Kyle, of Richardsville, died of hydrophobia on Monday of last week. This is Parents' and Patrons' Day in the public schools. Have you time to visit the schools this afternoon? A number of Reynoldsville people will attend "The Toreadors" in the Avenue theatre at DuBois to-night. Tickets now on sale at Stoke's drug store for "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the opera house Thursday evening of this week. Price 25, 35 and 50 cents.

The special meetings that were being held in the Methodist and Baptist churches have closed. Rev. J. C. McEntire is holding a very interesting and successful revival meeting in the Paradise M. E. church. Mr. M. C. Coleman gave a brief but timely talk at the chapel exercises of the public schools last Monday morning. The Republicans, Democrats and Prohibitionists of this borough have nominated their tickets for February election. See list in this issue. The Democrats of West Reynoldsville will meet in the town hall of that borough this evening and nominate a ticket for the February election. On account of the entertainment in Assembly hall on Thursday evening the M. E. prayer meeting will be held this evening at 7.30. One of the rooms in Brookville schools was closed last week on account of measles. The Brookville Democrat says sixteen cases were developed in that room—No. 5. Miss Ella E. Seetley, the artist, washed her hair several days ago and was drying hair over a fire when there was a blaze and a scream. She has a good head of hair left. Notwithstanding the fact that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is an old play and that there are many old jokes cracked every time the show comes this way, it always draws a large crowd. Rev. John H. Cooper, of Piedmont, West Va., will give a short address at the Presbyterian prayer meeting this evening. The prayer service this evening will not begin until 7.45. The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will hold a dime social in the basement of the church on Friday evening of next week, February 5th. Light refreshments will be served. Sun & Fowler's beautiful production of "Circumstantial Evidence" was witnessed in the Reynolds opera house last night by a good sized audience who were well pleased with the production. William Esterline, Big Run's popular miller, was in Reynoldsville Friday. Mr. Esterline had his right arm broken a couple of weeks ago by having it caught in a belt in his mill. His arm is still in a tin box. Dominic Zelprincope had his collar bone broken and right hip dislocated by the fall of slate in Big Soldier mine on Tuesday of last week when Castro Creole was killed. The men were working together when accident occurred. Mr. Ninian Cooper, one of our highly respected citizens, who has been indisposed for several weeks, was not able to attend the funeral of his brother, James Cooper, who was buried in Beechwoods cemetery Sunday afternoon. Two sleighting parties were booked for last evening, but the rain disappointed the young people. One load intended going to Emanuel Sebugar's, Emerickville, and the other load was going to Jonathan Deemer's, Paradise. Some of the country roads have been badly drifted this winter. In some sections men were at work the first of this week shoveling the snow off the roads so that the teams could travel the roads and not be compelled to go through fields. Joseph Taylor was arraigned before Squire E. Neff Monday on the charge of willfully and maliciously breaking and destroying one of the large plate glass windows in front of City Hotel. The case was settled by Taylor paying $30.00 for window and all costs. Program for the Mothers' Club meeting to be held in Assembly Hall on Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock: Piano solo, Mrs. A. J. Meek; recitation, Margaret Stoke; address, "Ethics, Morals and Manners;" discussion. An invitation is extended to all mothers and friends of education. L. J. Marshall, collector and salesman for the Merris Beef Co. of DuBois, who is well known by a number in Reynoldsville, has been transferred to Ridgway to work for the Merris Beef Co. at that place. He will have a better position with the company than he had at DuBois. The act of Assembly of 1895 provides that high constables be elected the same year that constables are elected and are to serve three years. West Reynoldsville is without a high constable and for that reason a high constable will be elected in that borough next month for a term of two years. There was a large congregation at the Baptist church Sunday evening, the church was crowded and a number were compelled to go away because they could not get into the church. Fifteen persons were baptised. At next Sunday morning service about twenty new members will be taken into the church, followed by communion service. Mrs. G. M. McDonald and Miss Margaret Dally were at Brookwayville Friday attending the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. James G. Dally, who died at Fredonia, N. Y., and was buried at Brookwayville Friday afternoon. The deceased was the wife of Prof. Dally, the noted singer, who has sung before Reynoldsville audiences several times.

Getting New Engine. Verstine, Hibbard & Co., coal operators at Fuller, have ordered a 25-ton steam winder engine for their coal works at Fuller. The engine now in use on their railroad up the mountain is too light to do the work. Mock-Leap Year Party. Some of the gentler sex of Reynoldsville gave a mock-leap year party in Frank's pavilion last Thursday evening. There were twenty-two couples present. Elegant refreshments were served. Of course the gentlemen enjoyed the party. The ladies paid all the expenses. Leg Broken Coasting. Katie Nowak, aged seven years, daughter of Thomas Nowak, had her left leg broken below the knee last Friday while coasting down Bradford street to Jefferson Supply Company store. That was the third broken leg in Reynoldsville last week as the result of coasting. McGinness-Mohney. Andrew McGinness and Miss Helen Ella Mohney, of Prescottville, were married at the M. E. parsonage in Reynoldsville at 6.00 p. m. on Wednesday, January 21, 1903, by Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of the M. E. church. This young couple are well known and their friends are numerous. New Parsonage. At an official meeting one day last week the M. E. congregation of Brookville resolved to build a parsonage the coming summer that will cost about $3,500. The present parsonage building will be moved to the rear of the lot, and the new one will occupy the place thus vacated. It will be of brick, and will be a fine house.—Brookville Democrat. Wear a Carnation. To-morrow, January 29th, is McKinley's birthday and the McKinley Carnation League of Ohio has issued a call for all to observe the day by wearing a carnation in the coat lapel. There is opposition to having any more legal holidays and this simple observance of the day, without interference to business duties, is all that the league contemplates. Visited Their Pastor. Rev. J. C. McEntire, of West Reynoldsville, who is now pastor of Rathmel M. E. church, was surprised Monday forenoon when a large sled load of lady members of the Rathmel church drove up to his residence, bringing their dinners with them and also a large supply of eatables as a donation for the pastor. The ladies also gave Mr. McEntire a generously filled purse. It proved to be a very pleasant occasion for the ladies and the pastor and his wife. Back Badly Injured. A. J. Kunselman, of Summersville, a carpenter who was working with P. R. R. bridge crew on the bridge west of the cut just below town, was badly injured Saturday forenoon. One end of a piece of bridge timber that was being taken off the old bridge struck Mr. Kunselman on back. It was first thought that the man was fatally injured, but the doctor thinks he will be able to work again in four weeks. Kunselman was taken to Summersville Saturday afternoon, where he has a wife and seven children. Death from Typhoid Fever. Miss Ora Greenwalt, aged 10 years the 15th of last September, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenwalt, died at the home of her parents on Main street at 8.45 p. m. Thursday, January 22, 1903, from typhoid fever. Funeral service was held in the M. E. church at 2.00 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Reno. The church was crowded. Ora was a very pretty girl, had a genial disposition and was well liked by her many friends. She worked in the silk mill for some time and a large number of the silk workers attended the funeral. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. New Cars to Run Soon. The trolley cars are still stopping at the Jefferson Supply Co. store in this borough on account of the crossing not being put in over the R. & F. C. R'y. It is expected that this work will be done soon. The trolley company expects to have the new cars running between Reynoldsville and Punsutawney next week. One of the cars has been running between Anita and Punsutawney and the Punsy's Spirit says: "It is only ten feet shorter than a regular railroad coach and is quite as comfortable and convenient. There are two compartments in car, the front being reserved exclusively for passengers with a seating capacity of thirty-two, while the rear can be used as a baggage car and passenger coach, having accommodations for twenty-eight persons. Both ends of the car are provided with vestibule extension for the motormen. Two more of the same make were shipped Monday and when in operation the company will have one of the best equipped lines in this section of the country." $1.85, $1.85, $1.95 wool lined duck-rolled edge duck rubbers—only $1.39. A Correction. "John Spears has the small-pox. His brother George died from the same disease about a month ago in Pittsburg. The boy's father had George's clothes brought home when they should have been burnt."—DuBois Searchlight Jan. 17, 1903, from Reynoldsville correspondent. The above item insinuates broadly that John Spears' case of small-pox, or varioloid, developed from his brother's clothing. At the request of Mr. Spears, we will state the facts in the case. In the first place George Spears died Oct. 17, 1902, three months before the above item was published. After the trunk was thoroughly fumigated, or disinfected, by a Pittsburg doctor, who was a warm friend of George Spears, then it was given a second fumigation by the health officers of Pittsburg. It was then shipped to Reynoldsville by express, delivered to Mr. Spears' residence by the expressman, set in an unoccupied room, opened by George Engle, who took some important papers out of top of trunk and the trunk was then closed and has not been opened since. John Spears lives in a house several doors away from his father and he did not even see his brother's trunk. How Our State Got Its Name. Many people are under the impression that Pennsylvania owes its name to William Penn's vanity. In point of fact, it is not named after him, but after the Admiral Penn, his father, says an exchange. This fact is proved by this paragraph in a letter written by William Penn under date of January 5, 1881: "This day, after many writings, watchings, sollicitings and disputes in council, my country was confirmed to me under the great seal of England with large powers and privileges, by the name of Pennsylvania a name which the King would give it in favor of my father. I chose New Wales, being a hilly country, and when the secretary, a Welshman, refused to call it New Wales I proposed Sylvania, and I added Penn to it, though I was much opposed to it and went to the King to have it struck out. He said it was past and he would not take it upon him." Baby Nearly Drowned. Phillip, 13-month-old son of Raffael Grieco, the Italian tailor, barber and shoemaker whose place of business is next door to Wm. Burge's grocery store, had a narrow escape from drowning in a bucket of dirty water Monday forenoon. Mr. Grieco lives in rooms in rear of his shop and the little fellow was toddling around through shop and got back in a corner where there was a candy bucket half full of water. In some manner the little fellow fell into bucket headfirst. No one saw the baby fall into bucket, but the father happened to see the little feet sticking over top of bucket. Phillip was almost a "goner" when taken out of the water. "The Last Days of St. Pierre." As the third number of the public school lecture course, Frank R. Roberson, the famous illustrated lecturer, will present the subject announced above. This lecture is new, timely, beautiful and very instructive. Less than a year ago Mt. Pelee erupted and St. Pierre was almost annihilated. A few days after this catastrophe Mr. Roberson was near the scene preparing illustrations for his lecture and these, therefore, represent scenes and places true to nature. Mr. Roberson's reputation, his ability to entertain and interest, to picture life and people brightly in detail, is well established. An Editor Appointed. Ezra S. Gray, one of the editors of the DuBois Courier, has been appointed secretary of the senate committee on appropriations. It is a nice little "plum." The Courier "boomed" Senator A. E. Patton during the campaign and the Senator did not forget the Courier when he had a few "plums" at his disposal. Mr. Gray is capable of filling the position and is entitled to it. When a newspaper gives a candidate its entire support it does him as much, if not more good than all his other friends combined, and yet the newspaper is frequently the last to receive any of the favors to be distributed. False Report. It was reported yesterday that a case of small pox had developed in the home of a family named Carberry at Reynoldsville.—DuBois Courier Jan. 26. The above was a false report. There has not been a new case of small-pox reported in Reynoldsville this month and the last quarantine was removed yesterday, or will be removed to-day, and then there will not be a small-pox quarantined house in Reynoldsville. A new steam table has been installed in the City Hotel restaurant which will make this restaurant complete in every detail. You can at all times get a good warm lunch. W. M. Dillman, and efficient and experienced restaurant man, presides over this department. $1.00 underwear for 76c at Millirens. Carnations at Berto's. Read Millirens muslin underwear ad. 25 per cent off on all overcoats. Bing-Stoke Co.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., the best known aggregation on the road, still presenting the old play, is at the academy and played twice yesterday to fairly good houses. The old story, which has been told and read and sung and played thousands of times, never loses its drawing power, its strength and real pathos, and it is a poor company which cannot win applause before an American audience in the fine story. The cast of the Stetson company is very large and all the parts in the story are taken, even to there being two Marks, the lawyer. The play, as presented, was very effective, the scenery, a large amount of which the company carries, was well adapted to the character of the performance and the music by the company's own orchestra was good. Some of the specialty work was excellent, the plantation dancing being of a high order. The company is playing a matinee this afternoon and will give a final performance this evening.—Saginaw (Mich.) Evening News. At the Reynolds opera house to-morrow evening, January 29. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Two Editors take a Trip. Neighbor Wray, of the Leechburg Advance, and the Corporal went down to Harrisburg Monday evening to attend the annual meeting of the State Editorial Association, and incidentally to see that the new governor was properly inaugurated. Everything passed off all right. The bands played, the marchers marched and Samuel said his little piece without blubbering. He had a kind of "geth'erin" of the neighbors at his house in the evening, to shake hands and get better acquainted. The Advance man and the Corporal dropped in during the evening, shook hands with the Governor, Mrs. Governor and all the little Governors. Samuel was real friendly to us, told us to take off our things and make ourselves to hum, which we did. Having just moved in Mrs. Pennypacker had not time to get up a regular meal, but she had set a piece on the kitchen table for everybody who cared to take a snack. The "vittels" were real good and we hope when the Pennypackers get settled down they will give another party.—Freeport Journal. Hawthorne Musical Club. The entertainment was easily the best of the season. It is a matter of regret that such a first class organization could not have been secured for the entire week.—Newburyport (Mass.) News. An entertainment of excellent character and thoroughly enjoyed. Every member of the Company is an artist. The descriptive pieces were delightfully interesting.—Whitehall (N. Y.) Times. The occasion was a happy one and the Hawthorne Club left behind it an enviable record. The selections were brim full of wit and humor and the reward was constant and hearty applause.—Newport (R. I.) Herald. This club will give an entertainment in Assembly hall Thursday evening of this week under the direction of the public schools. The doors will be opened at 7.30 and the entertainment will begin at 8.15. Tickets may be secured at Stoke's drug store. Teach Your Daughter to Work. Any American girl is possibly, and probably, going to need to fall back upon her own resources some time. The ups and downs of fortune are too certain, too conspicuous, to need pointing out. To bring up a girl without any training in a useful occupation is not simply imprudent and foolish, but it is wicked. Feminine character needs independence to make and keep it sweet and perfect. The darkest tragedies of life grow out of the ignorance, helplessness and dependence of women. Courage, training in work, independence of character and self-reliance—these, with high ideals of womanhood, for inspiration, are what every girl needs. Only through intelligent work can the highest character be attained, and the growth of character is the whole purpose of this school which we call "the world."—February Woman's Home Companion. Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the title of a really big company, which under the personal management of Mr. Leon Washburn, whose name is most favorably associated with up-to-date amusements, is to appear at the Reynolds opera house Thursday evening, Jan. 29. The company comprises thirty people, including a dozen specialty artists, two quartettes, a superb orchestra, and many colored comedians, who add to the big production not a little, by their spontaneous wit and clever singing and dancing. Watch for the big parade. Card of Thanks. We take this method of expressing our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors for their kind assistance during the sickness and after the death of our daughter and sister. H. F. GREENAWALT AND FAMILY. Leave your orders at Berto's for a carnation to wear to-morrow. Bargains in every department at Millirens.

AN OLD SETTLER GONE. James Cooper Died at His Home in Beechwoods Last Friday Morning. James Cooper, one of the old patriarchs of Beechwoods settlement, and a brother of our townsman, Ninian Cooper, peacefully folded his hands and closed his eyes in death at 7.45 a. m. Friday, January 23rd, 1903, on the old homestead where his parents located about 77 years ago. James Cooper was born in Tyrone County, Ireland, February 13, 1818, making him 84 years, 11 months and 10 days old at time of death. He was the oldest son of William and Martha Cooper. When James was five years old, in 1823, his parents emigrated to America, locating at Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., where they resided three years and then moved to Beechwoods, James then being a lad eight years old. His parents settled on a section of wilderness that afterwards was transformed into a splendid farm and is now known as the old Cooper homestead. At that time the section of country lying between Punsutawney and Brookwayville and Luthersburg and Brookville was a vast wilderness, where wild animals roamed at will. James Cooper had four brothers and one sister, all of whom but one brother, Mr. Ninian Cooper of Reynoldsville, have ended their earthly pilgrimage. His father died February 14, 1847, and his mother died April 11, 1876. His brothers and sisters died on following dates: John, April 9, 1900, at Clarion; Hugh, June 26, 1894; William, August 6, 1875; Mrs. Elizabeth Bond, Brookwayville, October 16, 1902. James Cooper was married to Martha Isabel Patton October 23, 1845. Unto them seven sons and one daughter were born, all of whom, but one son, survive the father. William resides on the homestead in Beechwoods, Robert and Samuel are in Kansas, John lives in Iowa, James S. at Brookwayville, Elmer and Martha on the homestead. Hugh died April 24, 1874. James Cooper's wife died October 3, 1900. Mrs. Cooper was born in October, married in October, joined the Presbyterian church in October and died in October. Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper joined the Presbyterian church in 1846. Politically, James Cooper was a Republican. He was elected assessor of Washington township in 1839, the year he became of age, when Washington and Winslow townships were one township. He afterwards held almost every office in the township, was supervisor, constable, school director and poor overseer at different times. He never learned a trade, but was a farmer all his life. He was never known to have a lawsuit, never sued a man nor was he ever sued. He was never under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was not much of a traveler and was never outside of the adjoining counties of Elk, Clearfield, Indiana and Clarion during the 77 years he resided in Beechwoods. He was an honest, upright Scotch-Irish farmer, always industrious and thrifty. He was able to do chores around the house and barn up until Christmas, when he became to ill to go out of the house and gradually grew worse until dissolution took place. Six hours before he died he was able to sit up in a chair and stir the fire in the stove. Dropsy was the cause of his death. Funeral services were held at the Cooper homestead at 2.00 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. Geo. H. Hill, pastor of the Beechwoods Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Beechwoods cemetery, the silent city where so many of the old patriarchs and saints of Beechwoods have been laid to rest. There are only two pioneers of Beechwoods now living that are older than James Cooper. They are John Morrison, in his 90th year, and William Smith, in 87th year. Night School.
