WATER SUPPLY INSUFFICIENT. Town People Have had the Experience of Scarcity of Water.

A notice was published in the town papers last week requesting the people not to waste water as the supply was getting scarce, but before Wednesday evening the water was shut off entirely and the consumers were compalled to obey the company's request. Every day since then the water has been shut off in the afternoon and not turned on again until following morning. Some of the factories have been compelled to haul water to keep in operation. The public fountain has been supplying a large number of people the past week. Some times there are a dozen people at the fountain at one time awaiting their turn to get a bucket of water. There are horses at the fountain almost contin usly from early morning until late in the evening.

The company keeps a large reserve supply of water on hand constantly to se in case of fire. . The street lights have not turned on for a week on account of a scarcity of water. It has been all the electric light company can do to get enough water to keep the commercial lights on

This is the first time in the history of the town that the water supply has been as low as it has been for a week, but scarcity of water is not confined to Reynoldsville alone. There are other towns and sections where the water supply is low.

The Reynoldsville Water Company i having a well drilled near the pump house to avoid being caught again with an insufficient amount of water to sup ply the demand.

TEAM OF BABIES.

Punxautawneyites Fairly Defeated and then Howl About Hard Treat-ment Received.

The Punxsutawney foot ball team went to Reynoldsville Wednesday and played the team of that place. The result was 17 to 0 in favor of Reynoldsville. The boys say they never were treated quite so badly in all their experiences as they were in this game, and spectators say it was one of the most brutal exhibitions ever witnesse on a Jefferson county gridiron.

The local team averages but one undred and fifty pounds and they were pitted against a team of glants averag-ing one-hundred and eighty pounds. Not being satisfied with out-weighing the locals thirty pounds to the man, they resorted to every low mean trick possible to injure the Punxsy players. When the officials warned them to stop their dirty tactics, not only the players, but a majority of the spec-tators, who seemed to approve of that kind of playing, called them vile names of the lowest kind.—Punssutawney

Republican,
The above item savors muchly of prevarication. A representative of THE STAR was on the grounds during the ame and the only trouble there was at game and after that the officials had n occasion to "warn them to stop their dirty tactics," and there was no interruption during game on account of The real truth of the matter is that Punxs'y boys ran up against a great sur-prise and they were compelled to fix up some excuse when they returned home, and the above is their explanation. The visitors were notified before they came over that the Reynoldsville team was too heavy for them, but they claimed to be so thoroughly acquainted with the game-skilled, if you please-that they were willing to meet the Reyn-oldsville team on the gridiron. The Reynoldsville captain wanted to play later in the week than Wednesday and the Punxs'y captain boastingly saidover telephone—"You don't dare pla is; you are afraid." Coming with th expectation of scalping the "Indians" and getting so unmercifully defeated they either had to acknowledge that Reynoldsville team was too much for them or how! "dirty football," and they oncluded to do the latter.

The Republican has had to devote considerable space at various times in explaining how Reynoldsville players took advantage of the Punxs'y in whist, handball and football. only game Punxs'y plays well is base-ball, and they hire outsiders to play that game for them.

Howe's Moving Pictures. Lyman H. Howe was greeted by arge audience at the Lyceum last even ing, when he made his annual visit with his moving pictures. From the high standard of his previous presentations, Mr. Howe has built up a fine clientele, who look forward with much anticipation to his yearly engagement.

The exhibition this year was better than any of its predecessors, more pie tures and a greater variety being pre sented. The special feature of the entertainment was the set portraying the coronation, which gave a very realistic conception of that grand ceremony, which held the attention of the whole world last August. Every detail was presented to the audience in a most ifelike manner, showing all the pomp and splendor which surrounded the erowning of King Edward VII, and Queen Alexandria.

All the pictures were distinct and there was no flickering to annoy the audience, an unpleasant characteristis of all other moving picture exhibitions, except Lyman Howe's.—New Britain Record Oct. 7, 1902. At Assembly hall Thursday evening, Dec. 11.

The Miller case from Punxsutawney was taken up Monday. The attorneys challenged jurors until only four jurors had been selected when the regular had been selected when the regular had been exhausted. list of drawn jurors had been exhausted. The court then ordered the sheriff to sue a special venire for twenty-four men and not enough jurors were select-ed out of that bunch, and another special venire for twelve men was ordered before twelve jurors were elected to try the case.

"Indians" Win a Glorious Victory.

Wednesday afternoon of last week the Indian football team of Reynoldsville added another plume to their champion-ship grown by decisively defeating the pick of Punxsutawney's athletes. The game was clean and free from ruffianism or quarrelling and with the exception of the Indians' advantage in weight, the teams seemed very evenly matched. When the elevens lined up at 3.45 a large crowd of Reynoldsville and Punxsutawney "rooters" had gathered to cheer on their favorites to victory, but It soon became apparent that the from Punxsutawney were no match for the Indians. The game in detail was a First half-The Indians kicked of to Punxs'y's ten yard line and Punxs'y was held for downs, being forced to punt, Gibson securing the ball near the middle of the field. Bohren went around right end for a gain of ten yards and Gibson around left end for same gain : Copping bundled the line for five yards and short gains by Bohren and Gibson brought the ball within twenty yards of Punxsy's goal line. On next play Gibson skirted left end for a touchdown and punted out to Williams for a fair catch. A nice goal was kicked. Score 6-0.

Williams got the next kick-off for a gan to hammer the line, Doubles, Myers, Shaffer and Henry tearing great holes in Punxsy's line. Down the field went the Indians and when within twenty yards of Punxsy's goal, time was called. Score 6-0. Second half—Copping received the kick-off and advanced ten yards before being downed. They then began i steady march to Punxsy's goal, Bohren, Gibson, Copping and Phalen making long gains with ease. On the next play Phalen, by good interference of Burns, Copping, Bohren and Williams, sprinted round right end for a touchdown Gibson's punt out was missed by Williams ; no goal. Score 11-0.

Punxs'y kicked off to Indians' twenty yard line. Burns secured the ball and ounted to center of field. By fine interference around the ends and line buck-ing the Indians advanced the ball to Punxs'y twenty yard line, then Bohren skirted the line for a touchdown, Gibson kicking the goal. Score 17-0.

With five seconds to play Punxs'y kicked to Phalen and he advanced the ball to center of field, when time was Thus ended a glorious victory for the Indians.
