SUNDAY SCHOOL ASS'N

Of Jefferson County Held Its Regular Annual Convention Here.

SEVENTY SCHOOLS REPRESENTED

By One Hundred and Twenty-Four Delegates—Five Instructive Sessions—Mr. Austin Blakeslee Elected President.

The Jefferson County Sunday School Association held its annual session in the M. E. church of this place on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The delegates began arriving on the noon train Tuesday and the first session was held at 2.30. Rev. Hooper conducted the devotional exercises, taking the place of Rev. Rumberger, who was busy placing the visitors. A hearty welcome was given the delegates, to which Rev. Sibley responded in a few well chosen words.

The first work of the convention was the appointing of committees on nomenclature, credentials, and resolutions. The first speaker, Rev. Mills, was then called upon to discuss the subject, "The Duties and Privileges of the Church Member to the Sunday School." He gave as some of the duties and privileges: to support the Sunday school financially, to be always present, to be on time, to go with the children, as the children are more easily led than driven, and to keep sweet in disposition. Several members then took part in this discussion.

Dr. Roads, State Secretary, said, the great privilege of the church member is to have a Home Department of the Sunday school. A great many people read the Bible, a few study it; time should be given to study and meditation. He graphically described the injury a superintendent might do by addressing the pupils as "Dear little children," by telling of the boy who said, "Who is he talking to? Does he think we're all kids?"

The next subject, "The Sunday School as an Educator," was opened by Rev. H. G. Tougarden. He said the Bible had very little place in the curriculum of a college and many boys and girls drift away by going to these institutions. The modern Sunday school is a greater educator than the public school or the college. Educated men move the world; the greatest education is to be educated in heart, the education of the soul, for the Man of Galilee has been the instructor.

A very pleasing lesson was then given by Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of Philadelphia, State Primary Superintendent. A class of about fifty primary pupils was given into her charge. She first explained her manner of working. All lessons are either story, abstract or warning lessons. A warning lesson may be either of the other two. An abstract lesson must be reduced to the story form and a warning lesson always being a negative lesson must be a made a "do" lesson. She selected as her lesson Amos 6: 1-11, a warning lesson. The idea of choosing was developed by having the children choose objects, and to this was added the thought of good and bad choosing. The story of Amos was told, the teacher illustrating on the blackboard, the attention being held by the bright interest of the teacher and the quick putting of questions to the children, until they were ready for the climax of the lesson which was found in the text, "Ever follow that which is good." A short prayer was given at the beginning and close of the lesson, the children repeating after the teacher.

The evening session consisted of an address by Dr. Roads, and a question box. Dr. Roads enumerated the christian societies, which are many, but the opposing societies of darkness are many; every means should be used to overthrow the powers of evil. He then enlarged upon the following topics: I. The Bible is the greatest book in the world; II. All the Sunday schools in a town are responsible for the souls in that town; III. The Sabbath school should be in loving relation with the home; IV. The highest school to be, will be the Bible school; V. No scholar is safe until he is saved. The main thought of the discourse was the importance of Bible study.

The first work of Wednesday morning was an earnest talk by Prof. Brown on securing better attendance in the Sunday school. Some of the thoughts given were: the superintendent must be in sympathy with the pupils to such an extent that he may be interested in them outside of the Sunday school; he should vary his manner of conducting the exercises; the teachers must be on time, and must have the Holy Spirit; and a graded school with examination and promotions will keep pupils interested.

The subject, "The Sunday school and the Church of the Future," was discussed by Wm. Perry. Mr. Joel Smith was called upon to discuss the Sunday school as a moral factor. The last topic of the morning was "The Proper Preparation for Sunday School" by Rev. R. M. Coulter. The preparation necessary is a thorough knowledge of the Bible and the presence of the Holy Spirit. Great talents are not necessary; most of the work is done by people of one talent who do not hide it in a napkin.

The principal work of the afternoon consisted of talks by Mrs. Barnes and Rev. Platt and a class drill by Dr. Roads. Mrs. Barnes' theme was "Home Co-operation," which she said might be more easily obtained if the parents knew how to help. Ways of helping are: helping pupils to be punctual; preventing irregular attendance; getting pupils to study lessons at home; praying with the children, not for them; giving children Bibles of their own; teaching systematic giving; and by helping the child to live the truths they learn. Ways of getting the parents to do this work are: by having mothers' meetings; by having a social time for the parents; by the home department work, and by visitation.

Rev. Platt talked of temperance teaching in the Sunday school. He thought too much emphasis could not be put upon this subject and every means should be used to inculcate temperance principles.

Dr. Roads then gave methods of drill in the study of the Bible, to be used in five minute supplemental lessons. In the evening Miss Madalyn Whitehill recited "Herod."

The closing address of the convention was given on Wednesday evening by Dr. S. M. Gordon, of Brookville. He intimated in his introduction that we might get a great deal of "dried tongue" and some "fresh," but the interest of the audience proved it all to be in a palatable condition. His subject was "Our Young Men," and how to make the best of the twelve millions of young men in the United States was the problem considered. The solution was to get them to be christians and this to be the work of christians.

The Sunday schools were represented by one hundred and twenty-four delegates and a number of visiting friends. Seventy Sunday schools sent delegates, representatives for twelve different denominations. Mr. Austin Blakeslee succeeds Mr. Reitz as president, the other officers remaining as before. The selection of the next meeting place was left in the hands of the executive committee.

A Valuable Publication.

On June 1 the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will publish the 1899 edition of its Summer Excursion Route Book. This work is designed to provide the public with short descriptive notes of the principal Summer resorts of Eastern America, with the routes for reaching them, and the rates of fare. It contains all the principal seashore and mountain resorts of the east, and over fifteen hundred different routes or combinations of routes for reaching them. The book has been compiled with the utmost care and altogether is the most complete and comprehensive handbook of Summer travel ever offered to the public.

It is bound in a handsome and striking cover, in colors, and contains several maps presenting the exact routes over which tickets are sold. It is also profusely illustrated with fine half-tone cuts of scenery at the various resorts and along the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On and after June 1 it may be procured at any Pennsylvania R. R. ticket office at the nominal price of ten cents, or, upon application to the general office, Broad Street Station, by mail for twenty cents.

Rules For Normal Contest.

Contestants must register their names at this office.

All coupons must be sent to the Secretary of the Committee each week.

All money collected for new subscribers or on subscription due must be sent to this office weekly.

Each contestant registering will be furnished with a card certifying that they are contestants.

The contest will close on August 28th, at 12 noon.

Any young lady or gentleman is eligible either in Jefferson or adjoining counties.

It will not be a hard matter to secure a large vote if the candidate will give a little time to the canvass.

Send in your name and get started as soon as possible. We will publish your name every week so that your friends will know that you are running and be able to save you their votes.

The first convention of the Jefferson County Loyal Temperance Legion was held in the Panoast W. C. T. U. chapel May 22, 1899. A goodly number of delegates were present, brimful of enthusiasm. The chapel was beautifully decorated with wild pink honeysuckle, which is the state emblem of the Loyal Temperance Legion.

The first session began at 3 o'clock P. M. After opening exercises and singing by the young folks, Mrs. Elma Preston, State Superintendent of L. T. L. work, gave an address in which she said there ought to be more zeal and activity in L. T. L. work. Nothing can live that does not work. The great liquor traffic labors every day of the week, hence it lives and grows. The young should learn to assume the responsibility of life, especially that of opposing the great evil which threatens every noble work. She gave an explanation of L. T. L. work and urged the young present to join hands in the reform. Ella Ashley then favored the convention with a recitation, which was followed by music.

Evening session began at 8 o'clock by singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," followed with prayer by Mrs. Boper. The cordial address of welcome by Mary McClure, of Panoast, and the excellent response by Oda Sibley, of Brookwayville, were much appreciated by the convention. After a recitation by Stella Shields, a pantomime was given by the Brookwayville Legion. At the close of an address by Mrs. Preston, the Legions gave the state rallying cry, "Saloons Must Go" was sung by the Brookwayville Legion, after which Margaret Long sang a song and Miss McClure made a few remarks. Session closed by singing temperance doxology.

At the morning session May 23, convention sang "Saloons Must Go" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and prayer was offered by Rev. O. H. Sibley. After a song by Margaret Long recitations were rendered by Stella Shields and Anna Bell McClure. Rev. Sibley then addressed the convention. He told the delegates to carry to their respective Legions enthusiastic reports of the rally, to stir the stay-at-homes to greater activity. He said in after years we will look back with pride and pleasure on having been at the first county convention.

The election of county officers resulted as follows: President, Frank Blakeslee, Coal Glen; Vice Pres., Pearl Alma, Brookwayville; Rec. Sec., Stella Shields, Falls Creek; Cor. Sec., Mary McClure, Panoast; Treas., Clare Platt, Brookwayville; Musical Director, Luther Lukehart, Falls Creek.

On motion Presswork, Mercy, and Sabbath Observance were taken up as special lines of work for the year. The following superintendents were appointed: Presswork, Stella M. Shields; Mercy, Miss Wavie Elder, Panoast; Sabbath Observance, Miss Mary Ashley, Sandy Valley.

The delegates and visitors were royally entertained by the good people of Panoast and vicinity, and all voted the first county convention a grand success. We ask all in the county who are interested in the L. T. L., to join hands with us in doing work through the year that will make the next convention a still greater success, and win more battles for "God, Home and Native Land."

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at H. A. Stoke's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Convention National Educational Ass'n.

For the National Educational Association Convention to be held at Los Angeles, Cal., July 11 to 14, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets via direct routes from points on its line, to Los Angeles, Cal., and return, at rate of single fare for the round trip, plus $2.00 membership fee. These tickets will be sold, good going, June 24 to July 7, and when stamped by Joint Agent at Los Angeles, good to return, arriving at final destination, until September 5.

An Important Question.

If your friends or neighbors are suffering from coughs, colds, sore throat, or any throat or lung disease (including consumption), ask them if they have ever used Otto's Cure. This famous German remedy is having a large sale here and is performing some wonderful cures of throat and lung diseases. No matter what other medicines have failed to do, try Otto's Cure. Large sizes 25c. and 50c. Sold by H. Alex. Stoke.
