SUDDEN DEATH OF AN INFLUENTIAL CITIZEN.

Camden Mitchell Succumbed to Heart Trouble at his Grant Street Residence Wednesday Evening, February 11th—The Funeral Held Sunday Afternoon and Largely Attended.

HAD RESIDED IN REYNOLDSVILLE 32 YEARS

Mr. Mitchell was Chief Burgess of Reynoldsville, President of First National Bank, and a Leading Spirit in many Local Business Projects—Member of Jefferson County Bar.

The sudden and unexpected death of Lawyer C. Mitchell, which occurred at his residence on Grant street at 9.45 p. m. on Wednesday, February 4, 1903, from heart failure, was a great shock to the citizens of Reynoldsville, and especially to Mr. Mitchell's numerous friends, as it was generally supposed that he enjoyed comparatively good active and progressive citizen. He was one of the promoters of the Reynoldsville Water Company and was a director in the company from time of its organization until he died. He was a member of town council in 1880, was a member of the school board one or two terms, was secretary of Reynoldsville Creamery Co. during its existence, was health. Mr. Mitchell did not complain, but his heart had troubled him considerable for a year and about a week before he died he told his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas L. Mitchell, that he expected to die suddenly some day, and it would be before long. Tuesday night Mr. Mitchell didn't sleep much and complained of a sore throat Wednesday morning. He attended court at Brookville Wednesday and came home on the train due here at 6.15 p. m., which was over three hours late, arriving at 9.30 p. m. Mr. Mitchell and son, Wallace, and Mr. David Wheeler walked home together and when almost at Mitchell's residence Mr. Wheeler noticed that he was breathing hard and said: "Mitchell, you seem to be short of wind." Mr. Mitchell entered his home, and before removing his hat or overcoat, stopped a minute or two, leaning his elbows on a table, to talk to his wife and Mrs. E. L. Casner, of Harrisburg, who was a visitor at his home, when he suddenly sank to the floor at his wife's feet and expired. He was jovial when he entered the room and after saying jokingly, "I don't know," to three or four questions Mrs. Casner asked him, she then inquired whom he had seen at Brookville that day that she was acquainted with. He was answering her and had said Cad Gordon and Will Darr when he fell dead without a struggle.

Camden Mitchell was born in Punxsutawney April 4, 1840, making him almost 54 years old at time of death. He was the son of Thomas L. and Ann C. Mitchell, both deceased. He graduated in the common schools of Punxsutawney, took an academic course at the Reidsburg, Clarion county, academy, and in 1868 began law study in the office of Jenks & Winslow in Punxsutawney. In February, 1872, was admitted to the Jefferson county bar and soon after opened a law office in Reynoldsville, occupying part of Notary Public Albert Reynolds' office, near the opera house. These two gentlemen got along so amicably together that Mr. Mitchell never moved his office, continuing his law business in the same office 32 years. He moved his family to Reynoldsville in 1873.

Mr. Mitchell was identified with numerous business enterprises in Reynoldsville and was always ready to use his influence and give substantial encouragement to everything that would be a benefit to the town—he was an vice-president of the Jefferson County Bar Association one term, solicitor for Reynoldsville borough two or three terms, was a member of the Board of Trade when it was alive. At time of death Mr. Mitchell was burgess of this borough, president of the First National Bank, secretary of the Land Improvement Company, stockholder in the Reynoldsville Woolen Mill Co. plant, stockholder in the silk mill, stockholder in the Reynoldsville Clay Manufacturing Company plant, stockholder and director in Reynoldsville Water Co., a director in the Jefferson County Bar Association. He was Past Master in John M. Reed Lodge No. 536, F. & A. M. Mr. Mitchell was initiated in the Masonic lodge at this place November 23rd, 1875. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge at this place some years ago. Mr. Mitchell was a prominent and active man in Reynoldsville and vicinity.

Lawyer Mitchell owned a farm in Winslow township, about 3 1/2 miles out from town, where he intended erecting a brick house during the present year and expected to live in it during the summer months. He took great delight in farming. He owned several acres of land around his residence on Grant street, which he helped to cultivate. He always had a fine garden.

While attending the Reidsburg Academy in Clarion county Mr. Mitchell became acquainted with Miss Cora O. Wallace, to whom he was married September 9, 1868, when he was a little over 19 years old. To this couple fifteen children were born, six of whom died in infancy. The widow and nine children survive the deceased. The children are: Thomas L., of Pittsburg, James E., of Brockwayville, Bruce, of Homestead, Joseph B., of Brockwayville, Mrs. Annie M. Meeker, of Owensburg, Ky., Eva Lucile, Fred M., S. Wallace and Alice E. at home. Mr. Mitchell was a kind husband and an indulgent father. He provided well for his family. He had a genial disposition and was always pleasant in his home. He seemed to enjoy his home life very much. His sudden death was a severe blow to his family.

Funeral services were held at the residence of family on Grant street at 2.00 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of the M. E. church. The funeral was largely attended. Judge John W. Reed, Hon. George A. Jenks and eighteen other members of the Jefferson County Bar Association of Brookville, and members of the Bar Association from Punxsutawney were present. The Masonic Lodge of Reynoldsville, including Masons from other towns, attended the funeral in a body. Over eighty Masons were present. The lawyers and Masons walked in the funeral procession. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery, where the Masons had charge of the ceremonies.

All the children attended the funeral. Mrs. Meeker arrived here at noon Saturday. The following out of town relatives attended funeral: Dr. W. H. Ullsh and wife, of Philadelphia, F. W. Mitchell and family, of Driftwood, Mrs. E. L. Casner, of Harrisburg, W. S. McEllin and family, of Pittsburg, S. M. Wallace and wife, of Bellview, suburb Pittsburg, Mrs. E. E. Steel and son, of Allegheny City, T. T. Meredith, of Widnoon, Joseph Wilson and daughters of Clearfield, Mrs. C. K. McCartney and family, J. A. Truitt, Alex Truitt and wife, Dr. A. J. Monks, of Punxsutawney, Mrs. Wm. Mabon, of Marion Centre, Pa.

Lawyer Mitchell was held in high esteem by the other lawyers of the Bar Association for his honesty and integrity. When he made a promise to any of the lawyers they always relied on him to keep the promise. When he took a stand on any point he was exceedingly tenacious. The Bar Association has appointed a committee to draft resolutions on death of Mr. Mitchell which will be adopted at the meeting of Association in March.

The floral tributes were elaborate and beautiful, consisting of an apron with lodge emblem, from Masonic lodge, wreath from Bar Association, large piece from family, large bouquet from Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wallace, bouquet from Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Ullsh, bouquet from Mr. and Mrs. Ab. Reynolds. Mr. Mitchell loved flowers and when possible he always wore a flower in his coat lapel.

Mr. Mitchell's three-year term as burgess of Reynoldsville would have expired the first of next month. The town is now without a burgess and will be until March 1st.

It seems a strange co-incidence that Mrs. Edward L. Casner, of Harrisburg, who attended Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell's wedding almost 35 years ago, and who has not visited Mrs. Mitchell for a number of years, should be present when Mr. Mitchell fell dead at his wife's feet.

Mr. Mitchell carried $5,000 life insurance in the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Friday morning the exterior of the First National Bank building was draped in mourning on account of Mr. Mitchell's death. He had been president of the bank from the time it was organized, in 1893.

Mr. Albert Reynolds will miss Lawyer Mitchell almost as much as his own children will. For 32 years Ab. and Mr. Mitchell occupied the same office together, each one in his own corner, and when not busy were "cracking" jokes with each other. Ab. says that during the 32 years they got along without a quarrel.

The family are very thankful for and greatly appreciate the kindness and sympathy of their neighbors and friends in their hours of deep sorrow and bereavement.
