WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1901.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county. Non-political, will treat all with fairness, and will be especially friendly towards the laboring class. Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the writer's name, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Interesting news items solicited. Advertising rates made known on application at this office. Lengthy communications and change of advertisements should reach this office by Monday noon. Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance. Address all communications to C. A. Stephenson, Reynoldsville, Pa. Entered at the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., as second class mail matter.

The editor of the Punxsutawney Spirit had some views about trusts several years ago which he has now found himself obliged to modify. Whereupon a contemporary sneers at his lack of consistency. His reply is entirely worthy of an intellectual being. The substance of it is that consistency is not the highest virtue; that the man who adheres to opinions which he has really outgrown simply because he is afraid of the clamor of the mob is a veritable coward. Our brother is entirely right. Consistency is often a vice rather than a virtue. Consistency has hindered individual progress and national upbuilding. There are many men in the world who are too cowardly to admit that they are mistaken, or that they have espoused the wrong side. There are others who are simply what their early surroundings made them; they have no original opinions about anything. And some there are who steadfastly adhere to the conviction that it is better to be wrong than inconsistent. This is a colossal blunder.—Altoona Tribune.

The County Home.
From the presentment of the grand jury "to the honorable judge of the several courts of Jefferson county" at the last term, we clip the following concerning the county home:
"The county home, as is well known, is a new building, and is a model of neatness and stability in all its departments. The architectural part of this building is neat, attractive and pleasing to the eye. The mechanical part is well and substantially done. The sanitary arrangements, we believe, are about as nearly perfect as could be made. The home is now being furnished with all necessary articles needed for the comfort of the inmates, of which the home contains about thirty.
"This home stands as an honor, not only to the county, but also to the Commissioners who superintended its construction. Under the care of the efficient Superintendent, Mr. Kelly, and the County Commissioners, we have the right to presume that this will not only be an ideal but a real home to our deserving poor."

Letter to J. A. Myers.
Reynoldsville, Pa.
Dear Sir: Here is a curious condition in the paint business, but it exists. N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., owns two houses exactly alike; he painted one with a mixed paint—took 12 gallons. Painted the other with Devco; bought 12 gallons and had 6 gallons left. Same painter; George Gilbert. Same result, so far as looks go.
As you are not a paint maker, you probably don't understand why a gallon of Devco lead and zinc contains twice as much paint as a gallon of some of the mixed paints. We'll tell you; A gallon of milk that's half water isn't a gallon of milk; neither is a gallon of paint that's half lime and china clay, a gallon of paint. The following is the analysis of one of the mixed paints sold in your section:
Lead, zinc and color 41 per cent
Lime and China Clay 59 "

This 59 per cent of Lime and China Clay is whitewash; it is to paint what water is to milk—adulteration; consequently the paint contains only 41 per cent of legitimate paint material (lead, zinc and color) while Devco lead and zinc contains 100 per cent.
That explains why a gallon of Devco lead and zinc contains twice as much paint as a gallon of some of the mixed paints.
Yours truly,
F. W. DEVCO & Co.
P. S.—H. Alex Stoke sells our paint in your section.
