

Wishaw.

Miss Edith Kuntz visited friends at Panic on Sunday.

There was a very small turnout at the election from this place.

Some of the young folks took in the excursion to Pittsburg on Sunday.

Frank Best, our supervisor, was over this way last week, and indeed he was needed.

Some of our young folks attended the picnic at the Bollinger school on Thursday evening.

Quite a number of our young folks attended Epworth League at the Spirit church on Sunday evening.

P. A. Smith, the foreman of the carpenters on Young's Hill, spent Sunday with his family at Solder.

Roy Lingenfelter, one of the motormen at the mines, who was hurt some time ago, is able to be on duty again.

Mr. Teitrick, the gentleman who purchased the Dougherty store at this place, expects to move his family here soon.

George Syphrit and W. P. Miller attended a carport rag social near Troutville on election evening. They report a good time.

Magazines and Local Papers.

A curious thing that comes very forcibly to our notice is the fact that people never question the requirements of publishers of most magazines or newspapers that subscriptions must be paid in advance, while with the local or country papers the great majority seldom pay in advance.

And yet the country or local paper is far more in need of the money than are the great dailies and magazines. The latter have capital back of them, while the country paper usually has to struggle to get enough to carry on its business.

We wonder if there are any of our subscribers to whom it would make any particular difference if they paid their subscription in advance. It would only be a small amount to each subscriber, but to the publisher it means the loss of the use of the total subscriptions and much time in collecting. Dear readers, would it not be a good idea for each of you who are in the habit of waiting a year or more before paying for your paper to put in practice that Golden Rule, so much praised but seldom practiced, of doing as you would be done by, and send in your year's subscription? Do you not think you ought to treat us as well as you do the publishers of the magazines, dailies and other papers that you take?—Etc.

Rigid Discipline Necessary.

Great and good men are almost invariably the sons of parents who were rigid in discipline, and who constantly impressed upon them the importance of pure morals and unblemished character.

The more freedom the average boy is given the less likely he is to amount to anything when he becomes a man. Character is formed in early youth, and character is everything. Indulgent parents are not the kind of parents whose children become heroes and martyrs to principle.

Apparent kindness, when it tends toward lax morals, is the worst cruelty. The boys who "walk the chalk line" from childhood are not likely to get out of that habit. Napoleon attributed all his greatness to the severe but tender discipline of his mother. "She watched over us," he says, "with a solicitude unexampled. Every low sentiment, every ungenerous affection was discouraged and discarded. She suffered nothing but that which was grand and elevated to take root in our infant understandings. She abhorred falsehood and would not tolerate the slightest act of disobedience. None of our faults were overlooked." Napoleon's mother was the real Napoleon.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Asleep Amid Flames.

Breaking into a blazing home, some fireman lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and death near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't do it. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption gives perfect protection against all Throat, Chest and Lung Troubles. Keep it near, and avoid suffering, death, and doctor's bills. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by H. Alex Stokes, the druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Telephones on B., R. & P.

The installation of the telegraphophone on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, now progressing, is attracting considerable interest locally.

No other road in this territory has a system of communication of the kind. According to where the sending and receiving apparatus is placed, in either caboose or baggage car or other convenient place along a train, easy means of communication may be established from any place along the road—wherever the train may be—to any of the offices on the division equipped with the apparatus.

It is very convenient in case of wrecks because communications can at once be established with headquarters from any point between stations. It aids greatly in the movement of freight trains. A crew cannot get "tied up" in a blind siding. It is invaluable in testing wires in case of a "cross" or "swing." If an accident occurs and any one is injured, medical aid may be quickly summoned. Again, it can be "cut in" on an telephone service.—Pittsburg Post.
