Small-pox Communication.

In several different papers we see about Sykesville having small-pox so badly. There has been seventy or more cases in town since Christmas and not one has proven fatal. One child three weeks old had it and it did not prove fatal. Does that seem like small-pox? The learned Drs. say it is a disease called impetigo. One Dr. quarantined five houses, but one of them he quarantined while the inmates were all out for berries but a little girl 8 years old, and he took the liberty to vaccinate her. The Doctor never went back to the house afterward. After the quarantine had been up for two weeks the family took it down themselves.

It stands to reason that it is not small-pox or there would have been some deaths. The patient is sick for two or three days and sometimes have a fever, but just as soon as he or she begins to break out the fever leaves. Some do not go to bed at all. The disease lasts from seven to fourteen days. Some of the women did washings just when they were broke out the worst, so you readers see that it is not as dangerous as the papers state. It is just like any disease, it attacks some worse than others.

There are no new cases in town but some people must talk just the same. Anyone that ever saw small-pox would know the difference between this and small-pox. OBSERVER.

New Morning Paper.

The readers of the Herald will not be surprised when the announcement is made that this office will be moved to DuBois. On Saturday of last week arrangements were made for the purchase of the Shaffer building, 154 West Long Avenue, one of the best locations in the town, and it is thought that it will be possible to be publishing the DuBois Morning Herald and the DuBois Weekly Herald by September 15. V. King Pifer, who for some years has been editor of the DuBois Evening Express and who commenced his newspaper experience in the office of the Falls Creek Herald nearly seven years ago, has been associated with the present publisher of the Herald as a partner in the business. Work will be commenced at once on the building of an addition to the Shaffer block so as to accommodate the Herald's printing office and many new things will be added to the printing equipment. Much of the writer's time will be taken up during the next few weeks in the new enterprise and we trust our readers will over look our shortcomings during that time. The subscription list of the Falls Creek Herald will be given to the DuBois Weekly Herald.

GENUINE EXCURSIONS.

Metropolitan Pleasures for Everybody.

Many people living in this community will doubtless want to visit DuBois on Friday, August 1, when the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' great consolidated shows, comprising double circuses, double menageries, double museums, double hippodromes, will appear there. These great shows are the only ones that exhibit in New York city. No others dare even attempt to exhibit in the metropolis. They opened up this season at the Madison Square Garden in New York, and the newspapers, without exception, stated that it was the greatest circus this country had ever seen. The menageries contain the greatest number of rare wild beasts ever seen in one collection. In the circuses are 300 star performers, and in addition to all the standard circus acts there are a score or more of sensational features. There is not space to enumerate them here, but there is no possibility of any one being disappointed who goes to see these shows, no matter how high their anticipations may have been raised.

A Borough's Right.

An important decision was rendered by Judge Greer at Butler last week. The case was that of Butler borough vs. John Hagins. The defendant in the case represented an out-of-town grocery firm and sold to Butler people on orders, delivering the goods to the purchasers. Information was made against him by the borough authorities and he was fined for selling without a license. He appealed from the decision of the borough and the case was heard in court and decision was made in favor of the borough. The case was an exceedingly important one as the decision gives boroughs the right to collect a fine from persons selling by order.—Kittanning Times.
