

The Star.

Subscription $1.50 per year, or $1.00 if paid strictly in advance.

C. A. STEPHENSON, Editor and Pub.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1898.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county. Non-political, will treat all with fairness, and will be especially friendly towards the laboring class.

Subscription price $1.00 per year, in advance. Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the writer's name, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Interesting news items solicited. Advertising rates made known on application at the office in Froehlich-Henry Block. Lengthy communications and change of advertisements should reach this office by Monday noon.

Address all communications to C. A. Stephenson, Reynoldsville, Pa.
Entered at the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., as second class matter.

The official election returns for Governor and Assembly will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

The hobo sleeps and loafs around the coke ovens so much that there is only one place that will seem homelike to him in the next world.

Every town is a miniature world with its great people and its small people, bad people and good people, its jealousies and rivalries, kindness and patient heroism.

The next election of importance to the taxpayers of Jefferson county will be held in February, when it will be decided whether this county will have a poor farm or not.

If any one doubts now that there was collusion between Democrat and Republican "machinists," they should talk to some of the defeated men.—Clearfield Monitor. That's bosh.

It is not an uncommon thing to find women neglecting home duties to do missionary or society work. We don't believe the Lord will give any woman credit for neglecting her family to do missionary work, or any other church work.

Don't throw your old white shirts and white cotton socks away any more. Save them up and sell them for smokeless powder. The discovery has been made that these castaway things are the very best things from which to manufacture the smokeless powder of commerce, and there are not enough of them to supply the demand.—Pittsburg News.

Joseph McFadden threatens to bring suit against the West Winslow township election board for refusing to allow him to vote last Tuesday. Mr. McFadden has been staying in the township since last April and had a tax receipt in his possession, but his wife lives in Pinecreek township and the election board refused him on the grounds that his domicile was in Pinecreek township.

The Pittsburg Times, one of the best, although not the largest, newspapers published in Pennsylvania, has recently added to its plant two of the largest and fastest presses made. The increased circulation of the Times made it necessary to put in the new and expensive presses. The Times has been succeeding wonderfully because it is always full of the latest news, written in a crisp and intelligent form.

Sam Jones asked the following pertinent question: "Do you know that boys are much more particular whom they go with than girls are? You may think it a strange statement, but it is so. A girl will go on the streets in open day with a boy that gets drunk, but the minute that a boy finds out that a girl gets drunk he won't go with her. I wish our girls would be as particular with whom they go as the boys are."

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railroad earnings for the fourth week in October, 1898, were $107,179; for the corresponding period in '97 they were $114,146, a decrease of $6,967. For the month of October, '98, the earnings were $350,679; for the corresponding month in '97 they were $353,700, a decrease of $3,021. For the four months beginning July 1 the earnings were $1,376,924, for the corresponding period in '97 they were $1,290,943, an increase of $85,981.—Punxsutawney News.

The man who deliberately refuses to pay an honest debt is as much of a criminal as a man who loots a bank or plunders a house or store. If anything he is worse, for he enters upon your premises and contracts the debt in the guise of an honest man, while the robber and burglar are known at sight. He frequently obtains credit because he occupies a prominent position in society and the church, and often because he pleads immediate necessity that if unrelieved will greatly distress. He has a carefully laid bunco game for the grocer, the butcher, the baker, the doctor, the telephone company, yes, for all from whom he expects to get something for nothing. And when, after months and years of patient waiting, payment is finally demanded he too frequently throws off the mask and instead of payment of the debt offers threats and utters warnings that he will "protect his interests," which phrase usually means that he will place his assets in his wife's name or take advantage of the exemption laws that were never intended to benefit the dishonest, but simply to assist in tiding over the unfortunate honest.—Ex.

Robbed the Grays.
A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bot. at H. A. Stoke's Drug Store.

1878. 1899. Fire Insurance.
