A new postoffice ruling has just gone into effect imposing a fine of $100 or one year's imprisonment for anyone who takes mail not belonging to them from the office and fail to return it immediately. This applies to papers as well as letters. James W. Gillespie, manager of the Bing-Stoke Company department store, has moved his family from Allegheny City to Reynoldsville. Mrs. Gillespie arrived here Saturday. They will live in the house that was formerly occupied by Misses Belle, Lib and Lois Robinson. The "conundrum tea" that was to have been given in Bell's Hall Friday evening of this week by the Woman's Relief Corps, has been postponed until two weeks from Friday night, April 12th, on account of the death of one of the W. R. C. members, Mrs. R. W. Kuntz. Miss Kate M. Scott of Brookville is now in receipt of a pension of $12 per month from general government, on account of services rendered as nurse during the civil war. We believe it was bestowed by a special act of congress passed at the late session.—Brookville Democrat. Mrs. Mary S. Bacon, of Des Moines City, Iowa, and Mrs. Lovilla Rice, of Wyota, Iowa, sisters of L. M. Scott, arrived in town last Friday. They will visit in this section several months. They went to Sykesville Saturday to see their father, whom Mrs. Bacon had not seen for 42 years. Sara Belle Mohney, an elocutionist who is highly spoken of by those who have heard her, was to have given an entertainment in Salvation Army hall Friday evening, but the attendance was so slim that Miss Mohney decided not to give the entertainment. The entertainment was not advertised as thoroughly as it should have been. Miss Nichols rendered her selections with such sweetness, blended with artistic effect as to completely fascinate her audience from the start. She possesses talent of superior order as an elocutionist, which she has so cultivated that she will rank with the most famous professionals.—Charlottesville, Va. Jeffersonian. At the M. E. church Monday, April 8, under auspices of High School for benefit of commencement and piano fund. The Cook & Graham saw mills in this place were started up last week for what promises to be the biggest season's sawing in the history of the firm. The proprietors count on the output of the mills for this season being 20,000,000 feet, of which amount they have 14,000,000 feet now in the stream, which includes the 4,000,000 feet bought from W. A. Simpson last week. If a competent crew can be secured the mills will be run night and day.—Brookville Republican. The oyster supper and entertainment in Bell's hall Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the K. of P., was well attended. The entertainment consisted of readings and impersonations by Miss Eva L. Dunning, of Columbus, Ohio, duets, and quartette singing by John Trudgen, John Reddick, Lizzie Northey, Flora Northey and Mary J. Trudgen. James Spry was organist. After the entertainment was over, oysters, sandwiches and coffee were served in the banquet hall in rear of lodge room. Twenty-five cents paid for entertainment and oyster supper.

Seventeen Millions This Year. The Hopkins mill has begun the season's sawing and will saw seventeen million feet this year. This will be the largest season's work ever done at this mill. Ram's Horn Editor Coming. Elijah P. Brown, editor and founder of the Ram's Horn, will lecture in the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening, April 11th. Those noted, pithy, spicy sayings quoted by every paper are by this wonderful man. More about him next week. To Remain Two Years Longer. At a meeting of the West Reynoldsville school board one night last week, the action of the school board last year, when Prof. A. J. Postlethwait was elected principal for one year, was reconsidered, and the election was made for a term of three years at a salary of $65.00 per month. Petitioned for Better Service. A petition, signed by about one hundred business men of this place, has been presented to the B. R. & P. Ry. Co. for a better passenger service between Reynoldsville and Falls Creek. A morning train out of here and an evening train in would be about what the petitioners desire and what the town should have. Local Union Organized. The officials of Local Union No. 542, U. M. W. of A., of Reynoldsville, organized a Local Union at Soldier one night last week. The new Union starts out with a membership of 250. Seventy-five new members were obligated the night the Union was organized and 175 members were transferred from Reynoldsville Union. The new Union has not been numbered yet. Lost His Eyesight. Thomas Hutchison, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Winslow township, lost his eyesight a few days ago. The doctors held a consultation and pronounced it the result of a hemorrhage of the eyes. Mr. Hutchison, who is now about three score and ten, moved from Philadelphia to the neighborhood of Pancoast, where he now resides, in 1847, some fifty-four years ago. Dinner Party. The members of the Presbyterian Literary Society held their first annual dinner party at the home of Miss Inez Brown, on Grant street, last Thursday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and pink flowers. Five dozen pink and white—society colors—carnations were offered as a prize in a guessing game, and Miss Mayme Sutter won the prize. According to the report given a representative of THE STAR by a lady member of the Society, this was about the finest dinner party ever given in our town. Started for British Columbia. August Baldauf and John Lewis, of this place, and a dozen men from Punxsutawney and other places, started at noon yesterday for Michel, British Columbia, where Mr. Baldauf has the contract to build 400 coke ovens for the Crows Nest Coal Co. Limited. Mr. Baldauf took a crew of men with him to British Columbia last year and built 302 coke ovens for this same company. This will be an all summer's job. Mr. Baldauf is an expert at building coke ovens. In order to keep posted on home matters while in British Columbia, Mr. Baldauf had his name added to THE STAR subscription list. New Bridge Ordered. L. P. McCleery and V. R. Holman, supervisors of Winslow township, who were in Pittsburg and Altoona last week to purchase a bridge to span the big railroad cut near silk mill at this place, bought a steel bridge from the American Bridge Company of Pittsburgh. The bridge will be 90 feet long. It will be put up as soon as possible. A representative of the bridge company was here Monday and took the exact measurement for the new bridge. If the bill passed by the Senate last week, which we mention editorially this week, becomes a law, it will put this bridge, and all other bridges in the county over 40 feet long, into the hands of the county commissioners, to be paid for out of the county funds. Store and Postoffice Destroyed. Early last Wednesday morning the postoffice and only store at Panic were totally destroyed by fire. When C. H. Smith, the postmaster and proprietor of the store, discovered the fire it had such a good start that it was impossible to save anything out of the office or store. There is little doubt but that the store had been robbed and was then set on fire by the robbers. When Mr. Smith discovered the fire and ran to front of store he found an ax out of his own woodshed lying on the store porch, which had been used by some person to pry open the front shutters. Lead pencils and other small articles out of the store were found some distance from the store in the morning. Mr. Smith claims to have had $3,000 worth of goods in the store, and he only carried $1,500 insurance. The building, which was valued at $1,000, and was not insured, was owned by Abess & Ross. It was only by hard and heroic work of a few citizens of Panic that some of the dwelling houses nearby were not burned. Some of the houses were badly scorched.

Entertainment Friday Evening. The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will give a public entertainment at the church on Friday evening, March 29th, beginning at 7.30, for the purpose of adding to the fund which they are gathering for the repair of their house of worship. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The following is the program: Chorus—Choir. Invocation—Rev. A. J. Meek. Male Quartette—Selected Story—"A Batch of Bread and a Dish of Pudding"—Miss Minnie Whitmore Solo—"The Plains of Peace"—Miss Florence Stone Reading—"Forest Hymn"—Miss Lucile Mitchell Sextette—"Down By the Dreamy Seaside"—Lillian Shore. Mrs. Miles Walsh Dead. Mrs. Miles Walsh died at her home at Hawthorne, Pa., Sunday evening, March 24th, 1901, at seven o'clock, from heart trouble, superinduced by an attack of grip. Remains were brought to the home of Thomas C. McEnteer, brother-in-law of deceased, at noon yesterday. The body will be taken to the Catholic church at 9.00 a. m. to-day and High Mass will be said by Father Driscoll, after which interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery. Mrs. Walsh, whose maiden name was Kate Burke, daughter of William Burke, was well known here, having spent many years of her life at this place. We were well acquainted with the deceased and can say she was an excellent woman with a sweet disposition. The deceased was born in England November 6th, 1859; came to America with her parents in 1872; almost 30 years ago moved to Reynoldsville; was married to Miles Walsh May 20th, 1890; was the mother of seven children, six of whom, with the father, survive her. Twentieth Century Movement. The Twentieth Century forward movement in the Methodist Episcopal church has made great advancement in the year and a half since the bishops of the church raised the cry, "Twenty millions of dollars and two millions of souls." This great work was to be accomplished before Jan. 1, 1902. Rev. E. M. Mills, D. D., secretary of this movement, will visit this section, speaking in Ridgway Monday evening, April 1st, Brookville afternoon and evening April 2nd, and at Clarion the evening of April 3rd. Dr. Mills is one of the strong men of Methodism and a cordial invitation is extended to anyone to attend one or more of these mass meetings. "Arriving." Tons of merchandise at the stations for us. Unforeseen delays prevents us from opening our doors for business this week. The contractor, Mr. Evans, with his force of carpenters, shelf and counter builders, plumbers and painters will finish this week. We will positively open early next week in our new block, Main and Fifth streets, the only department store in the county, where there's everything that people wear and most things that people buy. It will surely pay you to wait until this modern 20th century store opens its doors. BING-STOKE CO. Temperance Meeting. The temperance address delivered by Rev. J. C. McEnteer in Salvation Army Hall at the Temperance meeting Monday evening was a most emphatic declaration of principle on that question and should have been heard by every citizen of our town. COMMITTEE. Special Meeting of W. R. C. A special meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Edith Phillipi, at 7.30 this evening to arrange for the funeral of Mrs. R. W. Kuntz, which takes place to-morrow afternoon. When Cleaning House Remember Hall has a big line of carpets, lace curtains, curtain poles, extension rods and rugs; also dishes, furniture, stoves and cooking utensils, in fact anything needed to furnish a house. Having just returned from the East with a full line of novelties in millinery, we will have an Easter show of artistic millinery April 4th, 5th and 6th. FLO BEST, Main st., Reynoldsville. KILLED AT RAILROAD CROSSING! Mrs. R. W. Kunz Met a Horrible Death at the Main Street Crossing of the R. & F. C. Ry Monday Night—Funeral in Presbyterian Church To-morrow Afternoon. Mrs. Olevia Kunz, wife of R. W. Kunz, bookkeeper for the Star Glass Company, was killed at the Main street crossing of the Reynoldsville & Falls Creek R'y about 8.20 Monday evening by stepping on the track in front of an approaching coal train. Engineer John D. Patterson saw the woman and gave the alarm whistle, but could not stop the heavy train in time to prevent the horrible accident. Mrs. Kunz never spoke nor regained consciousness after the engine struck her. Some of the trainmen were beside her in a minute or two after the accident occurred. Mrs. Kunz was carried to Ida Reynolds' residence, on Main street, where she and her husband had rented rooms. She expired just as they carried her into the house. Mr. Kunz and daughter knew nothing of the accident until Mrs. Kunz was carried into the house, and their agony was terrible. It can only be partially realized by those who have experienced similar sorrows. Mrs. Kunz's left leg was crushed from foot to hip, right leg bruised considerably, left side injured internally and there was a small cut on top of her head. Mrs. Olevia Magruder, of Buffalo, N. Y., only child of Mr. and Mrs. Kunz, came here Saturday to visit a few days with her parents, and Monday evening she received a telegram that her home had been burned. The daughter was a stranger in town, Mr. Kunz was not feeling well and Mrs. Kunz started to the Western Union telegraph office to send a message to Mr. Magruder for her daughter and it was while on her way to the telegraph office that she was run down by the iron monster. On account of the speed of trains and the lack of proper light at this point, makes it a very dangerous crossing, but an engine makes considerable noise hauling a train of coal northbound and Mrs. Kunz was not hard of hearing, therefore, about the only reason that can be given for the accident was that she was thinking of the message she was to send and of her daughter's loss. Mrs. Kunz was born in Switzerland 62 years ago. She was married to R. W. Kunz in 1868. Mr. and Mrs. Kunz moved to Reynoldsville one year ago last January. She had been an active worker in the Woman's Relief Corps for years. The first of this year she had her membership transferred from the Bradford Corps to the Reynoldsville Corps, and it is claimed that she did more work in the Corps during her short membership here than many of its members have done for years. Those who were well acquainted with Mrs. Kunz called her a saint, because her life was so pure and sweet at all times—a consistent christian life. She was a Lutheran by profession but attended the Presbyterian church in this place with her husband. It can truly be said of her that she was a dutiful and devoted wife and loving mother. To get acquainted with the deceased was to love her. Funeral services will be held in Presbyterian church at 2.00 p. m. Thursday, March 28th. The G. A. R. Post, of which Mr. Kunz is a member, Woman's Relief Corps and the glassworkers organization, will attend the funeral in a body. A short funeral service will be conducted by Rev. W. Frank Reber, pastor of the Presbyterian church, after which the W. R. C. funeral ceremony will be conducted by the members of the Corps. Interment will be made in Beulah cemetery. Resolutions. WHEREAS, Some persons or persons have circulated a list of names of business people in the city of Reynoldsville asking that the same shall be boycotted, and saying that the silk workers union authorized the same. Therefore, be it Resolved, That the silk workers union declare the above to be untrue, as the same was never authorized by the silk workers union. Be it further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in our town papers and that a copy be placed on the minutes. COMMITTEE. Notice to Persons Pasturing Cows. I hereby give notice to all persons pasturing their cows on lands of this company to come and make arrangements for this year. After April 1st all cows not arranged for will be taken up for trespassing. Central Land & Mining Co. Per J. J. Sutter. For Sale—A team of draft horses; 7 years old; black. Inquire of Mrs. Noah Strauss, Paradise. The noblest line of Easter neckwear in the county at Millirens. I have some exceptionally good values in silver spoons, knives and forks. Come and see. C. F.
