HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Orations Excellent—Ex-Gov. Hastings' Address to the Point—Gamble's Singing Captivating—The Banquet.

The fourth annual graduating exercises of the Reynoldsville high school is a thing of the past, and the entire commencement exercises passed off nicely. This was another opportunity for our people to see a public exhibition of some of the benefits derived from an excellent school. In our issue last week we published a full account of the exercises up to and including Tuesday evening, therefore, this week we will write up the graduating night and banquet.

The graduating exercises Wednesday evening were intensely interesting. The hall was tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums and beautiful cut flowers and potted plants. The class motto, "My care is for the Future," was suspended in front of rostrum. The orations were all delivered without hesitation, showing careful and persistent preparation. The new officers are Harry C. Herpel, president, Dorothy Sutter vice-president, Lulu Black secretary, Frank P. Alexander treasurer. The alumni membership now numbers almost a half hundred.
