It is as easy to run a newspaper to please all the people all the time as it would be to walk across the Atlantic ocean on snow shoes.

The census of Porto Rico, taken under the direction of the War Department of the United States, shows the population of Porto Rico October 16, 1899, to be 953,243.

The Pennsylvania Republican is now under new management, the Republican Publishing Company having been dissolved. Thomas J. Rodgers and Claude V. Kintner, two experienced printers, have purchased the plant.

The rabbits are so plenty that farmers are greatly annoyed by them. They are very destructive. A farmer was heard to complain the other day because the law protected these cotton tailed mammals. He thinks the time is not far distant when a bounty will have to be offered by the state to protect the farmers.

Not many moons ago we saw what we think will "take the cake" for variegated togethery, and it was not a youth, but a man about forty years old, or near abouts, who was wearing the attractive combination. Tan shoes, very light colored pants, blue hared vest, dark colored coat, light pink shirt, dark pink collar, flashy necktie, red hat with white band.

Speaking of the legal rights of wives, an exchange states that in thirty-seven of these United States a married mother has no right to her children. In sixteen states a wife has no right to her own earnings outside of the home. In eight states a woman has no right to her own property after marriage. In seven states there is no law compelling a man to support his own family.

Solomon is credited with having been an exceedingly wise man, but it does not require an overabundance of wisdom for some men nowadays to aver to the truthfulness of Solomon's statements, which are found in Proverbs, that "It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, than with a bawling woman in a wide house," or "It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and angry woman."

Dr. C. P. W. Merritt, who is now in this country but was for eight years a medical missionary at Pao-Ting-Fu, China, near the center of the present troubles, in answer to "Who are the Boxers?" says: "The Boxers is an organization having as their object the expulsion of foreign influence. Their attacks upon missionaries are consequently not because they are missionaries, but foreigners, or 'foreign devils.' The killing of native Christians naturally follows, and not because they are Christians, for Chinese are very tolerant of sects, but owing to their connection with foreigners and foreign influences."

A fact that is every day making itself conspicuous is that liquor cuts too much of a figure in the politics of the land. There are too many minds turned and votes changed because of a drink of whiskey and the sooner this condition of things is recognized the better it will be for this country. No influences, other than a man's own conception of right and wrong, should be brought to bear upon his vote, and the person who has no political preference is surely not entitled to a vote morally, even though he is legally. The time should come when men should come to the polls and vote, and then go away until after the vote has been counted. There is plenty of further ballot reform.—Falls Creek Herald.

The editors along the main line of the Allegheny Valley Railway have been blowing recently about a delightful free trip given them to Buffalo, N. Y., on a magnificent vestibuled train by the officials of the aforesaid railway. Free use of Parlor cars, free meals in dining car, free cigars, free meals at the most popular hotel in Buffalo, free tickets to theatre, free carriage rides, &c. Whew! Just think of it! Two full days' reveling in luxury and then the editors dropped into every day existence again. We are hoping that some railroad will take pity on the editors of this neck o' woods and give them two days of earthly bliss. Supt. C. B. Price and Gen'l Passenger Agent Jas. P. Anderson, of the A. V. R'y, are up-to-date men who believe it pays to be on good terms with newspaper men, therefore we suppose it was an oversight, and not intentional, that ye scribs was not invited on the editors' jaunt.

A YOUNG LIFE ENDED.

Agnes Annie Stone Died Saturday Night—She Was Ready to Depart.

Agnes Annie Stone, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stone, peacefully departed this life Saturday night at twelve o'clock "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms." Just before she expired she whispered, "I am going home." While the family knew that Agnes could not remain with them many days, yet the end came sooner than expected and the family was not all present when the Death Angel called for her. Mr. and Mrs. Stone, Cecil and Florence were the members of the family at the bedside.

Agnes was born in London, November 25, 1877, making her 22 years and 7 months old at time of death. About a year ago it became evident that consumption was sapping the vitality from her young life, and every effort possible was made to stay the ravishings of the dread disease, but medical skill and earnest, faithful prayers availed not.

Short funeral services, attended by a large number of friends, were held at residence Monday evening, conducted by Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Perry A. Reno, of the M. E. church, and Rev. W. Frank Robor, of Presbyterian church, and on Tuesday morning the mortal remains of a devoted daughter, loving sister and kind friend were taken to Pittsburg on the 8.38 A. V. R'y train. At 43rd street, Pittsburg, a hearse and carriages met the funeral party and they were taken to the Allegheny County Cemetery, Pittsburg, and interment was made in family plot. The pall-bearers were: Paul Riston, Clifford Kaucher, Charles King, Will Herpel, Raymond Brown and Harold Arnold.

The floral tributes were handsome: Pillow from Reynoldsville High School Alumni Association, Maltese cross from B. Y. P. U., wreath from Dr. J. H. Murray, Paul Riston and Harold Arnold, and a number of beautiful bouquets from intimate friends.

Memorial services will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday morning, conducted by Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the deceased.

Agnes Stone had a very sweet disposition, and as a consequence her friends were numerous. She always made excursions for the shortcomings of any of her friends and acquaintances. In 1898 Miss Agnes graduated in the Reynoldsville high school. She was a very bright young lady and could talk intelligently on most any subject. She was quite an artist, as many samples of her hand-work about the home will prove, and was an excellent musician. She was a member of the Baptist church, B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school. For some time before her health forbade it she had charge of the primary room in the Sunday school. Agnes was a devout christian; she had implicit faith in the Bible, which she exemplified during the long weeks of suffering that she passed through patiently. A noble christian character ceased to exist when Agnes Stone closed her eyes in death.

A. H. Stone, of Wilkinsburg, E. S. Stone, of Turtle Creek, brothers of deceased, and Miss Mame Glass, of Oakmont, a warm friend of deceased, arrived here Monday noon to attend funeral.
