A large and beautiful new soda fountain is being put in the Reynolds drug store. Rev. Perry A. Reno preached in the M. E. church at Summersville Monday night. Eighteen married people of this place held a flinch party at Wishaw park last Thursday evening. Rev. A. J. Muek will not preach at Rathmel next Sunday afternoon, owing to absence from town. The parochial school closed Monday with appropriate exercises, consisting of songs, recitations, &c. Uncle Tom's Cabin under canvas on ball grounds to-night. The best company traveling. Don't miss it. The Utopia Society will hold a social at residence of J. W. Gillespie on Main street Friday evening of this week. The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a market in the gas office next Saturday afternoon. There was a social dance in Frank's Pavilion last Thursday night. Jamison Orchestra of DuBois furnished the music. The members of the Ingelo Club will be the guests of Miss Nellie Sutter at a six o'clock dinner at Hotel Imperial this evening. Because the boys persist in stealing Mrs. S. M. Rhoads' gooseberries, she has concluded to spray the bushes. Keep away boys. The financial statements of West Reynoldsville and Winslow township school districts will be found in this issue of THE STAR. Meeting of the Baptist Missionary Society was held at the home of Dr. A. H. Bower last evening. Refreshments were served. An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Sandy Valley, was buried in the Epworth cemetery at Sandy Valley Sunday. T. H. Armstrong, conductor of night whiffer in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Driftwood, moved from Reynoldsville to Driftwood this week. A small freight wreck on the P. R. R. near Penfold Saturday evening, caused by a broken axle, delayed the 7.58 p. m. train about two hours.

Thirty-seven tickets were sold at Reynoldsville Sunday for the B. R. & P. R. excursion to Kinzua. Two Polanders were arrested Monday and fined $3.00 apiece and costs for being drunk and noisy Sunday evening. The trolley cars have not been running very regular the past week on account of some trouble with electric power. Quite a large audience was present at the Baptist church last Sunday evening to hear "Why Men Don't go to Church." Mr. Meyer, new foreman of the yards at the tannery, moved his family from Union Springs, N. Y., to West Reynoldsville last week. Knights of Pythias reunion will be held at DuBois to-morrow, Thursday. Some of the members of the K. of P. of Reynoldsville will attend the reunion, but lodge will not go in a body. Prof. J. G. Dally, the noted singer and composer of Fredonia, N. Y., who was in Reynoldsville last Wednesday visiting his niece, Mrs. G. M. McDonaid, made THE STAR office a pleasant call. Henry Redding, superintendent of Panther Run Coal Co., operating near Sandy Valley, moved from St. Marys to Reynoldsville last week. Mr. Redding is living in Priesters house on Hill street. There will be no preaching at the Baptist church next Sunday owing to the absence of the pastor, Dr. A. J. Meek, who will preach the dedication sermon of the Baptist church at Ridgeway, Pa. A number of young people of this place held a picnic at Wishaw park last night. It was given in honor of Fred, and Misses Bortha and Della Dempsey, who start Friday for their new home in California. At a meeting of the stockholders of the Reynoldsville Cemetery Company Monday evening Dr. B. E. Hoover, W. F. Marshall and Dr. J. C. King were elected directors and James K. Johnston treasurer of the company. The summer term at the Reynoldsville Business College is now well under way and the class is growing daily. The following students enrolled recently: Jay McGaw, John Pomroy, Misses Minnie Keck and May Sterley. Mrs. J. T. Coax has been dangerously ill for three or four days. It was thought several times that she was dying. Her sons and daughters are at home watching and hoping that she will rally and her earthly pilgrimage be prolonged. Mention was made in THE STAR last week that Mrs. Charles A. Herpel had been called to McKeesport on account of the serious illness of a niece, Miss Frieda Ebertshausner, who visited here last summer. The young lady died and was buried Sunday. The ice cream and strawberry festival that the Helping Hand Society was to have held in the basement of the M. E. church this evening, has been postponed until Tuesday evening of next week, June 16th. Strawberry short cake will also be served. A large crowd listened to the singing and testimonies of the Salvation Army on corner of Main and Fourth streets Monday evening. There were a number of soldiers here from Punksutawney and DuBois. The Punksy Army brought a band with them. After the meeting on street and in hall, ice cream and cake were served in the Salvation Army hall. County Supt. R. B. Teitrick, of Brookville, Lee Stewart, of Perry township, Hon. Henry I. Wilson, of Big Run, and Dr. J. W. Foust, of Reynoldsville, school directors, met at Hotel Imperial, Reynoldsville, Saturday afternoon and made out a program for the semi-annual convention of the Jefferson County School Directors Association to be held in Reynoldsville the latter part of this month.

Children's Day Exercises. Next Sunday is Children's Day and special programs have been prepared for the observance of the Day in Presbyterian church at 11.00 a. m., Baptist church 7.45 p. m., Methodist Episcopal church at 11.00 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. The churches will be decorated. Capt. Brinker Dead. Capt. John M. Brinker, the extensive coal operator who was interested in mines at Fairmount, New Bethlehem, and other places, died at Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday. Capt. Brinker was a brother of Mrs. Catherine Coleman, of this place, and uncle of M. C. Coleman. Attending Synod. Rev. J. H. Myers, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, went to Johnstown yesterday to attend the Pittsburgh Lutheran Synod. From Johnstown Rev. Myers will go to Greenville to spend a couple of weeks with his family. He will move to Reynoldsville as soon as he can get a suitable house. Two Killed by Lightning. About 1.45 p. m. yesterday, during a heavy storm, lightning struck the Academy at Corsica, this county, killing two young ladies, Lulu Millon and Bessie Kelso, and badly stunning four others. The girls were working at the blackboard on second floor of Academy. The four girls will recover. The building was not badly damaged. Opened Studio. Prof. Will L. Strauss, who has had two years instruction under Prof. Franz Ziegler, of Columbus, Ohio, has opened a studio in the Nolan block, Reynoldsville, and will give lessons on violin or mandolin. Prof. Strauss, who is well known to our townspeople, is a good instructor and an honorable young man. He should be given a large class. Graduates To-day. Major Fred Reed, A. B., of Reynoldsville, graduates to-day as an architect in the College of Fine Arts in Syracuse University at Syracuse, N. Y. Miss Eleanor Reed went to Syracuse last Friday to be present on her brother's graduation day. Fred and Miss Eleanor will return to their home this week. Fred will remain here a couple of weeks. Visited Lindsey Lodge. District Deputy Mrs. Anna Winslow installed new officers in the Daughters of Rebekah lodge at Lindsey on Friday evening of last week: The following members of the daughters of Rebekah of this place accompanied Mrs. Winslow to Lindsey. Mrs. F. A. McConnell, Mrs. T. E. Evans, Mrs. L. G. Liddle, Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. William Gibson, Mrs. Edith Philipp, Mrs. Lizzie Smith, Mrs. Henry W. Herpel, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Herdel. Trained Animal Shows. Gentry Bros. trained animal show was in Reynoldsville last Thursday. The street parade was fine and was worth going several miles to see. The only complaint we heard about the parade was the shortness of the route. The show itself is all that Gentry Bros. claim for it. It is simply marvelous how well the ponies, dogs, monkeys and elephants are trained. The sick pony, monkey doctor, dog jumping on horse's back on the gallop, tricks of the elephants, in fact all the performing of the animals in the entire show was wonderful. The animals did almost everything but talk. If Gentry Bros. come this way again they will be given even a larger crowd than they had this time. Indians Defeat Our Team. The Sioux Indian baseball team that is traveling over the country in a special car, "Scout," played the Reynoldsville ball team Saturday afternoon and was to have played a game by electric lights Saturday night, but a sufficient number of spectators to make the game a financial success failed to materialize and the evening game was called off. Score in the afternoon was 12-13 in favor of the visitors. The Indians carry a canvas fence, grand stand and brass band with them. They paraded from their car to ball ground Saturday evening. The Indians played at Punksutawney Monday and DuBois Tuesday. They went from here to Punksy on trolley. The score was 2-3 in favor of Indians. Injunction Dissolved. The Panther Run Railroad is the name of the new coal road that is being built from near Sandy Valley to the new mines in Washington township. The 18th of last April the P. S. & N. R. R. Co. had an injunction served on the Panther Run Railroad Co. to stop the building of the new branch, as the P. S. & N. Co. claimed the road was being built on a survey they had previously made. Judge Reed heard the case at the May term of argument court and dismissed the bill and dissolved the injunction. The P. S. & N. Co. filed exceptions in the case and it came up before Judge Reed at argument court last week. The court again dismissed the bill and dissolved the preliminary injunction. If the P. S. & N. Co. want to go any farther with the case they will have to take it to Supreme Court. See the new wash goods at Millirens.

Mrs. Solomon Philipp, of Sykesville, left here this morning on an extended visit in Erie county, Pa., and New York State. John Ward, jr., student in the Bliss Electrical School at Washington, D. C., is visiting in this place. His parents now reside at Parker, Pa. W. C. Elliott, editor of Volunteer, and family left here Monday on a trip to Philadelphia, Pa., Atlantic City, N. J., and Washington, D. C. Mrs. H. B. Clayton went to Kane Friday to remain several weeks. It is likely Mr. Clayton will move to Kane, as he holds a position near that place. Mrs. Margaret Gorsline, of Randolph, N. Y., and Mrs. Merrill Rombaugh, of Bradford, arrived here Saturday morning to attend the funeral of W. S. Reynolds. Fred Wheeler, student in the Blair Presbyterian Academy at Blairtown, N. J., came to his home in this place Saturday evening for the summer vacation. Misses Edith Beck and Amy Reno, students in Women's College of Baltimore, Maryland, came to their homes in this place last week for summer vacation. Miss Margaret Myers, who is a teacher in the Marion Female College at Marion, West Va., visited here, and Rev. J. H. Myers, in this place the past week. Mrs. A. P. Uiter, of Marlette, Mich., who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ross, at Ross House eight weeks, left here Saturday for her home in the "Lake State." Will C. Smith and Clement Flynn, students in Dickinson Law School at Carlisle, Pa., came home Friday evening for summer vacation. Fred Smith, student in same school, will come home this week. Miss Anna Mary Kunes left here last Saturday morning on a pleasure trip and visit in Centre county and Philadelphia, Pa., Washington, D. C., and Emporia, Va. She will spend the summer at the latter place. James W. Stevenson, deputy comptroller of New York City, has been visiting his father-in-law, M. M. Davis, Esq., in this place, and his father, Henry Stevenson, near Sandy Valley, since Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dunsmore, of Philadelphia, came to Reynoldsville Saturday. Mr. Dunsmore returned to Philadelphia Monday, but Mrs. Dunsmore and baby will remain with her parents a couple of weeks. Harry Herpel, who was a student in Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., but was forced to miss school the past year on account of having had a hard tussle with typhoid fever, was at Ithaca the past week shaking hands with his old classmates. Grant Rhoads, of Mazomania Tribe No. 341, Improved Order Red Men of Reynoldsville, and William Vaughn, of Sitting Bull Tribe No. 414, of Eleanora, are in Easton, Pa., this week attending the Great Council as delegates from their respective Tribes. Ethan E. Stewart, the marble dealer, has sold his brick residence on Grant street to G. T. Woodford, the pop man, and has also disposed of his household goods, and this afternoon Mr. Stewart and family started to Seattle, Wash., where they will reside. Mr. Stewart spent several years in Washington and he likes that section of the country better than he does Pennsylvania. Success to you Mr. Stewart in your new home.

DEATH OF W. S. REYNOLDS. Was a Literary Man and an Artist—Buried in Beulah Saturday. Will Smith Reynolds, son of Thomas and Julia Reynolds, deceased, who were among the early settlers of Reynoldsville, died at East Orange, N. J., a suburb of New York City, Tuesday, June 2nd, 1903, from chronic Bright's disease. He had been suffering from the disease almost a year, but was able to get around and look after his business. He was out on the street Monday evening and when his physician called to see him about 9.00 a. m. Tuesday he found Will in a partial sitting position in bed dead. Capt. T. C. Reynolds, who holds a position at the State Capitol in Harrisburg, went to East Orange for the body, arriving here Friday morning. The body was taken to the home of a sister, Mrs. Ed. D. Sealey, where funeral services were held at 2.00 p. m., Saturday, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the Baptist church. Interment was made in the family lot in Beulah cemetery. The pall-bearers were: F. J. Black, H. Alex Stokes, John C. Conser, J. C. Ferris, Jas. A. McCreeght and Jas. K. Johnston. Will S. Reynolds was born in Reynoldsville April 7, 1853, making him 50 years old last April. He attended the public schools of Reynoldsville until he became a young man, then he attended Eastman Business College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Will was naturally bright and witty and a course in the above college gave him a good start to become a brilliant man in literary work. The Reynoldsville Herald was started in 1874 and Will was editor of that paper two years. For a year he was editor of Field and Stream, a monthly magazine published in New York, resigning the editorship of that magazine two years ago. He had considerable talent as an artist and besides literary work he spent some time in painting, mostly portraits. In late years he devoted most of his time to the latter work. He had a studio at East Orange and had gained quite a reputation as an artist on account of the fine work he could do. With his fine physique, dignified appearance, literary ability and skill as an artist, he was well equipped to make a success in life. Deceased is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Capt. T. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Ed. Sealey, Tom Reynolds, of this place, and Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Gorsline, of Randolph, N. Y. Died in DuBois. William Brady, brother of Mrs. G. Bohren, of Reynoldsville, died at his home in DuBois at 11.45 p. m., June 4, 1903. The Bohren family attended the funeral, which was held in the DuBois Catholic church at 9.00 a. m. Monday. From the DuBois Express we clipped the following brief history of the deceased: "Mr. Brady was born at Brookville, May 4th, 1866. Came to DuBois with his brother-in-law, G. Bohren, when he was a lad of about 14 years; he learned the baker's trade with Mr. Bohren and was married on June 24, 1890, to Miss Maggie Hannagan. This union was blessed with six children, five sons and one daughter, the eldest eleven years, and the youngest six months old. "About the time of Mr. Brady's marriage he bought out the bakery business of Gottlieb Bohren, now of Reynoldsville, and later bought the site now occupied by a commodious brick building. He was an upright, honest citizen, always falling in line with the leading business men in the furtherance of the best interest of DuBois. "His last illness dates from the first of the present year, he had not been in his store since February. Besides his wife and children, he leaves a sister, Mrs. G. Bohren, of Reynoldsville, and a brother, L. C. Brady of Driftwood. He carried a life insurance of $2,000, payable to his wife. "The deceased was a consistent member of the Roman Catholic church, a member of the Retail Merchants Association, a charter member of the DuBois lodge of Elks." Annual Examinations. The annual examinations for the teachers of Jefferson county will be held as follows: Thursday, June 18, Richardsville; Friday, June 19, Knoxdale; Saturday, June 20, Summersville; Monday, June 22, Worthville; Tuesday, June 23, Perryville; Wednesday, June 24, Punksutawney; Thursday, June 25, Cool Spring; Monday, June 29, Brookwayville; Tuesday, July 14, Rockdale Mills; Wednesday, July 15, Reynoldsville; Thursday, July 16, Frostburg; Friday, July 17, Corsica; Saturday, July 18, Sigel; Monday, July 20, Brookville. Special examinations, Saturday, August 29, Brookville. Examinations will begin at 8.00 o'clock a. m. No certificates will be issued before July 23. REED B. TEITRICK, County Supt. Letter List. List of unclaimed letters remaining in post office at Reynoldsville, Pa., for the week ending June 6, 1903: Thos. Bud. Smith, Albert G. Murphy, Thos. Bud. Foreign—Giovanni Vitale. Memorial Day in Beechwoods as celebrated last Saturday in honor of the Nation's dead, marked an important epoch in the history of that renowned and memorable place, and it was an occasion that will long be remembered by over 2,000 people who were in attendance. Beechwoods was a point of special interest that day, as it always is on the 30th of May, and people from all sections participated in the celebration. An important feature of the day's program was the march of the large procession, followed by over 100 carriages and conveyances, to the cemetery where impressive services were held and graves decorated. Brief addresses were made by Rev. Joel Smith, of Beechtree, Hon. S. B. Elliott, of Reynoldsville, and Dr. J. W. McKnight, of Brookville, after which the procession moved back to the grove, where dinner was served, each family and friends forming happy groups and furnishing an unique picture. The afternoon program was interesting throughout, being interspersed with music and patriotic speeches. F. B. Harvey was chairman of the day. After some good music Rev. George H. Hill, offered a beautiful petition to the God of all, Capt. L. M. Truxal of DuBois, followed with an address which warmed the hearts of all present to a degree of patriotic excitement. He cited the war days and the progress of the country and gave a glowing tribute to the memory of the comrades in whose honor the day is observed. Space will not permit our giving a detailed description of the addresses made. Prof. J. G. Dalley, of Fredonia, N. Y., was present and rendered a beautiful bass solo entitled, "Praise the Old Flag to My Bosom Once More," which was the subject of much praise and favorable comment. Dr. J. W. McKnight, of Brookville, followed with an excellent address, and Hon. S. B. Elliott, of Reynoldsville, honored the assembly with a brief but forcible speech on patriotism and good citizenship, also in glowing terms called to memory the days of war and unpleasantness, and in the glory of peace, union and prosperity that prevails today. The Washington Township Memorial Association held a business session at four o'clock. This year's celebration was undoubtedly attended with more interest than any previous occasion in the history of the Beechwoods.—Brookwayville Record.
