A Fireman's Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite, and was all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters and, after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run-down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by H. Alex. Stokes, druggist. Price 50 cents.

There was a poor boy about 12 years of age, being chased away from his home on the Worthleberry mountain, according to his own story, struck our town some time last week and the coldest night of the season (Friday) slept in Henry Shaffer's stable. The boy got his meals from friends of the poor during Saturday. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sykes, with their parental care for the poor, took the boy into their home to keep him over Sunday. The proper authorities should take charge of the boy and see that he is taken care of and given proper schooling.

The peaceful slumbers of our well known citizen, Wm. H. Reber, were disturbed one night last week by an uncertain noise about his home which he mistook for robbers. He waited patiently for the break of day and then went out to look around and found unknown tracks about his door. He immediately goes over to his near neighbor, Blair, knowing that he had some experience with wild animals which would now be of use to friends. They, with others, started in hot pursuit of the intruders, following the coon track till about noon, where he (the coon) took refuge in a brush heap and on going around the brush pile, lo and behold they discovered tracks of some Thomas cat. Careworn and in despair they thought they had best return home. Some one of the party on the way home thought it might have been a possum track.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration, or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale at H. Alex. Stokes's drug store.
