Four Italians were sitting in P. R. R. passenger station yesterday morning eating dry crackers for lunch, and the sound thereof was like unto a team of horses walking through thick mud. Smacking lips while eating, however, is not confined to Italians alone. There are others.

A. Katzen, proprietor of the People's Bargain store, whose store at Soldier burned on the evening of October 21st, has had the insurance on his stock satisfactorily adjusted by the insurance company, and as soon as the insurance on building is settled Mr. Katzen will begin to rebuild his store at Soldier.

The individual who gets hot under the neck-band of his shirt because his home paper may have displeased him, and proceeds to the pine box which separates the editorial sanctum from the terrors of the book agent and bill collector, throws down a dollar, defusing the glorious eagle, and orders the pinched and pecked editor to stop the paper, never has the satisfaction of seeing the paper stopped. All the powers between Bootjack and Boone's Mountain couldn't induce us to stop the paper. Too many intelligent people round here who want it.—Brookwayville Record.

RESULT OF YESTERDAY'S ELECTION

Un-Official Returns from the Precincts in Reynoldsville, West Reynolds and Winslow Township. Small Vote Polled in Reynoldsville Borough.

Table with columns for DISTRICTS, Governor, Lt. Gov., Sec. In. At., Congress, Assembly, Sheriff, Prothon., Register, Treasurer, Commissioners. Rows list precincts like Reynoldsville-First Precinct, Second Precinct, West Reynolds, Winslow, etc.

Small Pox at Fuller.

Three or four members of the family of H. E. Fuller, near, Fuller station, have the small-pox.

Dr. Russell Conwell Coming.

Dr. Russell Conwell, the noted lecturer of Philadelphia, will lecture in Reynoldsville December 15 under the auspices of the Young Men's Reading Association.

Road Needs Attention.

The public road from west end of bridge at foot of Fifth street to P. R. R. crossing, near engine house, is not in very good condition. The road needs to be filled in and raised up several feet.

Will Locate Here.

County Commissioner W. C. Murray, whose term expires the first of next year, will locate in Reynoldsville. Mr. and Mrs. Murray are excellent people and THE STAR is glad to announce that they will move to Reynoldsville. They will receive a warm welcome.

Moving This Week.

C. C. Ramsey, new superintendent of the tannery at this place, will move into the house formerly occupied by Mr. Palen, near tannery, this week. Mrs. Ramsey has not come to town, but will be here the latter part of this week. Mr. Ramsey seems to be a very genial gentleman.

Saw Future Husbands.

The Ingelo Club, composed of young ladies only, had a hallow'een jollification at home of Miss Nellie Armor on Grant street Friday evening. They pulled taffey, looked in mirror at proper time to see their future husbands, one young lady swallowed potato with ring in it, and they all had a general good time.

Operation Successful.

Mention was made in THE STAR last week that Davis McCracken, the oldest merchant of Reynoldsville, had gone to Pittsburg to have an operation performed on left eye. Mr. McCracken was taken to St. John's Hospital and the operation was performed Wednesday morning. The entire left eye was removed.

Baby Gone.

Josiah, ten-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deter, died early Thursday morning, October 30th. Short funeral service was held at home of parents Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Rene, pastor of the M. E. church, and interment was made in the Reynoldsville Cemetery. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends.

Beat Telegram Here.

Dr. J. C. Greenwalt, of Chambersburg, came here last week to see his sister, Mrs. W. Frank Reber. He sent a telegram to Rev. Reber from Harrisburg Monday forenoon, then took a train for Pittsburg, where he remained all night, arriving here on the 12.52 p. m. train Tuesday. About two hours after doctor arrived in Reynoldsville the telegram got here.

Gone to California.

George W. Dempsey, who was tax collector of West Reynoldsville borough, resigned that office and left here last Wednesday afternoon for Watsonville, Monterey Co., California, where he will locate permanently if he likes the country. Philip Koehler has been appointed tax collector of West Reynoldsville to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Dempsey's resignation.

More Brick Buildings.

Postmaster Edward C. Burns and Dr. John H. Murray, who own lots on Main street, in district visited by conflagration in October, 1901, have arranged to erect brick buildings as soon as they can be built. Masons are working on the foundation for Mr. Burns' building. Daniel Brewer will superintend the erection of this building. James V. Young has contract to erect Dr. John H. Murray's building.

Starting Wholesale Store.

George H. Mundorff, a member of Robinson & Mundorff, wholesale and retail grocery firm of this place, will go to DuBois the first of next week to start a wholesale confectionery store, to be called DuBois Candy Co. He will still retain his interest in the store at this place, but will devote his entire time to the store in DuBois. Mr. Mundorff is a hustler and live business man, and there is no doubt but that he will make a success in his new venture.

Concert Last Night.

"Ye olde folks' concert" at the Presbyterian meeting house last night was well attended and was full of genuine fun and contagious mirth. Some of the torgery was a sight to behold. Each one of the participants evidently tried to outdo the others in the ridiculousness of their make up for the occasion. Some of the prominent characters in the concert were Priscilla Ann Snadragon, Prudence Highfyer, Sophia Poppersnuff, Lucinda Perkinadorfer, Mechtelme Endicott, Jedidiah Higginbotham, Obadiah Smallwood, Ebenezer Snadragon, Deacon Fiddlebow, Josiah Makepeace and others too numerous to mention. Among the "N. B.'s" on program was this one: "Unseemly mirth is not in favor, but a becoming approval in proper applause is relished by ye modest olde folks syngers." This was strictly observed by the audience.

Decision in Equity Case.

On Monday, October 20, Judge John W. Reed heard the evidence and arguments of the counsel in the equity case of A. C. Huntington vs. Albert Reynolds, but did not hand down his decision in the case until the latter part of last week, and the decision was in favor of the defendant, Albert Reynolds. The equity case was the outcome of a dispute as to the ownership of the coal underlying over two hundred acres of land in Winslow township, which both parties claimed. Mr. Huntington will take the case to Superior Court.

Repair Fund.

The congregation of the First Baptist church at this place has just completed a thousand dollar fund to be used next spring in repairing the church. This congregation has a fine brick church and the expenditure of a $1,000 will make it an edifice that the congregation and town can be proud of. Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the church, takes pride in keeping the lawn around parsonage and church very attractive during the summer months.

Married in Buffalo.

Miss Margaret Irene Crawford, daughter of Rev. J. W. Crawford, of Allens Mills, and A. R. Cooper, son of William Cooper, who resides near Allens Mills, skipped to Buffalo, N. Y., and were married on Saturday, November 1st, 1902, by Rev. Byron H. Stauffer, of Buffalo. This young couple are popular in and around Allens Mills and their many friends will wish them happiness and prosperity in their journey down life's pathway.

Rowdyism Rampant.

Mention has already been made in THE STAR that a night watchman and policeman is badly needed in Reynoldsville. The conduct on Main street was disgraceful last Friday night, but there was no one to interfere and rowdyism run rampant. This is the second or third time that such scenes have been enacted on Main street since the night-watchman resigned. There should be a check put on such conduct.

Attending Wedding.

John H. Kaucher, cashier of First National bank, went to Philadelphia Saturday to attend the wedding of his son, Dr. Howard L. Kaucher, who will be married to-day to Miss Carrie S. Luburg. Mrs. Kaucher and son, Dr. Clifford L., and daughter, Laura, went to Philadelphia week before last to remain until after the wedding.

Frank Ritzle, Thomas McDonald, Martin Weiss, Misses Ethelyn Winslow, Dorothy Sutter and Mary McClure entered the Reynoldsville Business College the past week.

Knights of Malta.

Mystic Commandery No. 313, A. & I. O. K. of M., will hold a special convocation of the Red Cross and Sepulchre degree on Wednesday evening, Nov. 12th, beginning promptly at 8.00 o'clock. After the exercises an oyster supper will be served at the City Hotel, to which all companions and their ladies are invited. The ladies and invited guests will assemble in the City Hotel parlors about 9.30 o'clock where they will be joined later by the Sir Knights. All Red Cross Knights are requested to be present at this special convocation as important business will be transacted and several candidates will travel this degree.

Birthday Party.

Miss Ida Plyler was given a birthday surprise party Saturday evening. She had been helping her father, Martin Plyler, in meat market Saturday evening and when she returned home there were about twenty of her girl friends at her home. The affair was a complete surprise to Miss Ida, but she enjoyed the surprise. She received a number of presents. Refreshments were served.

Hallow'een Social.

About sixty members of the Epworth League attended the hallow'een social at the home of Miss Etta Shaffer on Main street last Friday evening. The young people had a jolly time. The ladies dressed in ghostly attire and the young men had quite a time guessing the names of the ghosts. Refreshments, furnished by members of the League, were served.

Use Tooth Brush.

There are a number of people in this community, and other communities, who never think of using a tooth brush. The brushes are cheap and it is very little trouble to use one at least once a day, if not after every meal. A clean mouth is more inviting, boys and girls, than a mouth filled with dirty teeth. The remedy is so cheap and easy that no one should neglect it.

Hot Meal Apparatus.

Edward L. McConnell, of New York City, salesman for the Universal Food Supply Company of New York, is visiting his brother, Frank A. McConnell, at Frank's Tavern. The company Mr. McConnell represents has a device for supplying hot meals to private families. A meal can be furnished steaming hot eight hours after it has been cooked.

"Indians Victorious."

The "Indian" foot ball team of this place, which is a swift aggregation on the grid-iron, defeated the Johnsonburg team on the latter's grounds yesterday afternoon. Score 6-0. The paper mill town has a good team, but they didn't seem to be in it yesterday.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. F. P. Miller will have a millinery opening of winter styles on Wednesday and Thursday of next week in opera house block. Just received a lot of new goods.

Miss Bessie Philliber, an experienced dressmaker, has located in this place and solicits work from ladies of the town. Inquire at J. M. Stephenson's, West Reynoldsville.

On Friday and Saturday of this week Mrs. Lizzie Smith will have an opening of winter millinery at her store in Murray building.

Miss Mabel N. Hetrick, of this place, has taken up the Peerless Tailor System and will teach and give special lessons on all parts of cutting and drafting patterns.

As to Profanity.

Movements have been started in some localities in this section of the state to check the practice of profanity on the streets and in public places by a more stringent enforcement of the law. Section 341, of the Revised Statutes, of Pennsylvania, gives the law as to the use of profanity as follows:

"Any person of the age of sixteen years and upwards, who shall willfully curse or swear in the name of God, Jesus Christ, or the Holy Ghost, shall upon conviction before any judge, magistrate, or justice of the peace, pay a fine of 67 cents for each oath, or upon refusal be committed to the house of correction of the proper county for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours, and should any person be convicted as aforesaid, of swearing by any other thing, he shall be fined forty cents for each oath, as aforesaid, or upon default, be committed to the house of correction for a period not exceeding twelve hours.

"One half of the above fines shall go to the prosecutor and the other money to the overseer of the poor of the proper township in which such offense was committed."

Sold Keg of Water.

An Italian from a suburban town drove into Reynoldsville yesterday afternoon who was very anxious to buy a keg of beer, but the wholesale was closed and he could not get beer. He insisted so strenuously for some person to get the beer that finally one fellow in a crowd of half a dozen told the Iko to drive back in alley and he would get a keg for him. An empty keg was found in alley and quickly filled with water and when Iko got around with his buggy the keg of water was put in buggy and nicely covered with lap robe, and the fellow started home happy.

New Railroad.

It looks very much as if the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern Railway expects to make Mahoning valley hum in the near future. They have leased an immense territory of coal land, and have bought some out-right, showing that they mean business. A railroad will be required in order to operate their new field and we will not be surprised to see grading commence within a few months.—New Bethlehem Vindicator.

Letter List.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., week ending Nov. 1, 1902:

PENNYPACKER ELECTED GOV.

Entire Republican Ticket Elected in Jefferson County.

As we go to press it is claimed that Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, Republican, was elected governor of Pennsylvania by a majority of 160,000.

The entire Republican ticket was elected in Jefferson county. Curry, for sheriff, had lowest Republican vote in the county—about 600 over Gleason. Newton Webster, Harvey Hauck, Republican, and Al. Hawk, Democrat, were elected county commissioners.

Odell, Republican, was elected governor of New York by 16,000 majority.

There were 159 less votes polled in this borough yesterday than there were at the February election—66 less in 1st precinct and 93 less in 2nd precinct.

There were 7 socialist votes cast in this borough yesterday.

There were a large number of "stay at homes" in this borough yesterday.

Election returns by Bell telephone was received at Kirchartz's cigar store last night.

Another Pioneer Gone Home.

James McCurdy, the oldest pioneer resident of the Beechwoods district, and one of the best known citizens of north Jefferson county, died at his home in Washington township Monday morning, Oct. 28, 1902, aged 86 years, 9 months and 23 days. Death came not unexpectedly, for Father McCurdy had been failing rapidly for some time as a natural result of old age and his was a peaceful ending of a well spent life. Up to the time of his demise James McCurdy was the oldest living resident of the Beechwoods and one of the few survivors of the little pioneer band who invaded the dense forests of this section nearly three-fourths of a century ago.

The funeral was held Wednesday, services at the old homestead at eleven o'clock a. m., conducted by Rev. G. H. Hill, pastor of the Beechwoods Presbyterian church, and interment was made in Beechwoods cemetery. A large concourse of relatives and friends were in attendance at the funeral to pay a last tribute of respect to their departed friend.

James McCurdy was born in Westmoreland county, January 1st, 1816. He came to this section with his mother and brothers and sisters in 1833. They cleared a farm in the heart of what was then a howling wilderness and established the McCurdy homestead now one of the finest farms in the Beechwoods district. James McCurdy was of the sturdy Scotch Irish stock and he inherited the thrift and energy of his forefathers. By dint of hard work and perseverance he accumulated a fair education and a comfortable share of this world's goods. January 28, 1847 he married Anna Shaw, daughter of William and Elizabeth Shaw, pioneer neighbors of the McCurdys. They took up housekeeping at the homestead and theirs has been a prosperous and happy home for over half a century. Their fiftieth wedding anniversary, which was held in 1897, was a happy and memorable event.—Brookwayville Record.
