An exchange says women start in cleaning house by picking out a lot of old things to throw away, and usually end up by dusting them and carefully returning them to the closet.

The usually pure air of this section has been filled with smoke the past week from forest fires. Two attempts were made in April to hold a meeting of Hope Hose Company, but the members failed to assemble in numbers sufficient to make a quorum. Almost nine hundred persons went to Pittsburg on the A. V. Ry excursion Sunday. Sixty-six tickets were sold at this place. The excursion was run in two sections. The Improved Order of Red Men will attend the morning services in the Baptist church Sunday, May 13th, at which time Dr. A. J. Meek will preach a special sermon. The True Blue Temperance Union held a social and entertainment in Bell's hall Saturday evening. A large crowd attended. Cake walks were among the amusements of the evening. Two hundred and fifty excursion tickets to Brookville were sold at the A. V. Ry office in this place last Thursday. This was the largest delegation sent to Brookville from any one town. Julius J. Kirchartz, of DuBois, who died Thursday and was buried Saturday, was an uncle of Charles S. Kirchartz, the cigar dealer of this place. Mr. Kirchartz and family attended the funeral. May Devotions in the Catholic church Wednesday and Friday evenings of this week at 7.30, and after this week these meetings will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings during the month of May. Several of our exchanges say that the Reynoldsville band assisted in furnishing music for the Odd Fellows' Reunion at Brookville last week, which is not correct. Our band did not go to Brookville that day. The reception given Albert Strauss and bride at the home of Noah Strauss in Paradise last Wednesday evening was the most enjoyable and pleasant social event that has taken place in Paradise for many a day. The Sr. O. U. A. M. State Council is being held at Punxsutawney this week. E. S. Strawcutter, of this place, who is deputy of the Brookville district, is attending the State Council as a delegate from Knoxdale Council. "What Happened to Jones" was played at the Reynolds opera house last Thursday evening to a small crowd. Those who were present say this was the best play produced in Reynoldsville for a long time. Captain Reynolds says, "It was a peach." Last Friday evening singing school was opened by Rev. G. Johannes at Chestnut Grove Lutheran church. A very large number of young people attended. The school will continue for some time yet with Miss Leata Snyder presiding at the organ. The Punxsutawney Spirit "special edition," which will soon be ready to be issued, will be a fine specimen of printers' art and will be handsomely illustrated. George A. Michell, representing the "special edition," was in town yesterday soliciting advertisements for it. At the Republican State convention held in Harrisburg last Wednesday Edmund Hardenbergh, of Wayne, was nominated for Auditor General, and Galusha A. Grow, of Susquehanna, and Robert H. Foerderer, of Philadelphia, were nominated for Representatives-at-Large. John Conway, of Fairmount, whose parents live near Butler street, Pittsburg, was injured at Butler street Sunday by jumping off the A. V. Ry excursion train when it was running at a fair rate of speed. Conway's left foot was so badly injured that amputation was necessary. On account of the commencement exercises in Assembly hall at 7.30 this evening there will not be prayer meeting in Presbyterian church. Rev. Reber announced Sunday morning that the prayer meeting would be held a half hour early, but has since decided not to hold prayer meeting. The temperance lecture in Centennial hall last Thursday evening by W. T. Bundick, of Onancock, Va., was attended by a very small audience. Mr. Bundick is an able and eloquent speaker and should have been greeted with a large audience. He made the assertion that no matter who is president of the United States, "Alcohol is King." The regular monthly meeting of the Jefferson County Medical Society was to have been held at Frank's Tavern, this place, Friday afternoon, but only one out of town physician got here and there was no meeting. Delegates to State convention were to have been elected at this meeting. If Jefferson county is represented in the convention the president and secretary of the county association will have to appoint delegates. Special meetings at the Salvation Army the 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th of May. Staff Captain March and Captain Aston, late of New York City, will be here on the 10th and 11th of this month. Staff Captain March will speak in the Salvation Army hall Friday evening, May 11th. She is famous for her work in New York City at the Bowery Corps, where she labored for nearly three years. Everybody in Reynoldsville ought to hear her.

School Appropriation. The department of public instruction at Harrisburg has finished making the computations for the distribution of school money for the coming year, and the amount allowed Jefferson county is $53,000.88. The amount for last year was $54,387.95, making a reduction of $1,387.07 in the county for 1900. Killed by Car. William Deeds, son of George Deeds of Rathmel, who had both legs cut off in attempting to get on a train at Wheeling, W. Va., Saturday, died in a Wheeling hospital Saturday and his body was shipped home for burial, arriving here at noon yesterday. William left home two weeks ago Sunday on the B. & P. excursion to Pittsburg. Supt. White Resigned. W. H. White, who has been superintendent of the silk mill in this place the past seven months, has tendered his resignation to take effect the 15th of the present month. Mr. White is not only an efficient superintendent, but he is a gentleman that is a credit to the town, and we are sorry to lose him. He will move back to Paterson, N. J. Have Reached Perfection. The Williamsport Lodge of Perfection, Scottish Rites Masons, admitted a large class of candidates last Thursday. Among the number admitted were four gentlemen from this place, Frank A. McConnell, Ira Smith, Charles A. Herpel and A. P. Weltzel. These gentlemen have now reached the highest degree—32nd degree—in the Masonic lodge. Baccalaureate Sermon. Rev. S. A. Martin, D. D., president of Wilson Female College of Chambersburg, preached the baccalaureate sermon to high school class in the Presbyterian church Sunday at 11.00 a. m. Dr. Martin preached an excellent sermon. The Presbyterian choir furnished special music. The church was nicely decorated. There was a large congregation present. Dr. Martin preached in the M. E. church Sunday evening and all who heard the two sermons thought the evening sermon better than the one in the morning. House Burned. The dwelling house of William Norris, in Winslow township, was burned about 6.30 Friday morning. The origin of fire is unknown, but as it started in a part of the house away from the street is a supposition that mice had set off a match by nibbling at it and the blaze resulted. It was a fine large house with slate roof, and cannot be replaced for less than $2,000.00, perhaps more. It was insured for $700.00 in the Washington Township Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Mr. Norris' household goods were most all saved, but were considerably damaged by the hasty manner that was necessary to get them out of the burning building. Who'll Start a Sprinkler. Two or three days last week there was so much dust on Main street that the merchants had to keep their doors closed to keep the dust out. This is a sample of what the merchants will have to contend with unless a street sprinkler is put on. The cost of a sprinkler will be a small item for each merchant if they would all pay something, and unless some means is provided to keep down the dust the merchants will lose more by damage to their goods from dust than they would necessarily pay for sprinkler, not considering annoyance and inconvenience of keeping their store doors closed to keep out the dust. Who'll start a street sprinkler? Smashed the Show Cases. When J. J. Sutter's dry goods store was opened Wednesday morning it did not have the usual neat appearance. Some time during the night all the heavy cornice on top of the shelving along one side of store had dropped down on counter, smashing two show cases and badly disfiguring another, besides doing considerable damage to goods piled on counter. Iron pipe had been fastened to top of cornice and extended out about three feet to display goods on, and as the cornice was not nailed as securely to wall as it should have been for the extra weight put on by the display goods, it fell down. Mr. Sutter estimates the damage at about $100.00. Tennis Club Re-organized. The Reynoldsville Tennis Club was re-organized Monday night and a number of new members were admitted. Heretofore the club was composed of eight members, Prof. G. W. Lenkerd, F. H. Beck, Clifford Kaucher, Paul Riston, K. C. Schugars, Dr. J. H. Murray, Dr. L. L. Means and James Evans. Two new male members were admitted, Frank P. Alexander and Walter R. Reed, making ten male members, and that is the limit. The club decided to admit lady members and make the limit one dozen. The following ladies were elected to membership: Lois Robinson, Erma Robinson, Olevia Murray, Nell Robinson, Caroline Robinson, Nellie Armer, Gertrude Delbe, Amelia Morrow, Misses Beck. Prof. G. W. Lenkerd was elected president and F. H. Beck secretary and treasurer. The club will keep the court in first-class order this season and expect to give entertainments on the grounds.

Sudden Death. Charles Gibson, who was employed at Big Soldier mine, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon from a stroke of apoplexy. He was being brought to his home in this place on a stretcher when he expired. The deceased was born in Indiana county, Pa., June 12, 1847, making him almost 53 years old at time of death. In the hour of his country's need during the sixties, although quite young, Mr. Gibson joined the army and served three years in Company —, 55th regiment. He was married twice. His second wife, was Mrs. Lucy Hildebrand, relict of William Hildebrand. They were married nine years ago last February. Mrs. Gibson's maiden name was Lucy Stanford, daughter of D. E. Stanford, of Sandy Valley. The deceased was the father of four children, three from first marriage and one from second. Mrs. Gibson is the mother of three children, two from first marriage. Charles Gibson was a peaceful and industrious citizen and was well liked by those who knew him. He spent most of his spare time with his family. Funeral services were held at the house Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of M. E. church. Interment was made at Syphrit cemetery in Paradise. The pall bearers were all old soldiers, Ab. Reynolds, John Huffman, John M. Hays, John Davis, T. C. Reynolds and Wm. M. Foster. West Reynoldsville Commencement. The commencement exercises of the West Reynoldsville high school, held in the M. E. church last Wednesday evening, were highly appreciated by the large audience. All who took part in the exercises did nicely, but the four graduates, Fred E. McEntire, Harry L. McEntire, Kate B. Phalen and Sadie M. Hanson, deserve credit and praise for the graceful, skillful and easy manner in which they delivered their orations. Their friends had reason to feel proud of them. Captain S. A. Craig, of Brookville, ex-congressman from this district, delivered the graduating address. He congratulated the graduates on their successful commencement, and also congratulated the West Reynoldsville schools on having such a competent principal and able corps of assistants. Captain delivered a plain, practical address which was listened to very attentively. The church was very nicely decorated with potted plants and class motto, black and orange. The class motto, "Not Finisher, But Beginner" was conspicuous on the wall back of the platform. The general verdict was that the exercises were a complete success. Graduating Exercises. The fourth annual graduating exercises of the Reynoldsville high school, class of 1900, will be held in Assembly hall this evening, beginning at 7.30. Ex-Governor Daniel H. Hastings, of Bellefonte, whose picture appears on the first page of this issue, will deliver the graduating address. The program is as follows: Invocation. Rev. Perry A. Reno. Piano Solo. On account of sickness Miss Bertha Marshall will not likely be able to deliver her oration to-night. Poor Farm Bought. The county commissioners have decided to buy the David McConnell farm, if the inspector of State Board of Charities approves the selection. This farm is located in Pinecreek township, within a mile and a half of Brookville. The McConnell farm contains 102 acres with $1,000.00 worth of timber on it. Price, $8,000.00. The building on the farm is to be 214x124 feet two stories high. It is to be a brick structure with iron stairs. There is to be a hospital and an insane department in the building. Twelve rooms in insane department. There will be fifty rooms on first floor, not including laundry, bakery and closets, and there will be at least 25 rooms on second floor, not including a chapel 35x38. The commissioners will advertise for bids 30 days and then will begin the erection of the building as soon as possible. Electric Lights. The work of stringing the electric light wires will be finished this week and the lights will be turned on as soon as the lamps arrive, which were ordered from the General Electric Company of New York. There has been delay about the lamps on account of the company having more orders than they can fill promptly. The street lights will be the latest improved Series Alternating Current Enclosed Arc Lamps. They will burn 100 hours without trimming, while the old style only burns 24 hours without trimming. This will give Reynoldsville up-to-date electric lights. Frighten Silk Mill Girls. It is reported that some employes of glass plant make it very unpleasant for the silk mill girls on their way home from work by swinging the foot bridge across Sandy Lick creek, which is not an immense superstructure and swings without much effort. Some persons are likely to get into trouble unless such annoyance is stopped. We have a nice assortment of fancy front doors of the latest design that we are selling at prices that defy competition. Hall & Barton. Do not bother with lace curtains at home, but send them to the Reynoldsville Steam Laundry, where they will be done up nicely.

JUNIOR ELOCUTIONARY CONTEST. Clement Flynn First Prize and Miss Effie Milliren Second—Ernest Gamble a Delightful and Artistic Singer. The junior elocutionary contest in Assembly hall last evening was attended by a large audience. The hall was nicely decorated with class colors, purple and white, and beautiful flowers. The contestants were all well prepared, having been carefully trained by Prof. Alton Lindsey, and they entered the contest with a determination to do their best to secure the prize. This made it no easy task for the judges to decide to whom the prizes should be awarded. The judges were H. A. Moore, Esq., of DuBois, Rev. S. M. Gordon, of Brookville, and Miss Mattie M. Collins, of Driftwood, superintendent of Cameron county schools. The decision of the judges was that Clement Flynn was entitled to first prize, a gold medal, and Miss Effie Milliren was entitled to second prize, two books. The singing by Mr. Ernest Gamble was certainly a rare treat and the encores were convincing proof to the singer that the large audience was appreciative. Mr. Gamble has a remarkable voice, of good range, rich in quality and he handles it with an ease that makes his singing a positive delight. He was on program for three songs and was called back three times, making six songs. Charles Wilbur Macdonald, the accompanist, is a master on the piano, and his piano solo was well received. The program for the evening was as follows: Song. Mr. Ernest Gamble. "The Judgment Day." Alice Evans. "Loyal Infidelity." Yvonne McGraw. "The Real Hero." Emme Milliren. "Young Richard." Mr. Ernest Gamble. "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair." James Blair. "The Swan Song." Maud Hood. Piano Solo. Mr. Chas. Wilbur Macdonald. "Of to Philadelphia." Ernest Gamble. Awarding of Prizes. Judges. Miss Frances King, one of the contestants, could not take part in contest on account of sickness. Forest Fires. Forest fires have been doing considerable damage the past week. Two of P. McDonald's camps, near Harvey's Run, including houses and barns, were destroyed Saturday and it was with difficulty that the large camp was saved, which would have been a six thousand dollar fire. Two log cars, loaded with logs, were burned. The men had a hard fight to stay the fire fiend. Saturday forenoon the forest fire got uncomfortably close to Hopkins saw mill and fifteen men fought the flames a half day. The men had a hot time to save the Hopkins school house. The mill of the Hall Lumber Company, near Rathmel, on the C. H. Prescott 1,000 acre tract, was threatened with forest fires Thursday. The leaves and underbrush on about 500 acres of this tract was burned, but there was little damage to the timber on tract. The forest fires have destroyed miles of fences for farmers in this section. Robert Douthett lost about 200 rods of fence and had to fight hard two or three days and nights to save other property. Lutheran Church Notices. There are three sizes, containing one, two and three dozen two-cent stamps, to-wit: one dozen 25 cents, two dozen 49 cents and four dozen 97 cents. Sheets of postage stamps between the pages prevent the paper from sticking together. The books are more especially calculated as a convenience for carrying in the pocket. Birthday Surprise Party. Welsh was given a birthday surprise party Monday by about twenty-five lady friends, who assembled at her home on Jackson street at 5.00 p. m. and found Mrs. Welsh scrubbing her basement stairs.
