I said: "The past it is dead, I will bury it deep and still, With a tablet over its head, "Of the dead one may speak no ill."

I dug deep down in the loam,
I scaled up the grave with prayer,
But the past was the first one home
And waited to greet me there.

ANTS ACT AS STRATEGISTS.

Colonies of the Insects Transact Business With Military Precision.

From a military standpoint the meth ods employed by ants to provide food for an ant colony are almost perfect. Their foraging parties are faultless. both in planning and execution, and are almost uniformly successful. A resident of this city who visited South Africa gives this description of a foray of an army of ants.

The army, which he estimates to have numbered about 15,000 ants. started from its home in the mud walls of a but and marched in the drection of a small mound of fresh earth but a few yards distant. The head of the column halted on reaching the foot of the mound and waited for the rest of the force to arrive at the place of operations, which evidently was to be the mound of fresh earth. When the remainder had arrived and halted so that the entire army was as sembled, a number of ants detached themselves from the main body and began to ascend to the top of the mound, while the others began moving so as to encircle the base of the mound

Soon a number from the detachment which had ascended the mound, evi dently the attacking party, entered the loose earth and speedily returned, each bearing a cricket or a young grass-hopper, dead, which he deposited upon the ground and then returned for a fresh load. Those who had remained on the outside of the mound took up the crickets and grasshoppers as they were brought out and bore them down to the base of the bill, returning for a fresh lond. Soon the contents of the mound seemed to be exhausted, and then the whole force returned home. each carrying his burden of food for the community.

Here, then, was the regular forny, planned and executed with military precision, the country surveyed, the depot of provisions known accurately before the march was made and at the mound prudential division of labor and care taken that none of the victims should escape.-New York Herald.

Test For a Weak Mind.

Two men in a cafe were discussing a gift by a noted millionaire of a targe sum of money to found a college chair of psychology.

"What is psychology, anyway?" ask-"It's the study of the mind, of the soul," said the other.

"What's the good of that?" asked the skeptic. "A great deal of use," answered his companion. "I have studied it to some extent myself and can detect a weak minded man from a strong minded one by a very simple test. For instance, if I can make you say 'fourteen' against your will you lack will power. Will you let me try it on you? I believe I can make you say it."

"Make me say 'fourteen' against my will? You can't do it. Fire away!" And this is the way the test worked: -How much are six and four?

B.-Ten.

A .- How much are eight and three?

A .- How much are nine and seven? B .- Sixteen.

A. (triumphantly)-Aba! There, you

B. (indignantly)-Said what? -Sixteen

B .- But "fourteen" was the word we chose for the test.

A. (coolly)—Well, you've said it now, anyway.—New York Tribune.

The desceration of Memorial Day by the introduction of festive features is sacrilege that incurs the disapproval of every patriotle American. This day is hallowed by ceremonics in memory of the dead. Those who participated in the greatest civil war in the world's history, whether living or dead, deserve the reverential consideration of all the people of the great republic. As the survivors of the conflict march in solemn procession to place the tribute of sacred memory upon the graves of their fallen comrades, every head should be bowed in reverence, and let no man feel shame if a tear bedim his eye as the depleted ranks of the veterans pass by The man who mars the solemnity of the occasion by the introduction of unseemly sports or devices deserves the execration of his fellow men .- Kane Republican.

When a man or woman is oppressed with ennui, and life seems a borden and a bore, physical pain is a good thing to bring them to their senses. A howling toothache, or a robust case of acute rhoumatism will generally effect a cure "If I were only rid of this," moans the sufferer, "I would be bappy." The trouble with most people is that they do not know how to appreciate the bles sings of life. Good health in itself is enough to make a properly constituted individual glad he is alive. Think of the people afflicted, with incurable diseases, and who have the most loathsome burdens laid upon them. If they can find sufficient philosophy in their souls to be in love with life, why should not you, with robust health, be exuberant with joy?-Punxsutawney Spirit.
