Elmer Woodward, who has been an assistant in the Reynoldsville postoffice for two years, has resigned that position and will go to DuBois this week to accept a position in the new railroad shops at that place. The close confinement in the office does not agree with Elmer's health and that is his reason for quitting the office. Elmer is a good assistant and is a pleasant young man. His many friends here will be sorry to see him leave.

Brookville Has a Boom.

A "boom" has struck Brookville sure enough and henceforth people cannot call the county seat a "dead" town. A large glass plant, a $45,000 furniture factory and 200 dwelling houses are already booked for that town this summer. There is enough capital in Brookville to make it the best town in the section—excepting Reynoldsville, of course.

New Heating System.

The school board of this borough has decided on the Well's Warming, Ventilating and Heating Mechanical System for the public school building. It is claimed that this is the best system in use to-day. Johannes, who has been pastor of the Reynoldsville Lutheran church for a year, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday and left here Monday morning for Martins Ferry, Ohio, where he has accepted a call. Stroke of Paralysis.

He did not know when called Tuesday morning and his mother went to his room and found him in the paralyzed condition.

Transferred to Oil City Parish.

Father Edward M. Driscoll, who has been assisting Father Brady in the Catholic parish at this place almost two years, has been transferred to the Oil City parish, where he will assist Father Sheridan. Father Driscoll, whom we have known since his boyhood days, is a fine young man. He has succeeded in getting an excellent education and is well prepared to perform the work he has chosen. He made many warm friends during his work in the parish at this place and his old and new friends are sorry to have him removed. He will go to Oil City this week. It is not known yet who will be appointed to assist Father Brady, but some one will likely be appointed this week.

Another Precinct Wanted.

There are now three voting precincts in Winslow township, but the voters in the neighborhood of Sykesville, who have to come to Reynoldsville or go to Rathmel to vote, think they are entitled to a precinct nearer home and a petition was presented to the county court last week asking for a voting place at Sykesville. This would make four precincts in the township. Instead of granting the additional precinct, Judge Reed appointed County Surveyor James B. Caldwell, of Brookville, Ex-Sheriff Edward C. Burns and Dr. J. W. Faust, of Reynoldsville, as assessors to make a new and complete division of the entire township, so as to make the polling places as convenient as possible for all the voters of the township.

House Entered But Not Robbed.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meek, who spent last Friday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Williams in West Reynoldsville, were completely surprised upon their return home at 10:00 p. m. to find that the parsonage had been entered, but not robbed. Sentinels had been stationed to keep a lookout for the Rev. and his wife and when they approached the house all was quiet, but when the door was opened the pastor and his wife were greeted by the smiling faces of nearly one hundred of their members and friends. The evening had been passed pleasantly in conversation and music. At 10:30 refreshments were served, after which all went to their homes, but not without leaving many expressions of kind regards. The pastor's larder was well filled with the substantial of life, and also a neat sum of money was presented.

Committed Suicide.

Emery Spare, of Heathville, committed suicide near New Bethlehem Monday morning by shooting himself. Spare was 24 years old and was not married. Cause for taking his own life is not known. He and another young man got on the early train at Heathville Monday morning and went to New Bethlehem where they got off and started to walk out into the country. About a mile out from New Bethlehem Spare's companion, who was walking ahead, heard the crack of a revolver and before he could look around there was another bang and Spare fell to the ground dead. Spare worked at the West Reynoldsville tannery several months ago and while here he joined the P. O. S. of A. Camp at this place. A special meeting of the Camp was held last evening and the following members were appointed to attend the funeral at Heathville to-day: J. H. Hughes, Charles Deter, Frank Stauffer, Ralph Carr, Clarence Schugars, Joe L. Cable and Frank R. Best.

CLARION PRESBYTERY.

Forty-five Pastors and Delegates Present.—Rev. J. L. Proudfit Elected Moderator.

The semi-annual meeting of the Clarion Presbytery is being held in the Presbyterian church at this place this week. The first session was held yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance at the evening session. There are forty-five pastors and delegates present. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, of New Bethlehem, was elected moderator. There will be three sessions today. Morning session will begin at 9:00 a. m. The first half hour will be spent in a devotional service led by Rev. H. T. Chisholm. The afternoon session will open at 2:00 and close at 5:00. The evening service will begin at 7:30 and be of a popular character. Rev. James Conway, D. D., will preside. Addresses will be made on the following topics: Rev. D. E. Craighead will speak on "The Mid-Week Meeting," and Rev. S. A. Cornelius on "The Land of the Bible." A full report of this meeting of Presbytery will be published in THE STAR next week.

Keep Your Hands Off.

We have been requested by the persons who have charge of the public fountain in this borough not to meddle with the gas lights on top of fountain—neither to put on the lights nor shut them off. The lights are so arranged that the chain must be pulled carefully or the mantles will break. Some person jerked the chain one evening last week and broke all the mantles—four of them. This is not the first time this has been done and it is expensive to buy new mantles. Some person will get in trouble if the lights are meddled with any more.

"Joshua Simpkins."

"Joshua Simpkins," a sensational rural comedy drama, was played at the Reynolds opera house last Friday evening to a full house. The play contains an interesting and intelligible plot, but it was not allowed to interfere with the fun, which was in abundance. During the run of the play some startling scenes and situations were seen, principal of which was the country saw-mill in the third act, shown in complete operation, cutting real timber. The saw used was a genuine article. An excellent band and fine orchestra accompanied this attraction. The company is sure of a crowded house if it comes this way again.

Temperance Organization.

At a meeting held in Centennial hall the first of last week a permanent temperance organization was formed and the following officers were elected: President, Rev. A. J. Meek; Vice-Presidents, W. B. Rules and by-laws for the regulation of this organization will be submitted by the officers for adoption at the next regular meeting, Friday evening, April 19th, in the Centennial hall. Ram's Horn Man Has Small-pox.

Elijah P. Brown, editor of the Ram's Horn, was to have lectured in the M. E. church at this place last Thursday evening and a fair-sized audience assembled at the church to hear him, but Mr. Brown failed to appear. Rev. Perry A. Reno, who was managing the engagement at this place, received no notice from Brown that he would not be here and there was no explanation to give to the disappointed audience. The admission fee was refunded to the people at the door. Rev. Reno wrote to Mr. Brown Friday asking for an explanation of the disappointment and on Monday Rev. Reno received the following: INDIANAPOLIS, IND., April 13, 1901. REV. P. A. RENO. DEAR BRO.—Years of yesterday just received. I am very sorry to hear of your disappointment. I wrote you ten days ago—dictating by telephone—that I was down with small-pox and under quarantine. I hope to be able to arrange a new date with you as soon as I can be done. Yours Sincerely, ELIJAH P. BROWN.

Geo. W. Warnick Appointed.

We stated last week that Frank P. Adelsperger, constable in this borough, had tendered his resignation to the court. Judge Reed accepted the resignation and appointed George W. Warnick to serve as constable of Reynoldsville borough until next February election, when a constable will be elected. Mr. Warnick went to Brookville Saturday and took the oath of office. Frank P. Adelsperger, who served as constable in this borough sixteen years, was a good official. He is not a large man but he has "grit" enough for a man twice his size. When Frank had a warrant for a man he never hesitated to serve it on account of the size of the man or his reputation as a "tough." Other work which is more remunerative than the office of constable, and which requires all Mr. Adelsperger's time, is what caused him to resign as constable.
