A Little of Everything.

This issue of THE STAR is volume 10 No. 1. Trailing arbutus gatherers were numerous Sunday afternoon. Mrs. May Faxon Stowell, soloist, at M. E. church to-night. Howe's moving pictures at the opera house next Monday night. High school graduating exercises in the M. E. church to-night. The shooting gallery was moved from Reynoldsville to Rathmel Friday. See County Treasurer Gil C. Reitz's notice to tax-payers in this issue of THE STAR. Daniel Nolan will build a fine brick residence on his Main street lot this summer. Thomas L. Mitchell is now a traveling salesman for the Reynoldsville Woolen Co. All the section men on the Low Grade Division of P. R. R. are on a strike for an increase in wages. Rev. D. D. Stahlman will preach in the Reynoldsville Lutheran church one week from next Sunday, May 19th. W. E. Stormer, the butcher, has bought a new delivery wagon. It is a very pretty and convenient wagon. J. J. Sutter, one of our dry goods merchants, had the little finger of his right hand broken one day last week. Tickets for the Lyman H. Howe moving picture entertainment will be on sale at Stoke's Friday morning, May 10th. Michael, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rock DeChurub, of Soldier, died Thursday and was buried in Catholic cemetery Friday. Harry D. Clark, who was proprietor of the restaurant and green grocery near the postoffice, moved his stock to Brookville Monday. The services in the M. E. church next Sunday evening will be under the auspices of the Epworth League—12th anniversary exercises. P. O. Corey, a scrapper at the glass plant, cut his right wrist so badly yesterday on a cylinder that it required two stitches to sew up the wound.

The Star orchestra gave a dance in Frank's park Monday night. Dr. J. D. Moffat preached in the Baptist church Sunday evening. The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the Baptist church Sunday evening. Samuel B. J. Saxton was in Brookville Monday to get his commission as justice of the peace. The auditors' report of the finances of the borough of Reynoldsville for year ending March 4, 1901, will be found in this issue of THE STAR. Read it. Mrs. Perry A. Reno entertained a few young people Monday evening in honor of Miss Caroline Belle Nichols, the eloquent. Refreshments were served. The Presbyterian prayer meeting will begin at 7:30 this evening, a quarter of an hour earlier than usual, on account of the commencement exercises in the M. E. church. The marriage of Miss Minnie C. Kelley, of this place, and Charles A. Ackerman, of Boston, will take place at the residence of J. T. Guthrie, West Reynoldsville, this month. A. D. Siple, who owned a half interest in the meat market near Hotel Imperial, has purchased R. A. Hildebrand's interest and is now proprietor of the market himself. A. E. Dunn, one of our worthy citizens who was in the hardware business at this place a number of years, will open a hardware store at Falls Creek if he can secure a suitable room. Millirens, the clothiers, have their store well arranged in the tent near THE STAR office. They had an are light put up in front of the tent and have two arc lights in the tent. H. Alex Stokes has had a cement walk laid in front of his new stone and brick building on corner of Main and Fifth streets. Mr. Stokes expects to have a cement walk laid along the Fifth street side of building. Two men that had sipped too freely from the cup that intoxicates were in the lock-up over Sunday. One of them paid his fine Monday but the other fellow didn't have the necessary cash to liquidate his fine. The Temperance Union Club will meet in Salvation Army hall on Tuesday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock. All interested in temperance and good order are invited to attend. A good program will be given. Philip Dishart, jr., a glassworker, who was accidentally shot in the head at Kane over four weeks ago, is now at the home of his father, Philip Dishart, sr., on Jackson street. The young man was in the Kane hospital four weeks. He came to Reynoldsville Monday. Scott Cathers, who drives one of George Hughes' delivery wagons, had his nose broken and his face badly cut Friday afternoon. Scott was hauling a load of empty barrels when the wagon was upset near the B. R. & P. station and some of the barrels fell on him. Unless there is a lot up on the fast driving and fast bicycle riding on Main street in the evenings it will be our duty some of these times to chronicle a serious accident. There has been some narrow escapes already. Young girls should not be allowed on the streets after night on bicycles. The examination for teachers' permanent certificates was held in Brookville last Friday. There were only one or two applicants. The examination committee consisted of Prof. J. L. Allison, of Punxsutawney, Prof. G. E. Kramlich, of Brookville, and Prof. A. J. Postlethwait, of West Reynoldsville. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gallagher, formerly residents of this place, who have been residing at Irwin, Pa., several years, came to town last week. Mrs. Gallagher will spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Noah Strauss, while Mr. Gallagher will travel as a salesman for a Cincinnati clothing house. A brick dwelling house is being built near the parochial school for the Sisters who will teach in the school. The foundation has been completed and brick layers are at work on the building. There will be four rooms down stairs, including a reception hall, four bed rooms and bath room on second floor and three bed rooms on third floor. Ethan E. Stewart and family, who spent six months at Winter Haven, Florida, returned to Reynoldsville Wednesday evening all in excellent health. Mr. Stewart says Florida is a delightful place to spend the winter. There was only one night during the winter that it got cold enough to freeze a little ice over top of bucket of water that had been standing out all night. The following pupils completed the course of study prescribed for the common schools, passed a satisfactory examination, and have been granted diplomas:—Dorothy Estes, Agnes Estes Henderson Twp., Mabel Shaffer, Oliver Twp., Byth Moore, Warsaw Twp., Earl Milliren, Beesie Milliren, Bertha Dickey, Washington Twp., Cora McCright, Winslow Twp. The committee, G. W. Lenker, H. C. Leavenworth, Margaret Dalley, A. J. Postlethwait and R. B. Detrick, held the examination in the M. E. church at this place April 13th.

THREE FREE SCHOLARSHIPS. One Full Year at Lock Haven Normal—One Term at King's School of Oratory, Pittsburg, and a $35.00 Course in International Correspondence Schools of Scranton. We have decided to run a free scholarship contest in THE STAR, beginning to-day and closing August 8th, 1901. A large display advertisement, with coupon and full particulars of contest, will be published next week, but any person wanting to enter contest will be given all the necessary information and papers to work with by calling at THE STAR office any time. The contestant receiving the highest number of votes will be given one full year at Lock Haven State Normal school free, which includes tuition, light, heat, furnished room, boarding, in fact everything in that excellent school but free books. The second prize is a full term—12 weeks—in Prof. Byron W. King's school of Oratory, where oratory, elocution, dramatic culture, literature, Shakespeare study, music, drawing, book-keeping and physical culture will be taught. This school is located in Pittsburg. Third prize will be a $35 course in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton. A complete commercial course, stenographic course, book-keeping, complete teachers' course, coal mining, telegraphy and other courses are successfully taught by this school by correspondence, and the contestant winning this prize can have the $35.00 applied on any course they may decide to take up if it is more than a $35.00 course. The person getting the second highest number of votes can have their choice of second or third prize. Coupons will be printed in each issue and when cut out and properly addressed, can be voted. All coupons should be mailed or sent to J. P. Haskins, the music dealer, who will place them in a sealed box until counted by the judges each week. Premium Coupons—Persons paying their back subscriptions, or in advance one year or more, can secure a premium coupon at this office which will entitle them to 36 votes, or 3 votes for every month so paid. Any one sending or bringing in a new yearly cash subscriber will be given a premium coupon equal to 60 votes. Persons desiring to enter the contest should begin as early as possible. As soon as the names are sent or handed in to THE STAR office they will be published, but the number of votes will not be published until June 19th, when the vote each contestant has at that time will be published as counted and returned by the judges, and from that time to close of contest the vote will be counted every Monday and published each week. Choked a Dog to Death. The father-in-law of Lewis Delp, who was killed on the railroad ten days ago, had an experience with a dog last Friday he will not soon forget. The gentleman, whose name we did not learn, came to Sandy Valley to take his daughter and her children to his home in Beaver county. Delp's dog, which had been away from home a few days, returned Friday, showing signs of being mad, and attacked one of the children. The grandfather tried to drive the dog away and it jumped for his neck. He had a tussle with the dog and finally got a death-grip on the dog's throat and did not loosen his grip until the dog dropped dead. The dog succeeded in biting the man's left hand. The hand swelled up immediately. The gentleman fears hydrophobia and is somewhat exercised over the matter. Carpenters are now at work building a store room, boarding house and five dwelling houses at Fullers Station for the coal company operating there. If you buy at Millirens clothing shop you will find when you get home a third of your money remains unspent.

Prof. Byron W. King.

Jesse Hannah Dead. Jesse Hannah died at his home at Sykesville at 4:00 a. m. Saturday, May 4, 1901. He was buried at Sykesville Monday afternoon. He leaves a wife and three children. Mr. Hannah was a blacksmith at Prescotville for a number of years and was well known in this section. The funeral was a very large one. Glass Plant at Brookville. The Brookville Glass and Tile Co. was organized at that place Monday evening with Henry Truman as president of the company. August Boulanger, of this place, will be manager. Two 30-blower tanks and one 10-pot tile plant will be built by the new company this summer. Mr. Boulanger was in Brookville yesterday helping to stake off the ground for the new plant. The Tenth Year. With this issue THE STAR enters its tenth year. We have never "blowed our own horn" nor do we expect to do so now. Our regular subscribers know that THE STAR gives all the news all the time. The increasing subscription list is some evidence that our efforts to publish a readable paper is appreciated. We are aware of the fact that there are a large number of people who read THE STAR that are not on our subscription list. We hope to add a number of these borrowers to the list this year. Why not? Too Hot for Glass Blowers. A warm wave struck this section late Monday afternoon and the men who went to work at the glass plant on the four o'clock shift that afternoon found it so uncomfortably warm in the plant that they had to quit work. At six o'clock there were only one or two men at work. The men on midnight shift went to work on time and the plant has been in operation since. The plant shuts down Saturday for the summer. During this fire between sixty and seventy thousand boxes of glass have been made at this plant. Buried Yesterday. Frank McMann, who would have been 16 years old in August, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lucy Foltz, at O'Donnell station at 8:00 a. m. Sunday, May 5, 1901, from a complication of diseases. He had only been sick two weeks. Funeral services were held at the residence yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. C. McEntire, and remains were buried in Beulah cemetery beside the father, James McMann, who died about seven years ago. Frank was the youngest member of the McMann family. Biggie—Hollman. John Biggie, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Biggie, sr., of Main street, and Miss Annie Hollman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hollman, of near Rathmel, were married in the Catholic church Tuesday morning, May 7, 1901, by Father Kuntz. Misses Clara Biggie and Tillie Blumen were bridesmaids and Fred Biggie, jr., and John Hollman were groomsmen. A wedding dinner was served at home of groom's parents and in the afternoon the wedding party drove to home of bride's parents, where a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Biggie's numerous young friends extend congratulations and wish them joy and happiness. Frances Hill Dead. Frances, the bright and lovable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hill, died at 7:30 p. m., May 1st, 1901, from droupical trouble superinduced by scarlet fever. Frances would have been eight years old the 20th of this month. The remains were taken to Clayville Friday forenoon for interment. Mr. Hill, who is head clerk in the Jefferson Supply Co. store at this place, and his wife are certainly having their share of trouble at present, and if every dark cloud has a silver lining, Mr. and Mrs. Hill's dark cloud should be well lined. Mr. Hill has been unable to work for some time on account of a severe attack of the grip, all four of their children have had scarlet fever and the Death Angel has removed one of their darlings. Knitting Needle Accident. Edna, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Britton, of Beechwoods, met with a peculiar and painful accident not long since. Mrs. Britton had been knitting and being called to another part of the house she laid her knitting on the lounge. In a few minutes Edna, who was playing with other children, ran into room and threw herself upon the lounge on top of the knitting. One of the knitting needles ran into her hip one inch over half the length of needle and broke off. A doctor was sent for and he probed for the broken needle, but failed to find it. The next day two doctors made an unsuccessful attempt to find the needle. Thirteen days after the accident, while dressing the wound, which had become a running sore, Mrs. Britton found that the broken needle had worked its way out far enough for her to catch it with her fingers and pull it out. It should be a warning to mothers careful where they put their knitting not working at it. If it is a dow outside the most likely place to put it is on a chair or lounge.

Two Ladies Injured. Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Moore, of Desire, who had been in town shopping Monday afternoon, met with an accident on Jackson street on their way home. They were driving down Seventh street when one of the holding back straps broke, letting the buggy run on to the horse's heels, and that frightened the horse and it started to run. The buggy was upset against the telephone pole at corner of Seventh and Jackson streets and the ladies and their bundles were scattered over the street. Mrs. Burns' right arm was broken above elbow and Mrs. Moore's head was badly bruised. The buggy was a total wreck. Dr. Foust, who lives near where the accident occurred, dressed the ladies' wounds and they then secured another buggy and drove home. Brakeman Injured. Frank Hartle, jr., a brakeman on the R. & F. C. R'y was badly injured while shifting cars near the company store Saturday morning. Hartle was cutting off a car and in doing so he had to hold on to the car with one hand, use the other hand to uncouple the cars and was giving the engineer a signal with his foot, which was sticking out over end of car far enough to catch on switch target, and Hartle was thrown off the train. His left arm was broken below elbow and he received two scalp wounds. One was five inches long and the other about three inches long. Howe's Moving Pictures. The only first class moving picture exhibition in America to-day is that of Lyman H. Howe, who is the pioneer of that particularly entertaining and unique class of exhibitions. Beyond the least doubt his show is the finest, best and most elaborate that time and money can produce. He leads and others make weak attempts to follow. He has many imitators, but no equals. His this season's exhibition is as far ahead of all others as day is of night. This statement will be verified by his exhibition, which will appear here at the opera house, Monday night, May 13th. Entertainment begins at eight o'clock. Injured in Mine. James Shannon, of Prescotville, a driver in Big Soldier mine, had his left leg badly injured below the knee while at work Monday afternoon. A car jumped the track and Mr. Shannon's leg was caught between the car and side of mine. He could not release himself and had to remain in that position until men arrived and lifted the car off him. He had a very narrow escape from being killed. Handkerchief Bazaar. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will hold a handkerchief bazaar in the vacant store room in the opera house building on Decoration Day. Ice cream, cake, sandwiches and coffee will be served. The nicest part about the clothing show—Millirens are doing business hand over fist. Prices are what talks. A good baby carriage for sale at half price. Inquire at this office. If you have eye trouble call on a reliable optician. C. F. Hoffman is permanently located. Try him. For portieres, lace curtains, curtain poles and window shades go to Shick & Wagner's. Don't forget that you can leave your order at J. C. Barto's for cut flowers or floral designs. Buggies, buggies, buggies—a fine lot just received, with all latest improvements, it will pay you to take a look through our repository before buying. Call and see. L. M. SNYDER, Jackson St. Low prices, good fits, first-class work at John Flynn's tailor shop. Tablets with every pair of shoe shoes at Williams.
