Miss Bessie Kelso, one of the young ladies killed by lightning at Corsica last week was a half cousin of Mrs. A. M. Woodward of Reynoldsville.

Al Steele's Uncle Tom's Cabin Show was in Reynoldsville on 10th inst. The street parade in forenoon was large and the play at night was good. The company is a good one.

Financial statement of the Reynoldsville school district for the fiscal year ending June 1, 1903, will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

Miss Sara McCloskey, of Reynoldsville, and Miss Rosaline Erdis, of Brookville, are new students in the Reynoldsville Business College this week.

Some large strawberries from Sam's Ressler's garden were brought to THE STAR office last Friday. One of the berries measured 64 inches in circumference.

The merchants of Reynoldsville have taken charge of the Fourth of July celebration. It will be a glorious Fourth. Come to this place and enjoy yourself.

The Helping Hand Society will continue the ice cream and strawberry festival in the lecture room of the church this Wednesday, evening.

Joseph Griffin, a carpenter, had the end cut off little finger of right hand yesterday afternoon by getting finger in contact with a small circular saw.

The Clarion District M. E. conference will be held in the M. E. church at New Bethlehem on Monday and Tuesday of next week, June 21 and 22.

The ladies of Trinity Lutheran church will hold an ice cream and strawberry festival in the Woodward building on Main street Saturday afternoon and evening, June 20th.

The semi-annual convention of the Jefferson County School Directors' Association will be held in Assembly hall at Reynoldsville on Friday and Saturday of next week, June 26, 27.

The fifty-seventh annual convention of the Clearfield Baptist Association, in which Reynoldsville Baptist church is included, will be held in the Baptist church of DuBois to-day and to-morrow.

The Jefferson County Agricultural Society and Driving Park Association is the name of a new association organized in Brookville last week that will hold a fair at Brookville next September.

Mrs. Amos Deemer, of Deemer's Cross Roads, and Mrs. Philip P. Reiter, of Desire, each one left a basket of unusually large and delicious strawberries at THE STAR office Saturday, for which we are very thankful.

There will be a dance in Carmine Marinaro's new hall at Soldier on Tuesday evening of next week, June 23rd, and on every Tuesday evening thereafter. The hall is large, the floor has been waxed and good music will be furnished.

Alex McClelland, a farmer from Rockdale Mills, was in THE STAR office Saturday. He said he has never seen clover as short as it is this year. Now in blossom and only about five inches high. Too much dry weather stunted the clover. Hay will be scarce this fall.

Mention was made in THE STAR a couple of weeks ago that G. W. Fuller was dangerously ill with typhoid fever. He is convalescing but his son, Wilford, is now down with the disease. It has been necessary to have two trained nurses to take care of Mr. Fuller and his son.

A valuable Jersey cow, owned by C. C. Gibson, one of our merchants, died last week from stomach trouble. The cow got loose in barn, ate a bushel of chaff, drank a bucket of water that was standing in barn and the next day she was so "puffed up" over her feast that she died.

Nellie Organ, aged 15 years, died at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, June 14, 1903. Funeral procession left residence in this place at 1:00 p. m. yesterday and funeral service was held in the Syphrit church, Paradise, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Reno. Interment in Syphrit cemetery.

Raymond Elliott Brown, one of the promising young men of Reynoldsville, graduates from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., to-morrow. His mother, Mrs. F. M. Brown, and two sisters, Misses Anna Inez and Christine, went to Ithaca Monday to attend the graduation exercises.

There was a large crowd at the Knights of Pythias reunion at DuBois last Thursday. The first prize, $60.00 silk banner, was awarded to Sykesville Lodge No. 185 for largest number of membership in parade. Brookville was selected as the place for holding the reunion in 1904.

I. D. Dickey, son of Alex. Dickey of near Panic, died in a hospital at Pittsburgh on 11th inst. from typhoid fever. The body was shipped to Reynoldsville Saturday and was buried in the Panic cemetery Saturday afternoon. Deceased was 27 years old. He leaves a wife at Sargent, near Kane.

Suicide seems to be a fad among women at Punxsutawney. Two weeks ago Mrs. Geo. Green took arsenic and died, last Sunday Mrs. Herbert Malley too pars green and died, and Sunday evening Mrs. Ellis Haines drank wood alcohol, but the poison was pumped out of her in time to save her life.

District Deputy Winslow was at Falls Creek Thursday evening installing the new officers in the Daughters of Rebekah lodge at that place. Twenty-one members of Lady Winslow Lodge accompanied the district deputy. They drove up and had a fine trip. Refreshments were served after installation.

Strauss, Frank P. Alexander, Fred Bohren and Miss Frances King, are first-class musicians. High class music will be played.

HIP, HIP, HURRA!

The Glorious Fourth will be Celebrated at Reynoldsville.

The business men of Reynoldsville held a meeting last Thursday evening and decided to have a Fourth of July celebration. A committee of five was appointed to arrange for celebration. The committee is Charles S. Kirchartz, H. Alex Stoke, J. W. Gillespie, Charles Milliken and D. H. Breakey. The committee are now at work and next week will be able to make a full announcement of the attractions, which promises to be something good.

Extending Trolley Line.

Monday a crew of men were put to work grading on Jackson street for the extension of trolley line down to Fourth street.

Arm Broken.

Orelle Anderson, seven-year-old daughter of L. S. Anderson of Jackson street, had both bones of her left arm broken Monday evening by falling out of a laundry wagon that she and several other girls were playing in.

Illustrated Lecture.

At eight o'clock on Friday evening, June 26th, first evening of the school directors convention, Prof. A. M. Hammons, of Indiana, Pa., will deliver an illustrated lecture. Subject: "Sunny Italy from Venies to Vesuvius." Admission free.

Has Good Position.

Celebration at Desire.

There will be a celebration at Desire on Fourth of July under the auspices of Sitting Bull Tribe No. 414, Improved Order of Red Men, of Eleanor. There will be a street parade and ball game in the forenoon, foot racing, &c., in the afternoon and balloon ascension and dancing in the evening.

Brown Stone Front.

Last Saturday night the I. O. O. F. lodge, of Reynoldsville decided to erect a three-story brown stone front building on their vacant lot near postoffice. As soon as possible the contract will be let for erection of building, which will be 40 feet wide and 100 feet deep. There will be two store rooms on first floor, second floor will be used for banqueting hall and third floor for lodge rooms. It will be one of the finest structures in Reynoldsville.

Teachers Elected.

The school board of West Reynoldsville held a meeting last Wednesday evening and elected teachers for the next term of school, which begins August 31st. Prof. Joseph R. Wilson, of Corsica, was elected principal, and Misses Anna Fleming, Maude Meek and Mary I. Cowan teachers. The millage laid was seven mills for school purpose and one mill for school building. The regular meetings of board will be held the first Wednesday of each month.

New Soda Fountain.

A large and beautiful new soda fountain was put in the Reynoldsburg drug store last week. It is one of Lippincott's Avon Girl's Fountains. Body of fountain is of Spoleto marble, front Mexican onyx, mahogany top, large side and connecting mirrors, twenty syrup jars and four mineral druggists. It has patent ice chamber, keeping soda slightly above freezing. There is working place for two men at fountain. A new twenty-four foot bar of white Italian marble has been placed in front of fountain. It is a very pretty fountain and must be seen to appreciate its beauty.

Married in Canada.

Councilman Henry C. Deible, of the Deible Bros. wagon maker firm, and Hattie C. Keller, of Warren, Pa., were married at the home of the bride's parents at London, Ontario, Canada, at 5:00 p. m. Thursday, June 11, 1903, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Rev. Steward, pastor of Presbyterian church of London, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Deible came home by train, Monday, Cleveland, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, arriving here Monday evening. THE STAR joins in extending congratulations and best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Deible as they travel down life's path.

Dedication Postponed.

It was announced in THE STAR last week that Dr. A. J. Meek and Rev. J. E. Dean would go to Ridgway Sunday to attend the dedication of the Baptist church at that place. They did go to Ridgway Saturday, but it was discovered that all bills had not been presented and an exact financial statement could not be made. It was also found that debts to amount of $4,000 had been contracted and owing to fact that indebtedness could not be liquidated the dedicatory ceremonies were postponed indefinitely. Rev. J. E. Dean preached in the morning and Rev. Dr. Meek in the afternoon, at which service over $1,200 was raised in cash and pledges, reducing indebtedness to about $2,800.

TRAGEDY AT ANITA.

One Italian Murdered and Two Others Narrowly Escape Death.

In a drunken carousal among Italians at Anita Sunday afternoon one Ike was deliberately murdered and two others were almost killed. Mike Ren shot and killed Mike Polioni and fired two shots into the body of Tony Trezza. The murderer then escaped and started in direction of Reynoldsville. Six miles this side of Anita he was overtaken by a posse of Italians and was beaten almost to death before he was captured. Trezza is in Adrian hospital and will recover. Ren was able to be taken to the county jail Monday afternoon. Six murder cases will come before the next session of Jefferson county court.

Another Vacant Chair.

Helen Eliza Reynolds, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. David Reynolds, and the pet of the household, died at the home of her parents on Mabel street at 10:00 a. m. on Friday, June 12, 1903. Consumption was the cause of death. She had been ill since last December. Helen is the fifth child that Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds have buried. Helen was born June 3, 1887, and was 16 years and 9 days old when the silken thread was broken, just in the morning of life. She was a bright girl and an apt student. She was very ambitious and took great delight in attending school and in nine years of her school life she was not tardy once and did not miss a day only to attend the funeral of her brother, Woodward, and Grandmother Reynolds. Such a school record is rare in this section. Helen had many friends.

Funeral was held at residence of the bereaved parents at 2:00 p. m. Monday, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the Baptist church. Interment was made in Beulah cemetery.

Foolish Girls.

Two fair maidens of tender years, who reside in a town not a great distance from Reynoldsville, became fascinated with two fellows who travel with the Uncle Tom's Cabin show that was in Reynoldsville last week and, without parental permission, the girls left their homes and came to Reynoldsville Wednesday evening. While they were enjoying the show a telephone message was sent to Policeman King giving him a description of the girls and authority to take charge of them. Before Uncle Tom's death act the policeman had located the maidens, but they seemed to "smell a mouse" and when the show was out they gave the policeman a lively chase before he got close enough to tell them what he wanted them to do. The girls returned home with their fathers Thursday.

Attended Funeral.

Albert Lusk, who was drowned at New Kensington, Pa., June 9th, and was buried last Sunday, was a member of Washington Camp No. 208, P. O. S. of A., and retained his membership in the Camp. He is survived by his widow and two children.

Cow Upside Down.

On "Uncle" Ed. D. Seeley's farm are several "cave ins," caused by mining coal from under farm. One morning last week "Uncle" Ed.'s hired man went to pasture field for the cows and he found one of the Jerseys lying on her back at bottom of a deep "cave in." It required a number of strong men to get the bovine out of the "cave in." One young lady, in telling some lady friends of the incident said: "The 'keow' fell into the hole upside down."

Mine Foreman.

Edwin Hoare, a miner who has been a resident of Reynoldsville sixteen years, went to a place near East Brady Monday to accept a position as mine foreman for Keystone Coal Mining Co. We are glad to report that Mr. Hoare has been given a good position and promotion, but would be sorry to see him move away from Reynoldsville, as he is a good citizen, highly esteemed and respected. It is not Mr. Hoare's intention to move away from this place for some time.

Picture of Will S. Reynolds.

On the first page of this issue of THE STAR will be found an excellent picture of Will S. Reynolds, deceased, whose obituary was published in this paper last week. We are under obligations to Punxsutawney Spirit for use of cut.

Two young chaps who were traveling with Steele's Uncle Tom's Cabin show were arrested Wednesday evening for fast riding on Main street. They had no money, had to quit the show here to work in mines and rather than send them to jail because they could not pay fines, the fellows were released on their own recognizance to pay the fines.

Prof. T. L. Gibson, County Superintendent Cambria Co., Pa., in speaking of Prof. Hammons' lecture says: "Prof. A. M. Hammons delivered his lecture, 'Sunny Italy,' to an audience numbering nearly 1,000 people. Only words of praise have come to me about this lecture." At Assembly hall Friday evening June 26. Admission free.
