COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Two Men Plead Guilty and Were Sentenced Monday.

The August term of the Court of Common Pleas opened Monday with President Judge, John W. Reed, on the bench. L. S. Shorts, J. D. McKinley and W. H. Hetrick were appointed tipstaves for this week, T. T. Adams, foreman grand jury, and Harry Corbett constable in charge of grand jury.

In his charge to constables Judge Reed said that there are either exemplary landlords in Jefferson county or the constables of the county don't do their duty, as there has not been a landlord returned in thirteen years. Judge instructed the constables to visit the bar-rooms and see if there are any music boxes or games of chance of any kind there, and if so to notify the proprietor to have them removed immediately, and before next term of court to visit the bar-rooms again to see if the music boxes, &c., had been removed and if not to report the same to court.

Judge said if the people who stand around and swear at the court because the laws are not enforced, had backbone enough to prefer charges in the proper form the laws would be enforced.

Jacob Cromer, of Punxsutawney, who was charged with keeping a bawdy-house, plead guilty, and Judge Reed sentenced him to nine months in county jail, $500.00 fine and costs of prosecution.

David Forsythe, of Sugar Hill, plead guilty to the charge of rape, and he was given two years and six months in the penitentiary. Forsythe has a wife and two children.

Last Sunday several families of town drove out into the country to spend the day, taking their dinners with them. In the course of the afternoon, while meandering around, the ladies spied a cornfield not far off, and when the husbands of those ladies returned, after a stroll through the woods, they were somewhat surprised to find roasting ears in their respective buggies. Lizzie McClure's Obituary.

Miss Lizzie McClure died Sunday evening, August 5th, at 8 o'clock at the old homestead near Pancoast, after a long, weary sickness of almost one year. Miss McClure was born in Ireland in the year 1851 and came to this country with her parents when a small child. When 19 years of age she united with the Beechwoods Presbyterian church and was a consistent member up to the time of her death. Although a person of very delicate constitution, she lived a very busy, useful life. Not a life devoted to gaining the things of this world, but devoted to christian duty in many ways for which she seemed peculiarly fitted. In the sick room of her friends she was always a welcome visitor. Many months of her life, and in fact years, she devoted to caring for her friends and relatives when languishing on beds of disease. She not only ministered to their temporal wants but never failed to speak a word in season and to guide others to her Savior, that He "might be their Savior too."

Miss McClure took a very active part in public duties as well, especially in mission and temperance work. She organized and helped organize several W. C. T. U. societies and gave much of her time and limited means to their support. She also took great interest in young people and children. Often when scarcely able to be out of bed she would walk to Pancoast to spend an hour with her little Band of Hope.

During her last sickness she expressed her strong faith in her Savior. Death to her had no terror and she calmly awaited the summons to join the blood washed throng who have gone before. The Lord has called her to be with him throughout eternity. The work which she did has been left in charge of others, and may they take up the work where she left off with the same zeal and earnestness which she manifested throughout her whole life. The funeral took place Tuesday at ten o'clock at her brother's home near Pancoast. The service was conducted by her beloved pastor, Rev. George H. Hill, assisted by Rev. Frampton, of Falls Creek, whom the deceased held in high esteem. The ladies of the DuBois W. C. T. U. attended the funeral in a body. They contributed a beautiful wreath of flowers. Quite a number of the W. C. T. U. ladies of Reynoldsville came to pay their last tributes of respect. The body was laid to rest in the Beechwoods cemetery to await the resurrection, when the trump shall resound and the Lord shall descend bringing our reward with him.

Council Grants Right of Way.

At the regular meeting last Saturday evening the council of the borough granted to E. A. Ferrin, his successors or assigns, the right of way in the center of Main street from the lower end of town to Church street, to build a street passenger railway. The ordinance is still in the hands of the burgess and up to the time of going to press he had taken no action on same. If burgess approves the ordinance it will be published in the Tribune next week.

It is understood that the line that is about to be built from Reynoldsville to Rathmel, Big Soldier, Sykesville and Eleonora is to be extended from Eleonora direct to Big Run provided proper rights of way are secured and the proposition meets with sufficient encouragement from the citizens of Big Run and Henderson township.—Big Run Tribune Aug. 9.

Expired Thursday Afternoon—Was One of Our Oldest Citizens.

At 1.50 Thursday afternoon, August 9th, Isaac Cochran peacefully closed his eyes in death. The old gentleman had been in poor health 29 years, but the immediate cause of his death was heart failure. Deceased was born on a farm in Indiana county, Pa., one-half mile from Davidsville, August 30, 1812, making him almost 88 years old when his heart ceased its work. June 7, 1849, he was married to Sarah A. Yohe at the home of her father, Adam Yohe, in Paradise Settlement. In 1853, almost a half century ago, Mr. Cochran moved to this vicinity, then a vast wilderness, and has resided hereabouts ever since. Unto Mr. and Mrs. Cochran eight children were born, four sons and four daughters, who are all grown up, and this is the first time the Grim Reaper has invaded the family circle, removing therefrom the head of the family.

Cochran and Mrs. Elizabeth Robb, of this place, Mrs. Jennie Creighton, of Youngstown, Ohio, Mrs. Emma B. Young, of St. Marys, Ohio, Mrs. Annie Marbel, of Coudersport, Pa., and Charles K. Isaac Cochran was a very industrious man until his health failed. He was a good citizen. His politics was Democratic, but he never took an active part in political matters. Mr. Cochran was a stationary engineer, which was quite an accomplishment in the early days.
