Pressure of Light Waves.
Nichols and Hull made, before the late meeting of the American Astronomical Society, a demonstration of the pressure of light waves. The apparatus was an hour glass vacuum tube, which contained some carbon sponge dust of particles only one or two microns in diameter, the chamber having been very carefully exhausted to as high a vacuum as possible. When the dust was allowed to fall from the upper to the lower chamber in a powerful arc-light beam the larger particles were seen to fall vertically, while the finer ones fell out of plumb and away from the light. The angle of deviation was stated to be about that to be expected on the radiant push hypothesis.
Scotland shipped 11,279,422 tons of coal last year, constituting a record.
