A Little of Everything.
Next Sunday is Easter. Now for April showers. Were you fooled Monday? Bazar Friday and Saturday. April 15 trout season opens. Heavy snow storm this morning. This is the milliners' harvest week. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" April 10 and 11. The hens are busy preparing for Easter. The April term of court begins next Monday. A number of new houses will be built in Reynoldsville this year. J. R. Milliren is working for Robinson & Mundorf, grocery men. Bazar in opera house block Friday evening and all day Saturday. Wm. Barclay is janitor and all-around-man for Bing-Stoke Co. Opium sets for sale in the grocery stores is an indication that spring has arrived. The West Reynoldsville schools will observe Friday as a holiday by taking a day's vacation. Wm. Booker was unable to work during the past week on account of spraining his left wrist. The Volunter office has been moved from the Woodward building, Main street, to Fifth street. Harry Copping moved into the De-Haven house Monday. He purchased the property recently. The flour and feed mill on Railroad street started Saturday and ground one hundred bushels of chop. Shiek & Wagner will give cut flowers to those who visit their store Saturday evening, from 7.00 to 9.00. Any number of chickens, from 20 to 300, wanted at Hotel McConnell. Write or call, giving price per pound. Misses Ethel Hopburn, Anna Davis and Mamie Plyler are clerking in the Bing-Stoke Co. department store. The omnidrum supper that was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Kunz, will be held Friday, April 12. Tickets for the elocutionary entertainment in M. E. church next Monday evening will be on sale at Stoke's drug store at 8.00 a. m. Saturday. The Lord's Supper will be observed at the Baptist church on Sunday morning next, at which time the pastor, Dr. Meek, will preach an Easter sermon.

Union Prayer Meeting.
The young people's societies of the Presbyterian, Baptist and M. E. churches will hold a union prayer meeting in the lecture room of the M. E. church at six o'clock Easter morning. A large attendance is expected.

It Was a Success.
The Ladies' Aid gathering of the dime books and dolls at the Baptist church on Friday evening was a grand success. The auditorium was filled to overflowing and the lecture room was opened for the accommodation of the people. A splendid literary and musical program was rendered. The proceeds amounted to $78.30. The ladies of the Aid Society appreciate the kindness of the public.

Pastor Resigned.
Last Sunday Rev. G. Johannes, who has been working in the Reynoldsville Lutheran charge as missionary for a year, tendered his resignation to accept the call of a Lutheran church at Martins Ferry, Ohio, near Wheeling, W. Va. Rev. Johannes expects to move his household goods and family about the 14th of this month. His farewell sermon to the Reynoldsville Lutheran church will be delivered on the Sunday after Easter at 7.30 p. m.

Will Rebuild Walls by Day Work.
On account of not knowing until the work is started just how much of the old school house will have to be torn down and rebuilt, the school board has decided to rebuild the walls by the day, and after the walls are finished it is likely a contract will be let to finish the building. James V. Young will superintend the rebuilding of the walls. Material has been ordered and men will soon be put to work.

The Third Principal.
Wayde Breakey, who taught the Phillippi school, which closed last Friday, took charge of the Prescottville schools Monday morning of this week to finish out the term, which closes in five weeks. Mr. Breakey is the third principal for the Prescottville schools during the present term. John S. Ross, the first principal, was compelled to resign on account of his eyesight, and Worden Howard, second principal, resigned to accept a steady position in another line of work.

Death From Strangulation.
"Topsy," a little black horse, one of the best Postmaster A. M. Woodward had in his livery stable, met an untimely death Tuesday night of last week by strangulation. The horse was put into a box stall in a rented barn near the livery stable and there was a small door in the stall that had been used at one time to put feed in for a cross horse. "Topsy" pushed the door open, got her head out and in trying to draw her head in again the door caught her back of the head and the harder the horse pulled the tighter the door closed on its neck. In the morning the animal was dead.

Easter Bazar.
The Helping Hand society of the M. E. church will hold an Easter bazar and ice cream festival in the large store room in opera house block Friday evening and Saturday of this week. There will be a sale of provisions on Saturday afternoon, beginning at two o'clock. Ice cream and cake will be served each evening. All persons who have promised to furnish articles for the bazar are requested to send the articles to the store room on Friday morning or afternoon, and all provisions should be sent in Saturday forenoon. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend the bazar.

Killed by a Train.
W. L. Mendenhall, father of Mrs. E. R. Covert and brother-in-law of Charles E. Jones, of this place, was killed at Swiswale, near Pittsburg, Tuesday of last week. Mr. Mendenhall stepped off an accommodation train and was struck by an express train. He was a carpenter and contractor and formerly resided at Roseville, near Brookville, where his remains were brought Friday for interment. Mr. Mendenhall was about 55 years old. He is survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Covert and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones attended the funeral.

Died at Adrian Hospital.
Martin Afton, who resided with his son, George Afton, near Brookville, died at the Adrian Hospital early last Wednesday morning. Mr. Afton had an operation performed on his right leg for cancer two weeks before he died and was recovering nicely from the operation when death resulted from heart trouble. His body was brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. D. Rupert, in this place Thursday forenoon and Friday morning was taken to Brookville where funeral services were held in Catholic cemetery. Mr. Afton was born in Germany April 1, 1821. He came to America about half a century ago. His wife died eight years ago. The deceased is survived by four sons and three daughters.

Services at the Churches.
There will be services at the Lutheran churches of Reynoldsville during Holy Week. At Chestnut Grove church next Thursday at 7.30 p. m. At Reynoldsville on Good Friday at 10.30 a. m. in German. In English at 7.30 p. m. No services next Sunday.

Uncle Tom's Cabin by Home Talent.
A stock company in Pittsburg has just put on "Uncle Tom's Cabin" while a New York star has expended twenty-five thousand dollars on a production of the same old stand-by. Well, they can't get ahead of our town. Not that that amount of money has been expended for its production, but on Wednesday and Thursday, April 10 and 11, local talent intends to let the public know what can be done at home with "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Clem Flynn as "Uncle Tom" is sure to please, as he always does, whatever role he assumes. Albert Geisler as LeGree will be such a villain that he will get the greatest compliment a villain can produce—hate and hisses. Lloyd Gourley as George Harris depicts the character to life, and everybody who knows Winfield Sterley will expect to see just what they will see, a Gumption Cute that is as good as the name. Markes personified by Will Ward, so opposite to Cute in every way, will be a very attractive part and each will enhance the other. Miss Mary Burge will make an ideal Eliza, while Miss Zoe Woodward as Topsy will be all that imp of mischief should be, and will keep the audience in a roar of laughter. As sweet a little Eva as ever appeared on any stage will be little Zelma Shaffer, and tears will fall at her death as readily as laughter follows Topsy. Miss Minnie Kelley, Charley Gons, Will Blanchard and Margaret Gorsline in their various roles fill their places as they should be filled. The price of admission is 25 and 35 cents. F. P. Adelsperger will be a very important character in the opera house the night of the play, as he will insure good order.

Her Style is Faultless.
In her readings Miss Caroline B. Nichols made herself popular. Her style was faultless and her delineations of the many different characters was a treat. She handled her subjects in a most efficient manner, never appearing to overdo her efforts in her desire to be correct in delivery. Accomplished to a high degree in her art, she certainly showed talent that made her appear to a great and brilliant advantage.—East Syracuse News. At the M. E. church Monday evening, April 8th, for benefit of high school commencement and piano fund. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store Saturday at 8.00 a. m. No extra charge for reserved seats.

Temperance Meeting.
There will be a temperance meeting in Salvation Army hall Monday evening, April 8th, for the purpose of organizing a permanent temperance club that will have for its aim and purpose the suppression of intemperance in our town and surroundings. All ministers and young people's societies, W. C. T. U. and temperance organizations now in force are most cordially invited to attend and give their aid and influence in this organization. Good music and speaking will be provided.

Brown's Aphorisms.
"God hates a short yardstick."
"Worry is more apt to kill than small pox."
"The more dogs a man keeps the less able he is to take a newspaper."
"A lie never stops to put on its hat."
"The man who lives only for himself couldn't be in any smaller business."
Brown lectures in the M. E. church April 11. Subject, "The Marks of a Prince." Admission 25c.

In Memoriam.
Our friend and sister, Mrs. R. W. Kunz, has gone home before us. Our hearts are heavy with grief, but the memory of her life will remain with us and be an inspiration to those who remain.
We will also remember her unselfish devotion to the Woman's Relief Corps, and strive to emulate her example in caring for the Veteran and his dependent ones.
To the husband and daughter we extend sincere sympathy.

He joined the M. E. church early in life and was a faithful and devout christian. He is survived by five sons and one daughter, his wife and four children having preceded him into the Eternal Land. Mrs. Mary A. Barry, of West Reynoldsville, is a sister of deceased.

Decided Improvement.
Messrs. Will W. Wiley and Grier O. Sweltzer, proprietors of Hotel Imperial, the three-story buff-colored brick hotel on the corner of Main and Fifth streets, are feeling justly proud of the appearance of the interior of their hotel, which looks better now than it did when first new. Fresh paint on woodwork, new rich paper on walls and a pretty pattern of linoleum on the floor has made quite a transformation in the appearance of the office. The halls, dining room, parlor and several other rooms have also received the attention of the paper-hangers and painters, making a decided improvement.

Meeting To-Night.

Miss Mary Burge will make an ideal Eliza, while Miss Zoe Woodward as Topsy will be all that imp of mischief should be, and will keep the audience in a roar of laughter. As sweet a little Eva as ever appeared on any stage will be little Zelma Shaffer, and tears will fall at her death as readily as laughter follows Topsy. Miss Minnie Kelley, Charley Gons, Will Blanchard and Margaret Gorsline in their various roles fill their places as they should be filled. The price of admission is 25 and 35 cents. F. P. Adelsperger will be a very important character in the opera house the night of the play, as he will insure good order.

Her Style is Faultless.
In her readings Miss Caroline B. Nichols made herself popular. Her style was faultless and her delineations of the many different characters was a treat. She handled her subjects in a most efficient manner, never appearing to overdo her efforts in her desire to be correct in delivery. Accomplished to a high degree in her art, she certainly showed talent that made her appear to a great and brilliant advantage.—East Syracuse News. At the M. E. church Monday evening, April 8th, for benefit of high school commencement and piano fund. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store Saturday at 8.00 a. m. No extra charge for reserved seats.

Temperance Meeting.
There will be a temperance meeting in Salvation Army hall Monday evening, April 8th, for the purpose of organizing a permanent temperance club that will have for its aim and purpose the suppression of intemperance in our town and surroundings. All ministers and young people's societies, W. C. T. U. and temperance organizations now in force are most cordially invited to attend and give their aid and influence in this organization. Good music and speaking will be provided.

Brown's Aphorisms.
"God hates a short yardstick."
"Worry is more apt to kill than small pox."
"The more dogs a man keeps the less able he is to take a newspaper."
"A lie never stops to put on its hat."
"The man who lives only for himself couldn't be in any smaller business."
Brown lectures in the M. E. church April 11. Subject, "The Marks of a Prince." Admission 25c.

In Memoriam.
Our friend and sister, Mrs. R. W. Kunz, has gone home before us. Our hearts are heavy with grief, but the memory of her life will remain with us and be an inspiration to those who remain.
We will also remember her unselfish devotion to the Woman's Relief Corps, and strive to emulate her example in caring for the Veteran and his dependent ones.
To the husband and daughter we extend sincere sympathy.
