STOKE'S STORE NEWS

A SEASON FOR WALL PAPER

We have a season for everything—something in season all the time, but wall paper is taking up our time now.

We have had such a demand for papers LOW IN PRICE that we have ordered a very large stock to supply the want.

So now, if you are going to do any papering, we think, we have just what you want.

Stoke's Drug Store.

A Little of Everything.

Handkerchief bazaar Friday. "A Runaway Match" to-morrow evening. William Helbig is porter at the City Hotel. Miss Robert Ayres, of Pittsburg, is visiting in town. A report of the First National bank will be found in this issue of THE STAR. County Commissioners W. C. Murray and Al. Hawk were in town yesterday. William Copping fell on a piece of scumming recently and fractured a rib on his right side. Don't forget the handkerchief bazaar at the M. E. church next Friday afternoon and evening. "The Jolly Earthquake" at Assembly hall December 15, by Dr. Russell Conwell. Don't miss it. Ensign Douglass, of Chicago, Ill., has taken charge of the Salvation Army work at Reynoldsville. The Winslow township school board met at Frank's Tavern Saturday and paid the teachers a month's salary. William Copping acted as secretary of town council last evening, in the absence of the regular secretary, L. J. McEntire. Reserved seat tickets for Howe's moving pictures will be on sale at Stoke's drug store Saturday morning, December 6. Mrs. W. H. Marshall, of Butler, and Mrs. George Curry, of Dayton, who were guests of Mrs. J. H. Corbett a week returned to their homes yesterday. Flashes of wit, sizzling epigrams, fresh jokes, quaint characters, mirth provoking complications, uproariously funny situations and side splitting mistakes, —such is "A Runaway Match." Squire W. L. Johnston lost a large pocketbook Monday morning with considerable money and several checks in it. L. L. Gourley found the pocketbook near Mr. Johnston's place of business and returned it to Mr. Johnston.

Hon. W. O. Smith, Congressman-elect from this district, does not take his seat in Congress until December, 1903. Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, J. W. Myers, pastor. Sunday school 9.30 a. m., preaching services at 11.00 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. The I. O. O. F. degree team of this place will go to Brookville soon to do some degree work in the I. O. O. F. lodge at that place. Rev. A. F. Boyd, of Limestone, Clarion county, preached two excellent sermons in the Presbyterian church at this place last Sunday. Miss Maude Meek's Sunday school class will hold a sock social at the home of Mrs. W. L. Fisher, on Hill street, December 19th. Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at Stoke's drug store on Wednesday morning of next week, December 12, for Dr. Conwell's lecture. While in Reynoldsville last week, Gen. Sweeney said: "I consider Dr. Russell Conwell the greatest lecturer on the American platform to-day." The High School orchestra played several selections in Assembly hall last Wednesday evening before Gen. Sweeney began his lecture. The orchestra is a good musical organization. Seth Poorman, of Yarnell, Centre county, and Miss Allice Henry, of Roland, were married at the Reformed parsonage in Troutville on Thanksgiving day by Rev. S. Charles Stover. We failed to mention in our last issue the death of Frank McClarren, which occurred on 21st of November. Mr. McClarren resided near Prescottville. His death was caused by typhoid fever. He was buried in the cemetery at Sykesville. The well that was drilled for the Reynoldsville Water Company, near pump house, was put down to depth of 120 feet when a good flow of water was struck and the drill was stopped. The water from this well will only be used in case of emergency. DuBois and Ridgway football teams played a game at the latter place on Thanksgiving day, and DuBois was defeated. Score 5-0. Two Reynoldsville players were in the game. Atmore Shaffer played with Ridgway and Reynolds Gibson with the DuBois team. A tramp called at THE STAR office Saturday and wanted money enough to get a cup of coffee, claiming affiliation with the profession. When interrogated he confessed that his claim was based on the fact that he has a brother-in-law who is a proof reader on the New York Journal. The snappers in the New Bethlehem Window Glass Works struck on Monday and are yet out. During the shutdown last week they were allowed for three days. They claim they are entitled to full time. There appears to be a disagreement, which we hope will be adjusted soon.—New Bethlehem Vindicator. J. F. Kuntz and Miss Bertha V. London, both of Troutville, were married at the Reformed parsonage in Troutville on Thanksgiving day by Rev. S. Charles Stover, pastor of Reformed church at Troutville. After the marriage a reception was tendered them at the home of the groom's parents. A sumptuous repast was served. Remember when you are asked to buy tickets for Howe's moving pictures and Dr. Conwell's lecture that you will not only get the worth of your money from the entertainments, but you will also be helping along one of the best institutions in town for young men, and that is the Young Men's Reading Association, as these two entertainments are given under the auspices of the above association. The local coal shippers were informed last week that the P. R. R. Co. could not furnish them with any more cars, and a number of the farm teams were sent home, but the matter has been adjusted and the company will continue to furnish cars when possible. It would require twenty-two cars a day to fill the orders, but the company cannot furnish that many cars daily. Hauling coal to railroad on wagons is giving employment to a large number of teams and men and is putting considerable money in circulation in this section. It would be a good thing for the community if it would become a regular business. The management of Reynolds opera house has secured that funniest of farces, "A Runaway Match" for Thursday evening, Dec. 4. This is the cleverest point of construction and humorous merit that has been written in several years. It is the greatest laughing success of the present theatrical season. The author describes it as an "effervescent comedy." It has all the sparkle of a glass of champagne and all the iridescent brilliancy of a diamond. The plot that hinges on the mistake over the unexpected presence of two eloping couples at a country inn, has a dash and ginger that has seldom been equalled in modern farce. Ludicrous situations and complications crowd upon each other in rapid succession, and the entire piece is enlivened with a quick fire of squibs, jokes, epigrams. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store.

Shooting Accident. Fred Mock, a fifteen-year-old boy of Camp Run, accidentally shot himself in left hand Thanksgiving day with a 22-calibre Flobert rifle. Two or three of his fingers were badly lacerated but he will not lose them. Reading Room. The attendance at the Young Men's Reading Association rooms during month of November was 451. The conduct in the rooms was excellent, but conduct in hall was not so good. It is expected that young men and boys who visit the reading rooms will behave in the hall as well as in the reading rooms. Opening Old Mine. Four or five gentlemen have organized a coal company and are opening the old Rocky Bend mine at Fuller, six miles west of Reynoldsville. Considerable coal was shipped from this mine a number of years ago and eight or ten company houses were built near the mine. The mine was abandoned some years ago and the company houses torn down. Wants a New Leg. John Reed, a coal miner of Glen Richey, formerly of this place, who lost his left leg when a little boy, was solicited aid from business men in Reynoldsville Saturday to buy himself a new wooden leg. Mr. Reed bought a wooden leg five years ago, but it is wearing out and he is compelled to buy a new one. He raised $30.00 in Reynoldsville. Mr. Reed is very thankful for the liberal manner in which the people responded to his request for aid. Railroad Wreck Near Iowa. A P. R. R. freight train was wrecked at Iowa, nine miles west of Reynoldsville, early Monday morning, causing a delay of several hours with some of the passenger trains. The train due here at 12.52 p. m. was about four hours late arriving here. Cause of wreck is unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by a brake dropping down and catching in switch frog. There was a pusher on the train, which made the wreck worse than it would otherwise have been. Six or seven cars were wrecked. A Bold Little Scheme. Three small girls worked a money-getting-scheme on a number of families on Grant and Hill streets Sunday afternoon that must have been concocted by older heads, as the meanness would hardly be conceived by such youngsters. The girls called at the different homes and claimed that the lady of the house owned them five cents for berries they had delivered during the summer. The girls put on a bold face and seemed to be so earnest in making the demand that they got the money, although the parties from whom they got the money had no recollection of owing the girls for berries. Are Parents Not Interested? Thanksgiving exercises, program of which was published in the town papers, was held in Assembly hall last Wednesday afternoon by high school pupils, but there were no visitors present, to the disappointment of the teacher of the high school and the pupils who took part on program. Prof. Kern mentioned the matter to editor of THE STAR in the presence of Gen. Sweeney, and he said: "It is a fact that parents do not take the interest in such matters that they should. If I had a man training a colt for me I would go out two or three times a day to see how he was getting along with it, but parents don't seem to take that much interest in their children." P. T. Walsh Had Narrow Escape. P. T. Walsh, West Reynoldsville groceryman, had a miraculous escape from instant death last Wednesday evening. Mr. Walsh has a trap-door behind one of his counters for inside entrance into cellar. Wednesday evening Mr. Walsh raised the door and had gone into cellar, but returned for a lantern. He picked up lantern to light it and just then his wife spoke to him. He talk to her a few minutes, standing with his back to cellar opening. When ready to light lantern he felt in his pocket for match, and not having one he turned quickly to go to other side of store for match and stepped into the cellar opening. He fell about ten feet, head first. His head struck the sharp end of a large block in the cellar, cutting an ugly gash on left side of his head. It required six or seven stitches to sew up the wound. Mrs. L. L. Gourley entertained the Presbyterian Book Club last Thursday evening. A nice china dinner set would make a very good Christmas present. You can save money by buying it at C. F. Hoffman's. Ways Mufflets in all colors at Millirens. Gooder, the jeweler, always keeps the largest and best line of jewelry, clocks and watches, cut glass, umbrellas and silverware in Reynoldsville. New neckwear arriving daily at Millirens. Full guaranteed jewelry at reasonable prices at Cash New York Racket store. Try a cup of coffee at the City Hotel restaurant. It is the correct idea. Those who have tried our want columns find it pays to do so.

GEN. SWEENEY'S LECTURE. "The Golden Age" was His Theme—It was Full of Wit and Sense. The first number of the public school lecture course for 1902-03 was given in Assembly hall last Wednesday evening by Gen. Z. T. Sweeney, of Columbus, Ind., before a fair sized and very appreciative audience. His subject was "The Golden Age," and it was full of humor, wit, pathos and eloquence. Mr. Sweeney has the happy faculty of combining the instructive with the entertaining, and for one hour and a half he held the audience with magnetic force. Mr. Sweeney is the sort of a man to see the very things that will most interest an audience, and being a scholar and thinker, he is able to invest these with unusual interest. Mr. Sweeney is a forcible and entertaining speaker, and his audience would certainly be the better for having heard him lecture. Thanksgiving Services. The Union Thanksgiving services held in the Presbyterian church last Thursday forenoon had about the usual sized congregation, but it was entirely too small for the large number of church going people there are in Reynoldsville. For some reason the people do not take interest in Thanksgiving services. True the hour does not suit many of the ladies who are expected to get up a big dinner for Thanksgiving, but what excuse have the male members of the churches to offer for non-attendance? In some places Thanksgiving services are held in the evening, and, no doubt, a larger congregation would attend in this place if the services were held in the evening instead of morning. It would be a good idea to try it next year. Allen-Earle Stock Co. The Allen-Earle Stock company, that filled a three-night engagement at the Reynolds opera house last week, and Monday night of this week, is a strong repertoire organization, and they succeeded in pleasing the Reynoldsville theatre-going people. Thursday night the company played "The California Detective," a piece full of romance, sensation and comedy, with a realistic fire scene at close of first act. Friday evening the "Two Orphans" was well presented, and Saturday evening "The Exile of Erwin." Having an open date Monday night the company remained here and played, "The Old Homestead." They play four nights this week at St. Marys. Shot Eight Deer. Jacob Deible, Henry C. Deible, Dr. S. Reynolds, Lawyer C. Mitchell, Lawyer G. M. McDonald, Dr. J. B. Neale, David Postlethwait and Henry Iseman, who were over in Elk county deer hunting, got eight deer, an average of a deer apiece, but whether any of these hunters shot more deer than the law allows —two in a season—they are not telling. Daugherty-Corbin. A. E. Daugherty and Miss Amy May Corbin, both of Allens Mills, were married at the Baptist parsonage in Reynoldsville December 2nd, 1902, by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek. Card of Thanks. We take this method of expressing our heartfelt thanks and sincere gratitude to our friends for their kind assistance and words of sympathy in the hour of our sad bereavement. Your kindness will not soon be forgotten. M. PHALEN AND FAMILY. Card of Thanks. We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the death of our mother. MR. AND MRS. J. P. HASKINS. Miss Ella E. Seeley will have the finest display of painted fancy work that has ever been shown here, 35 water colors, pen drawings, oils, the new wood painting, etched wood, also painted neck ties, turn over collars. Will be on exhibition Dec. 17 in Millirens windows, so many things just new, wait for it. Reserved seat tickets for Howe's Moving pictures will be on sale at Stoke's drug store at 8 a. m., next Saturday, December 6. I have hired an experienced dressmaker and in addition to my fine line of millinery I will do sewing. My prices will be right and I will guarantee to please my customers. Mrs. Lizzie Smith, in the Murray building. The time has come when I will give you a good low price on carpets, stoves, lamps and dishes, as I must reduce my stock so my loss is your gain. C. R. Hall. Santa Claus has brought us a fine line of Christmas candy to be sold at 10 cents per pound. Cash New York Racket store. Don't forget the musical entertainment at Millirens Saturday afternoon and evening on the Singer piano they are ready to give away. Ward-Mackey Co.'s bread by special express at W. H. Moore's, Main street. The holidays are now near, now is the time to select your Christmas presents and have them laid away while the stock of watches, jewelry, cut glass and silverware is complete. All goods are engraved free at Gooder's, the jeweler. A gold watch is one of the nicest presents you can buy for Christmas. The largest and best assortment to select from at C. F. Hoffman's.

Street Paving. When the street car line begins the work of laying track on Main street, which will hardly be before next spring, then town council will be compelled to rip up Main street, at least that portion where street car line will run over, as the plank paving is almost gone in some places now, and to cut seven or eight feet out of centre for street car line simply means to destroy the plank paving, and something more substantial will have to be laid, and the matter might as well be taken up immediately so that when spring opens there will be no delay in getting things ready for paving. This is a matter that will force itself on the borough not later than spring. Why not begin now? The St. Marys Gazette say: "No possible expenditure of public moneys will yield one-tenth of the benefit to a town that will result from the laying of a good macadam or similar pavement. Every live town is asking itself if it can afford the necessary outlay. There can be no doubt in this respect. The experience of hundreds of towns in the land proves that the increase in taxes from the enhanced value of property is greater than the expense incurred." Handkerchief Bazaar. The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will hold a handkerchief bazaar in the basement of the church on Friday, December 5th, during the afternoon and evening. The ladies have been making preparations for this bazaar for sometime and they will have a fine lot of handkerchieves to sell. Ice cream and cake will be served during the afternoon and evening. A committee will be at the church Thursday afternoon and Friday morning to receive any handkerchieves that are donated. Please send them in. Hawthorne Musical Club. The second attraction of the public school lecture course will be the Hawthorne Musical Club. This will be here Jan. 29. This club presents a varied programme which always pleases its audience. Each member is an artist in his line and therefore the club presents selections from the masters as well as from popular composers. The club is an up-to-date musical organization and it promises to give us an excellent programme. Letter List. List of unclaimed letters remaining in post office at Reynoldsville, Pa., for the week ending Nov. 29, 1902: Edgar Row, Miss Annie Hlockok, E. J. Conroy, Esq., Collins Cigar Co., Thomas Duffy, Miss Pler Anthony, N. R. Barnett, Wm. McKinley, Miss Nina Johnston, Frank Hammond. Dr. J. F. Wood. Say advertised and give date of list when calling for above. E. C. BURNS, P. M. During the recent dry spell, when the water was scarce and the electric light company could not run street lights for want of water, the company had a well dug near the power house and is now using water from the well instead of using town water. Fancy colored stationery at reasonable prices. Cash New York Racket store. I have just bought direct from the manufacturer the largest stock of cuff buttons ever brought to Jefferson Co., and in order to reduce this stock and to give holiday buyers a chance to secure bargains, I will offer the entire stock at 15 per cent off, Dec. 4th, 5th and 6th. C. F. HOFFMAN. WANTED—A second hand heating stove. Inquire at Frank's Tavern. New line of skirts just received in snow flake effect at Millirens. Jewelry an endless variety in brooches, stick pins, emblon pins, cuff buttons, neck charms, gent's and ladies' watch charms, gent's fobs, &c., at Gooder's, the jeweler. Doubles for butterine.

Trolley Line. Elmer E. Beck, of Punxsutawney, who was the Democratic candidate for Register and Recorder at recent election, was in Reynoldsville this week soliciting advertisements to be placed in the electric cars that will run between Reynoldsville and Punxsutawney. He met with good success. The trolley line has been laid from corner of Jackson and Bradford streets out almost to J. J. Sutter's residence, and would have been laid down Jackson street some distance had it not been for the fact that the Oil City Fuel Supply Co. served notice on the trolley line company Saturday that they were laying track over the gas line and Mr. Kipp sent the crew of men from this end of line to Wishaw on Monday to work until the matter was adjusted with the gas company people, which was amicably settled Monday forenoon. There will be three through cars between Reynoldsville and Punxsutawney. A car will leave this place every half hour. On the Eleanor end of trolley line the track was laid as far as the dam near the Wishaw coal tipple on Monday. "A Runaway Match." It is a generally accepted fact that the chief purpose of the stage is to amuse. It is the consensus of opinion that the theatre should furnish the necessary relaxation to the average man and woman of business, who seek to escape for a few hours each week from the grinding commercialism that characterizes the present age. It was the recognition of this social truth that impelled the production this season of that funniest of all plays "A Runaway Match" that makes its initial appearance in this city at the opera house Thursday evening, Dec. 4. The author of this merry comedy wrote that successful play "Brown's in Town" that has made thousands laugh, both in this country and across the water, for the last three years. The piece is so dexterously constructed that it is a veritable tangle of ludicrous mistakes, where a group of eccentric characters are perpetually playing at cross-purposes, with the result that at the end of the second act everything is topsy-turvy, and the most side-splitting situations, and amusing complications ensue. "A Runaway Match" contains some of the most clever people in the theatrical profession. Among them is Bertha Willson, America's greatest comedienne who has been a leading member of some of the best organizations, Miss Allice Williams as a soubrette has few equals. Her dainty and artistic work makes her popular with audiences everywhere. She will positively appear with "A Runaway Match," at opera house Thursday night. Horses for Sale. I will be at the barn of Frank's Tavern, in Reynoldsville, on Tuesday, December 9, with twenty head of draft and driving horses for sale or exchange. This will be your opportunity to get a good horse at a bargain, for the horses must be sold in three or four days, as I want to go home to spend the winter. GRANT SHUSTEL. Strictly Cash Business. On and after Monday, November 17, 1902, I will do only a strictly cash business with all my customers, therefore, it will be useless to ask for credit. My business compels me to adopt the cash system. JOHN B. TAPHORN, Prop. Reynoldsville Steam Laundry. An electrical current at high tension is the only parallel that can adequately describe the hilarious comedy, "A Runaway Match" that makes its initial appearance at the opera house Thursday night, Dec. 4. See the new models in corsets at Millirens. Edison phonographs, Victor talking machines, horns, Edison moulded records for sale at Gooder's the jeweler. Always over 200 records in stock to select from. Cold weather footwear at Millirens. Large stock of gent's rings at C. F. Hoffman's. Ladies' and gent's fancy golf gloves at the Cash New York Racket store. "Mother's Bread" at W. H. Moore's. Did you see the fine line of lockets at Gooder's, if not come and see them. No matter how you make it, no matter how you bake it, no matter what it costs—You can beat Mother's Bread. Fresh daily at W. H. Moore's, Main st.

COMMITTED SUICIDE ON MAIN STREET. An Unknown Man Sent a Bullet Through His Brain. HIS IDENTITY HAS NOT YET BEEN PROVED. It is Said He Claimed to be from Lock Haven—Body has been Embalmed. Hundreds View the Corpse. About 8.25 p. m. on Friday of last week a man, whose identity is unknown, committed suicide on Main street, almost opposite THE STAR office, by shooting himself in the head. We were sitting in THE STAR office talking to Louis O. Mellinger when the awful deed was done and were startled by the loud report of a pistol shot, and remarked to Mr. Mellinger that some one was shooting, and got up and looked out the window, but did not see anybody around and sat down again and talked to Mr. Mellinger 15 or 20 minutes and then he left the office, but was only gone a couple of minutes when he ran back and said a man had shot himself. About the time Mr. Mellinger left THE STAR office Daniel Mathias was going home on opposite side of street and found the man lying near sidewalk and thought he was drunk. He shook the man, but he showed no signs of life and Mathias called Mellinger across the street, and the two men rolled the man over and saw the revolver which the man had used in the shooting. They ran to THE STAR office and then for a doctor. We ran across the street and lighted a match to get a good look at man and saw that he had shot himself in the head, as near the center of head as it was possible to get it. The man was dead and probably had died instantly when bullet entered his brain. He did not select a lonely spot to commit suicide, but did it in a busy part of the city on an are light. He must have been standing near edge of sidewalk, with back to Main street, when he pulled the revolver to his head and placed the trigger, as he fell face first on the little embankment on upper side of sidewalk. He used a new revolver, 32-calibre, five-shooter. Only one chamber of the revolver was empty when found. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of J. H. Hughes and a large number of people looked at the dead man, but no one claimed to recognize him until Saturday noon when James McFadden, of West Reynoldsville, said that the man's name was Motter and that he came from the neighborhood of Heathville, but inquiry was made by telephone and no one knew the man. There were no papers in the man's pockets to give any clue regarding his name or residence, but the laundry mark on his shirt was L. O. Motter. Coroner Dr. E. V. Kyle, of Richardsville, was notified of the man's death and he came to Reynoldsville Saturday noon and held an inquest. The jury, empaneled and sworn to by Judge, foreman Samuel P. Reynolds, Nilsen Cooper, C. A. Stephenson, L. F. Hotrick and Jacob Deible. Four witnesses, Louis Mellinger, L. J. McEntire, T. E. Evans and Mr. Smith, appeared before the jury, but from the evidence submitted there was only one verdict to render, and that was, "suicide, death from his own hands." An effort has been made to find where the man came from but the effort has proven fruitless so far. He came from direction of Brookville Friday. Got his dinner at Hatten's store in Emerickville Friday. Got a Philadelphia Inquirer at Hotel Imperial Friday evening and set in the hotel office reading about an hour, from 7.00 to 8.00, and then left the hotel and stopped at M. Plyler's meat shop and asked if there was a policeman or some other officer around. Said he was hungry, had no money and no place to sleep. Mr. Plyler gave him 15 cents to get a lunch. A light snow fell Friday evening and Saturday morning it was discovered by tracks, which were measured by Squire E. Neff, and were found to be tracks of the suicide, that he had walked up almost to the Sunday school room door of Baptist church, then turned around and walked back to front of church and then walked across corner of lawn and up to place where he killed himself. It is probable that the man had walked beside the church to kill himself and then decided to seek another place to do the shooting. The man was comfortably dressed. His body was clean, had on new and clean underwear, good shoes and wore a good hat. Had on a pair of brown overalls. There was an ugly scar on right side of neck which was not altogether healed, which led a number of people to think that it was the mark of an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide once before. When the overalls were removed it was discovered that his pants were covered with old dried blood, no doubt blood from wound in neck. It is possible that the man had gotten out of a hospital or jail only a few days before he committed suicide. Sunday the body was placed on a chair in sitting posture, with hat on his head and a picture was taken of him. The man looked as if he had fallen asleep sitting in the chair. Mr. Hughes embalmed the body and will try to keep it until next week in hopes that he will be able to find the man's relatives, if he had any. The body is in good condition this morning. The man told Mr. Hatten at Emerickville Friday that he came from Centre county, and he told Philip Guthrie at this place Friday evening that his home was at Lock Haven. Yesterday forenoon Mr. and Mrs. Linderman, of Rathmel, went to see the dead man and said his name was Joseph Bailey, and to make the identity positive that Bailey had a scar on right foot. The man's shoes were removed and there was a scar on the foot as described. A telephone message was sent to Shawmut, where Mr. Bailey lives, and Bailey's son talked to Mr. Hughes and said his father was at home, but added that his father could be identified by a scar on his right knee and right foot. The body was examined again and there was a scar on right knee. Mr. Jackson, superintendent of Shawmut mines, was called to phone and he said that he lives near Bailey Monday and that Bailey was at work.
