YOU WILL FIND EVERYTHING that's good in Printing. The Job Department is equipped with all the latest designs of type—including the Old English letter now so fashionable for visiting cards and professional stationery. If you wish to see samples of the work, call and we will show them to you by the dozen. Whether you want a wedding invitation, a program, dance tickets, letter heads or dodgers—we are prepared to do the work, and do it right. If you have never had your work done here, give us a trial order and you will never go elsewhere. As to prices, we guarantee they will be reasonable—as low as is consistent with good work.

WHY NOT PAVE?

No One Will Gainsay the Fact that we Need Paved Streets.

The question of paving the streets of Reynoldsville has been agitated by both the town papers and talked of and discussed by many of our citizens for several years, but our streets are yet unpaved and, with the exception, perhaps, of Fourth street, will remain in the same condition for some time to come. Each year this becomes a more important matter for our town to consider. The old wooden pavement on Main street is now in such condition that it should be removed and it will not last much longer. Have you ever watched the water splash up a foot high when teams drive up Main street on a wet day? There is no other town in this section of the country that has a prettier Main street than we would have if the street was paved with brick. We are talking of getting new industries to locate in Reynoldsville, which is the proper thing to do, but we had better get our Main street, at least, in such condition that if capitalists visit our town they will be favorably impressed with the appearance of the place. The appearance of a town has much to do with getting outside capitalists interested. At a meeting of the Merchants' Association last Thursday evening the merchants talked of the advantages our town had to offer for the location of large industries, and one merchant said we can tell of the many inducements our town has to offer, but don't say anything about the condition of our streets. Where is there another town the size of Reynoldsville or smaller, that does not have two or three streets, if not all streets, paved? Every citizen in town should take pride enough in the town to want to see paved streets.

We believe that Main and Jackson streets should both be paved and that the town should be bonded for the amount sufficient to pave both streets. While talking about paved streets, we want also to state that West Reynoldsville borough should pave Pike street from iron bridge to P. R. R. at least. There is enough money expended on that piece of street each year to cover the expense of paving it in a few years, and then the street would always be in good condition. Every spring and fall it is in bad condition, notwithstanding the money expended on it.

Special Car.

Steel and coal magnates are not the only people who can charter special trains to carry them over the country. Prof. Clarence Hines, the dancing master of Reynoldsville, held dancing school at Punxsutawney Friday evening, and wanting to return to this place after the dance, he chartered a car on the Jefferson Traction Co. line and arrived here at about 1.30 a. m. Walter B. Reynolds, who happened to be in Punxsutawney that night, accompanied Prof. Hines to Reynoldsville in the special car.

Accidentally Shot.

While hunting groundhogs Friday, Arthur Dunn, the twelve-year-old son of A. E. Dunn, the well known hardware man, of Falls Creek, accidentally shot himself. He attempted to pick up his shotgun from business end and as he was dragging it toward him the trigger caught on something and weapon was discharged. The load struck young Dunn on the right arm, most of the pellets burying themselves in the hand between the thumb and forefinger. Some of the shot also lodged in the forearm. The wound was dressed by Dr. J. C. Booher and while painful is not serious.—DuBois Courier.

R. D. ALBRIGHT.

Where can you find a fraternal order like the Protected Home Circle that will pay one-half of your policy in case of disability at any time in life, and balance at death, also one-half at old age? All at a moderate cost. Initiation and examination now only $2.00. After October 15th new members will have to pay more to join this order.

It has been stated that the glass plants at Brookville, New Benhlehem Shinglehouse and Pennsylvania plant at Kane have signed the Window Glass Workers of America scale for the coming fire and that they will start blowing glass early in September. It is not known yet when the glass plant at Reynoldsville will start the next fire.

Pennsylvania soldier boys can win glory on a battlefield, but they failed to cover themselves with glory at Camp William McKinley in Somerset county last week. The conduct of some of them was disgraceful.

North Reunion.

On July 29th at the old homestead of Daniel North, deceased, a reunion was held. Friends and relatives came from many of the nearby towns and in all about one hundred and fifty persons were present. At twelve o'clock tables were set in the orchard and the assembled guests partook of a bountiful feast. After dinner speeches were made by Dr. W. J. McKnight, of Brookville, Robert Bell, of DuBois, Thomas North, of Indiana Co.

A committee was then appointed to arrange for a reunion next year.

A very interesting day was spent, during which many thrilling stories were told by the old folks, while the young folks enjoyed themselves on the hay field and ball ground. One by one the happy party dispersed, each expecting to be present with their many friends next year. Thomas North, a brother of Daniel North, is the only surviving member of the original North family, of five boys and three girls, that came from Ireland to America many years ago.

Bright's Disease Caused Death.

Mrs. Thomas Owens died at her home in Winslow township, near Rathmel, on Saturday, August 1st, 1903, from bright's disease, after an illness of long duration. Deceased was 67 years and 5 months old. She was married to Thomas Owens in September, 1876. Early in life she was converted and joined the Baptist church in Germantown, Philadelphia. Later was received into the Gethsemane Baptist church in Beechwoods by letter, where her membership remained until the West Liberty Baptist church was organized and she became a constituent of that church. Mrs. Owens was highly respected. Funeral service was held in the Hall Evangelical church Monday forenoon, conducted by Rev. J. E. Denn, assisted by Dr. A. J. Meek. Interment in Beechwoods cemetery.

Mrs. Owens is survived by a husband, three stepsons, one step daughter and two brothers, Lewis and G. W. Brenhaltz, of Allens Mills.

A Cruel Custom.

How frequently do we see horses reined with gag reins in such a manner that the poor animals are compelled to gaze continually at the glaring sun, with no protection for the eyes whatever. If the owners of these poor dumb brutes had their heads pulled back and fastened with a strap so that they were compelled to gaze at the sky with their eyes unprotected, we guarantee they would throw the check rein to the winds in less than no time.—Brookville Democrat.

A New Fair Circuit.

A movement is on foot which will have a large influence in assuring the success of the county fairs of this section at their fall meetings. The secretaries of the Kittanning, Punxsutawney, Brookville and Clarion fair associations will meet for the purpose of forming a race circuit with uniform classes, purses, etc. The dates of the fairs will be so arranged that horses can enter in the same classes at all of these places and complete the circuit. This arrangement will insure sufficient entries to make interesting races in all classes at each of the above places.—Clarion Republican.

THE BIG STORE'S EIGHTH SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE

THE TIME of year has come for us to clean up our Summer stocks to make room for Winter goods. What these sales mean need not be emphasized. All we desire to say is that we shall conduct this sale in the same straightforward and honest manner which has characterized our sales in the past and which has crowned our efforts with such gratifying success.

We aim to make this just what the name implies—
A CLEARANCE SALE.

In consequence of this we put on tables in center aisle all goods which go in sale. It is impossible for us to enumerate and quote prices on offerings, as we expect to add new lines from day to day. The bargains offered in this sale have never been surpassed in view of quality and price. Watch the tables as many new things will appear frequently and as the quantity is not large they will not last long.
