen, imbeciles. They don't know what danger is." Our soldier boys are the bravest men the Dons have ever met in battle, and they will always find them facing danger if duty calls.

Hon. Geo. A. Jenks, the Democratic nominee for Governor, was tendered a reception by the people of Brookville Friday evening last. It was an impromptu affair, gotten up on short notice, else the attendance would have been much larger than it was. Headed by the Brookville Cornet band, numerous citizens, irrespective of party, marched to his residence in South Brookville, when Mr. Jenks made a speech that was void of politics, save an inference to the Democratic claim of mismanagement in state affairs that should condemn the majority and place the minority party in control, or in other words make his election as Governor possible. It was a very pleasant affair, winding up with an extension of congratulations all around.—Brookville Republican.

At the Democratic State convention recently held in Altoona, Hon. George A. Jenks, of Brookville, was unanimously nominated for governor. Mr. Jenks is a strong man for the office for which he has been nominated. He ranks among the best lawyers of the state. His qualifications for the position to which his friends hope to "land" him, cannot be refuted. In speaking of his nomination, the Philadelphia Record said: "If the State had been searched there could not have been found in the ranks of either or any of the parties a man better capacitated than George A. Jenks to sit in the executive chair at Harrisburg. He is able. He is honest. He is incorrupt and incorruptible. He is ripe in years and judgment. He has a clear record, private and public, to fall back upon. It does no other man in Pennsylvania injustice to say that the state has not a more distinguished nor more deserving citizen than George A. Jenks."

Frank P. Adelsperger, constable and night watchman, is an officer of whom this town has a just right to be proud of. He is small in stature but he has "sand" and "grit" enough to be a giant. For years Mr. Adelsperger has been a "terror" to evildoers and many a "tough" who travels from town to town is on his good behavior while tarrying in this town a day or two because he does not care to have Mr. Adelsperger get after him. If John L. Sullivan would come to Reynoldsville and incur the displeasure of the law Mr. Adelsperger would soon have John in the lock-up. He careth not whether a man be tall or small, where duty calls he will not shrink it. When he makes an arrest he cannot be "bought" to let his prisoner go. That was tried recently but the money was no inducement and the man who offered it was delivered to the tribunal before which he gave bail for his appearance at court. Mr. Adelsperger is detective for the A. V. R. and many a law-breaker at various places along the line of the road been brought to justice by the good services of Mr. Adelsperger.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject is narrated by him as follows:

"I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyesunkun, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts. per bot. at H. A.
