

"Pride Goeth Before a Fall."

Some proud people think they are strong, ridicule the idea of disease, neglect health, let the blood run down, and stomach, kidneys and liver become deranged. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla and you will prevent the fall and save your pride.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

That football is not losing its popularity in England is shown by the fact that the match for the English football cup at Sheffield on April 15 was witnessed by upward of 60,000 persons.

MAGNITUDE

Of the Fishing Interest in Four Eastern States.

New York Evening Post: The magnitude of the fishing interests of Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania appears in the facts stated in a bulletin recently issued by the United States Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries. In Maryland the industry gives employment to 42,812 persons, exclusive of those engaged in canneries, packing houses, transportation, boat building, making nets, and other implements. The total amount invested in property used in taking fish and oysters in Maryland waters is $5,821,610. Virginia employs 28,216 persons and has $2,891,536 invested in the business. The value of the product in Maryland in 1897, including 7,254,984 bushels of oysters, was $3,617,308, and in Virginia $2,167,866. In Maryland 17,139,459 pounds of alewives were caught, 1,321,280 pounds of perch, 5,799,563 pounds of shad, and 9,500,000 pounds of crabs. The largest item in the Virginia catch was 178,656,362 pounds of menhaden. The Delaware and Pennsylvania fisheries are naturally smaller in extent, but the investments of the latter amount to $1,601,525, and of the former $407,469.

Three pints of liquid a day is sufficient for the average adult.

A Happy Mother's Gratitude

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 25,763]
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have many, many thanks to give you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. After first confinement I was sick for nine years with prolapsus of the womb, had pain in left side, in small of back, a great deal of headache, palpitation of heart and leucorrhoea. I felt so weak and tired that I could not do my work. I became pregnant again and took your Compound all through, and now have a sweet baby girl. I never before had such an easy time during labor, and I feel it was due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now able to do my work and feel better than I have for years. I cannot thank you enough."—Mrs. Ed. ENLINGER, DEVINE, TEX.

Wonderfully Strengthened.
"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills and feel wonderfully strengthened. Before using your remedies I was in a terrible state; felt like fainting every little while. I thought I must surely die. But now, thanks to your remedies, those feelings are all gone."—Mrs. EMILIE SCHWEDER, 1244 HELEN AVE., DETROIT MICH.

MARTHA.
Martha was a model woman
Wife of Moses Jacob Brown,
Finest cook in all the country,
Best housekeeper in town,
But she died and went to heaven,
I here to wear a martyr's crown.

Moses B. had fine and cattle,
Sheep and horses fair to see,
But a woman's body was needed,
Hiring much too dear would be;
So he came a twelvemonth later,
Courtied, won and married me.

Now at break fast time he tells me
How she used the cakes to bake,
Dinner comes and still he praises
Soups and stews she used to make,
While for tea I hear laudations
Of her woman's preserve and cake.

Now a woman's only human,
And a pretty girl when wed,
For her golden curls and dimples,
For her laughing lips so red,
Sometimes times of endless lectures,
Each extolling one that's dead.

So I fancy some fine morn'g
"Ere my temper's quite subdued,
I shall tell him, what a pity—
He of course may think it rude—
That he isn't up in heaven
Eating Martha's "angel food."
—Laila Mitchell, in What to Eat.

HUMOROUS.
"Father, could you please tell me what you consider fine wood?" "Why, sawdust, my son."

Sweet Sixteen—And do you have to expel students often? College Prax—Oh, no! Once is usually sufficient.

"Haven't you any faith in men Dorothy?" "Yes, I have faith in them, but I never believe a word they say."

Wayworn Watson—Mister, I am slowly starving. Hargreaves—Of course. No one would expect you to do anything in a hurry.

"Henry, we'd get along better if you had more will-power." "No, Martha; we'd get along better if you didn't have quite so much."

Staylate—Just one more kiss, darling; just one, and then I'll go! Voice from the Stair—Then for heaven's sake, Naa, give him one!

If ever there comes a time, we note,
When the winds get up and squeal,
It's when the man with the long-tailed coat
Goes out to ride his wheel.

Pendip—I don't suppose you have any confidence in faith cure, doctor? Dr. Donna—Well, to an extent, all doctors take patients on faith, you know.

Ho—Be mibe, darling. You are the lamp that alone can light my existence. She—Yes, dear; but papa doesn't think you are a good match for me.

"Pa, what's a rebuff?" "You watch me the next time I come home late for dinner and try to say something that will tickle her; then you'll see what a rebuff is."

"Why does he make all those motions with his arm before he pitches the ball?" "Those are signals to the catcher. The two men always work in concert." "Dear me! Is that the 'concert pitch' I've heard about so often?"

Mrs. Darlington—John, I spoke to papa about having him take you into business, but he couldn't do it, because you have too many vague ideas. Mr. Darlington—Hurray! That's clever of the old boy. My first wife's father used to say I had no ideas at all.

It Costs Something.
"People don't think, when they are riding in our comfortable cars," says an official, "that it costs the company good money every time the train is stopped and started; this cost is a part of the regular expense of operation, though nobody seems to be able to tell exactly what it amounts to."

"An amusing variety of guesses have been made of the exact cost of stopping trains. A sensation was created a few years ago by the statement by an expert that a stop without letting off a passenger or taking on one involved an expense of from $1.28 to $1.70. This proved to be a ridiculous extravagant estimate. One manager believes that it costs 18 cents to stop a train. Another makes the expense 48 cents for passenger trains and 70 or 80 cents for freight trains.

"Aside from the actual cost from wear and tear and extra fuel consumption, one should take account of the danger of breakage to couplers, drawbars and their fastenings which results from stopping long and heavy freights. But when a road is crowded the saving of time is important in freight as well as passenger traffic.

"On a division of a Western road 123 miles long, some tests were made last year with freight trains weighing 1080 tons, exclusive of engine, tender and caboose. The average time consumed when fourteen stops were made was eight hours and thirty-five minutes. Without stops the time was seven hours and twelve minutes. To haul one car a mile, on an average, 3.2 pounds of coal were burned in the former case, and only three in the latter."—Bangor (Maine) Commercial.

Great Little Engine.
The smallest locomotive ever built, which actually runs by its own steam, has been constructed by George W. Titcomb, station agent for the Boston & Maine at the eastern division in Saco, Me. It is as perfect as any engine ever turned out by any locomotive works in the country. An Ohio man lays claim to the most diminutive engine ever built, but he will have to take a back seat for Mr. Titcomb. His machine is sixty inches long, while the one built by the Saco railroad man is but twenty-six inches in length. The tender has a water tank that holds about two quarts of water. The tool boxes are on the tank, and everything is made exactly the same as if the engine weighed many tons instead of less than thirty pounds. Mr. Titcomb has been about a year in constructing the pigmy locomotive.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Mirror for a Piano Back.
One of the hardest things in a room to arrange artistically is the piano now that fashion has decreed that it shall be dragged away from the wall. Many an otherwise perfect apartment has been spoiled by the inertistic arrangement of the piano back. A great aid in overcoming this is a mirror, made the exact width of the piano, and placed flat against its back. On each side narrow curtains may be placed, and the mirror used either as a reflector, or with painting on frame and glass. Palms may be prettily arranged at the foot, to be repeated in the glass surface, or a tiny seat placed there, with cushions of quaint shape and material. With the mirror as a starting point one may have endless varieties of decoration.

The Voice of London.
A writer in the Strand Magazine describes the astonishment he experienced when, riding over London in a balloon, at a height of more than half a mile, he heard the deafening roar of the great city beneath him, as it could not be heard when on the ground. The noise, even at that height, was so harsh and intense as to be painful to the ear. How perfect a sound conductor the air is was shown when the balloon drifted far over the city to a wooded part of the country, where the murmur of the leaves moved by the wind, half a mile below, was distinctly heard.

Clearing House Shows an Enormous Increase Over Last Year's Business.
R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade reports as follows for last week: April failures were the smallest ever reported in any month. May failures are nearly $2,000,000 smaller, only 62.8 per cent of the smallest previously reported in any month, and only 24.3 per cent of those in May last year. Solvent payments were $5,325,292,652, and defaults were $3,829,688, or 45.7 cents on $1000, against 79 cents in April, $1.19 in March and $5.02 in September, 1896. Comparison with previous years indicates that the ratio of defaults to solvent business has never been as small in any other month as in May, 1899. Both in manufacturing and in trading failures were the smallest ever known in any month, and in each branch eight of the fourteen classes showed smaller failures than in May of any other year.

In dealing with times like these, the chief difficulty is to avoid the accents of extravagance. The actual is beyond experience, and if its naked recital invites incredulity, what well-reasoned forecast of the future could gain hearing. Nobody has known until this year and the past month how great the American demand for products might be, and it does not stop because it has been largely anticipating the future, as many expected, but still drives buyers to order more, as if no future had been anticipated. In actual payments, through clearinghouses, business is 56.96 per cent larger than last year and 38.1 per cent larger than in 1892.

In railroad earnings, notwithstanding differences in rates, business is 5.7 per cent larger than last year and 21.3 per cent larger than in 1892.

More than 20 years ago the demand for iron was called the industrial barometer, and it claims the place yet when the demand passes all belief. Many more furnaces have gone into blast, and yet the famine grows more severe; pig has risen this week 50 cents; at Chicago, and gray 70c. 25 cents; at Pittsburgh, billets actually selling there for $3 more than the standard price for steel rails. Plates are so needed that $5 premium is paid for June or July delivery. Structural works are far behind and are expected to advance prices. Sheet works cannot get orders, though $2.55 is paid for black No. 27 at Pittsburgh, and bars are stronger, with cut nails 1 cent higher. Pig iron has advanced 8.5 per cent in May and finished products 2.6 per cent. Coke works are overcrowded and prices are higher. Minor metals are all dull, tin at 25.65, copper at 15 1/2 for lake and 14 1/2 for other.

The mills have large stocks of wool on hand, and probably much larger than the dealers yet realize. Sales for the week at three chief markets were 8,187,800 pounds, against 4,513,200 last year and 5,825,900 in 1897, when speculators were trying to realize at high prices, and 6,640,800 in 1892.

Wheat has been lifted slightly on all sorts of reports and then dropped, closing 1 cent higher than last week. Returns for the broken week indicate little except that western receipts are still quite large, 4,156,069 bushels, against 4,282,538 last year, and they would hardly be as large if actual supplies at the West were deficient, considering the extreme urgency of demand which last year's fancy prices created. Exports from Atlantic ports have been 2,549,783 bushels, flour included, against 4,294,498 last year, and 471,889 bushels from Pacific ports, against 385,459 last year, and in five weeks from both ports 12,310,850 bushels, against 18,371,811 last year.

A simple way to calculate the speed of a bicycle by the rider is to multiply the gear by 10 and divide by 56. The result may be called seconds for this particular purpose. The number of complete revolutions made by either pedal in the given number of seconds corresponds exactly to the rate of miles per hour. For instance, if the gear be 84, multiplied by 10 and divided by 56, the result is 15. If the pedal goes around 20 times in 15 seconds the rider knows that he is going at the rate of 20 miles per hour. If the gear be 67.2 the result of the calculation is 12 seconds, and the rider would have to push his pedal around 20 times in 12 seconds to equal the speed made by the man on the higher gear by 20 revolutions in 15 seconds. To divide the gear by 5.6 gives nearly the same result as multiplying by 10 and dividing by 56, but is not quite so accurate.
