A heartless girl is apt to develop into a loveless old maid whose only ability is to make others miserable.

Residents of the Ohio valley have harvested another crop of spring flood experiences that they could easily have done without.

If it was not for grieving over the lost opportunities of the past and fearing the result of the future, the present could be spent more pleasantly.

Aguiinaldo talks quite glibly—too much so under the circumstances—about glorious American freedom, but Gen. MacArthur has been wise enough not to allow Aggy to sample American freedom.

Dr. Jones, State Superintendent of Indiana, in an address at an educational meeting in Clarion, Pa., recently, spoke of the importance of having a high school in every district. He said: "Every girl and boy should have the high school to look forward to in their strife for an education. You do not know the blessings of having a broad culture and a broad outlook given to your children and have them right at home. Don't wait for the state to help you, we do it all locally. In Indiana nearly every district has a high school; and if any child does not live near a high school he must be sent to one having a four years course above his common school course. Beside her common schools Indiana has over 1400 high schools with a uniform course of study of four years." He emphasized the fact that it is not necessary to have a town to have a high school, but it is necessary to have a high school in reach of every girl and boy. With a population of 5 to 3 with Indiana, Pennsylvania has but 301 high schools while Indiana has over 1400.

What's in a Name?
 Not everything, but when you are talking about moving picture exhibitions and the name behind it is Lyman H. Howe, it means that they are the best that experience and money can secure—and that is what can be seen at the opera house Monday evening, May 13th.

In 1876 the legislature of Pennsylvania passed "an act for the erection of a poor house and for the support of the poor in the several counties of the Commonwealth," which provided that when a poor house was erected and everything adjusted, that "all moneys remaining in the hands of the overseers, as well as the uncollected taxes levied for the support of the poor in the several districts in said county, shall be paid over to the supervisors of the highways of said county, to be by them added to the road fund and applied as road tax is by law applied." This act did not provide for the disposition of money in boroughs, as there are no supervisors in boroughs and consequently there were no persons qualified to receive the money. In Elk county the overseers refused to pay because there was no person properly qualified to receive the money, and on a rule taken in court to show cause why the money should not be paid the rule was discharged. The present legislature has amended the act of 1876 and added the following: "All moneys remaining in the hands of or subject to the order of the overseers of the poor in any borough in said county, as well as uncollected taxes levied by them for the support of the poor, when collected shall be paid over to the officer authorized to receive the borough taxes of said borough, to be by him added to the borough fund and applied as the borough tax of said borough in said county is by law applied."

Letter to W. H. Moore,
 Reynoldsville, Pa.

Dear Sir: You sell a good many things by the gallon. Being a decent man, you give full measure.

You know what we mean: you know that short weight and short measure are common among—well, we hope there are no short measures and weights in your town.

There are, though. Ribbons and laces and trimmings, sold by the "dozen," measure nine or ten yards. There is no complaint, because "They all do it." You have the same complaint in your goods—nearly everything, canned or bottled, cheats in the quantity. Almost nobody gives full weight in a factory-package!

We are one of the almost nobodies. We sell paint, by the gallon, to paint your house; and our gallon is just the same size as yours that you measure vinegar with—231 cubic inches.

Good paint too—Devoe lead and zinc—wears twice as long as old-fashion painter's paint—lead and oil.

You own a house. That's why we are writing to you.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.
 P. S.—H. Alex Stoke sells our paint in your section.
