Death of John Montgomery.

Michael Montgomery, of this place, and James Montgomery, of Brookville, two passenger engineers on Low Grade Division, were called to Altoona Saturday to attend the funeral of their brother, John Montgomery, who was a fireman on Low Grade a number of years ago. Charles Montgomery, fireman on Low Grade, son of Michael Montgomery, also attended the funeral.

Unpleasant Upset.

A whist society of this place and a number of invited friends drove to Luthersburg Monday evening and took upper at the leading hotel in that town. On the return trip, near Luthersburg, one of the large sleds upset and dumped all the occupants, including the lap robes, into a pool of ice water on the road side. Some of the party got their clothing real wet, making the balance of the trip a trifle unpleasant.

Easy to Tell Others What to Do.

It is so much easier to see what other seople ought to do and to give them advise than it is to always see our own duty and act accordingly. This is the case even with editors sometimes. We know a newspaper that has had considerable to say about people cleaning the now and ice off their sidewalks and at the same time the sidewalk in front of that editor's office was covered with ice, just the same as his neighbors, in fact the ice is there yet unless the sun has melted it off.

Martha Washington Tea.

The Martha Washington tea given in Bell's hall Saturday evening by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist most sanguine members of the society had anticipated. The demand for supper, ice cream, &c., was greater than the supply could accommodate and many people were turned away. The proceeds amounted to almost $100.00. The ladies sent to Philadelphia for George Washington and Martha Washington costumes and C. E. Fisher and Miss Gertrude Deible were dressed to represent George and Martha. They made a fine appearance.

There is a law taxing foreign insurance companies doing business in the state one per cent for this purpose. solid pleasure. Supper was served. The following officers were elected: Frank J. Black, president; M. C. Coleman, vice president; Geo. W. Stoke, jr., secretary: D. R. Cochran, treasurer. An application for a charter will be made at once.

Killed by Express Train. A. V. Armstrong, better known a 'Mickie" Armstrong, who was in the employ of Powers, Brown & Co. at this place a number of years ago, was killed at Mahoning, Pa., last Saturday. He was crossing the railroad bridge at Mahoning when the P. R. R. Buffalo Express train came thundering along and 'Mickie" stepped to one side to let it pass by, but he did not get far enough out of the way and the engine struck him. He was taken to the Kittanning hospital where he died about 1.00 p. m. months ago and "Mickie" was superintending the works. He had moved his family to Mahoning last week.

A large concourse of people followed her remains to the Centre Hill cemetery, the place of interment. She will be missed by all her family, the neighbors and the church as a loving mother, good neighbor and a faithful christian.

"Little Trixie" To-Night,

"Little Trixie" met with a hearty re ception at the High Street theatre yesterday afternoon, a large audience generously applauding the performance. The piece is a musical comedy, with only the shadow of a plot, but enough to allow the graceful introduction of a score of pleasing specialties in the way of singing and dancing and some very clever bits of comedy business. The musical selections were of the popular kind and were all introduced in the cleverest manner. Nearly every member of the company appears in a specialty and the concerted musical numbers were all good. The various features are refined and of the eatehy order .-Columbus (O.) State Journal. Old Fashioned Fiddlers' Match.

A great many of our readers have heard Sousa and his incomparable band and thought they were enjoying music, which of gourse they were in a way. But about a dozen of our citizens who were favored by George Hughes to call at his residence one evening last week know now what the "real thing" is. Of course "Fisher's hornpipe," "Old Arkansaw," "Pop goes the weasel" and kindred pieces have been played before, but never by such artists of the bow as "Uncle" Ed. Seeley, David and Captain T. C. Reynolds and John Walsh, all in one evening and when they were at their best. It wasn't a "musicale," but a genuine, old fashioned fiddlers' match. where variations and other "frills" went away back and sat down and pure nspiring melody reigned. At two a. m. the audience was still asking for more, but as the performers were exhausted it was unanimously decided a draw. During the midst of the festivities a willing intermission was held to partake of a feast of good things provided by Mrs. Hughes in her usual recherche way. When it comes to entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Hughes may be equalled but they cannot be excelled.

Corrections in Election Returns.

There were several errors in the election returns published in THE STAR last week.

C. J. Kerr's vote for justice in the 2nd precinct was 61 instead of 161. Vote for judge of election in second precinct was a tie between Charles S. Kirchartz, Republican, and Isane Swartz, Democrat, and Kirchartz was not elected. A judge will have to be appointed.

James W. Evans and Frank P. Alexander, Republicans, got the largest vote for auditors, but on account of the ticket being printed without designating, the length of term each one was to serve, the election board threw out a number of their votes.

Winslow township-William H. Reber and William J. Boner were elected school directors instead of Mr. Boner and John Dougherty. Reber's correct vote was given but the total was not correct. There was also a mistake in counting up Allen Cather's vote for auditor. It should have been 200 in from room 13. stead of 120, Oyster Supper and Entertainment.

John Nichols, a miner who resides in Michigan, lost both his eyes and one hand while at work in mine by a shot going off too soon. Mr. Niehols is a member of the Sons of St. George lodge and an appeal was sent out to all the S. of St. G. lodges for aid. The lodge S. of St. G. longes for aid. The lodge at this place is limited to $5.00 when aid is asked for, but the large hearted and sympathetic members of the Sons of St. George of Reynoldsville were not satisfied to only give this brother $5.00, and they gave an entertainment and oyster supper in the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday evening, proceeds to go to Mr. Nichols. The small sum of 20 cents was charged for entertainment and supper, either one of which was worth that much alone. They cleared about $20.00. It is claimed that this unfortunate man's father resided in Reyn-oldsville a number of years ago.

Loafers Ousted.

For a number of years Hotel Belnap has been a resort for a certain class of loafers, or hangers on, who were always watching for some person to set up the drinks to them. Will W. Wiley, the new proprietor, has served notice or that class that the room they occupied is more desired than their presence. In some cases he has refused to sell them anything to drink. Two or three felows who have had the drinks shut on them have threatened to return Mr. Wiley if he does not allow them to drink at his bar, but Mr. Wiley remains firm in his decision against old topers and loafers.

LARGE NUMBER NEW BOOKS.

Book Reception a Success in Every Par-

The book reception held in the public school building last Friday evening was attended by between 700 and 800 people. It was a very pleasant social affair. An orchestra of six pieces occupied chairs on landing of first pair of stairs and they enlivened the occasion with sweet strains of music. A committee of lady teachers, with their sweet smiles, stood at the head of stairs on second floor and gave the people a hearty and cordial welcome. The second floor was Illuminated hall on second floor was illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and here twelve tables, with pretty flowers or each table, were nicely arranged and hot coca and cake were served to any who cared to partake, and almost every person seemed inclined to indulge, thus keeping the pretty high school girls and some of the younger members of the Mothers' Club busy serving coca. The Mothers' Club had charge of that part of the program.

There was a committee in the library to receive all the books handed in and they also took the names of the persons who gave the books. Over 250 books were given that night and a number more will be given. There were 350 books in the library before the reception, over 250 added that night and Prof. G. W. Lenkerd intends donating his personal library of 250 books which will give the school library abou 900 books. There were at least 1,000 books in the library before the fire.

books. There were at least 1,000 books in the library before the fire.

In rooms Nos. 7, 8, 12 and 13, there was a large exhibition of school work done by the pupils, which attracted considerable attention. There were a large number of European scenes on exhibition in the library. These were hibition in the library. These were secured by Prof. Lenkerd on his trip in 1900.

A very interesting program was ren-dered in Assembly hall, mostly by little people. Program as follows:

"The Harp of the Senses." The first of a series in the Star course of lectures was given in the Eleventh Avenue opera house last evening by Prof. John B. DeMotte. The audience was large and at the same time was de servedly interested in the subject which the lecturer dwelt upon—"The Harp o the Senses, or the Secret of Character Building." The speaker had wide Building." The speaker had wide range on such a subject and struck the harp in such a manner that its chords' reverberations could not but in some manner strike echoing chords among the audience. Prof. DeMotte is not only a graceful speaker, but a teller of truth as well, and intermingling with the stories the pathetic and actua scenes which are taken from real life he weaved a most truthful story on the Secret of Character Building. one which should be heeded and it no loubt fell as seed on the minds of many of those who were present.—Altoon Tribune. Shot Through a Show Case. Oran Hildebrand, the young son of R. Hildebrand, went into A. E. Dunn's hardware store last Saturday orning to purchase some cartridges for his revolver and had the instrument along. While Mr. Dunn's son, Joe, was taking the shells from the shelf behind the counter the young man commenced snapping the revolver and Joe warned him that it might be loaded. Before the warning was entirely completed the revolver went off, crashing through the end of the show case about two feet from where young Dunn stood. It did no damage other than the breaking of the show case and giving the occupants of the room a bad scare, but might have resulted more disasterously. This is another case of the gun that wasn't

Dr. A. H. Bowser and wife left here Monday afternoon for Pittsburg. They will visit in Verona, New Kensington, Wilkinsburg, Ford City and Walk

Chalk before returning to this place. Hon. Frank A. Weaver, editor of the Brookville Republican, who holds a good position in Washington, D. C., was in Reynoldsville last Thursday visi-ting his sister, Mrs. Kate Smeltzer, on lackson street. H. C. Dean, who has been working in George Sharp's lumber camp at Munderf, Pa., two years, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dean, in West Reynoldsville. On account of the deep snow in the woods the men cannot work. Mr. Dean says the snow is over 30 inches deep at Munderf.
