A Little of Everything.

The Night has a Thousand Eyes. The night has a thousand eyes And the day but one. Yet the light of the bright world dies With the dying sun. The mind has a thousand eyes And the heart but one. Yet the light of a whole life dies When love is done. —F. W. Bourdillon.

Good building sites and cheap homes for sale on easy terms by M. M. Davis. Ex-Sheriff Ed. C. Burns lost a valuable horse yesterday. The animal had "pink eye." The Masonic lodge room has been re-carpeted with very pretty brussels carpet. The New Bargain store is the place to buy your chinaware, queensware and glassware. "The Girl From Frisco" is booked for the Reynolds opera house for next Monday night. If you want a good fitting suit or an overcoat, go to Johns & Thompson, merchant tailors. Delegates from this place are attending the miners convention now in session at Altoona. P. B. Rhodes, the butcher, purchased some fine cattle this week and will hereafter handle home dressed meat. Milton Schlabig's horse slipped and fell several days ago and was so badly injured that it "turned up its toes." The Kittanning Republican says, "Some people would growl about the weather if it rained silver dollars." Carpenters will find a full line of edge tools, squares, saws, augers, drills, in fact anything they would want, at the Reynoldsville Hardware Co. store.

James Fox, of this place, and Ellen Mullen, of Aulita, were married in Reynoldsville last week. Hicks says March will close with one of the most destructive sleet storms of the winter in the northern states. The institute to be held in Assembly hall next Saturday will be very interesting. See program elsewhere in this issue. Dr. A. J. Muek, pastor of the Baptist church, will administer the ordinance of Baptism in his church next Sunday evening. Hibner & Webster have rented the room next to Oil City Fuel Supply company office and will open a plumbing establishment. The Odd Fellow's degree staff of this place has been invited to Brookwayville Tuesday night of next week to do some degree work. The deposits in the public schools savings bank Monday morning amounted to $72.91, not quite up to the amount deposited last week. Joseph Spears, who owns a good farm near town, is putting another car load of lime on his farm. This makes the second car load this year. Mrs. Thomas Wood, of Rathmel, at one time a resident of this place, died at her home in Rathmel Sunday night. Death was caused by lung trouble. C. R. Hall has had the rickety old frame building on his lot next to Bee Hive razed to the ground. Mr. Hall expects to erect a brick building this summer. We carry three of the best lines of plows on the market, namely the Oliver, Syracuse and Ward Chilled plows. The genuine for sale only by the Reynoldsville Hardware Co. There was a "scrap" on Main street, near the Reynolds brick block Monday night. Policeman Pomroy arrested one of the pugilists but the other fellow escaped. He will be "gathered in," however. A social will be held at the Baptist parsonage to-morrow, Thursday, evening. All members and friends of the church are invited to be present and spend a pleasant evening with the new pastor, Dr. Meek. Invitations have been issued for a wedding at the residence of Duncan McPherson in Rathmel on Wednesday of next week, March 21st, at 7:00 p. m., at which time Miss Jennie McPherson and Thomas Cunningham will be married. J. F. Rudolph, G. E. McClincy, David Richmond and J. H. Lewis left this place last Wednesday for Carbonado, Washington. Those gentlemen left here over the A. V. R'y and had their baggage checked direct through to the Pacific Coast. William T. who Cox, decided a few weeks ago to quit the grocery business, and immediately began closing out his stock, finished up the past week by selling the balance of goods on hand at auction. Ex-Sheriff Ed. C. Burns was the auctioneer. Engineer David Postlethwait and Fireman Frank Reynolds went to Dunkirk, N. Y., the latter part of last week after engine No. 5, the new engine for the Reynoldsville & Falls Creek R'y. The engine is now in use. It is the same size and style as engine No. 4 on R. & F. C. R'y. Sheet iron, stove pipe, tin buckets, &c., made to represent a man, donkey and cart, placed in one of the display windows of the Reynoldsville Hardware Company store has been attracting considerable attention the past week. Arthur McClure was the originator of the novel attraction. Any person who has ordered the Farm Journal at THE STAR office and has not received the Journal, will kindly make the fact known at this office and we will investigate the matter. We want every person that orders the Journal to get it, but will have to depend on those who fail to get it to let us know. The game called "Editors' Delight," says an exchange, is played in this wise: Take a sheet of ordinary writing paper, write upon it your name and postoffice address, fold it carefully around a bank note sufficiently large to cover your arrearages and a year in advance. The trick never fails to work satisfactorily. Math. Mohney, of Reynoldsville, is with Gunson, Brown & Co., Rochester, N. Y., seed specialties. Are you farming successfully? If there seems to be a screw loose and you can't locate the trouble, you had better look to the starting point and see if the seed isn't at fault. If your seed has run out try some of our new blooded varieties. There is considerable lack of knowledge and a good deal of genuine indifference about public affairs existing in Jefferson county. During our recent canvass for the Congressional indorsement, we found a number of persons who thought we were still serving in the Legislature. Many were under the impression that we had been in Congress for the past ten years and wanted another term; and still others thought that, after the primaries in this county, we would go straight to Washington and take a seat in Congress, without any further interruption.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Old Syphrit Farm Sold. The old Syphrit farm in Paradise was sold Monday to Dr. J. H. Murray, of this place, for $3,000.00. Collar Bone Broken. The fifteen-year-old daughter of Thaddeus Curry, of Camp Run, slipped and fell on ice while playing at school last Thursday and broke her right collar bone. Five Days' Work on Streets. Three tramps were arrested Saturday evening and on Monday morning were taken before Mayor Mitchell charged with vagrancy. His honor sentenced the prisoners to five days' work on the streets. If the work ordinance is strictly enforced tramps will become scarce in Reynoldsville. Gets His Trial Next Week. The Armstrong county grand jury found true bills in two indictments against H. B. Kuhnsehn, alias William Henry, last week at Kittanning. Forgery and attempting to break jail were the charges. Kuhnsehn will get his trial in Kittanning next week and if found guilty and sentenced to penitentiary it is probable that he will not be tried in Jefferson county until the Armstrong court sentence expires. Home Wedding. At 10.00 a. m. to-day Miss Eliza Jane Brenholtz, of Allens Mills, and Francis R. Morrison, of Coal Glen, will be married at the home of the bride's father, George Brenholtz. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. A. G. Mills. About fifty invited guests will be present. After the wedding dinner Mr. Morrison and bride will take the B. & P. vestibled "flyer" for Pittsburg where they will spend one week of their "honey moon." Memorial Home Jubilee. The jubilee over the freedom from debt of the Memorial Home at Brookville, which was held at the Home last Thursday, was attended by a large number of Relief Corps workers from various towns. Twenty-one members of the Reynoldsville Corps went down to the county seat to help celebrate over the successful work of the Corps in paying the $30,000.00 for the Home. The Reynoldsville Corps paid about $400.00 towards freeing the Home of debt. Those who attended the jubilee enjoyed themselves immensely. It was a real jubilee. Home on Furlough. Atmore Shaffer, a member of Company H, Second U. S. Infantry, now located at Fort Thomas, Ky., is home on twenty-day furlough. Atmore was a member of Company L, Sixteenth Regiment, during the war between "Uncle Sam" and Spain and was honorably discharged when the service of that company was no longer needed. One year ago the 28th of last month Atmore joined the regular army and was assigned to his present company. Company H was in Cuba from May until September. Soldier life seems to agree with Atmore. Platt's Lecture. Edward A. Platt, who was on the Raleigh when Dewey won the great victory at Manila, lectured in the Reynolds opera house last Friday evening to a discouragingly small audience. The lecturer is a brilliant young man and his lecture was very interesting and instructive. Those who heard Mr. Platt were well pleased with the lecture. Mr. Platt was a guest at the Utopia social held at the home of ye editor Friday night and gave four or five recitations, among which was his own poem on the "Battle of Manila," which we publish elsewhere in this issue. Blind Trio Concert Co. This evening the Blind Trio Concert Company will give an entertainment in the Reynolds opera house. This is the sixth season for this company. From a circular of testimonials handed us we notice that they have won golden opinions in their extended tours and the demand for their services is rapidly increasing. Their entertainments are everywhere received with favor and enthusiasm. Their voices blend together in perfect harmony, whether solos, duets, or trios, their singing is the perfection of musical art. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store. Reserved seats 35 cents; general admission 15 and 25 cents. John Cooper Dead. Ninian Cooper, of this place, was called to Clarion Saturday to attend the funeral of his brother, John Cooper, who died on Friday. The deceased was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, May 6, 1819, making almost eighty-one years old at time of death. His parents moved to America when John was three years old. They lived in Center county four years and then moved to the Beechwoods, where the deceased resided fifty-six years, and was highly esteemed by his neighbors and friends. In April, 1882, John Cooper moved with his family to Clarion, Pa., where he remained until summoned into the Eternal World. April 27th, 1847, John Cooper and Jane Armstrong were married. Unto this couple eight children were born, five of whom are still living. Mrs. Cooper died seventeen years ago. The deceased was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church sixty years.

Educational Reunion. The educational reunion for Reynoldsville, West Reynoldsville and Winslow township will be held in Assembly hall next Saturday, March 17th. There will be two sessions, forenoon and afternoon. The program is as follows: Morning Session, 10.00—Devotional exercises; music; The Successful Teacher, Prof. C. W. Dickey, Miss Hannah Stauffer, Miss Martha Snodden; female quartette; Should Vocal Music Have a Place in the Course of Study? Prof. Russell Rudolph, Fred K. Booth, Miss Miley Stiles; institute quartette. Afternoon Session, 1.30—Institute quartette; address, Prof. R. H. Longwell; recitation, Christine Brown; female quartette; The New Method of Teaching Spelling vs. the Old Method, Prof. A. C. Powell, Prof. T. N. Neff, Miss Julia Kirk; address, Rev. W. F. Reber; institute quartette; What Should be the Length of School Term? discussed by Directors; address, Prof. Lenkerd; institute quartette. Edgar McIntyre in Jail. Yesterday afternoon Edgar McIntyre, a young man of Reynoldsville, was arraigned before Justice Woodring on the charge of criminally assaulting Mary Leister, of Falls Creek. The girl, it is stated, was on her way from school at DuBois to her home in the suburb, when she met McIntyre. Gettys Schlabig, an employe of the B. & P. company, heard her outcry and, with two or three other men who subsequently joined him, caught the youth and he was brought up town and turned over to Policeman Logan, who, when the information was made, produced him at the office of the justice for the hearing. The justice evidently viewed the case, upon the testimony submitted, as very grave indeed, as bail was fixed at $5,000, which the prisoner failed to furnish.—DuBois Courier, March 10th. McIntyre was unable to get bail and he was taken to the Clearfield county jail. If the chap is found guilty his chances are good for a term in the penitentiary. Business Up to Date. Judge Reed has finally mastered the situation and has the business of the Jefferson county courts well up to date. When the trial list for the April term of the Court of Common Pleas was being made up by Prothonary Blood on Monday of last week, it was discovered that there were but thirteen cases to go down for trial, while the usual number of cases set for each term is eighteen. The situation as it now is one that should not only give gratification to the tax-payers of the county, but those as well who are compelled to go into court in an endeavor to obtain that which is justly due them, as a litigation in court can now be speedily determined.—Brookville Republican. A Postoffice Ruling. The postoffice department has authorized the issue and use in the mail of reply envelopes and reply cards without prepayment of postage. To the merchant having an extensive mail business this measure is of great importance. In sending out reply cards under the said system the sender must prepay the postage and take the risk of receiving any reply at all. A merchant who sends out thousands of these cards is thus subjected to a great loss because the reply cards on which he has paid postage are frequently left unused. Under the new plan he will not be called upon to pay the postage upon the reply cards until they are returned to him. Letter List. List of unclaimed letters remaining in the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., week ending March 10, 1900: C. J. Murphy, L. R. Munfie, Miss Stella McKnight, Rufus Williams. Say advertised and give date of list when calling for above. A. M. WOODWARD, P. M. A bright intelligent boy from 16 to 18 years old to work in store. HALL & BARTON. Johnston & Nolan are now selling a line of ladies' shoes for $1.50 that formerly sold for $2.50. About fifty cents goes far at Millirens as a dollar does elsewhere. It is the cautious people we are after, those who know a big dollar's worth, Robinson's shoes. For Sale—Six-room house, with basement and good cellar. Inquire at this office. Johnston & Nolan have a fine line of Emerson's shoes for gentlemen. See them. Use your sense and save your dollars. THE BATTLE OF MANILA. BY EDWARD A. PLATT. Half a world away we waited, Peering blindly through the veil That obscured the frowning future With its storm of iron hail. We had seen a land in thraldom While its life strength ebbed away, Tortured by a heartless tyrant, Maddened by a fendish sway. We had uttered tardy protest In the deathless name of right, And in Freedom's holy service Knew the time had come to fight. From beyond the world-rim westward Came our orders, where we lay, Sending us to take Manila And the warships in the bay. Stealthily as steals the panther, Following his victim's flight, We went crouching up the channel In the witching tropic night. When the eastern sky turned rosy, Presage of a bright May day, All the world in peace seemed smiling Over fair Manila Bay. Up aloft at gaff and masthead Streaks of morning light there flew; 'Twas the old "Star-spangled banner," 'Twas the old "Red, white and blue." Far ahead the foe was firing In excited, wild desire, But our silent, grim, old Dewey Stood serene and held his fire. Suddenly there streamed a signal—"Close in and engage," it said—And the Sabbath day had vanished And there came a hell instead! On in "Line of column" steaming, By the foe proudly bore, Hurling death among the warships And the forts along the shore. Piercec waged the strife Titanic, Hotter yet the belching flare, To the demon of destruction Swayed the earth and sea and air. Oh, the crash of guns in anger! Oh, the shriller shriek of shell! 'Till the very sea seemed burning Down a molten, flowing hell. But at last Spain's flag was lowered And the air was rent with cheers, For "Old Glory" still was waving Down the ceaseless, endless years. When we called home the battle, Clothed in Vic'try's simple phrase, Our reward was more than royal, For a Nation rose in praise. Self-Denial Week. The Salvation Army stands foremost as a powerful spiritual and social factor amongst the Christian nations of the earth. With their characteristic energy and thoroughness they are extending year by year their work into territories as yet untouched, especially in heathen lands. They settle embarrassing financial questions by voluntarily depriving themselves not only of comforts, but even of necessities, in what is known as the Week of Self-Denial. The money thus secured in this great annual effort is spent directly in the extension of their field of labor both at home and in the foreign missionary field. Besides their regular missionary and relief work, the Salvation Army has this year another and most urgent work of relief on hand. A desperate cry for help comes from India, where a fearful famine is raging at the present time. Not less than thirty million of Hindoos are on the verge of starvation. Salvationists are linked together in all lands in a strong bond of true brotherhood, and there will be during Self-Denial Week of this year a great rallying of forces to the relief of those famine-stricken people in India. The Salvation Army is the recognized friend and comforter of the poorest and lowliest, and their efforts in behalf of the millions of "submerged" are deserving of the highest praise and the liberal support on the part of those who are in the happy position to be free from the wretched worry for their daily bread.
