Sykesville. The memorial services held in the Baptist church last Sunday for Elizaboth McPherson was largely attended. Even many strangers took part in the services. A letter of condolence from Misses Effle and Ruth Sykes, who are now attending Grove City College, was read by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Palmer. An excellent feature of the memorial was a letter from the Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school of Troutville, of which Sunday school the deceased had been a member at one time. The letter was read by S. G. Kuntz. We give it in full, as follows, except the resolutions: "During our most prosperous periods of life there some time come clouds of adversity which for the time being hides from our sight the bright orb of day. Such an occasion has arisen and plunged a happy family into grief, for from their midst has been removed one who was just standing on the verge of a happy life. One who was just emerging from the joyous spring into the tranquil summer of life. One whose life was given for the welfare and happiness of others. Death seems cruel and relentless as he touches here and there the rarest flowers with his seemingly cold and ley fingers, but judge him not harshly dear parents, for: There is a reaper whose name is Death, And with his sickle keen He reaps the bearded grain at a breath, And the flowers that grow between. Shall I have mought that is fair? saith he : Have naught but the bearded grain? Though the breath of those flowers is swee

I will give them all back again. He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes, The kissed their drouping leaves; It was for the Lord of Paradise He bound them in his sheaves.

My Lord has need of those flowerets gay, The reaper said and smiled: Dear tokens of the earth are they, When he was mee a child.

They shall all bloom in fields of light, Transplanted by my care: And satus upon their garments white These sacred blossoms wear. And mother gave in tears and pain The ilowers she most did love: She knew she should find them all again In the fields of light above, Oh, not in cruelty, not in wrath, The reaper came that day: 'Twas an angel visited the green earth And took the flower away.

Miss Lizzie McPherson had for a number of years lived in our midst and was a member of our Sabbath school. She at all times proved herself a worthy young lady of inestimable character, and carried sunshine into the hearts of all those whose good fortune brought them in contact with her life. In Sabbath school she was an earnest and devoted member, performing every duty with a true Christian spirit and an earnestness which showed her love for the Master. But it is no more our lot to be greeted by her kindly smile and to be bathed in the sunshine of her genial presence, for death has knocked gently at the portals of her soul and she answered his summons with loving forbearance and Christian fortitude, and trimming the pinions of her soul for its long flight into the infinite, she turned

Some of the stores in this place have been keeping open on Sundays and selling goods to any person that wanted to buy. Constable John Null was notified of this Sunday violation of the law, and he was requested to notify the store keepers to keep their places of business closed on Sunday. Constable Null served notices on all the store keepers in town last week, not that they all violate the law, but he did it so that he would not miss any and that no one could say they had not been notified, as Mr. Null intends enforcing the law,

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration, or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need All the good that is in one does not a few does of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you For sale at H. Alex Stoke's drug store. Get Green's Prize Almanac.
