"Village Fool" Feb. 9. February 17th is election day. By all means hear Roberson Feb. 9th. Comedy-drama, "Village Fool" at the opera house February 9. It will pay you to hear Roberson next Monday evening in Assembly hall. A few of the "four hundred" held a dance in Frank's Pavilion Friday evening. Ed. Syphrit, who was at Homestead working, has returned to home of his parents in Paradise. Mrs. Robert Clark, of DuBois, visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. S. M. Rhoads, in this place yesterday. The offering in the Presbyterian church next Sunday will be for the Board of Aid for colleges. Misses Edith and Birdie Baum, of Falls Creek, were the guests of Miss Mary McClure yesterday. Frank R. Roberson holds the highest rank as an illustrated lecturer. Don't fail to hear him Feb. 9th. We had five weeks of continuous good sleighing and now people are grumbling because the sleighing has gone. Seeley, Alexander & Co., bankers, gave carnations to their depositors last Thursday—McKinley's birthday. Quite a number of Reynoldsville people were carnations last Thursday—McKinley's birthday anniversary. The sun did shine Monday and if the groundhog did not see his shadow it was because he didn't come out to look for it. Glenn Hartman, Fred E. McEntire and Herman Guthrie entered the Reynoldsville Business College the past week. If thunder and lightning awakens the toads they must have been disturbed about eight o'clock last Thursday evening. District Deputy D. W. Atwater went to Yatesboro yesterday afternoon to organize a Protected Home Circle at that place. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bartie, of Lenoirville, West Va., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Barry, in West Reynoldsville. A daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Traist at New Bethlehem on Tuesday last week, Jan. 27, 1903, and died the following day.

Miss Ethel McCreight is teaching school at Falls Creek, filling a vacancy caused by the resignation of the teacher appointed at beginning of term. J. B. Harringer, of Beaver township, and Miss Sadie Milliron, of Washington township, were married at Brookville Monday of this week, February 2, 1903. Jacob K. Womeldorf, one of the Republican candidates for supervisor of Winslow township, has had a hard tussel with typhoid fever the past two weeks. Next Sunday Rev. W. Frank Reber finishes his work as pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, and on Sunday evening he will declare the pulpit vacant. The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will hold a dime social in the basement of the church on Friday evening of this week, Feb. 6th. Light refreshments will be served. W. D. Bell, of Punxsutawney, who takes L. J. Marshall's place as collector and salesman for the Merris Beef Co., of DuBois, made his first trip to Reynoldsville on Monday of this week. On Monday of this week the Reynoldsville Lead and Zinc Company, composed largely of Reynoldsville capitalists, was offered $50,000 for the zinc plant now being operated at Reeds, Mo. Joseph B. Mitchell, of Brookwayville, spent Sunday in this place. As soon as Mr. Mitchell can get a house he will take his wife to Brookwayville and then his visits will not be so frequent to Reynoldsville. Rev. J. C. McEntire, who closed a revival meeting in the Paradise M. E. church last Wednesday, after eleven persons were converted, is holding revival meetings in the M. E. church at Rathmel this week. In the list of Winslow township Democratic candidates published in THE STAR last week, by some mistake the name of J. M. Norris for township treasurer was omitted. Mr. Norris is a candidate for that office. Raymond Swab hauled a heavy load of sandstone from Hopking to glass plant at this place one day last week with Frank P. Best's team. The load weighed almost six tons—five tons and sixteen hundred. A good load for one team. Robert Barker, a resident of Reynoldsville a number of years, who moved to Hastings, Pa., recently, has moved to Punxsutawney and taken charge of a restaurant near the B. & P. Ry station. Mr. Barker was in town yesterday. It was reported in one of our exchanges that Thomas O'Hare, of this place, had signed with the Detroit American League team for 1903. Mr. O'Hare has not signed with any team for the coming season. He has four or five good propositions. Ethel, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Guthrie, died Saturday at 2.00 a. m., January 31st, 1903, and was buried in Beulah cemetery Sunday afternoon. Short funeral was held at residence of parents, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Reno. Through the kindness of a friend the teachers of the public schools of this place were each presented last Thursday with a beautiful carnation to be worn in honor of the late Pres. McKinley. The teachers greatly appreciated the gift and heartily thank the unknown giver. A Reynoldsville woman, who has consulted clairvoyants at different times, was in DuBois recently and consulted a clairvoyant at that place whom, she says, is the biggest fraud she ever met, and yet the clairvoyant is doing a rushing business at from $1.00 to $5.00 a sitting. It is remarkable how easily people are duped to part with their money. Rev. F. P. Britt, of Corsica, who is holding special meetings in Summersville Presbyterian church, received a telegram Monday that his sister died in Fayette county, and he requested Rev. W. Frank Reber, of Reynoldsville, to conduct the meeting at Summersville Wednesday evening. Rev. Reber will go down on the 5.27 p. m. train and return on the 9.50 to-night. Mrs. Charles A. Herpel entertained about thirty lady friends at her home in West Reynoldsville on Monday evening of this week. It was Mrs. Herpel's birthday, but she did not notify her guests of that fact and it was almost time to go home before any of them learned that it was her birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing "Flinch" and other games. At 10.30 refreshments were served. A lounge in the sitting room of D. B. Stauffer's residence in West Reynoldsville was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. Mr. Stauffer, who is troubled with asthma, was sitting near the lounge inhaling a preparation he uses to give him relief and he did not notice that the lounge was on fire and the room full of smoke until one of his sons stepped into the room and yelled fire! The lounge was thrown out of the room before any more damage than the destruction of lounge occurred. Mr. Stauffer thinks that when he struck match to light the preparation for inhaling that piece of the match flew on to the lounge.

NEW INDUSTRY TALKED OF. An Effort is Being Made to Start a Match Factory. There is a stranger in town who wants to start a large match factory in Reynoldsville that would give employment to 200 persons. There was to have been a meeting last night, but it was postponed until later in the week. Full particulars next week if the project is far enough advanced by that time to give any facts concerning it. Maud King's Party. Miss Maud King entertained twenty-five young people at her home on Grant street last Friday evening. Various games were played. There was whistling contest and Miss Helen Kunes won the prize. Refreshments were served. The lads and lassies had a jolly time. Forty Hours Devotion. Forty Hours Devotion was held in the Catholic church at this place, beginning with the Sunday morning service and ended with Tuesday morning service. Fathers McGivney, Renahan and Adam of DuBois, Driscoll, of New Bethlehem, Weinkler, of Punxsutawney, and Kuntz, of Erie, assisted Fathers Brady and Miller in the Forty Hour Devotion. Emanuel Bussard Dead. Emanuel Bussard, a Winslow township farmer, died Friday forenoon, January 30, 1903, aged 45 years, 9 months and several days. Consumption was the cause of death. Funeral service was held in the Church of God at Emersville at 3.00 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. Albert Sydow, pastor of Emersville M. E. church. Interment was made in Bussard graveyard near Emersville. The deceased is survived by his widow and four or five small children. Gone to Mexico. Charles S. Davis, son of Lawyer M. M. Davis of Reynoldsville, left here yesterday morning for San Nicolas del Oro, Guerrero, in the extreme southern part of Mexico, where he will accept a lucrative position with Balsas Valley Co. Charles will reach his destination sometime next week. He will have to ride in the saddle two full days before he arrives at San Nicolas del Oro. Charles' numerous friends here were sorry to see him go so far away from home, yet he has their best wishes for success in his labors so near the jumping off place. Stepped Into Cellar Opening. There was a large congregation at the Baptist church Sunday evening, so large that the Sunday school room had to be thrown open and still there was not room for all who wanted to get into the church. Miss Annie Woodford was in the Sunday school room and when coming out at the side entrance she accidentally stepped off into the cellar opening, striking her hip on the stone along the entrance. She did not receive any broken bones, but she was badly bruised and shaken up. The misstep might have resulted more seriously. Township Board of Health. The regular monthly meeting of the Winslow township school board was held at Frank's Tavern last Saturday. The teachers were paid a month's salary. Mrs. Garberich was appointed teacher in the Rathmel schools to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of H. E. McGarey, and then the school board organized themselves into a board of health, with W. H. Raber president, Amos Goss secretary and Dr. J. B. Neale sanitary agent. This board will hereafter look after cases of contagious diseases in Winslow township. Parents' and Patrons' Day. Last Wednesday was observed as Parents' and Patrons' Day in the public schools of this place. The regular work of the school was followed, though in many of the rooms some of the pupils' work was on exhibition. In the afternoon there was a large attendance of parents and friends. The visitors went from room to room and listened to the recitations as they were being regularly conducted. During the day some of the rooms had nearly a hundred visitors. All seemed to be well pleased with the work being done by the schools. Opera House Packed. Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company played at the Reynolds opera house last Thursday night, and notwithstanding the fact that the old play has been produced in Reynoldsville many times, that it was a disagreeable evening and that a large crowd attended an entertainment in Assembly hall, yet the opera house was packed and a number of people were turned away. There was one man in the opera house Thursday night eighty-one years old who had never seen "Uncle Tom's Cabin" played before. The company was a good one and the play was well produced. To make room for spring stock I am closing out my hats at a great reduction. Now is the time to get a new hat if you have not already got one at Mrs. Smith's, next door to Dr. Murray's office. Call and see A. G. Milliron's new grocery store in Centennial building.

Royally Entertained. Last Friday evening, January 30, four members of the Women's Relief Corps of this place entertained the other members of the corps at the home of Mrs. Edith Phillippi on Main street. Mrs. Phillippi Mrs. Solomon Shaffer, Mrs. E. L. Evans and Mrs. H. W. Herpel were the four ladies who royally entertained the other ladies. At six o'clock an excellent supper was served—the tables were laden with choice viands. The dining room was beautifully decorated. Various games were played during the evening. Prof. Kern took a flashlight picture of the group. When home-going time arrived the guests felt that they certainly had a delightful time. The members of the Relief Corps have been working hard and unselfishly for a number of years, giving suppers, entertainments, &c., to raise money for some old soldier or a soldier's widow, or for some worthy cause, and we believe this is the first time, as a corps, they have ever enjoyed an evening in a purely social manner, and we do not know of any body of women more deserving of just such an evening of pleasure as they had Friday evening. No Design on Principals. Some one has started the report that Prof. G. W. Lenkerd was taking some part in political matters because he intended being a candidate for the principality of the schools of this borough for next term. The editor of THE STAR interviewed Prof. Lenkerd concerning this report, and he authorizes us to state that he has no intentions of making application for the principality, and that he does not ever expect to engage in school work again because he can make much more money by putting as much energy into some other line of business as he put into the school work. Therefore, Prof. Lenkerd wants it distinctly understood that he has no design on the principality nor has he any desire for the position. He is positively out of school work, and any part that he may take in political matters is simply done as a citizen of the town, as any other man may take part in political matters to help a friend. State Directors' Association. The State Directors' Association's annual meeting will be held in Harrisburg on Thursday and Friday of next week, February 12 and 13. The delegates elected by the Jefferson County School Directors' Association are: Dr. T. R. Williams, of Punxsutawney, George H. Small, of Knox township, S. T. North, of Young township, W. H. Robber, of Winslow township, and Dr. W. C. Newcome, of Big Run. The alternates are Dr. J. A. Newcome, of Eldrod township, and S. L. Perry, of Perry township. The city and borough superintendents meet in Harrisburg, Wednesday, Feb. 11. County Supt. R. B. Teitrick will go to Harrisburg Tuesday evening of next week to be there in time for superintendents' meeting Wednesday. Tragedy at Marienville. A terrible tragedy occurred at Marienville, Forest county, Wednesday evening of last week. J. H. Fidler, proprietor of Hotel Marien, shot and instantly killed his wife and then fatally shot himself. He lived about four hours after the bullet crashed into his head. It is claimed that Fidler had been drinking to excess for over a year and several times suffered with delirium tremens. He had been on a protracted spree for a week before the murder and suicide occurred, and was not able to be out of the house when he did the shooting. Mrs. Fidler was waiting on him when she met her death. "The Middleman." Louis J. Russell, in "The Middleman," was greeted with a full house at Reynolds opera house Monday night. "The Middleman" is a pathetic play of great dramatic force. Mr. Russell, as Cyrus Blenkens, the inventor, is a master artist. Strikingly realistic were his exhibitions of the emotions that swayed his being as he passed through the trials and worries of a man of genius, without means battling against unscrupulous capitalists. Mr. Russell was well supported in his production of "The Middleman." The entire company are professional players. Notice to Stockholders. Notice is hereby given that the regular annual meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association will be held in the association's office February 23rd, 1903, at 7.30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing five directors and one auditor to serve for three years and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. JOHN M. HAYS, L. J. MCENTIRE, Sec. President. Night School. In addition to our regular courses of bookkeeping and shorthand we have arranged for special courses in the common branches for those who wish instruction along that line. No educational test required to enter. Students will be given individual instruction. Sessions Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. REYNOLDSVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE. Just received 1,000 pounds of butter at Double's. See Gibson's optical ad.

Basement Filled With Water. The basement of Bing-Stoke Company's department store was covered with over a foot of water Thursday evening. The water continued to run in and there was no outlet for it, the drain pipe being clogged. A siphon was put in working order, but the water ran in faster than the siphon was carrying it out and towards morning the boiler room was flooded, the steam went down and the siphon would not work. Friday morning a half dozen or more men were put to work on pumps and by keeping the pumps going continually they succeeded in getting ahead of the incoming water and early Saturday morning steam was raised and the siphon started again, and it was not until Sunday afternoon, when the clogged sewer pipe in the alley back of the store was open, did the water quit running into the basement of Bing-Stoke Co's store. They had to work continuously from Thursday evening until Sunday afternoon to keep the water down so that their large stock of goods in basement would not be destroyed. The cellar of C. R. Hall, adjoining the Stoke building, was also filled with water and Mr. Hall had trouble in saving the goods he had in cellar. It is claimed that the clogging up of the sewer pipe, which, by the way, was full of newspapers, rags, &c., was the cause of all the trouble. The water could not get out any other way and it backed into the cellars and basement. Just as soon as the sewer pipe was opened in alley the water quit running into Bing-Stoke Company's basement, which made it plain that the trouble was caused by the clogged sewer pipe. How About Murders at DuBois? There is a paper published in DuBois that thinks the Jefferson county authorities are entirely too slow in getting evidence in the John Tine murder case, and adds: "There is a growing disgust for the officials of the county for their apparent want of interest in seeking the vindication of justice in an affair which has been brought in such conclusive form to their notice." True, the county officials should not let up on this case until they have sifted it to the bottom, and no doubt are working on it quietly, but the people of Clearfield county, and especially the people of DuBois, should be the last to get disgusted with the Jefferson county officials, for have there not been murders committed in DuBois and Clearfield county? and what efforts did the officials put forth to run down the murderers? This is the same sheet that is quick to publish even a rumor of small-pox in Reynoldsville and surrounding towns, but has little to say of any small-pox cases that develop in the town where it is published. Consistency, thou art a Jew's-harp to be played upon at the will of the manipulator. Mothers' Club Meeting. There was a fair attendance at the Mothers' Club meeting in Assembly hall last Friday afternoon. Rev. W. Frank Reber was present and delivered a very interesting and helpful address. There is to be a special meeting of the Mothers' Club on Friday afternoon of this week, February 6th, to determine whether to have Mrs. H. G. Monroe come here with her historical play or lecture on Cromwell. One hundred Reynoldsville persons would be required to take part in this entertainment, and on that account the members of the Mothers' Club may not engage Mrs. Monroe to come here. However, it will be decided Friday afternoon. Varied Program. The Hawthorne Musical Club gave the second number of the public school lecture course in Assembly hall last Thursday before a fine audience. The program was varied, ranging from fine classical music to bright and breezy comedy. The descriptive trips to "The County Fair" and "A Trip to New York City" were good. The "trick violinist," who said his name was "Uncle" Ed. Seeley, captivated the audience. There was very little vocal music, it was mostly instrumental. Some of those present thought the entertainment was fine, while there were others who were not enthusiastic over the entertainment. Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers. All taxes must be paid before March 1st, 1903, or they will be collected according to law. My term of office expires at that time. G. W. SWARTZ. The Protected Home Circle of Reynoldsville initiated eight candidates Monday evening, and have had initiations almost every meeting night. This is an organization where men and women meet together, each carrying protection by insurance from $500 to $1,000 at reasonable rates. Examination and initiation, $2.00. For rates inquire of District Deputy D. W. Atwater. Mrs. Lena Armstrong, wife of John Armstrong, a glass worker, who died at Falls Creek last week, carried $1,000 in the Protected Home Circle which will be paid in 30 days. Roberson's lecture on "The Last Days of St. Pierre" will be a rare treat. It is only a matter of time until this entire community will be convinced that Millirens are the lowest priced mercantile. See Gibson's optical ad.

LAST DAYS OF ST. PIERRE. An Illustrated Lecture by Frank R. Roberson. The destruction of St. Pierre less than a year ago, caused by the eruptions of Mt. Pelee, was one of the greatest tragedies of all history. The loss of life was enormous, reaching nearly forty thousand. But few people escaped the awful catastrophe. This modern Pompeii was visited a few days after the eruption by Mr. Roberson, who had secured the assistance of an expert photographer. With aid he secured views and actual scenes which are of intense interest to man. These photographs were designed for this lecture and they are the very finest illustrations that can be obtained. With the assistance of these the description of events and places becomes very vivid and real when given by so able a lecturer as Mr. Roberson, whose reputation and ability cannot be questioned. He stands first in rank in his work, and the "Last Days of St. Pierre" cannot fail to please a Reynoldsville audience. The magnificent illustrations themselves would be interesting and entertaining but when they are accompanied by the vivid descriptions of the lecturer, the lecture cannot fall short of highly entertaining and instructing. Mr. Roberson will be here Monday evening, Feb. 9, as the third number of the public school lecture course. No one can afford to miss this attraction. Tickets may be secured at Stoke's drug store at fifty cents for reserved seats and thirty-five cents for general admission. The plot of Assembly hall will be put up at noon to-day, Wednesday. Horrible Accident. Mrs. J. C. McEntire was called to Williamsport Saturday to attend the funeral of her brother, Frank T. Carruth, who met with a horrible accident Friday afternoon and died in the Williamsport hospital that evening. Mr. Carruth had been a freight conductor on the P. R. R. for many years. The accident occurred at Nisbet, between Lock Haven and Williamsport. The Gazette and Bulletin says: "The cars were being switched at the time of the accident, Carruth was alone, and no one knows how it happened, but the supposition is that in attempting to board the cars he slipped on the ice and fell under the wheels. "It was a horrible accident, both legs being cut off below the knees and his right arm broken and crushed. With his injured arm the unfortunate conductor dragged himself from beneath the cars and shortly attracted the attention of other members of the crew. He was brought to the Williamsport hospital, where Dr. C. W. Youngman and other surgeons amputated his legs. They did not attempt to attend to the crushed arm, as the injured man was suffering too much from shock, and there was a doubt from the first whether he would live. However, every effort was made to save his life, but in spite of all that could be done he passed away at 8.45 o'clock." Mr. Carruth was about 55 years old. He leaves a wife and family at Williamsport. Funeral took place Monday afternoon. West Reynoldsville Democrats. The Democrats of West Reynoldsville nominated the following ticket last Wednesday evening for the February election: Burgess—Wm. Burgo, sr. Council—W. P. Woodring, Frank Bates. School directors—Joseph McKernan, David Bollinger, J. D. Woodring. High constable—C. J. Arnold. Tax collector—P. J. Ward. Auditor—P. A. Hardman, L. W. Perrin. Judge of election—R. W. Miller. Inspector—James W. Moore. Prompt and Liberal. Perry B. Lowe, agent for the Central Accident Insurance Co., gave James Degnan, the well known lumberman, the company's draft for $675.00 last week, in payment for disability resulting from a broken leg. The "Central" is always both prompt and liberal in meeting the terms of its contract. For Sale. 127 acres of land, 15 acres cleared and balance in woods, with a lot of second growth chestnut and other hardwood, and a two story house, 18 x 28 ft., stable and other outbuildings, and 50 growing fruit trees. Located one mile west of Emersville. Inquire of A. G. Dingor, Emersville, Pa. "Village Fool" will be played at Reynoldsville opera house on Monday night of next week, February 9. Gibson has visited here so long and been so successful that you make no mistake in consulting him if you need eyework done. It is pleasure and economy to deal at Millirens department store. Mrs. Smith's dressmaker, who has been on the sick list, went to work Monday. We will be glad to accommodate you again after a two weeks' wait. Bran, middlings and corn chops at wholesale at Reynoldsville Mills.

Bing Thursday afternoon of last week. H. B. Cooper and wife, of Brookwayville, visited the former's father, Ninian Cooper, in this place the first of this week. Mrs. Mary Jackson, of Pittsburg, is visiting her daughters, Mrs. J. W. Gillespie and Mrs. H. Alex. Stoke, in this place. Mrs. C. K. Hawthorne, of DuBois, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Koehler, in West Reynoldsville. Rev. Father Joseph Kuntz, of Erie, who was formerly stationed at Reynoldsville, has been in town several days the past week. Todd Seeley and wife, of DuBois, spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bates, in West Reynoldsville. Charles M. Milliren and George W. Robinson are in Philadelphia and New York City this week buying new goods for the Milliren department store. Albert Feicht, who is clerking in the drug store of his brother, Charles M. Feicht, at Punxsutawney, visited his parents in Reynoldsville this week. Mrs. V. A. Murray, of Patton, and Mrs. R. C. Murray and daughter, Frances, of Punxsutawney, were visitors at Dr. John H. Murray's over Sunday. Dr. R. M. Boyle, at one time Burgess of Reynoldsville borough, now a candidate for Burgess of Falls Creek, was in town Monday to see his sister, Mrs. J. Van Reed.
