125 Mcn From Same Province in Austria Be leved to Be Contract Laborers. Held for Investigation.

Locked up in the Immigrant Hotel, Baltimore, Md., Thursday were 125 Austrians who, the authorities suspect, were brought to America to take the places of the striking employees of the steel trust. A special board of in-quiry, consisting of five officials con-nected with the local transformation bureau, were attempting to learn whether or not the foreign laborers really did come to America under contract to supplant the striking steel workers. About nine men were put through a "sweating" process, but none of them admitted anything which would justify the officials in recommending that they be returned to Bremen, where boarded the steamer Hanover for Baltimore, When the list of immi-grants was submitted to the officials after the Hanover reached port it was noticed that 125 of the number were natives of Crookle, a province of Aus-tria. They had tickets to Steelon, Pittsburg, Cleveland and other places in the vicinity of the mills of the steel This aroused the suspicions of the officials.
