MOTHER'S GONE HOME.

Death of Mrs. Barbara A. Ellenberger at Her Home in North Freedom.

Mrs. Ellenberger was born at Panic, Jefferson county, Pa., in 1841, and died from a complication of diseases on Saturday, May 19th, at 1.00 p. m., aged 58 years, 6 months and 11 days.

Mrs. Ellenberger's maiden name was Brown. She was married July 11, 1861, to Franklin Ellenberger, who preceded her to the Spirit World but three months ago. They resided alternately in McAlmont and Oliver townships, Reynoldsville borough and Ringgold township. Twelve children were given this couple, five sons and seven daughters. Three daughters and one son preceded their parents to the Spirit World. The surviving children are: Mrs. Ida J. Pifer, of Reynoldsville, Thomas C. Ellenberger, Cool Spring, Mrs. Emma C. Dickey, Reynoldsville, Charles E. Ellenberger, Echo, Phillip, Daniel, Nora and Lucile Ellenberger, North Freedom.

Mrs. Ellenberger became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church some forty years ago and later transferred her membership to the United Evangelical church and lived a consistent and devoted christian life.

She had been in poor health the past five years, and during the last two years of her life she suffered all the agonies that the humanity is heir to. During the last two days the pain could only be allayed by the use of powerful antiseptics. It had come to a mere matter of hours and the aged mother was relieved so that when death came it was peaceful and without a struggle.

Funeral services were held in the United Brethren church at Panic Monday, May 21st, conducted by Rev. M. E. Berger, assisted by J. T. Haine. Interment was made at Panic.

Mother is not, for God took her in life's full prime of winter ripeness from the bosom of her family and out of the sphere of her faithful labors. The brave heart ceased to beat, the work of a life time was finished and the reward of a faithful stewardship had begun. We shall see the bright kindly face on earth no more, neither shall we again feel the firm grasp of the friendly hand. Mother was recognized as a strong, capable, faithful, reliable and serviceable woman. She was a steadfast friend who could be depended on in time of need and trials—when it cost something to be true. She was such a woman as the poet had in mind when he wrote: "How beautiful it is for a mother to die upon the walls of Zion; to be called like a worn and weary sentinel to put her armor off and rest in heaven."

Her work is done, the conflict is o'er, the victory won. With sweetest hand I lay this wreath upon her bier, bidding her good night, with the full assurance that I shall see her and know her in the morning.

Mother, she has gone! the one to us so dear, To her Father over yonder, to that heavenly home beyond. O' not in cruelty, not in wrath, the reaper came that day; It was an angel visited this earth and took mother away.

Dearest mother, thou art gone. 'Twas hard indeed to give thee up; We miss thee in the room, but God has called thee home.

Sleep, mother, sleep, with your hands upon your breast; Poor, weary hands; they needed rest. Dearly mother, we have loved you, but God has loved you best. Dear faithful heart, He has given you rest. North Freedom, Pa. SON.

Glorious News

It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cts. ### A Dreadful Famine.

The general public doubtless knows of the dreadful famine in India. More than fifty million people are in utter destitution and crying for something to eat. Multitudes are at death's door and many dying daily. Yes, I take it for granted that the people of Reynoldsville know these sad facts; but the mere knowing is not doing, in the way of relief. Here's an especially favored time to prove the mercy and goodness of true Christianity as something far superior to darkness of heathenism. And here also is a case where deeds—deeds of helpfulness—speak louder than words. Hence it is that the writer saw fit to send some of the stuff that helps. Will not many or all of the rest do the same, if they have not yet; and remember that a good name—for mercy and good deeds—is rather to be chosen than great riches, which so many are hoarding up in this highly-favored country of America. I. A. S.

Fell Down Mine Shaft.

Evil fate brought a tragic ending to a young life and a romance Saturday afternoon at the Bell, Lewis & Yates shaft on the west side of town, being now the property of the Jefferson & Clearfield company. The shaft was sunk for the purpose of furnishing drainage and air for the big Rochester mine, and is 110 feet deep. It is in constant operation days, nights and Sundays, and Warren Gaines, about twenty years old, was one of the firemen. Saturday afternoon about three o'clock he was bringing a car of coal to the mouth of the shaft. The cage had been let down but he was not aware of it, and as he pushed the car along to the cage, as he supposed, it fell into the shaft and he went with it.

Both went to the bottom without anything to break the force of the drop and when those at the bottom of the shaft looked upon them Gaines was dead and the car broken to pieces. They were a mixed, mangled mass.—DuBois Courier.

New District President.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Board of District No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, W. B. Wilson, president of District 2, who has accepted the position of National Secretary-Treasurer, resigned as president of the district. The resignation was accepted with the understanding that Mr. Wilson would agree to advise and counsel with the executive board of district 2 in all matters of importance in the district, thereby virtually remaining a member thereof.

Bernard Rice, of DuBois, vice-president of the district, was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Wilson's resignation, and Patrick Gilday, of Morrisdale, was elected vice-president. President Rice then appointed John Sullivan, of Adrian, to fill the vacancy on the executive board caused by the promotion of Mr. Gilday.
