This opinion, coming from a man of the experience of Mr. Laur, is valuable evidence of the practicability of the enterprises.

Dr. Murray, who probed for the balls, found them within one inch of the skin on the man's back. New Company. A new stock company, composed of twenty prominent persons of this section, has purchased the large woolen mill at this place. The company will be chartered under the name of old company—Reynoldsville Woolen Company. The new company took charge of the mill Monday. It is the intention of the new company to do business on a larger scale than the old company did—and they did a large business. The mill is well equipped for turning out fine work, and has a wide reputation for doing that kind of work. It is probable that a knitting mill will be added to the plant in the near future. The board of directors are: S. B. Elliott, president, Dr. S. Reynolds, vice-president, F. H. Beck, secretary, John H. Kaucher, treasurer, George W. Sykes, James B. Arnold, Charles Herpel and Levi Schuckers. L. W. Huyck, who was manager under old company, has been elected superintendent of the plant.

Bought a Store in Kane. Milliren Bros., proprietors of the large clothing store in the Reynolds block, have purchased a clothing store in Kane almost as large as the store at this place. Glenn A. Milliren, who is now in Kane, will remain there permanently and Charles Milliren will be manager of the store in this place, which will be continued as heretofore. The Reynoldsville store was started about seven years ago in a small room in the Beehive block, but by honest and fair dealing—once price to all—and accommodating ways, the business rapidly increased and to day they have one of the largest and finest clothing stores in the county. The people of Kane will find Glenn Milliren an honest and upright business man and they can depend upon it that he will not misrepresent his goods. While we are sorry to lose Glenn, yet we wish Milliren Bros. success at Kane.

Miners' Mass Meeting. The miners of this place held a mass meeting in the Reynolds opera house Saturday afternoon to take some action on the scale of prices adopted at the district convention held in Altoona several weeks ago, which was published in THE STAR the week after the convention was held. Candidate for Assembly. William T. Cox, ex-tax collector and ex-treasurer of this municipality, ex-groceryman and also an ex-farmer, who has been banking after the nomination and election for Assembly for a number of years, announces his name in THE STAR this week for the above mentioned office. Several years ago Mr. Cox made all preparation to run for the nomination, but because there was another candidate from Reynoldsville for the same office, Mr. Cox waited. Things have resolved into the same condition as when Mr. Cox stepped out of the way, but this time he expects to stay in the field until the 16th day of June, 1900.

Mr. Cox does not need an introduction to the Republicans of Jefferson county, as he has been a party worker for years and is well known all over the county. The candidate who defeats William this time—if it is possible to do so—will have to hustle early and late, for he has many warm friends in the county who will work for him.
