

"Now Don't Get the Blues."

When a cheerful, brave and light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the blues, it is a sad picture.

It is usually this way: She has been feeling out of sorts for some time, experiencing severe headache and backache; sleeps very poorly and is exceedingly nervous.

Sometimes she is nearly overcome by faintness, dizziness, and palpitation of the heart; then that bearing-down feeling is dreadfully wearing.

Her husband says, "Now, don't get the blues! You will be all right after you have taken the doctor's medicine."

But she does not get all right. She grows worse day by day, until at last she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established.

Her doctor has made a mistake. She loses faith; hope vanishes; then comes the morbid, melancholy, everlasting blues. She should have been told just what the trouble was, but probably she withheld some information from the doctor, who, therefore, is unable to accurately locate her particular illness.

Mrs. Pinkham has relieved thousands of women from just this kind of trouble, and now retains their grateful letters in her library as proof of the great assistance she has rendered them. This same assistance awaits every sick woman in the land.

Mrs. Winifred Allender's Letter.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have received from your wonderful remedies. Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I was a misery to myself and every one around me. I suffered terrible pain in my back, head, and right side, was very nervous, would cry for hours. Menstrues would appear sometimes in two weeks, then again not for three or four months. I was so tired and weak, could not sleep nights, sharp pains would dart through my heart that would almost cause me to fall.

"My mother coaxed me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had no faith in it, but to please her I did so. The first bottle helped me so much that I continued its use. I am now well and weigh more than I ever did in my life."—MRS. WINIFRED ALLENDER, Farmington, Ill.

$5000 REWARD Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—LYDIA E. Fast Growth in Arctic Summer.
Things grow very fast in the short Arctic summer. As soon as the snow melts off in many places the ground is covered with a vine which bears a small berry something like a huckleberry, porwong it is called. It is sour and has a pungent taste, and the Indians leave off work and go porwong hunting, cramming themselves with the berries.

First get two sticks of wood, bamboo is best, of about one-eighth inch in diameter and six and three-quarter inches long. A large-sized cork is essential, at least an inch in diameter, of which cut a section three-eighths of an inch thick, which divide into two equal parts. Burn a one-quarter-inch hole through the center section, with two smaller holes on either side, but not quite through. Follow the same course with the other section, but omit the middle hole. As shown in the illustration, insert the two bamboo sticks in the side holes, gluing them fast, then take a piece of wire, bending it as Fig. 1. Put this through the hole and bend a hook on the lower end of it. Next bend another wire, making a small hook in one end, drive it through the other cork section, from the outside in, and jab the point of the hook into the section so the wire cannot turn. When this is finished bend a

Jubilee of a Famous Gold Field.
Bendigo, perhaps the most famous of Australian gold fields, is preparing to celebrate its jubilee by holding a mining exhibition. It was in October, 1851, that the first nuggets were found by an old shepherd on the spot where Golden square now stands. Since then Bendigo has contributed 17,169,680 ounces to the gold output of the world. The old shepherd was a pugnacious and quarrelsome person, hence he was christened by his comrades "Bendigo," the name of the most renowned English prize fighter of the period.

He thinks he lives, but he's a dead one. No person is really alive whose liver is dead. During the winter most people spend nearly all their time in warm, stuffy houses or offices or workshops. Many don't get as much exercise as they ought, and everybody knows that people gain weight in winter. As a rule it is not weight, but means a lot of fat and useless, rotting matter in the body when it ought to have been driven out. But the liver was overburdened, deadened—stopped work. Then you are, with a dead liver, and right now is the time for resurrection. Wake up the dead. Get all the filth out of your system, and get ready for the summer's trials with clean, clear blood, body, brain free from bile. For this is dangerous and destructive unless used in a gentle persuasive way, and the right plan is to give new strength to the muscular walls of the bowels, and stir up the liver to new life and work with CASCARETS, the great spring cleaner, disinfectant and bowel tonic. Get a 50c box to-day—a whole month's treatment—and see how quickly you will be
