The clerks and barbers played a game of ball Friday afternoon. The barbers were defeated. Score 10-16. One of the features of the game was "Bobby" Thomas playing as second baseman for the barbers. "Bobby" had the little finger of his right hand knocked off joint in attempting to stop a wild ball. There was more fun than science in the game.

Some people may think that a soldier home on a furlough wears his uniform for show, but such is not the case, although it would be all right to do so. A soldier is compelled to wear his uniform all the time and when he removes it and dons citizen's clothing he becomes a deserter and is liable to be arrested by any constable or officer and returned to camp. A reward of $10.00 is offered for such arrest.

A traveling man who was looking for trouble Monday night and seemed very anxious to fight some person, found a young man who accommodated him. After the "scrap" the traveling man wanted a doctor to dress his wounds, and the young man who had thumped the fellow and then disappeared in the crowd, stepped up and volunteered to escort him to a doctor's office. The drummer didn't know his escort was the chap who had whipped him.

Edward Lewis, who was injured in the Sherwood coal mine a few weeks ago by a fall of coal, is slowly recovering and is able to be on the street on crutches. Two tons of coal fell on Mr. Lewis, catching him across the hips and legs. He was in the mine alone and it was with great difficulty that he extricated himself from the pile of coal. He was not able to walk and had to crawl a quarter of a mile to get out of the mine to call for help. Mr. Lewis says he don't know how he escaped from being killed.

Frank Sutter and bride arrived in this place Saturday night, or rather Sunday morning, as they were on the train that was delayed seven hours at Lawsonham by the freight wreck. Preparations had been made at the Sutter mansion to give the young couple a reception, but the plans were spoiled by the wreck. The Keystone band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Sutter Monday evening. A number of the young men with whom Frank associates, organized a call-thumpian band and serenaded him Monday evening.

The surviving members of the Post occupied seats on the platform. Fifteen of the comrades have responded to the Grim Reaper's bugle call and there were fifteen vacant chairs on the platform draped. The regular memorial service, prepared for such occasions, was carried out, after which Dr. C. C. Rumberger delivered an excellent address. The hall should have been packed for this service, but the attendance was extremely small.

Wreck on A. V. Ry. A wreck occurred on the A. V. Ry near Lawsonham Saturday afternoon which delayed the evening passenger train seven hours. A freight engine and two loaded coal cars jumped the track while taking siding to let passenger train No. 5, due here at 6.40, pass. It was five o'clock Sunday morning before the engine and cars were replaced on the rails. The New Bethlehem accommodation, due here at 8.05 P. M., was run to Lawsonham to transfer passengers, but it was almost 2.00 A. M. Sunday before the train reached this place. There were quite a number of people at Brookville as witnesses and jurors who had a long and tiresome wait for the train.

Home on Furlough. Atmore Shaffer, one of the Reynoldsville boys who joined Co. L, 16 Regt. P. V. I., is at home on a thirty day furlough. Atmore's company went to Porto Rico last week. On Monday of last week, the day Co. L folded their tents at Camp Meade to start for Porto Rico, Atmore had symptoms of malaria and he was sent to the Second Division hospital and thus was deprived of the privilege of going with his company to Porto Rico. The hospital doctors did not consider the malaria symptoms of a serious nature with Atmore and he was immediately put into service as an orderly. Friday he secured a furlough. Atmore will return to Camp Meade at expiration of furlough, but he does not expect to go to Porto Rico to join his company.

Death of Ira Welsh. Ira Welsh, father of our townsman, John A. Welsh the shoe dealer, died at his home in Summerville at three o'clock yesterday morning from dropsy, after an illness of three months. Seventy-three years ago the deceased was born near Summerville and he has always resided there. His remains will be buried in the Catholic cemetery at Brookville this forenoon. The deceased was the father of eleven children, three of whom preceded him into the Eternal world. He is survived by his wife, two sons and six daughters, as follows: John A. Welsh, of this place, Mrs. H. D. Clark, Mrs. Kate Hoffman and Mrs. Maud O'Neill, of Summerville, Mrs. John T. Stiver, of DuQueno, Pa., Mrs. John Doverspike, of Brookville, Mrs. Alice Featherney, of Leavenworth, Kan., and J. B. Welsh, of Summerville. Welsh & Co.'s shoe store and Clark's restaurant were closed at noon yesterday and will be opened at noon to-day.

Treated Mean by Ridgway Club. For contemptibleness, despicableness, dishonourableness or disgracefulness in base ball circles in this section of the state, the Ridgway ball team has the lead. Our ball team made arrangements to play two games of ball in Elk county last week, at St. Marys on Tuesday and Ridgway on Wednesday, with a guarantee of a stipulated sum from each club. St. Marys beat our club badly and paid the guarantee, but at Ridgway it was different. Five innings were played at Ridgway without either club making a score, much to the surprise of the Ridgway club, because they felt so sure of defeating our boys that they considered the victory won before the game was started. In the fifth inning two men were out and a Ridgway player made a desperate effort to get in the first score, but Groves had the ball on his two foot away from home plate and the umpire, who had been selected by the Ridgway club, called the man out. One of the Ridgway players, who was running from first to second and did not see the play at home plate, was told by second baseman that he need not run any further, that the man did not reach home safe, showed his meanness by continuing to run until he reached the umpire and grabbed him by the neck and ran him clear off the field. The Ridgway club refused to allow him to umpire longer. They put in an umpire that had fifteen dollars bet on Ridgway and our boys objected to having him umpire. Then the Ridgway club refused to play and also refused to pay our team the guarantee money. The spectators were indignant and disgusted at the action of the Ridgway team and demanded their money back, but the Ridgway club refused to refund the money, in fact refused to do anything that was honorable or honest. They showed their cultivated propensities for kicking before the umpire had been run off the ground.

A traveling man, who saw the game at Ridgway, was in THE STAR office Friday and claimed he had witnessed many games of ball and had seen considerable meanness, but the Ridgway club surpassed anything in that line he had ever seen.

The Water Fountain. Several weeks ago it was mentioned in THE STAR that there was talk of piping the water from spring in front of Presbyterian church to corner of Main and Fifth streets where a fountain would be put up where pedestrians and horses could slake their thirst. The council granted the permission last week to lay the pipe line and erect fountain. Some of the water has been sent away to be analyzed and if it is pure the fountain will be erected. Solicitors will call on the people this week for subscriptions to pay the expense of buying fountain and piping the water. If there is enough money raised and there is a sufficient supply of water for both, the line will be extended and a fountain put up at the corner of Main and Fourth streets. The fountain will have a waste pipe so that there will be no water on the street from the fountain only what would be thrown out by those who drink at the fountain.

It will require two hundred dollars or more to put in the one fountain, but it is such a commendable step that there should be no trouble in raising the money. There is no other way that several hundred dollars could be expended that would be as much credit to the town and convenience to the public as to put in a fountain where people could get a drink of good spring water. If the analysis proves that the water is not perfectly pure, then the scheme will not be abandoned and the people will not be asked to pay the money they subscribed.

J. Van Reed, Samuel B. Saxton and A. E. Dunn will solicit subscriptions. Every person should help a little.

An Exciting Runaway. About eight o'clock Saturday night there was quite an excitement created on Main street by a runaway horse and buggy. James Hughes, of Rathmel, was driving into town and near the Presbyterian church Charles Fry, who was driving in an opposite direction, collided with Hughes' rig. One wheel was torn off Mr. Hughes' buggy, he was thrown out and his horse, which is a spirited nag, got away from him and ran down Main street. The horse got close enough to the sidewalk in front of Riston's cigar store to upset three or four chairs that had been occupied by gentlemen who got out of them just in time to save being thrown with the chairs. There was a horse and buggy tied in front of Hughes' wholesale and the horse dashed into that rig, which put an end to the runaway, as Hughes' buggy was upset and his horse thrown, and before the horse could get started again, several men had hold of it. Hughes' buggy was badly disfigured but the buggy that was standing on the street was not damaged. Fry's buggy was badly wrecked. With so many people on the street it is a wonder some one was not injured. A little girl who was crossing the street barely escaped being run down in front of Stoke's drug store. Mr. Hughes claims that he tried to avert the collision by driving to side of street. Fry didn't see Hughes' rig.
