

Salaries of Rulers.
According to a German statistician, the salaries of European rulers are as follows: Assuming that they work six hours a day, the Emperor of Russia receives $80 a minute, the emperor of Austria $35, the King of Italy $21, the Emperor of Germany $17, the King of England $15, the King of Spain $15, the King of Belgium and the King of Denmark between $3 and $4, and the King of Serbia between $1 and $2. President Loubet of France receives about five cents a minute more than the King of Serbia.

Irrigated Land in Texas.
According to a bulletin issued by the census bureau there are 226,205 acres of land under irrigation in the State of Texas. The system includes 1,075 miles of canal and cost $5,191, $15. The widest application of the system has been made in connection with the rice industry. The irrigated rice plantations number 557, with an area of 170,396.

SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS!
Completely Restored to Health.

Mrs. P. Brunzel, wife of P. Brunzel, stock dealer, residence 3111 Grand Ave., Everett, Wash., says: "For fifteen years I suffered with terrible pain in my back. I experimented with doctors and medicines, but got little if any relief. I actually believe the aching in my back and through the groin became worse. I did not know what it was to enjoy a night's rest and arose in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed. My suffering sometimes was simply indescribable. Finally, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and got a box. After a few doses I told my husband that I was feeling much better and that the pills were doing me good. When I finished that box I felt like a different woman. I didn't stop at that, though. I continued the treatment until I had taken five boxes. There was no recurrence until a week ago, when I began to feel miserable again. I bought another box and three days' treatment restored me to health. Doan's Kidney Pills act very effectively, very promptly, relieve the aching pains and all other annoying difficulties. I have recommended them to many people and will do so when opportunities present themselves."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Brunzel will be mailed to any part of the United States on application. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents per box.

Fire Bricks Are Coated.
A new use has recently been discovered for carborundum as a mask to prevent fire bricks from disintegrating in high temperatures. The carborundum is finely pulverized and used with some medium to make it adhere to the bricks (possibly water glass), and it is stated that when so treated the bricks have a much longer life than when used without the coating.

Railroad Passenger Cars in Russia.
The number of railroad passenger cars on the Russian railways was 15,545 at the end of last year. Their value is a little over $50,000,000. Of these cars 9,733 were property of the state railroads in European Russia, while the Asiatic lines owned 1,541 passenger cars. The rest belonged to private lines.

Refused Requisition for Watelet.
Gov. McBride, of Washington, refused to honor requisition papers from the Governor of Ohio for the return to that State of Paul Watelet, a mining engineer and promoter who is under custody in Spokane on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses at Canton.

Algerian Table Grapes.
The exports of table grapes from Algeria amounted last year to 8,000,000 pounds. Of this quantity 7,000,000 pounds went to France, and the remaining 1,000,000 pounds to other countries. Of foreign countries, Germany has for years been one of the best customers of Algerian grapes.

Half-Sick

"I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the fall of 1849. Since then I have taken it every spring as a blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine."
S. T. Jones, Wichita, Kans.

If you feel run down, are easily tired, if your nerves are weak and your blood is thin, then begin to take the good old standard family medicine, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It's a regular nerve lifter, a perfect blood builder. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this grand old family medicine. Follow his advice and we will be satisfied.

FOR WOMAN'S BENEFIT

AS TO BANK CHECKS.
Some Things Which Every Woman Ought to Know.

A lady had kept in her possession for several days a check from her uncle. Her uncle died, and she hastened to the bank to cash the check. When she found that the bank could not pay the check until it had orders from the heirs or from the courts she was surprised, and said artlessly to her husband that she thought of a check as being so much money if the signature was good. The incident shows the value of some information which the National Banker prints. Most business men know it already, but in these days business men are not the only people who have to do business.

A check is merely an order from A to B, who holds some of A's money, to pay a certain amount of it to C. It is not money, even if the names on the check are good and well known and the bank as sold as the Government. Although checks are given in payment of debt and a receipt is usually given on the spot, yet the passing of a check does not constitute payment of indebtedness until it is paid by the bank. Nor will the concurrent receipt of the debt for which it is given change this. If the check is not paid on presentation to the bank, the original claim stands against the drawer or giver of the check. But a certified check—that is, a check signed by an officer of the bank, usually the cashier—constitutes payment on the part of the person who draws it.

Checks may be antedated or postdated—that is, dated before or after the date of delivery. If postdated checks are paid before the day specified, the drawer can recover the money, for the bank has acted not in accordance with any order from him, but on its own responsibility. If a blank is left for the date, the holder is authorized to insert the true date of delivery, but no other date. The insertion of any other date, or changing the date without the consent of the drawer, makes the check void.

A check should be presented within reasonable time, or the holder will be keeping the check at his own risk. If possible a check should be presented the same day it is drawn or the day after. If a check is not honored when it is presented at the bank, the holder should notify the drawer. When a check passes by indorsement, the same promptness in presenting the check is required of each person to whom it is indorsed in order to hold these indorsers liable in order to hold the drawer. By putting a check in circulation the liability of the drawer cannot be prolonged.—Youth's Companion.

The Dark-Eyed Girl.
The genuine brunette, she of the dark eyes and dark skin and neck, rich red cheeks, can wear cream, deep yellow, orange, cardinal, deep maroon, deep blue, but not purple, golden brown, tans, grays and claret, but she should avoid all greens, violets, mauves and "greasy" blues.

Soft Yellow With Light Blue.
The fair brunette must not think, because she happens to possess black or brown-black hair, that she must dress up to it. The hair is a matter of quite minor importance—it is the skin and the eyes that have to be studied and considered. Among the fair brunette's colors are cream, pale blue, all shades of gray, pale coral and pale salmon pink.

For evening the anlow brunette must reconcile herself to Indian reds, orange yellows, deep orange, and flame color, while for day wear steely grays, red tan, crimson, deep cardinal and deep poppy red, tan and strong golden brown are to be recommended.

The creamy-skinned, red-lipped brunette must avoid greens, mauves and blue blush pinks; the "nut-brown mayde" cannot do better than dress up to her coloring. That is to say, the warm reds and browns are hers—in fact, all the tawny will be found becoming both for day and evening.

Lastly, the olive-skinned brunette must avoid greens, mauves, purples and blues, with the exception of deep navy, and should cling to ivory white, vivid yellow, old rose, silver gray, chestnut, crimson, maroon, golden tan, coffee color.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The "Fussy" Woman.
As a rule the "fussy" woman is short of stature. She is also small, this latter fact being attributed to her un-restful, fretful disposition. Restlessness prevents the acquiring of adipose tissue. She is also usually thin-faced, and she possesses a high pitched, rather metallic voice.

The fussy woman, on meeting you on the street, begins at once to overhaul you in her fussy, nervous way. You are too thin clad; you are standing too near the curb; you should never wear such high heels, or you are working too hard, or too little, etc., etc.

New Ideas in Buttons.

The ingenuity of the button manufacturer has been working pretty busily of late, to judge from the number of novelties which are appearing in this line. The larger portion of these run as usual to faddish extremes, but a few of them are altogether dainty and desirable.

The vogue of pearl has resulted in a most attractive innovation. This is the shirt waist or blouse button, in mother of pearl, mounted upon a safety pin instead of the ordinary shank. Not only does this permit one to utilize a handsome set of buttons for several blouses, but, with these pin attachments, they can be removed when the frock goes to the laundry.

Another new button noted in fashionable shops would be very odd and smart with one's most unusual gown, although unsuited for every-day use. This is formed of a Brazilian bug of the beetle order, petrified and mounted in a narrow rim of gold. The insect is in rich tones of green, brown, etc., and suggests the Egyptian scarab in shape. The buttons are small—less than an inch in length, but unusual and artistic.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Season's Handsome Beads.
They say the Shawnee Indians make many of the pretty chains of beads which women wear this summer either as necklaces or as long pendants hanging way down the dress. Some of the color combinations would seem to favor this theory. Other chains set here and there with Oriental-looking changeable glass beads evidently come from Venice.

Those most in request just now are the braided chains, cables of turquoise blue chains of smaller blue beads. These are preferred to the round bead chains on the old, simple pattern. Some blue chains show pearl tassels and a rosary-like intermission of large single artificial pearls.

But the all-blue necklace is much handsomer than those of mixed beads. This is long enough to be looped once or twice, and is interrupted only once or twice with a large blue slide exactly matching in color the turquoise slide.

The pale-green or jade-colored beads are very smart, but not always as becoming as the robin's egg blue beauties. The chains show four strands woven in the cable, and the tassels consist of ten loops or double cords.

Queen Helena as a Cook.
Queen Helena of Italy is a royal lady who has a very practical knowledge of cooking. At her father's curiously homely and unpretentious court Queen Helena learned many useful things, and among them the art of cooking. The Prince of Montenegro insisted that all his children should learn a trade—a rule which, by the way, obtains in the German imperial family—and the future Queen of Italy became not merely a good plain cook, but also skilled in the preparation of the curious sweetmeats and pastries of which Orientals are so fond. The late King Humbert insisted on tasting his daughter-in-law's cookery, and so pleased was he with the dainty fare she set before him that he conferred on her, with mock ceremony, the title of "Lady High Cook to the King of Italy."—Chicago News.

FRILLS FASHION

Draped girdles are the choice of most women. Straight belts figure with shirt-waist suits and some coats. Nottingham bands are the newest adornment for thin lawn gowns.

Colored laces as an accessory will have increased vogue by autumn. All save the extreme Directoire girdles take a distinct downward curve at the front.

English embroideries are among the most favored for trimming gingham shirt-waist suits. Silk fringe, knotted into the ends of a sash of sheer stuff, or of taffeta, makes an attractive finish.

Girdle straps may point upward in the back, or they may point downward, the highest part coming under the arms.

Lace is the trimming par excellence of the season, and both heavy and light are used in the greatest profusion. Trimming added at the shoulder seams of yokes in fanciful berthas, giving the effect of a deep collar, are very smart.

For young girls sashes are either pulled through rings or a buckle, or are caught in a perky knot at the back of the waist line. Pippings of light tints, such as cherry-red, turquoise blue and apple green, are extremely stylish for adorning the popular black and white shepherd's check blouse suits.

to both the costume and the separate blouse and is shown in white pongee, with the cape and trimmings of cream-colored lace and the tucked front of mousseline, and is stitched with corticelli silk; but the design suits many other materials equally well. The Under-skirt.
Which deciding on one of the long, close yokes that are so much in vogue on dress skirts, one must give a thought to the underskirt which is to be worn with it. The under-skirt should be most carefully adjusted over the hips, and there is, as a rule, only one way to accomplish this—the underskirt must be made to order. The feeling seems to be general that to have a petticoat made to measure means too much, both in time and money, and that a well-cut skirt can easily be altered to suit any figure. It is, however, much better to go to a little more expense in the first place than to have to pay extra to have a skirt refitted, or to fuss at home with shortening and rehangings.

Features of the New Coats.
Pleated sleeves, cape effects, cords, balls, pendants, fringes, buttons and embroidered bands are features of the new styles in separate coats.

The Styles of 1830.
Reproductions of the styles of 1830 are expected to be much in evidence during the next few months.

Sleeves Becoming Longer.
Sleeves grow in width and lengthen perceptibly. The dolman sleeve figures on some of the coats, fitting the arm inside, and made very baggy from the elbow on the outside; others are tight cottons are satisfactory. When preferred one material can be used for the entire waist and the cape and stole can be omitted when a plainer blouse is desired.

The waist is made over a smoothly fitted foundation that closes at the center front. The back is tucked in groups which extend from the shoulders to the waist line and give a tapering effect to the figure, but the fronts for part their length only and are made to pouch slightly at the belt. The center front, or vest-like portion, also is tucked to form a deep yoke, then falls in soft folds to the waist line. The cape is circular and snugly fitted by the means of shoulder seams, and is finished with shaped pieces which give a stole effect. The sleeves are tucked above the elbows, but are full and soft below and are gathered into deeply pointed cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is five and three-quarter yards twenty-one inches wide, four and three-quarter yards twenty-seven inches wide, or two and a quarter yards forty-four inches wide, with seven-eighth yards of all-over lace for the collar, and three-quarter yards of mousseline for center front.

Tucked Blouse Waist.
Blouse waists that combine tucked fronts with plain backs are much worn and are very generally becoming. The admirable one designed by May Manton and depicted in the large drawing is shown in pongee, stitched with corticelli silk and trimmed with bands of narrow brown velvet ribbon, but is equally well adapted to washable fabrics and indeed to all waisting materials.

The waist consists of the fitted foundation, which can be used or omitted as preferred, the back and the fronts. The back is plain and drawn down in gathers at the waist line. The front is tucked to form a graduated pleat at the center and from the shoulders to yoke depth. It also is gathered at the waist line and blouses slightly over the belt. The closing is made invisibly beneath the full length tuck at the left of the center. The sleeves are the prevailing ones that are snug from the elbows to the shoulders, full from the elbows to the wrists.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is four yards twenty-one inches wide, three and seven-eighth yards twenty-seven inches wide, three
