During the Professor's absence one day last week one of the High School gallants thought that he would be the acting Professor and discharged his duties faithfully by taking a little boy by the collar and hauling him to the office for a hearing.

The mock-trial held in Assembly hall last Friday disposed of the suit brought against James Muir by Winfield Sterley to recover some clothing stolen from the latter's store. Very careful preparation was made to preserve the honor and dignity of the defendant, and this ranked no higher than the wise counsel and ready genius of the attorneys for the plaintiff, who labored hard in order to justify his supposed rights. Taking all things into consideration the case was well managed by the lawyers. This is evident from the fact that they displayed their skill in grasping and disposing of the opportunities to baffle a few of the witnesses, which, by the consent of these, he succeeded in doing. The attorneys for the Commonwealth, though the verdict favored the defendant and the former pay all costs, deserve great praise for the manner in which they conducted their side of the case, as they were somewhat handicapped from the beginning.

Misses Caroline and Nellie Robinson and Edna Lewis visited the High School Friday.

Miss Flo Best and Mrs. A. B. Weed witnessed the mock trial in Assembly hall Friday afternoon.

The great interest our worthy board of directors is taking in the cause of education is constantly being manifested by the great attention given to the needs pertaining to the success, safety and comforts of the pupils. We have as the result of its careful supervision, together with the aid of the other citizens, the beautiful building, erected for the students, the corps of teachers ably qualified for their positions, who were chosen after careful deliberation on the part of the employers, and the many recent improvements essential to the completion of the edifice, which improved facilities for education we enjoy only after the voluntary expenditure of their money and energy. The place of learning and the work being done there for the pupils' benefit are strongest factors in the process by which the pupil is led into the greater intellectual freedom where he will have a broader scope of knowledge and a sounder conception of things. To the scholar, what greater inspiration is there to lead a studious life than, after he has been for sometime under the impression that none could boast of such vast learning as he, then awakes to his folly—thus overpowered by that feeling (which all should have) that the majority of the people are far in the advance of him along the same line of work—than to look back and see a whole community laboring for his future welfare. We, as Seniors, sincerely regret that our last term in Reynoldsville High School is drawing nigh a close, yet we cannot but rejoice that the time spent in performing the student's tasks has been the means of arousing in us a determination to continue the work which has proven so profitable to us here. We feel grateful not only to the directors but to all the citizens of our town for their aid to the school cause.

There is not enough interest taken in our literary society. It seems that we do not care for literary work. This is entirely wrong. The scholars of the High School should take such an interest in the society and its work that our club would become famous in the school and the town. It may seem to some that it is rather late to begin to rouse ourselves so that we may have good and interesting meetings of the society, but remember the old adage, "Better late than never." The object of the literary society is to teach us to express our opinions to our fellows. But if we never try to help ourselves, how do we ever expect to be able to do this?

We should not wait two or three weeks to get prepared when we are on the program. As soon as we learn that we are to take part, we should begin to prepare ourselves. When it is time for us to do our part, we should do it cheerfully and willingly and not come to the front of the stage with an expression on the face of "Well, I just had to do it, or I wouldn't."

When you go to college you will have to take part in this same kind of work whether you wish to or not. If you learn now, you will have so much less to learn then. I imagine that I hear someone say that they do not intend to go to college. That makes no difference. You do not know when or where you will be called on to make an address of some kind. Having good thoughts about which you wish to talk, but being unable to put them into good form, you are handicapped and refuse to speak. Maybe your opinions would do somebody good, but if you do not express them they will certainly be of no benefit to anyone but yourself. Therefore, as you are not here for yourself alone, you miss a chance of doing another some good. We are sure that you desire others to do you good. If you do, remember the Golden Rule. EX—C.

Notes to Druggist.

People frequently send their children to drug stores and the following is a reproduction of some of the notes they hand the druggist:

"This child is my little girl. I sent you five cents to buy two sileas powders for a groan up adult who is sick."

"Dear Dochter, please gif bauer five cense worse of Auntie Toxyn for to gargle baby's throat with and oblaege."

"You will please give the little bol five cents worth of epecac for to throw up in a five month old habar N B the babe has a sore stummick."

"I have a cute pain in my child's diagram. Please give my son something to release it."

"My little babey has eat up its father's parish plaster. Send an antedote quick as possible by the enclosed girl."

"I haf a hot time in my insides and which I would like it to be extinguished. What is good to extinguish it. The enclosed money is for the price of the extinguisher. Hurry pleas."

Last Low-rate Excursion to Washington.

The last of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's special excursions from points on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, Erie to Look Haven, inclusive, to Washington, will be run on March 24. Round-trip tickets, good going on all regular trains March 24, and good returning on any regular train leaving Washington not later than April 3, will be sold at greatly reduced rates.

HOLDERS of special excursion tickets to Washington can purchase, at the Pennsylvania Railroad ticket offices in Washington, excursion tickets to Richmond at rate of $4.00 and to Old Point Comfort (all rail) at $6.00; at the offices of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, excursion tickets (not including meals and staterooms on steamers) to Old Point Comfort or Norfolk, Va., at $3.50, and to Virginia Beach at $4.50; Washington to Mount Vernon and return, via Electric Railway, 50 cents.

For full information consult small hand bills, apply to ticket agents, or address E. S. Harrar, Division Ticket Agent, Williamsport, Pa.

Railroad Facilities.

Attention is called to the excellent facilities for travel now offered by the B. R. & P. Ry and its connections since the new afternoon train, in and out of Reynoldsville, was put on the R. & P. C. R. R.

The morning train arriving here at 10.50, running direct from Clearfield to Reynoldsville, connects at Falls Creek with morning trains from Bradford and Punxsutawney.

Train 13, leaving here at 12.45, connects at Falls Creek with B. R. & P. trains north for Bradford and Buffalo, and with train for Clearfield. Train 13 runs direct to Punxsutawney, making connection there with the P. & N. W. train which leaves Punxsutawney at 3.17 P. M., and arrives at Belwood at 5.44 P. M., connecting with fast trains both East and West on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Train 18, arriving here at 4.39 from Punxsutawney connects at Falls Creek with B. R. & P. trains from Buffalo and Rochester.

Train 74, leaving here at 4.42 P. M. makes close connection at Clearfield with Beech Creek train for Williamsport, Philadelphia and New York, and also with train west for Patton and intermediate points.

Tickets can be secured at R. & F. C. station to any point on B. R. & P. and Beech Creek Ry and connections. B. R. & P. mileage books are good on Beech Creek Ry, and are good until used, instead of being limited to one year from date of sale as formerly.

A Common Danger.

If you have ever had a cold which you permitted to "wear away" it may interest you to know that it was a dangerous proceeding. Every cold and cough which is neglected paves the way for consumption, bronchitis, asthma or catarrh. Otto's Cure, the famous German throat and lung remedy, will cure any cough or cold and save you from consumption. Call on H. Alex. Stoke and get a sample bottle free. Large size 25c. and 50c.

An acting model of the human earth, with every detail, has been made by a French physician. The blood can be seen coursing to and from it through artificial arteries.

Paradise.

Ruth Cathers visited Miss Susie Dougherty several days last week.

Ben Boyer has moved from Paradise to Mr. A. J. Sprague's to farm for him the coming summer.

Thomas Cathers is going to take the examination in April to see how good he is.

There will be a party at Jacob Yohe's to-night. A large crowd is expected to be present.

Martin Syphrit says there is no rush in getting his logs in, as there is no rush in heaven.

Use Alkanis for rheumatism. For sale by A. L. Shoessley. A cure guaranteed with every bottle.

We had quite a snow storm in town last Sunday. It seemed like winter.

C. E. Strouse intends to raise geese this summer.

It seems like home again to hear the Hopkins mill whistle blow.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wells visited at the home of W. A. Shoessley last Sunday.

Edward Syphrit was chosen editor of Roseville Items. He expects to go to work sometime this week.

The Brook saw mill is again in operation and running at full speed.

Harvey Keller was a pleasant caller at Webster Deemer's last Saturday and Sunday.

Henry Hollenbaugh is visiting in Armstrong this week.

Amos Strouse lost another horse the other day. It seems that Amos has all the bad luck with horses. This makes six he has lost in the past six years.

Rathmel.

Daniel Lyle, of DuBois, was in town last week.

William Young and Charles Henry, of Fairmount, Pa., were seen on our streets last week.

Thomas Maloy, started to Clearfield last Saturday, but found the wheeling so bad he stopped at DuBois and returned home to wait for better roads.

Robert Adams, jr., and Alfred Dingkhun went to Pittsburg on Saturday to enlist in the regular army.

It is reported that Amel Dingkhun, who volunteered when the call was made during the war with Spain, died in Cuba on the 14th of this month, but up to date his parents know nothing about it, excepting what the daily papers reported.

The Winslow township school institute will be held here on next Saturday.

Work is being pushed forward on the new opening of Clearfield Coal and Iron Co., on the right side of what is known as Soldier Run stream. Rathmel people are looking forward to a good summer's work.

L. G. Liddle deserves great credit for the interest taken in our home talent, also for the trouble and expense in making the stage in the P. O. S. of A. hall look so well as it does.

Preaching in the M. E. church next Sunday morning and in the Church of God in the evening.
