Y., Miss Edith Parker, of Homer City, Pa., Miss Jennie Dailey and May Bird, of Penfield. Twenty-four of Reynoldsville's fair and lovely maidens were present. Progressive dominoes was the entertainment. Miss Jessie Irving won the prize. One of the young ladies said: "Lovely refreshments were served."

Perhaps Another Murder.
John Buzzard, a farmer living near North Freedom, was shot by John Cugh, a stranger, whose purpose seemed to be murder and robbery. If reports be correct, Buzzard is in a precarious condition. Cugh was arrested and lodged in the county jail at Brookville yesterday.

Charles Buzzard, a blacksmith at Eleanora, son of the man who was shot, was in town yesterday afternoon on his way to the home of parents, being called there on account of the serious condition of his father.

Will be Married To-day.

W. Essick, of Murphysville, Ill. They will reside at Murphysville. Mrs. Booth is a bright and intelligent woman, and during her stay in Reynoldsville made numerous friends who will wish her happiness and success in her new home.

Dr. Essick is professor of railroad surgery in the college of P. and S. at St. Louis, Mo., and is also railroad surgeon for the Mobile & Ohio railroad.

Two Italians entered a Reynoldsville store one day last week to buy a pair of shoes apiece. After they got the shoes on their feet one of the lads said he didn't have any money, but he would leave his "buttie" there for security until he would go out and find another friend and get money to pay for the shoes, and out he went. The lads were gone sometime, but he finally returned and redeemed his "buttie" by paying for the shoes, and they started away together as unconcerned as if they had not introduced a new and novel "live security" plan. However, that kind of security is not likely to become preferable although there is plenty of it.

Death From Consumption.
John T. Collins, perhaps better known as "Jack" Skehan, died at his residence on Jackson street at 6.30 a. m. Saturday, August 29, 1903. Death was caused by consumption. John was in bed only 12 days. John Collins was born in England August 2, 1875, making him 28 years and 27 days old at time of death. When about five years old his parents died and he made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Skehan, now deceased. In 1887, when Jack was 12 years old, his grandparents moved to Reynoldsville.

September 15, 1898, John Collins was married to Maggie Kemp in New York state. His widow and two-year-old son, Virgil, survive the deceased. Funeral service was held in the Catholic church at 8.00 a. m. Monday. John was a member of Division No. 1, Ancient order of Hibernians, of Reynoldsville, and that organization attended the funeral in a body.

Three uncles and one aunt of the deceased live in this place: Michael, J. J. and P. J. Skehan and Mrs. Hannah Daily.

Hibernian Convention.
Members of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, of Reynoldsville, went to DuBois Monday forenoon on a special train over the B. & P. to attend the district convention. The DuBois Courier, in giving a report Tuesday morning of the convention said: "Divisions No. 1 and 7 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, may well feel proud of the way the first annual reunion of the district was handled yesterday. Despite the unfavorable weather there was a good turnout, many of the lodge men coming from the other end of the county. Although rain fell at intervals during the forenoon and right up to the minute the parade started, the longest line of marchers seen in town this year started from St. Catherine's church. There were upwards of a thousand men who made a fine appearance in the regalia of the order as they swung up Long avenue to the music of four crack bands. The marchers received considerable applause from the spectators that lined the side walks. At the park there was speaking and music. All the athletic events except the football game were called off on account of the muddy condition of the field and track."

Supervisors Extended the Time.
The first of last month the Jefferson Traction Co. secured the right of way in Winslow township to build a trolley line to Rathmel, Soldier and Sykesville, work to be commenced within 30 days or the franchise was null and void. The 30 days expired on Monday of this week, but the company got the time extended thirty days longer.

Last Saturday forenoon Senator J. K. Newell, of Bradford, General Hill, of Towanda, George Black, of Pittsburg, D. H. Clark, Floyd Kizer and James Phalen, of Punxsutawney, directors in the Traction Company, drove over the proposed line and also arranged with Supervisors Womeldorf and Johnston to extend the time 30 days longer for beginning the work to make the franchise valid, and Monday forenoon D. H. Clark came over from Punxsutawney and had the necessary papers executed for the extension of the 30 days. Mr. Clarke informed us yesterday that the engineer corps would be at work in about two weeks, making the survey for the trolley to Rathmel, Soldier and Sykesville.

Pifer Reunion.
In 1826 Mr. and Mrs. John Pifer moved from Union county, Pa., to Paradise Settlement, Jefferson county, then a wilderness, and located on what is known as the Pifer homestead, where David Pifer now lives.

Seven sons and one daughter were born to this couple, all of whom are dead but William and David, of Paradise, and Thomas Pifer, of Big Run. The descendants of Mr. and Mrs. John Pifer, and their connections by marriage and inter-marriage, now numbering at least 450, held a reunion at Wishaw Park yesterday. This is the second reunion, the first being held three years ago. Yesterday committees were appointed to arrange for holding annual reunions hereafter. It was a happy and joyous gathering, and the big Pifers and little Pifers, and all their relatives, had a delightful day. Some of the connection are fine musicians and there was no lack of music at the reunion.

Arrested for Swearing.
A street fakir, who had been at the Punxsutawney fair and was on his way to Brookville to attend the fair, was waiting for a train at the P. R. station Saturday afternoon and, without provocation, the fakir began to curse and swear at Willis Hawley, porter for the National Hotel. Willis had a warrant issued for the fakir and Constable Jack Brochey marched the fellow away to "Squire Woodring's office just as the train pulled into the station. When the fakir was informed that the costs and fine amounted to $5.20 he began to swear and abuse the officers, and "Squire Woodring added another dollar, making the amount $6.20. That put a quietus on the chap.

If more fellows were arrested for their vile and profane language it would not be so common on the streets of Reynoldsville.

Lightning's Pranks.
During a storm last Thursday afternoon lightning struck a hop pole in Chas. Arnold's yard, split the pole, tore the side out of an outhouse, ran along a wire clothes line to a cedar post within ten feet of the house and tore the post into small pieces.

Friday afternoon lightning struck the residence of W. P. Woodring, West Reynoldsville, doing but little damage.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.
Aiello and Pallone Sentenced by Judge John W. Reed.
In open court at Brookville Monday morning of this week two Italians, John Battista Aiello and Michael Pallone, who were convicted of murder in the first degree at the August term of court, were sentenced by Judge Reed to be hung by the neck until dead.

Both prisoners were asked if they had anything to say before sentence was passed on them, and they both said they had no intention of killing their victims.

Aiello stabbed Frank Carfa at Wals-ton May 2, 1903, and Pallone shot Rosco Crocco at Adrian June 14, 1903.

An application had been made for a new trial for Aiello, but Judge Reed denied a new trial because the evidence in the case was so strong that there was no doubt about the prisoner being guilty of murder.

Governor Pennypacker will name the date for execution of Aiello and Pallone.

Shooting and stabbing is common among the foreign element in Jefferson county, and they have no dread of a few years in the penitentiary, but the hanging of Aiello and Pallone may have a tendency to lessen the number of stabbing and shooting cases in the county. An Italian who recently returned from the penitentiary said it was a good place, and if he got out of work he wanted to go back to the penitentiary again. The penitentiaries of this country are good boarding houses and pleasant places compared with the prisons of Italy.

Mrs. Israel Snyder Dead.
Mrs. Salome Snyder, relict of Israel Snyder, Sr., died suddenly at her home in Pinecroft township at 9.30 a. m., Friday, August 28, 1903. Her death was caused by heart trouble. Her husband died suddenly almost a year ago from heart trouble. Mrs. Snyder had fed the chickens Friday morning and afterwards complained of not feeling well and in a couple of hours her earthly pilgrimage had ended.

Salome Zimmerman was born in Schuylkill county, Pa., June 14, 1823, making her 80 years, 2 months and 14 days old. After she was married to Israel Snyder they moved into this section of the country, then a wilderness. Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, eight of whom survive the mother, and are as follows: S. B. Snyder, West Reynoldsville; Peter Snyder, farmer of Winslow township; Israel Snyder, farmer of Winslow township; Mrs. Kate Foltz, of O'Donnell; Joel Snyder, farmer of Winslow township; Mrs. Mary Schugars, Mrs. Lena Dinger.

Funeral service was held at the Emersickville Lutheran church at 10.30 a. m., Sunday, conducted by Rev. J. A. Myers, and interment was made in Emersickville cemetery. The funeral was largely attended. Mrs. Snyder was a highly respected old lady.

Leavenworth-Dailey.
H. C. Leavenworth, of Alliance, Ohio, and Miss Margaret Dailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dailey, of this place, were married at the Dailey home on Clearfield street Wednesday. The ceremony was performed at 3 p. m. by Rev. David Caldwell, of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of fifty-three invited relatives and intimate friends. Miss Jennie M. and Frank F. Dailey, sister and brother of the bride, acted in capacity of bridesmaid and groomsmen.

Mrs. Leavenworth and Mrs. Rev. Dye, mother and sister of the groom, with numerous friends of the young couple from Reynoldsville, and Miss Etta Parker, of Butler, were those present from a distance. A sumptuous wedding repast was served at 4.30. The presents were very pretty and costly. After many wishes for their well being and happy and prosperous life, the happy couple left on the evening train for Boston, where Mr. Leavenworth will attend the seminary to prepare himself for an M. E. minister.

Miss Dailey was one of Penfield's best young ladies and Mr. Leavenworth is spoken of as a worthy, energetic and promising young man.—Penfield Press.

Sheepheads at the Door.
Mary had a little lamb it followed her to church, and stood around the door, like an owl upon perch. Why don't the little lamb come in? the watchful people cried. Why Mary told the silly thing to watch for her outside. So you, each gentle maiden, may one and all still find some sheephead waiting near the door, if you admire that kind.—Lock Haven Democrat.
