COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Messrs. Murray, Webster and Hawk Have Proven Themselves Efficient Officials

The present board of Jefferson county commissioners, whose pictures appear in above cut, have just entered into the third year of their present term and the county auditors are at work auditing their accounts for 1901. While it is true that the commissioners have not been able to please everybody, an impossible thing for men in public positions to do, yet they have given satisfaction to the majority of the taxpayers of Jefferson county and have proven themselves efficient commissioners. They have faithfully endeavored to conduct the affairs of the county in a licans, W. C. Murray and Newton Webster, and one Democrat, Al. Hawk. This is Mr. Murray's second term, and it is the first term for the other two Webster has already announced himself adjusted. for the nomination for second term and Mr. Hawk will announce when the Democratic announcements are made A number of Mr. Murray's friends urged him to be a candidate for third term, but he declined to do so.

Learn to be Useful. The first thing a man naturally inquires on meeting a stranger is "What does he do?" That is the supreme test of manhood. Is he competent to make a living without preying upon societywithout dishonest practices or fake methods? A man should have suffer at ndependence and pride of character to feel that he is competent to earn a blameless livelihood in a manner that will benefit, and not injure, mankind. Hence everybody should learn to do something useful, and to do it well. Money and property are good things to have, and a man is all the better for having a desire to accumulate wealth. There are two things, however, that are of more value than riches, character and good health, and we should sacrifice neither for money, for life to a man of conscience is intolerable withanybody without good health .- Punxsutawney Spirit.

Very Delightful Entertainment.

Howe's high-class exhibition of mov ing pictures was seen at the Academy, Tuesday evening, this afternoon and will be shown again this evening. The pictures were all of that high-order for which Mr. Howe's pictures are noted and the subjects were highly interesting. This was particularly true of those pictures relating to the Pan-American grounds and a series of pictures taken in connection with President McKinley's visit to Buffalo, the assassination and the funeral obsequies at Buffalo, Washington and Canton. The pictures representing the obsequies were su-perb.—Reading Eagle Dec. 18, 1901. At Assembly hall, Reynoldsville, January 16. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store.

Reports Get Tangled.

It is remarkable how a piece of news gets twisted sometimes after it has been published in one or two papers. The Lock Haven Express of Friday contained an account of the ovation given the three girls that returned from the county jail Wednesday evening, and in that account the paper said the girls were hauled up Main street in a sleigh drawn by two score young men and that they were given a banquet in the public hall. The Express also gave the names of the girls as Mary Howard, Eliza Wentz and Sara Johnston

Big Store's Fifth Semi-Annual Clearance

we must prepare to take inventory. This year's business closes January 31st. That means that we begin our inventory February 1st. In order to reduce our stock we will offer bargains that will attract. This is strictly a price sale and will be general. We have seen the folly of merchants picking out unsaleable merchandise, and marking it down to tempting prices and attempting to make up the loss on other lines. We shall not try the plan of marking a few things down as a blind, but we will insist upon all offerings—advertised or otherwise—being uniformly low-priced and uniformly desirable.

January—the month which is conceded by other merchants to be the dead or dull month—has become our busiest or biggest month, and why? Read the prices below and be convinced. January of last year was our biggest month of all the year and we have carefully planned to far surpass even that of last year. By judicious buying and successful selling we are enabled to offer you first-class and clean merchandise. We have kept our stock up so that your selection may be made from a complete line. We have a few lines which we expect to close out. On these the cost has not been taken into consideration. For instance we have a few Ladies' Suits that we expect to sell for little more than the buttons and the thread alone would cost. We have a few Ladies' Jackets at the same price, also a few pieces of Dress Goods.

This Sale will begin Thursday, Jan. 23, and Close Wednesday. Jan 29,

Giving you six days in which to supply your wants.
