From Washington

How a Little Boy Was Saved.

Washington, D. C.—"When our boy was about 16 months old he broke out with a rash which was thought to be measles. In a few days he had a swelling on the left side of his neck and it was decided to be mumps. He was given medical attendance for about three weeks when the doctor said it was scrofula and ordered a salve. He wanted to lance the sore, but I would not let him and continued giving him medicine for about four months when the bunch broke in two places and became a running sore. Three doctors said it was scrofula and each ordered a blood medicine. A neighbor told me of a case somewhat like our baby's which was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I decided to give it to my boy and in a short while his health improved and his neck healed so nicely that I stopped giving him the medicine. The sore broke out again, however, whereupon I again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and its persistent use has accomplished a complete cure." MRS. NETTIE CHASE, 47 K St., N. E.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup Positively cures coughs, colds in the chest or lungs and incipient consumption! Always reliable. It is splendid for children. Tastes good. Doses are small. 25c.

DAWSON OF 1900.

City Has Changed Greatly During the Past Year.

The Dawson of 1899 is no longer the Dawson of 1898, and much less that of the year previous. The thousands of bateaux that were formerly lined up against the river front, in rows six deep and more, and comprising all manner of craft from the small canoe to sliced sections of scows, have mostly disappeared, and in their place we now find the graceful and ungraceful forms of varying types of steamboat. It is no uncommon thing nowadays to find five or more of these larger craft tied up at one time to the river front, and the amplitude and majesty of the Mississippi boats gain but little in comparison with some of the larger craft of the Yukon river. Overhung signs call attention to the flying queens of the river, the Bonanza King, Canadian and Sibyl, and thousands are offered upon the result of the race to the White Horse rapids. So here, as in the olden days of the Mississippi, the struggle for supremacy has led to the opening of the throttle and to the scraping of the fire-box. Upward of a hundred arrivals from down the river were registered at Dawson during the season of open water of 1899.—Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for February.

A Dig at the Hunters.

City Sportsman—Any game around here? Farmer—Yes; the woods are full of it. City Sportsman—I supposed it had been pretty well killed off by now. Farmer—Oh, no. No one ever hunts around here but you city fellows. —Chicago News.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

More Money in Sight—The New Financial Bill Has Produced Good Results—General Outlook.

R. C. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says:. In its first week of operations the new monetary bill has given satisfaction at the treasury and to banks. Application for new two per cents have exceeded $100,000,000 and the net increase in bank circulation is already over $10,000,000. The release of millions employed in preparation for action under the new measure has caused in bank returns considerable changes, which are nominal rather than real, and the money markets are undisturbed. As yet the tendency toward reaction of iron and steel prices continues, though in the Pittsburg region Bessemer and basic pig are strong. But eastern Bessemer and grey forge and southern pig are sold there at prices below those governing in larger transactions, and it is only the demand for steel-making iron which appears to exceed the supply. Eastern markets are weaker, with reduction of $1 per ton at Philadelphia in some grades. Finished products are generally unchanged, though sheets rise at Chicago with the coming combination, while plates sink lower at Pittsburg and to the lowest point since April 5, 1899, at Philadelphia.

The advance in wheat which followed statements of the quantity in farmer's hands has not been maintained and the decline the past week has been 1⅜ cents, corn also yielded about ½c Atlantic exports were 1,753,028 bushels for the week, and for three weeks only 4,762,482, against 8,730,374 last year. Receipts at western points in three weeks have been 11,977,231, against 10,180,957 last year. Meanwhile Pacific exports are heavy and in three weeks have been 3,183,523 bushels, against 1,656,277 last year. The foreign demand for corn still lessens, though 2,942,717 bushels went abroad during the week and in three weeks 8,439,819 bushels, against 10,133,485 last year. Failures for the week have been 183 in the United States, against 200 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 240 last year.

Devoured Three Officers.

The steamer Warrimoo has arrived at Vancouver, B. C., bringing from Dutch New Guinea the shocking account of the devouring of three officers of the steamer Gen. Pell by cannibals, who caught them while on shore taking photographs. Ernest Wiegan, one of the party, was wounded by arrows and while hiding saw the barbarians tie his three companions to trees, cut off portions of their living flesh, and finally roast and devour them. The Dutch man-of-war Sumatra is reported as prepared to avenge the atrocities.

Kentucky Shooting Affray.

On Marrowbone creek, 20 miles from Pineville, Ky., John Langley and Moses Sopher had an altercation in which Langley and Sopher were both killed, and a man named Johnson was seriously wounded. The altercation was over Langley arresting Sopher about two years ago while constable, on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. Sopher was acquitted and claimed Langley had no authority to arrest him. Johnson claimed he was trying to separate Sopher and Langley when he was shot.

GEN. H. GROSVENOR.

ONE OF THE MOST FORCEFUL MEN IN CONGRESS.

His Readiness for Battle Is One of His Leading Traits—Has Served Nearly Twenty Years in the Lower House at Washington.

There is no more interesting member of the present House of Representatives at Washington than General Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio, whose name, after the retirement of Speaker Reed, was coupled with the speakership.

One of the most prominent traits of Gen. Grosvenor is his pugnacity. He has been in Congress nearly twenty years, and has been fighting all that time. There is nothing he likes better than a scrap, and there is always fun in the air when he gets up to speak.

GEN. CHARLES H. GROSVENOR.

He is all angles and points, and his entrance into a debate is the signal for the bristling of all the feathers on the Democratic side. He is as obnoxious to his opponents as a cat is to a poultry yard.

Grosvenor is one of the most effective debaters in the House. He knows political history for the last thirty years and he has every man's political record tucked away somewhere in his well-filled brain, where he can get at it at a moment's notice. This makes him a very ugly customer. He has all the resources of a great criminal lawyer in controversy. Before he ever went to Congress he had a reputation in his state as one of the best criminal lawyers who ever practiced in Ohio—and that is saying a good deal.

Grosvenor is younger than he looks. He is some years on the sunny side of 60, but his appearance is that of a man older than this. He is of meagre size with white hair and white beard and a pair of shaggy eyebrows beneath which gleam a pair of very bright eyes.

He served all through the war in an Ohio regiment from 1861 to 1865 and was promoted from major to colonel, retiring with a brevet of brigadier general of volunteers. In the battle of Nashville he commanded a brigade. Since the war he has never ceased to take up the cudgels for his old comrades in arms. There has never been a pension bill that he did not vote for, and he always hits out from the shoulder when veterans are under attack.

Grosvenor is not a political manager or organizer like some others in Ohio, but he is one of the most effective lieutenants that a great political organizer could ask for. When Mark Hanna was setting up the campaign which resulted in McKinley's nomination, Grosvenor, who couldn't consent to lie idle, began to give out estimates from time to time of the number of delegates McKinley had secured. He had no authoritative statistics, but he took the most favorable figures he could find in the newspapers, adding a few McKinley delegates here and there, to suit his taste, and once a week would issue a bulletin which kept the McKinley column continually on the jump. Pretty soon people began to take Grosvenor's figures seriously. He chuckled to himself and kept it up. When the convention finally met there was a landslide and Grosvenor found himself more than justified. Since that time he has enjoyed a reputation as a great statistician, although he really cares very little about political mathematics. He has a rich sense of humor, though, that helps him to carry his reputation with a great deal of tranquility.

Driest Spot on Earth.

Payta, in Peru, is said to be the driest spot on the face of the earth, as the average interval between two showers of rain is seven years. The flora of Payta consists of about nine species—of these seven are annuals, the seeds of which must remain dormant in the ground for eight years. Notwithstanding the scarcity of rain, the natives subsist by the growth of the long-rooted Peruvian cotton, which is able to maintain itself without rain for seven years in the dried-up river bed, and yields profitable crops of colored short staple cotton.—Cincinnati Enquirer

WHAT SOUTH AFRICANS EAT.

The Peculiar Diet of the Native Savages—Ants and Mice.

German missionary who has just returned from South Africa recently delivered a lecture before the Berlin Geographical society, in which he brought forward the following particulars concerning the peculiar diet of the native savages of the Transvaal, especially as noticed among the Basutos, the tribe which is now threatening to take up arms against the British, says the Philadelphia Record. One of their most characteristic hunts is the mouse hunt. Twenty to thirty Basutos gather together; they march off carrying strips of nets made by them for this purpose and, accompanied by a large number of dogs, about whose bodies different sized bells are bound. The dogs make a big sweep round the countryside, while the Basutos attach their various strips of nets into one long semicircular barrier, the lower part of which is pinned to the ground. Then, crouching upon the ground and holding their sticks ready, they wait the coming of the mice. These, frightened by the bells dangling from the dogs, gradually draw nearer and nearer to the net, along which they are at last found running in a vain effort to discover an opening through which they may escape. When the number of these victims is sufficiently great a shrill cry is emitted by the chief, the net is pushed forward all along the line, and the struggling creatures caught in the meshes of the net are unmercifully whipped to death by the jubilant savages. Monkeys, constitute one of their favorite tid-bits, which are all the more appreciated as they are not so readily caught. Snakes are simply killed with blows from a switch and are generally in high favor. According to the missionary their popularity is well deserved. He himself took part in a meal in which snakes formed the chief attraction and found that this animal could be favorably compared with a prime eel. Most popular of all delicacies, however, are the caterpillars. It is not unusual to learn of a quarrel which has broken out among the natives for their possession. The most favorable time for catching them is the early morning and late evening hours, when their wings are heavy with dew and they are unable to see clearly. The children of the mission, numbering about 400, having organized a locust hunt, succeeded one day in capturing no less than 160 pounds of these insects, which were consumed with the greatest avidity before the day had passed. At certain times of the year the great white-winged ants leave the earth, and it is then that a most zealous competition arises between the Kaffir children and the chickens of the dorp for the possession of the prized morsels. It is at such times that the Kaffir youngsters may be seen running about with their mouths stuffed full of ants, and, if the chase has been especially successful, with both fists also full of these succulent dainties.

Making a Billiard Ball.

It requires skilled labor to turn out a billiard ball. One-half of it is first turned, an instrument of the finest steel being used for the work. Then the half-turned ball is hung up in a net and is allowed to remain there for nearly a year to dry. Next the second half is turned, and then comes the polishing. Whiting and water and a good deal of rubbing are requisite for this. It is necessary in the end that the ball shall, to the veriest fraction of a grain, be of a certain weight.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ALABASTINE

WHAT ALABASTINE IS.

Alabastine is the original and only durable wall coating on the market. It is entirely different from all kalsomine preparations. Alabastine is made ready for use in white or fourteen beautiful tints by the addition of cold water. It is put up in dry powdered form, in packages, properly labeled, with full directions on every package. It takes the place of scaling kalsomines, wall paper and paint for walls. Alabastine can be used on plaster, brick, wood or canvas, and a child can brush it on.

WHAT "KALSOMINES" ARE.

Kalsomines are cheap and temporary preparations, manufactured from whiting, chalks, clays, etc. They are stuck on the walls with decaying animal glue. Alabastine is not a kalsomine. It is a rock-base cement, which sets, and it hardens with age. It can be re-coated and re-decorated without having to wash and scrap off its old coats. Alabastine is utilized to a great extent in hospitals, as it prevents the accumulation of dirt and the congregating of disease germs, being disinfectant in its nature.

CHURCHES AND SCHOOLHOUSES.

The interior walls of churches, schoolhouses and all public halls should never be coated with anything but the durable and pure Alabastine. So evident has this fact become, that hundreds of tons are used annually for this work. The genuine Alabastine does not rub or scale off. It is cleanly during the long period of its usefulness. Every owner of a building should use it. Ask your paint dealer or druggist for card of tints, and write for free copy of our interesting booklet to Alabastine Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.

REJECT THE "JUST AS GOOD."

The dealer who tells you that he can sell you the "same thing" as Alabastine or "something just as good," either is not posted or is trying to deceive you. In offering something he has bought cheap and is trying to sell on Alabastine's demand, he may not realize the danger to himself as well as to you. Beware of all new substitutes. Dealers risk a suit for damages by selling and consumers by using an infringement. Alabastine Co. own the right to make and sell wall coatings adapted to mix with cold water.
