

ENGLISH DEFEATED AND DRIVEN.

BULLER IS BLOCKED.

Spion Kop; Stream With 1,500 British Dead. Boers Administer a Crushing Defeat to Troops Under Buller.

A recent dispatch from Tugela river, says: Some Vryheid Burghers from the outposts on the highest hills of the Spion kop group rushed into the laager saying that the kop was lost and that the English had taken it. Reinforcements were ordered up, but nothing could be done for some time, the hill being enveloped in thick mist.

At dawn the Heideberg and Carolina contingents, supplemented from other commandoes, began the ascent of the hill. Three spur, precipitous projections, faced the Boer positions. Up these the advance was made. The horses were left under the first terrace of rocks.

Scaling the steep hill, the Boers found that the English had improved the opportunity and entrenched heavily. Between the lines of trenches was an open field, which had to be rushed under a heavy fire, not only from rifles but of lyddite and shrapnel from field guns.

Three forces ascended the three spurs co-ordinately, under cover of fire from the Free State Krupp, a Crusader and a big Maxim. The English tried to rush the Boers with the bayonet, but their infantry went down before the Boer rifle fire as before a scythe.

The Boer investing party advanced step by step until 2 in the afternoon, when a white flag went up and 150 men in the front trenches surrendered, being sent as prisoners to the laager.

The Boer advance continued on the two kopjes east of Spion kop. Many Boers were shot, but so numerous were the burghers that the gaps filled automatically. Toward twilight they reached the summit of the second kopje, but did not get further.

The British Maxims belched flame, but a wall of fire from the Manners held the English back. Their center, under this pressure, gradually gave way and broke, abandoning the position.

The prisoners speak highly of the bravery of the burghers, who, desiring cover, stood against the skyline edges of the summit to shoot the Dublin Fusiliers, sheltered in the trenches, and then the Fusiliers and the Light Horse, serving as infantry, threw up their arms and rushed out of the trenches.

The effect of the abandonment of Spion kop by the English can hardly be gauged as yet, but it must prove to be immense. The British dead left on the battlefield numbered 1,500.

Counterfeiters Active

The new possessions of the United States have afforded a most ample field for counterfeiting. The recent arrest of a notorious counterfeiter in Havana, and the capture of a half-dozen plates, for bills of different denominations, is said to be only an incident. The war department and the secret service bureau are now investigating a report from Cuba that the country is being flooded with spurious coins. These are said to be so perfect as to defy detection except by experts. In addition to this, the work of confederate notes of the vintage of 1863 is still being made.

In the Philippines the American monetary promoter has not been behind hand. According to reports and complaints received here, there has been a considerable amount of bogus money floated. The reports also state that numerous written orders for money have been passed on the ignorant natives in exchange for goods. These orders are said to be addressed to President McKinley and are for amounts ranging from $5 to $50.

Good Times in America. Reviewing the business of 1899, the London Times says: "The fact that in the United States the expansion of business commenced about a year later than elsewhere seems to explain the fact, which must be admitted, that American expansion is not so far advanced, relatively, as that of the United Kingdom and Germany, and may, consequently, be expected to continue for a while after the business of the two latter countries shows signs of contracting. That advantage, however, may be conceivably nullified by the occurrence this year of another Presidential election."

Favors Sunday Saloons. The Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, of New York, has declared himself in favor of Sunday opening of saloons, at certain hours. His reason for this view is, that the opening of saloons for a part of Sunday is the lesser of two evils, the present Raines law, which he says is ignored, being the greater.

AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL. The State Department has been advised that G. AT A COST OF PLAGUE AND LEPROSY.

IS ANNEXATION MADE.

Statement from Dr. W. H. Daly on the Situation in the Philippines—Says Cuba is a Rich Island.

"I am of the opinion that we are certainly annexing leprosy, pestilence, the plague and possibly other evils that may cause sorrow, vexation, expense and complications, for which we as a nation will have an uncertain compensation in any possible commercial or territorial advantage." This was the startling statement made by Major W. H. Daly, who was chief surgeon of the staff of General Miles during the recent war, and the man whose report on embalmed beef used by our troops during the war caused such general comment, in response to a question as to his opinion regarding the annexation of the Philippines.

"The islands to my mind have very little commercial value," said he, "while American labor can never compete with labor there. In regard to Cuba, Puerto Rico and the other islands of the West Indies group, I think it is the duty of the United States to give them a stable government at once and live up to the promises made in behalf of the people of these islands, and the purposes for which the Spanish-American War was fought."

"We have in our own great country sufficient undeveloped land to take care of without seeking to annex other lands against the will of its rightful owners. The Island of Cuba is rich in its natural resources and taken by itself would be of value to us, but Puerto Rico is practically valueless. Having been all through the country, I know whereof I speak."

NORWAY MAY USE FORCE.

Warships Going to Nicaragua to Sledge a For and Collect Damages.

The trouble between Norway and Nicaragua growing out of the Reyes rebellion last spring will reach an acute stage in the next few days, when a Norwegian man-of-war will appear before Bluefields to compel the payment of the damage claimed because of ill treatment of Norwegians by the Nicaraguan government during the rebellion. At that time the rebels seized the Condor, a Norwegian vessel, and used her to transport troops from Bluefields to Cape Gracias. Later, after the suppression of the rebellion, the Condor was boarded by the government troops in spite of the protest of the Norwegian Consul, and an American taken from her and carried to the Bluefields jail. This outrage was brought to the notice of the Norwegian authorities. The government of Norway informed the minister at Managua that at the first opportunity the matter would be taken up in a suitable way. A claim for damages was filed with the government of Nicaragua, and a Norwegian man-of-war will call at Bluefields in a few days.

It is understood that the Norwegian government intends to collect the amount of the damages demanded in the same manner that the English collected $25,000 during the year 1895 at the port of Corinto on the Pacific coast—that is, to seize a port and collect the customs until the amount of the claim is paid. Bluefields is the port that will probably be seized, and as Bluefields is mainly owned by Americans, it may lead to some diplomatic negotiations with this country.

WEARS A BURGERH BUTTON.

Now Reason Why Consul Macrum Could No Longer Act as American Representative at Pretoria.

The most astonishing tale yet told about Charles E. Macrum, recently American Consul at Pretoria, and Montague White, diplomatic agent of the Transvaal at London until the outbreak of hostilities, was in circulation at the State Department and the Capitol Wednesday. It ran that Mr. Macrum has renounced his allegiance to the United States, has become a citizen of the South African Republic and is coming here to ask for recognition as the Minister Plenipotentiary or diplomatic agent of that Government.

The other part of the narrative is that Mr. White is to remain here as the unofficial representative of President Kruger, charged with the duty of creating sentiment, both in and out of Congress, in favor of the Boers.

In searching for evidence that might corroborate the report it was remembered that before Macrum asked to be relieved, President Kruger sent for him and they had a long talk. Immediately thereafter it was reported that the Consul had been asked to procure the friendly intervention of President McKinley. That was just before the war began.

It is recalled now that Macrum ignored dispatches asking him to look after British interests, which would be natural had he changed his allegiance, as alleged.

But the incident that is regarded as most significant is that Macrum asked to be relieved, he said he had something to say that could not be put in his dispatches. It is regarded as quite probable that if he had renounced his allegiance he would not like to state that fact on cables controlled by Great Britain before starting on a journey he could not finish without touching at ports controlled by the British Government. That may also explain why he traveled a roundabout route on a German ship, instead of taking a British vessel over the usual course.

Cable dispatches from Europe have also furnished what is regarded as corroboration. They have noted the fact that Macrum wears a Transvaal flag button on the lapel of his coat, which would be a peculiar thing for an American consular officer to do.

BIG GAS AND OIL DEAL.

Over 3,000 Acres Sold—Consideration Was Over $135,000.

Deeds have been recorded at Butler, Pa., from the Apollo Oil and Gas Company to the American Natural Gas Company for 841 acres of oil and gas leases, the consideration being $30,000, and from the West Penn Gas Company to the American Natural Gas Company for 1,485 acres of gas rights and 800 acres of oil and gas leases, consideration $105,000. The property is in Kiskimeta township, Armstrong county, and Washington, Upper Burrell, Allegheny, and Franklin townships, Westmoreland county. A mortgage covering the territory was given by the American Natural Gas Company to F. M. Hoffstadt, of Pittsburg, for $140,000.

The land has been held under option for several years, and many efforts were made to sell it but without success. Last November the farmers owning the land organized a co-operative company and have tested the whole field. The result was most satisfactory and had not the rights been sold the co-operative company would have developed the territory. It is accessible by the West Penn and Allegheny Valley railroads.

Gen. Young in Action. Gen. Otis has reported to the war department that the western coast of the island of Panay is now open for trade, and that the coast of Laguna de Bay and the neighboring sections of the country will also be opened to unrestricted traffic by the end of the week. STAMPEDE FOR ALASKAN GOLD FIELDS.

CAPE NOME THE GOAL.

Fifteen Thousand Men Waiting for Navigation to Open—Spring Will See Great Activity in Alaska.

Estimates made by local shipping men show that about 15,000 men are intending to reach Cape Nome by the first steamers from Puget Sound and Dawson. Two-thirds of this number will go from Tacoma, Seattle and San Francisco and the balance will go down the Yukon river from Dawson and other Yukon towns. A great prospective race is in sight between these two contingents. First arrivals will secure the best part of the beach, which will be in the greatest demand, because beach claims may be worked without flumes or machinery. According to latest advices, over half of Dawson's population will head for Cape Nome as fast as the Yukon steamers wintering on the upper river can follow the outgoing ice down stream. Dawson miners have great hopes of reaching their Mecca first, and to accomplish this are prepared to leave the steamers below Nulato and make a portage of 200 miles across the tundra. Nearly 30 steamers, each carrying from 300 to 1,000 passengers are scheduled to sail from coast ports between May 10 and June 1. Fully $3,000,000 worth of supplies have been purchased for shipment on these first steamers. Severe storms still blockade the White Pass railroad. No trains have reached Skagway from Bennett in two weeks. Returning prospectors are experiencing terrible hardships in crossing the summit about. Several have been badly frozen.

A New Coaling Station.

Admiral Watson reports that he has taken possession of Isabella coaling station and established a marine garrison there under command of Lieutenant Long.

A short time ago, feeling the need of a coaling station for the use of the smaller vessels in the Philippine archipelago in the southern islands, remote from Manila, Admiral Watson dispatched a vessel to look into the conditions at Zamboanga, where the Spaniards had maintained a garrison, and a small coaling station for many years. It was found upon investigation, however, that the harbor at that point was not suitable for naval vessels, owing to shallow water, and attention being directed elsewhere, a small but perfectly protected and deep harbor was found on Basilan island, where the Spaniards had already established a coaling station. They took possession of this, garrisoned the place and are taking steps to add to its coal supply.

The Solace sailed from Manila for San Francisco and on the way she will touch at the new coaling station, as well as at Iliolo, Cebu and Guam and thence returning to Yokohama will strike across the Pacific for San Francisco. She will carry the bodies of Captain Nichols, who died while in command of the Monadnock, and Captain Ingate, of the marine corps, who died at Guam after a surgical operation.

Consumers of Oiled.

In response to a resolution of inquiry from the House of Representatives the Secretary of the Treasury furnished a statement of the amount of oleomargarine shipped into the various States. The total shipments are 79,695,744 pounds, and the main shipments to States are as follows:

More Canadians Sail.

The second detachment of the second Canadian contingent to South Africa embarked on the Pomeranian marching through the city on their way to the transport. After inspection they were addressed by Lieutenant Governor P. M. B. Daly, and Mayor Hamilton wished them Godspeed. The line of march was crowded with people, who cheered the departing troops. The steamer was booked to sail about 4 o'clock Saturday.

Many Die From Plague.

Chrys Moller, a bullion broker, of Tien Tsin, China, has just arrived at Sioux City, Ia. He says the bubonic plague in Honolulu is worse than reported, and that a dozen people are dying daily. He describes the burning of Chinatown by a vigilance committee while his ship was at Honolulu. The citizens claimed the location was unsanitary and favorable to the spread of the plague. The site embraced ten blocks in the heart of the city, which it is now proposed to convert into a park. Time was given to the celestials to remove their property, and they were ordered to live on a hilltop on the edge of the city.

Devoured by Wolves.

John Smith, a former resident of Detroit, Mich., has been devoured by wolves a short distance from a logging camp where he was employed near Presque Isle, in the upper peninsula. The letter states he strayed from the camp in the early evening, as he was in the habit of doing, and the next morning his partially devoured body was found in the snow. That he fought desperately for his life, is shown by the bloody snow and the carcass of a wolf that was found close to the body. Smith was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and was quite well to do.

Americans Shot by Mexicans.

A report is current at Guaymas, Mexico, that six Americans, David Cusick, John Eldridge, George Lunt, Charles Burns, Lon Webster and Henry Williams, were shot by order of Gen. Torres, in command of the Mexican troops operating against the Yaqui Indians in the Bacatete range. It is said that the matter was brought to the attention of the American consul at Guaymas, but he declined to act, as the Mexican troops found the Americans in friendly intercourse with the Yaquis. Some of the names are known here as those of prospectors.

REBELS AGAIN DEFEATED.

Filipinos Make a Stubborn Fight Under a Chinese General at Legaspi, but Were Given a Severe Lesson.

Gen. Otis has cabled from Manila as follows: "Gen. Kobbe's troops occupied the hemp ports of Sorsogon, Dunsel, Bulan, Albay and Legaspi, southeastern Luzon, and Virac, Cainta, Candelario, Catabogan and Tacloban on the islands of Samar and Leyte before to-morrow evening. No opposition except at Legaspi, where 800 insurgents strongly entrenched under Chinese Gen. Powah, made stubborn resistance; troops landed under protection of guns of Nashville, which hereby bombarded fortifications at close range. Enemy's loss over 50 killed or mortally wounded; 28 killed at bridgehead in almost hand to hand encounter, refusing to surrender; our casualties Capt. Bradley Hancock, quartermaster of volunteers, aide to Kobbe, wounded in hand; six men, including one sailor on Nashville, slightly wounded. These ports contain great quantity of hemp ready for shipment and will be open on January 30."

It is estimated that there are 125,000 bales of hemp in the province which Gen. Kobbe has entered and 76,000 bales in Sorsogon and Legaspi. The Nashville's shells burned 80,000 bales in Legaspi. The expedition arrived off Sorsogon, January 20, and the town displayed white flags. Gen. Kobbe and Col. Howe, with a battalion of the Forty-seventh infantry landed and raised the United States flag. The insurgent force, numbering 200 men, evacuated the place. The natives were passive. During the morning of January 23 the Nashville and Vents, with four companies of the Forty-seventh regiment, under Major Shipton, approached Legaspi. Filipino flags were flying and the trenches were crowded. A detachment of 150 picked men, led by Maj. Shipton, landed on the beach about a mile north of the town, the Nashville bombarded the trenches and the enemy retreated to Albay, whence they were easily dispersed to the hills. About 200 insurgents, armed with rifles, forced 600 unwilling villagers, armed with bows and arrows, to serve in the trenches in the close range street fighting before the enemy fled. The Filipino dead were mostly villagers who were attempting to flee.

RUSSIA'S HAND IN CHINA.

Believed to Have Caused the Emperor's Dethronement—Change Not Yet Completed.

A dispatch from Shanghai says the news of the abdication of the Chinese Emperor has caused a tremendous sensation in Japan, where a strong desire is expressed to adopt stringent measures, as it is believed Russia is the leading hand in the coup d'etat.

The Dowager Empress has dismissed Jung Lu, generalissimo, of the Chinese forces, on account of his disapproval of the coup d'etat. Other high officials have been superseded. Extraordinary precautions have been taken at the viceregal capitals to prevent risings. The troops have been served with ball cartridges. The interior of China is greatly excited and progressive Chinese are begging the American and Japanese ministers to intervene and restore the Emperor to power.

An official communication from Peking says: "Pu Chun, who has been appointed heir apparent to the throne, has been given the status of a son of the late Emperor. The statement that a new Emperor has ascended the throne is premature, although it is probable the present action is preparatory thereto."

Nearly 50,000,000 Starving.

The Indian council at Calcutta have met and considered the famine situation. Official estimates show that the cost of that government will be about 40,000,000 rupees, or over $14,000,000. About 22,000,000 persons are now affected in British territory and about 27,000,000 in the native States. The Viceroy, Lord Curzon, said that the famine area had expanded, surpassing the worst fears, and they were now suffering a cattle, water and food scarcity of a terrible character. About 3,250,000 persons were already receiving relief. While in 1897 the world shared India's sorrow and contributed hundreds of thousands of pounds toward the relief fund, the Viceroy pointed out that India now would have to struggle alone, for the thoughts of every Englishman were centered on South Africa. It would be the duty of the government to pursue the task of saving its last rupee of necessary to do so.

Stabbed His Family.

A. J. Honeycutt, aged sixty, a farmer living near Center, Tex., attacked his wife with a knife. Their children ran to the assistance of the mother, when Honeycutt stabbed Rosa, aged sixteen, killing her instantly. The wife and two sons, aged twelve and ten, were so badly wounded that they may die.

Honeycutt is in jail and precautions have been taken to prevent a lynching.

CHAPLAIN SHIELDS DISMISSED.

Use of Intoxicating Liquor and Ungentlemanly Conduct Ended His Army Career.

Post Chaplain David H. Shields has been dismissed from the army of the United States to take effect February 1, and Rev. Edmund E. Eastbrook, of New York, has been selected for appointment to the vacancy. The action in the case of Chaplain Shields was the result of court-martial proceedings. He was tried at
